FOUR THIEF RIVER FALLS area vocational technical institute cosmetology students who will be touring Europe from July 10 through August 2 to practice hair styling techniques of that country include the following, left to right, Penny Fullmer, McIntosh, Becky Cavanaugh, Grand Forks, Tammy Lindeman and Sharon Halling, both of Thief River Falls.

4 Cosmetology Students Attend Europe Program

London, England and Edinburgh, Scotland will be the destinations of four Thief River Falls area vocational technical institute cosmetology students who will leave for their selected sites tomorrow.

Students include Becky Cavanaugh, daughter of Violet Cavanaugh of Grand Forks, Sharon Halling, daughter of Patrick and Jeanet Halling of Thief River Falls, Tammy Lindeman, daughter of Donald and Shirley Lindeman of Thief River Falls, and Penny Fullmer, daughter of Janis Wikstrand of McIntosh.

The 1980 International Cosmetology Studies program, sponsored by the cosmetology advisory committee and Hennepin Technical Centers, is available to the first 20 qualifying applicants, who desire to transfer their working hours to a school in another country.

Students are judged on total number of hours put in under the cosmetology program, attendance, grades, attitude toward the profession, and references, according to Sharon.

Students apply by sending their names into the Hennepin Technical Center, where a limited number of students are selected based on their interest in people and their cultures, among those things mentioned above. Students from the Thief River Falls AVTI have gone nearly every year, according to Dolores Bakke, instructor in cosmetology at the AVTI.

During their visit, the students will visit various schools where they will practice hair styling techniques including cutting and braiding techniques of that particular country. They will study for three weeks (returning August 2) under internationally known hairdressers.

Cost of the tour will include air fare to and from Europe, land transportation, all school tuition, hotel accommodations, breakfast seven days a week, dinner during the week only, and cultural activities.

Upon returning from the trip, Sharon will have completed her desired amount of hours (1500) and will apply for a job in Thief River Falls. The other girls, who still have one to two weeks before graduation from cosmetology school, will look for jobs in either Thief River Falls or their hometowns, they said.

Emergency Hay Available At Agassiz Refuge

U.S. Fish and Wildlife service has announced plans to authorize emergency haying of select areas on the Agassiz national wildlife refuge due to the extreme drought conditions.

Preference for haying permits will be given to former landowners and refuge neighbors with property contiguous with refuge boundaries. Names of other interested persons will be kept in the event some hay units remain available.

Persons interested should contact the refuge in person or by calling 449-4115 no later than July 10. Permittees will be contacted prior to July 15 and furnished additional details regarding costs and other information.

The refuge headquarters is located 11 miles east of Holt.

LIZ VIGEN, who has played violin in Thief River Falls school orchestras for about eight years, will present a violin solo for her talent presentation at the Jaycee Aquacade pageant July 26. Liz, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vigen of rural Thief River Falls.

Liz Vigen Seeks Aquacade Title

(This is the fourth in a series of articles on candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the Jaycee Aquacade. The official Miss America preliminary event will be held Saturday, July 26, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

An interest in helping the mentally handicapped is being translated into summer employment and an anticipated career by Liz Vigen of Thief River Falls. She is working this summer at the Falls day activity center and plans to earn a BA degree in special education.

Eighteen-year-old Liz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vigen of rural Thief River Falls and a 1980 graduate of Lincoln high school. She is five feet four inches tall, weighs 105 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes. Her pageant talent number will be a violin solo entitled "Traumerei" by R. Schumann.

Liz has played violin for about eight years in school orchestras, beginning in kindergarten and then resuming in fifth grade. She has also taken four years of piano lessons. In addition to earning a letter for participation in the high school orchestra she lettered in cross-country and still enjoys running as a hobby.

The oldest of six Vigen children, Liz has two brothers and three sisters. She has participated in Brownies and Girl scouts for four years. Her hobbies include reading novels, swimming, dancing, riding bicycle and acrylic and oil painting as well as ceramics, quilling and other craft type projects.

In her work at the day activity center she helps the handicapped with arts and crafts projects, music and other activities. While enrolled in Northland community college for the next two years, she will work part-time at the center under the work study program. After two years at Northland she will transfer to Moorhead state university to complete her degree work in special education.

"I feel that this is a field which is in need of more specially trained people to work with the handicapped," she said.

Class Of 1950 Banquet Sat.

Reunion banquet for the Lincoln high school class of 1950 will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Thief River golf club. The class reunion committee invites friends of classmates to join in the reunion at the dance scheduled to follow the banquet at about 9 p.m.

Christensen, Nysether Talk With Governor

In a visit with Gov. Al Quie in St. Paul Tuesday, Rep. Myron Nysether of Roseau county and legislative candidate Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls discussed potential relief programs for farmers and businessmen in Legislative District 1.

The two men expressed the concern that everything which can be done is being done to assist drought-plagued northwestern Minnesota. They were told that the department of transportation has authorized haying on 1,000 miles of interstate highways on a bid basis and that landowners adjacent to state, county and township roads retain the right to cut and use hay on those rights-of-way without permits.

In addition, the department of natural resources will make some lands available for haying after July 15 and farmers eligible for the ASCS livestock feed program can apply for DNR hay cutting permits. Agassiz national wildlife refuge will also permit some hay cutting on a permit basis for Marshall county farmers with preference given to farmers with land bordering on the refuge.

Because of action Gov. Quie will be taking, additional federal wetland areas can be expected to be available for hay harvest in the near future.

Gov. Quie told Rep. Nysether and Christensen that the state department of agriculture and University of Minnesota extension service will publish a weekly list of willing sellers of hay and that the lists will be available at ASCS and county extension offices.

Recognizing that farmers are not the only ones suffering because of the drought conditions, the men urged Gov. Quie to request the Small Business administration to make low interest loans available to small businesses in the drought area. The governor is expected to take action on this matter later this week.

Planning Group Meets Monday

Thief River Falls planning commission will meet Monday at 5:15 p.m. in the city council chambers, according to Jack Quinlivan, city planner. The meeting is a change from the regular meeting time.

Jaycees Make Plans For 36th Annual Aquacade

Thief River Falls Jaycees have announced a tentative schedule of events for the 36th annual Jaycee Aquacade to be held July 26 — August 3 in Thief River Falls. Several new events have been added to this year's events, according to general chairmen Gerry Paulson, Tom Wang and Randy Adamson.

Major addition to this year's schedule is the air show at the Thief River Falls regional airport. The event will take place Sunday, July 27, with a full day of activities including a fly-in breakfast, aircraft displays, flyovers and several other aerial displays and exhibitions. A WW II aircraft display (as featured in a recent Popular Mechanics magazine) and the dedication of the regional veterans' memorial will be a part of the show.

Another event to be added is an open racquetball tournament with both men's and women's classes. Other tentative new events will possibly include arm wrestling, a canoe race, frisbee contest, seed spitting contest and horseshoe tournament.

This year's events will begin with a flea market, parade, steam power demonstration and the Miss TRF pageant with nine area young ladies competing on Saturday, July 26. The following day will be the air show and an open men's slow pitch softball tournament. During the week, a waterfight, disco night, art demonstrations and an expanded two-day Crazy Day sales spectacular (sponsored by the Retail Business association of the Chamber of Commerce) will be held along with some other events currently being considered.

The final weekend will include a two-day tennis and archery tournament, the finals of the racquetball tournament, and will conclude with Sunday's events in the park. Park events will include the second annual Jaycee marathon (10 km or 6.2 miles), power boat races sanctioned by the American Power Boat association, canoe races, kids events and frisbee, horseshoe, seed spitting and arm wrestling contests. The 36th Jaycee Aquacade will conclude with a gigantic fireworks display in the evening.

The annual Jaycee treasure hunt will begin July 19 with two cash prizes worth $50 or $100 to the finder if he or she is wearing an Aquacade booster button.

"The Thief River Falls Jaycees are hoping to make this 36th Aquacade filled with events for everyone," the co-chairmen said. "Again this year the Aquacade button is the main fund raiser for the many Aquacade events. The button will admit the wearer free or at reduced admission to nearly all Aquacade events. The $1 donation is used to defray the costs of such events as the fireworks, boat races, Miss Thief River Falls budget and other events. The TRF Jaycees invite you to support the Jaycees and the community by buying a button when you see them displayed or are asked by a member." The Jaycees invite the public to visit Thief River Falls for Aquacade 1980 and enjoy a summer celebration of fun and friendship July 26 — August 3. Additional details on individual activities will be released as soon as finalized. Individuals or organizations with specific questions can contact any of the general chairmen or may write the Jaycees at Box 53, Thief River Falls.

Jaycees Invite Parade Entries For Aquacade

Thief River Falls Jaycees announce that the 36th Jaycee Aquacade summer celebration will begin on Saturday, July 26 with the Aquacade parade being the first scheduled event of the nine-day celebration. The parade, which will include local and area floats, bands, queens and the appearance of Miss Minnesota, will begin at 1 p.m.

The Jaycees invite all local and area organizations and individuals to participate in this year's Aquacade parade. Again this year trophies will be awarded to the best parade units in various categories.

Anyone wishing to participate in the parade or needing further information should write to the Thief River Falls Jaycees, Box 53, or phone parade chairmen Tim Barrus at 681-4324 or 681-6051 or Lee Furuseth at 681-1996. Interested participants are encouraged to contact the Jaycees immediately as parade planning is being finalized.

FAA Accepts Light System At Airport

Operation and maintenance of the airport approach lighting system at the Thief River Falls regional airport was formally turned over to the Federal Aviation administration Monday.

Formal acceptance was made for the FAA by Duane Kuyeth, who has been assigned to the sector facilities field office at the airport in Thief River Falls since early in 1974.

In turning the system over to the FAA, the city will realize a reduction in expenditures of $3,500 to $4,000 per year in its budget due to savings in energy and maintenance costs, according to George Singer, airport manager.

FEATURE ATTRACTION at the Pennington county fair on Sunday, July 20, will be Charly McClain, winner of the most up and coming female singer award at the recently televised Nashville music awards show. Miss McClain will be featured with the Buddy Young show, a production including the big band sound, singing and dancing. The entertainment program at 7:30 p.m. will follow an open pit beef barbecue served by the Northwest Stockmen's association at 4:30 p.m. Tickets for the program go on sale today at Northern and First Northwestern state banks, Ekeren Drug and Larson Music company in Thief River Falls, Nell's Hartz store in Goodridge and Pete's Family market in St. Hilaire.

Wiebolt To Chair TRF School Board

Ken Wiebolt
Board Chairman

Ken Wiebolt was elected chairman of the Thief River Falls board of education at the reorganizational meeting held Tuesday evening in the area vocational-technical institute. He succeeds Larry McDowell who was elected vice chairman. Ken Murphy was reelected clerk and Harry Sjulson was named treasurer.

Meeting for the first time as members of the board were Merle Carlson and Greg Pribula, elected to the board at the annual school election. They fill positions previously held by Maynard Wedul and Bob Sorvig.

Chairman Wiebolt made appointments of board members to a number of committee assignments including the following:

Wiebolt — Center school governing board and chamber of commerce board; McDowell — Regional interdistrict council (RIC) and Northwestern hospital task force; Murphy — Minnesota state high school league and Agassiz health systems agency; Wallace Grovum — City planning commission; Sjulson — City, county and school coordinating committee; Carlson — Educational planning task force; and Pribula — Professional growth committees for K-12 and AVTI.

The board hired Dr. Leo Ruberto of Grand Forks as director of special education responsible for program and coordination of services in the local school system. He is presently director and educational specialist in the child evaluation and treatment program in Grand Forks. Salary was set at $31,000 for 1980-1981 and $33,267 for 1981-1982 with benefits the same as those negotiated for principals and directors. He will be headquartered in the school district service center.

Resignations were accepted from Susan B. Feeney, elementary physical education specialist and district employee since 1972; Jesse A. Schimke, Lincoln high school distributive education instructor; and Rebecca Thorson, clerical aide at the AVTI.

Ruth Onkka was approved as head girls golf coach at Lincoln high school at a salary of $765.

Authorization was given by the board to the hiring of an insurance analyst to review the health and life insurance bids at an estimated cost of $1,500 to $2,000.

Rejected by the board were the bids of Alan M. Snare in the amount of $30,051 for the AVTI house located at 405

NELDER BROTEN of Viking used this tractor and wagon with grain box as the Broten family's entry in the Viking 75th anniversary parade Saturday. The sign on the grain box indicated that the Broten family had been Viking area residents for a time span covering 81 years and five generations.

LHS Class Sets Golden Reunion This Weekend

Lincoln high school class of 1930 notes its golden anniversary this weekend. Reunion activities will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday with a banquet scheduled Saturday night, July 5. Following the banquet, the public is invited to join the class members for a celebration at 9 p.m. at the Elk's club.

Board To Meet At Goodridge

Goodridge school board, District 561, will meet tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. at the school. Reorganization of the board is on the agenda.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Debra Lynn Bothun And Bruce W. Rokke Wed

Miss Debra Lynn Bothun became the bride of Bruce Wayne Rokke on Saturday, May 31, at 2 p.m. at a wedding ceremony at Bethlehem Lutheran church in Newfolden.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bothun of LaMoure, N.D. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Orvald Rokke of Newfolden.

Rev. Hans Floan officiated at the ceremony. At the organ was Sheila Nelson of Newfolden, who played the traditional wedding marches. During the ceremony, Mark Halvorson, Viking, a friend of the couple, sang "Colour My World," and "God, a Woman and a Man; and Janet Bjornrud, Newfolden, a friend of the bride, sang "For Baby, For Bobby." Together they sang "The Wedding Song." Acolytes were Kevin Anderson and Scott Peters of Viking, friends of the couple.

The chancel was graced with candelabras decorated with white candles, greenery, and peach satin ribbon. On a separate table was the unity candle, surrounded by greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was attired in a gown of white sheer organza featuring empire styling. Re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls adorned the cuffed bishop sleeves, bodice and Queen Anne neckline. The A-line skirt of sheer accordian pleats, draped to a double lace-encircled hemline, flowed into a chapel-length train. Completing her ensemble was a white bridal hat trimmed with lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of tiger lilies, peach orchids, white stephanotis, and ivy.

Debra Windahl of Newfolden, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kim Rokke, Newfolden, sister of the groom, and Linda Bothun, LaMoure, sister of the bride. They wore sleeveless peach selista knit gowns featuring V-necklines and full princess skirts, complemented by high-necked lacy knit capes. They carried bouquets of tiger lilies, peach orchids and ivy.

The personal attendant to the bride was Marge Krohn of Viking, a friend. Her corsage was of peach sweetheart roses.

Wearing a white floor-length gown with matching lace-trimmed pinafore was the flower girl, Mary Jo Rokke of Newfolden, a cousin of the groom. She carried a nosegay of tiger lilies and orchids.

The rings were carried by Christopher LaBine, Argyle, a cousin of the groom, who wore a tuxedo identical to the groom's. His boutonniere was a tiger lily.

Attending the groom as best man was Duane Floberg, Viking, a friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Keith Lindemoen, and Jeff Sorenson of Newfolden, friends of the groom. The ushers were Rick Bothun, Viking, brother of the bride, and DelRay Rokke, Newfolden, brother of the groom. All wore butternut tuxedos with cream-colored ruffled shirts and peach colored orchid boutonnieres. The groom was attired in an all-white tuxedo accented with a boutonniere featuring a tiger lily and white stephanotis.

The mother of the bride was attired in a yellow gown styled with a floor-length pleated skirt. The groom's mother wore a light green gown featuring sheer cape-styled sleeves and a floor-length pleated skirt. Their corsages were composed of yellow sweetheart roses.

Similar corsages and boutonnieres were worn by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schneider, Wadena; the bride's godparents, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Schneider, Belle Plain; the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rokke, Warren; and the groom's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arne Tuura, Middle River.

A reception in the church parlors followed with Chet and Shirley of Bengtson of Sebeka, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Arne and Ione Tuura of Middle River, uncle and aunt of the groom, as hosts and hostesses. Sherry Bengtson, Sebeka, a cousin of the bride, presided at the guest book. At the punch bowl were Dean and Val Rokke, Drayton, N.D., brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

Centering the serving table was a four-tiered, lighted fountain wedding cake, iced in white and peach. Greenery surrounded the base. The cake was cut and served by Doretta Swenson, Langdon, N.D., aunt of the bride, and Carol Langlie, Minneapolis, aunt of the groom. Mary Schneider, Belle Plain, aunt of the bride, and Evangeline Teigen, Oslo, aunt of the groom, poured the coffee.

Waitresses were Lynne and Karen Krohn, Viking, friends of the bride and Sheila Bengtson, Sebeka and Patty Swenson, Langdon, cousins of the bride. The gift bearer was Arlene Knutson, Newfolden, a friend of the bride.

After a week's honeymoon in the Bahamas, the couple is now at home in Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. The bride is a graduate of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden and attended Moorhead state university for two years. The groom is also a graduate of Marshall County Central high school and of Moorhead state university, majoring in finance. He is currently employed at Wisconsin Rapids Savings and Loan Association.

St. John LWML Represented At Canadian Meet

St. John Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) was represented at the North District LWML convention held recently in Thunder Bay, Ont., Canada.

Representing the local league as delegates were Peggy Miller, treasurer; Lois Stensrud, secretary; and Denise Opdahl, youth representative. Others attending were Rev. Barrie Henke, pastoral counselor of the Crookston circuit; Betty Kezar, circuit Christian growth chairman; Alice Patton, circuit mission hospice chairman; Ruth Wilkinson, local LWML president; Connie Mehrkens, Christian growth chairman, Pat Henke, Verna Schroeder and Anna Zinter. Alice Patton of this city participated in the parade of layettes for Canadian World Relief. Ten complete layettes were presented from the St. John LWML.

Over 500 delegates and guests attended the convention held at the new DaVinci center. The theme was "Ever, Only, all for Thee."

A mission budget of $55,000 for the next biennium was adopted by the delegates. Mission projects approved were scholarships for professional training in the Lord's service, (18 scholarships per year); Lutheran Hour, Kitchener, Ont.; Lutheran Island camp; Duluth Campus ministry; Garrison Mission; Sartell Mission; Camp Aurora at Thunder Bay; Zion chapel at Baxter; and Lutheran Seminary library at Obot Idim, Nigeria, Africa. The money for these projects will be raised through mite box contributions.

Speaking to the assembly were Rev. and Mrs. Maynard Dorow, missionaries to Korea; Mrs. Betty Horn, and Rev. and Mrs. Robert Jastram, missionaries to Japan, and Erika Certain, International LWML representative.

At the election of officers, Mrs. Marie Drevlow of Twin Valley, wife of the late Rev. A.A. Drevlow, was selected regional vice president of Park Region I.

It was noted that Thunder Bay hosted the Minnesota North District LWML convention 10 years ago, shortly after the city was formed following the merger of Port Arthur and Fort Williams. It now has a population of 111,000.

A complete report of the convention will be given by the delegates at the local LWML annual picnic to be held July 23 at the Esther Beiswenger home.

Holthusen Co. Gets Bid On Road Project

Holthusen Construction company of Grygla was the successful low bidder at $273,251 for grading and aggregate surfacing on 9.53 miles of SAR 26 when contracts were awarded Tuesday by the Pennington county board of commissioners.

The road project is located in eastern Marshall county and extends north from SAR 3 between Star and Highlanding and between Goodridge and Reiner townships to SAR 9. There were 10 bidders on the project with the high bid being $345,959.

The commissioners discussed hiring of an alcohol counselor but no decision was made. County court judge Larry Jorgenson had informed the board at an earlier date that hiring of the counselor would require office space and secretarial assistance.

Approval was given by the board to paying its share of sealing the parking lot located by the American Legion clubrooms. Next meeting of the board will be July 7 when the board of equalization will be in session.

Farmers Urged To Determine Crop Potential

Drought and high temperatures have altered the pattern of small grain development in northwestern Minnesota, delaying the normal progression of pollination.

As a result, growers are uncertain of the production potential of these crops. Randy Jeppson, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, urges farmers to determine if grain production can still produce a feasible yield before considering alternative actions.

"If pollination and subsequent seed set are determined to be poor, a decision to harvest the crop for forage or to replant another crop should be made as soon as possible due to the late date," Jeppson says. "However, before using a crop for forage, farmers should check the label on any herbicides that were applied earlier in the season. The application of certain herbicides will restrict use of the crop as a forage."

Under normal conditions, Jeppson explains, wheat pollinates at or within two to three days after heading and will continue for a period of three to seven days. Barley pollination follows a similar pattern. Following fertilization, seed development begins.

A close examination of the grain floret will indicate if pollination has occurred and if the seed is developing, Jeppson says.

An indication that pollination is occurring is the extrusion of yellow-colored anthers from the florets. After fertilization, the ovary will start enlarging and in three to seven days will be almost the size of a normal kernel. It is doubtful that all kernels in a head or panicle would fail to develop.

By carefully examining several heads selected from various areas in the field, growers should be able to determine if it's too early for seed formation or if most of the florets are sterile, Jeppson says.

If a large portion of the heads are empty 10 to 14 days after fertilization, it's doubtful that a satisfactory harvest will be possible, Jeppson says. In addition to the amount of sterility determined, the stand density should also be considered when deciding to harvest the crop for forage and-or replanting a second crop.

Many sunflower fields have less than the desired plant population as a result of hail damage or poor emergence. If the plant population has been reduced to six to eight thousand, well-established, healthy and undamaged plants per acre, respectable but certainly less than normal seed yields might still be obtained.

"However, due to the low plant population, heads will be larger and will dry slower this fall," Jeppson adds. "If sunflowers are to be replanted, a relatively high plant population recommended for the areas should be used to keep head size to a minimum. This will speed up drying this fall."

Joanne Wedul, 77, of Thief River Falls, who owned and operated Joanne's Beauty shop in this city for many years, died this morning (Wednesday) at Northwestern hospital, following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services for Joanne Wedul will be held Monday at 2:00 p.m., at Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. Carl Andersen officiating. Interment will be in Fort Snelling National cemetery.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

A complete obituary will be published in Monday's edition of the Times.

Services Are Scheduled For Glenn Leas, 45

Funeral services for Glenn Leas, 45, of Thief River Falls, who died Monday, June 30, at the Veterans Administration hospital in Fargo, N.D., have been scheduled.

The first service will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m., at the Houske chapel at Crookston, where the body is reposing.

The second service is set for Thursday at 10:30 a.m., at St. John Lutheran church in this city with Rev. Barrie Henke officiating. Interment will be in the Oakdale cemetery at Crookston.

Honorary pallbearers will be Elmer Brule, Raymond Fuller, James Koch, Jonathan Leas, Willie Montcalm, Paul Normandin, Lawrence Paske, Dennis Plante, Duane Valley and Maynard Wedul.

Serving as active pallbearers will be James Delage, John and Robert Johnson, James Langlois, Jason Leas and Robert Valley.

Glen Leas was born July 2, 1934 in rural Crookston to Arden and Josephine Johnson Leas. He lived most of his life in the Gentilly area. At the age of 14 years, he began working with his father in the trucking business and became a diesel mechanic and trucker. He continued in that line of work until failing health forced his retirement.

On April 15, 1971 he was married at Sisseton, S.D., to Renette Ulrich. For the past nine years, they have made their home here.

Leas was a veteran of the Korean War, serving in the U.S. Air Corps.

He was a member of St. John Lutheran church and the American Legion.

He is survived by his wife, three children: Cary, Shawn and Michael, all at home; a brother, Milan Leas, Seattle, Wash.; and five sisters: Mrs. Hilaire (Jean) Prudhomme, Milwaukee, Wis.; Mrs. John (Audrey) Brandt, St. Paul; Sylvia Leas, Fergus Falls; Mrs. Richard (Bonnie) Hanson, Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Richard (Andrea) Axelson, Kennewick, Wash.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Services Held For Anna H. Gunerson, 70

Funeral services for Miss Anna H. Gunderson, 70, of Newfolden, were held Tuesday at 2:00 p.m., at the Bethlehem Lutheran church at Newfolden. Miss Gunderson died Saturday evening at her home.

Rev. Hans Floan officiated at the services. Mrs. Vernon Nelson was the organist and Mrs. Alfred Hagenbeck, the soloist. Interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery with the Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Engvald Dahl, Helmer Hanson, Freeman Hiaasen, Henry Engelsrud, Marshall Myhrer and John Lockstad.

Anna Helen Gunderson, a daughter of the late Gunder and Bergit Torstveit Gunderson, was born Oct. 4, 1909 in Big Woods township, Marshall county. In 1917, she moved with her parents and a younger brother to Newfolden. There she completed her elementary education and was graduated from high school with the class of 1928. Later she studied laboratory and X-ray technique at Northwest Institute of Medical technology in Minneapolis. After completing the course, she worked for 34 years in hospitals in Beckley, West Virginia; Aberdeen, Wash.; Thief River Falls and Brainerd. While at Brainerd, she also attended junior college, graduating in 1963. She then attended Bemidji State university. Following graduation in 1965, she returned to Brainerd and was employed there until she retired in 1967. Since then, she had made her home at Newfolden. Her mother resided with her for 25 years prior to her death in 1978.

Miss Gunderson was the last member of her family. Her only survivors are a nephew, Vernon Gunderson, Newfolden, a grand nephew and two grand nieces.

She was preceded in death by her father in 1935, her mother, in 1978, and her brother, George, in 1979.

M. Johnson Rites Held At Silver Creek

Martin Johnson, 88, a retired farmer in Excel township, Marshall county, died Thursday afternoon, June 19, at the Karlstad Memorial hospital.

Funeral services for Martin Johnson were held Tuesday, June 24, at 10:00 a.m., at the Silver Creek Lutheran church with Rev. Rick Lund officiating. Mrs. Carmen Gustafson served as organist and together with Mrs. Grace Jorde provided the vocal selections. Interment was in the church cemetery with the Collins Funeral home, Middle River, in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Lawrence Skomedahl, Lawrence Gutterud, Julian Rodahl, Darold Rodahl, Jarvis Togerson and Clebert Molstad.

Martin Johnson, a son of the late Mikkel and Anna Johnson; was born June 10, 1892 at Grand Forks, N.D. As a child, he moved with his parents to a farm in Excel township, Marshall county, near Holt. There he attended school and grew to manhood. Later he farmed for many years in the Excel area. In the fall of 1973, he became a resident of a boarding home in Middle River. Since 1975, he had been residing at the Karlstad Memorial Nursing Center.

He is survived by three sisters: Mrs. Emelia Ness, Newfolden; Mrs. Martin (Sena) Swenson, Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Edwin (Julia) Johnson, Iron Mountain, Mich.; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by two brothers and three sisters.

Minnie Drees Rites Held At Red Lake Falls

Mrs. Nick (Minnie) Drees, 94, of Red Lake Falls, died Friday at the Hillcrest Nursing home where she had been a resident since March of 1960.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nick Drees were held today (Wednesday) at 10:30 a.m., at St. John's Lutheran church in Red Lake Falls. Rev. Roger Raebel officiated. Bonita Knaack served as organist and soloist. Interment was in the Immanuel Lutheran cemetery at Wylie with the Petterson Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were nephews of the deceased.

Mrs. Drees, the former Minnie Schultz, was born April 3, 1886 in Louisville township, Red Lake county, to Herman and Wilhelmina Ziebell Schultz. She grew to womanhood in Red Lake county. On Jan. 22, 1908, she was married at Wylie to Nick Drees. The couple farmed near Dorothy until 1957, when they moved into Red Lake Falls.

His only survivors are several foster sons and daughters, and a number of nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, who died Nov. 22, 1961, nine brothers and four sisters.

Services Held At Alma For J. Bieniski, 98

Joseph Bieniski, 98, of Argyle, died Saturday morning, June 21, at the Good Samaritan Nursing home at Warren, where he had been a resident for the past five years.

Funeral services for Joseph Bieniski were held Wednesday, June 25, at 10:00 a.m., at St. John the Baptist Catholic church at Alma with Rev. Frank Kukhawik and Rev. Joseph O. Menker offering the Mass. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Collins Funeral home, Karlstad, was in charge of arrangements.

Honorary pallbearers were Dennis Tulibaski, Edmund Nowacki, Leonard Kuznia, John Gostanczik, Lambert Tratzek and Frank Rybaski.

Serving as active pallbearers were Kenny Wavra, Richard Pawloski, Leonard Deleski, David Bieniski, Rodney Pawloski and Fred Volk.

Joseph Bienicki was born March 11, 1882 in Lepin, Poland. He attended school in Poland and was baptized and confirmed there into the Catholic faith. On Jan. 15, 1907, he was married in Poland to Felixa (Florence) Kodruski. The couple farmed in Poland until July 6, 1914, when Bieniski immigrated to the United States, settling in Marshall county. Two and one-half years later, he was joined by his family. The couple lived and farmed for many years in the Argyle community. For the past five years, he and his wife have resided at the Good Samaritan home at Warren.

He was a member of St. John the Baptist Catholic church of Alma, near Argyle and was active in church affiars.

He is survived by his wife, a son, John Bieniski, Argyle; two daughters: Mrs. Staffie Pawloski, Stephen; and Mrs. Gene (Cecelia) Robertson, Grand Forks, N.D.; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by a son, one daughter, a granddaughter and several brothers and sisters.

Services Held Here For Mrs. Patrick Barry

Funeral services for Mrs. Patrick (June) Barry, 51, of this city were held Tuesday at 11:00 a.m., at St. Bernard's Catholic church. Mrs. Barry died Saturday afternoon at Northwestern hospital following a lengthy illness.

Rev. James Bernauer and Rev. Keough Patnode officiated at the services. Mrs. Roger Amundson served as organist. The congregational singing was led by the fifth and sixth grade students at St. Bernard's school. Interment was in the church cemetery with the Belmont Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Richard Kotchevar, Robert Kosel, Lowell Knutson, Alan Thompson, John Peterson and Kenneth Koehler.

Mrs. Barry, the former June Montgomery, was born Aug. 17, 1928 in St. Paul to Earl and May Montgomery, now deceased. She grew to womanhood in North St. Paul and married there on July 31, 1943 at St. Peters Catholic church to Patrick Barry. The couple lived in North St. Paul until 1962, when they came to Thief River Falls where her husband is serving as deputy state fire marshal.

She was a member of St. Bernard's Catholic church and the American Legion auxiliary.

She is survived by her husband, five sons: Dennis Barry, Fergus Falls; John, Anoka; James and Thomas, Thief River Falls, and Michael, St. Cloud; three daughters: Mrs. Bruce (Patricia) Saustad, Kathleen, and Kelly, all of Thief River Falls; six grandchildren, and one brother, Wesley Montgomery, Maplewood.

She was preceded in death by two brothers.

Roger Olberg Rites Held In Middle River

Funeral services for Roger E. Olberg, 49, of Fargo, N.D., and formerly of the Middle River community, were held Tuesday at 2:00 p.m., at the First Lutheran church in Middle River. Olberg died unexpectedly on Friday evening at Belle Fourche, S.D.

Rev. Donald Fredine officiated at the services. Mrs. Floyd Peterson was the organist and Steve Larson and Erlynn Olberg were the soloists. Interment was in the Spruce Valley cemetery with military honors accorded by the Middle River American Legion post. The Collins Funeral home, Middle River, was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Pallbearers were nephews: Duane, Dennis and Don Lorenson, Bruce and Greg Kilen and Jeffrey Olberg.

Roger Elwood Olberg was born June [illegible] near Middle River to Art and Ellen Olberg. He attended school and grew to manhood in the Middle River community.

On Aug. 9, 1952, he was united in marriage to Renee E. Modahl at the Klondike Lutheran church near Strathcona.

Olberg served in the U.S. Army from February of 1952 until February of 1954 with one and one-half years spent in Korea. Following his discharge, he returned to Middle River and was employed for a time as beekeeper for George Franzen. He also worked for a time at the Co-op Oil station. The couple then lived for a brief period on the Iron Range. They returned to Middle River, where he operated the Standard Oil Station from 1958 to 1959.

In 1969, Olberg began his employment with the William Collins, Inc., construction firm. At the time of his death, he was co-vice president and general supervisor of the firm. He was also associated with the Thompson Redi-Mix plant at Karlstad, which he, his son, Rick, and nephew Dennis purchased in 1979.

Since the fall of 1966, Olberg and his wife have made their home in Fargo.

He was a member of the Middle River American Legion post, the Fargo Eagles club and the Olivet Lutheran church of Fargo.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Rick Olberg, Karlstad; one granddaughter; his father, Art Olberg, Middle River; three brothers: Erlynn Olberg, Hibbing; Myron, Holt; and Darold, Anoka; and four sisters: Mrs. Roger (Sharon) Kilen, Mrs. Marvin (Kathleen) Christofferson, Mrs. Gerald (Geraldine) Gillund and Mrs. Gerald (Caroline) Ruud, all of Middle River.

Congressman Urges Program Due To Drought

Following a tour of drought stricken fields in the Seventh district, Congressman Arlan Stangeland has met with Ray Fitzgerald, the administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service.

"Farmers in these drought stricken counties are faced with losing their entire crop and the economic suffering that will occur, not only for the farmer but also for the entire agriculture industry and other small businesses which depend on the farmers, will be great. I expressed my concerns and those of farmers I talked with while visiting affected areas to Mr. Fitzgerald to make him fully aware of the severity of the drought and the dangers which face the Seventh district," Rep. Stangeland said.

"I also requested from Mr. Fitzgerald a review of the dollar amounts of federal assistance to determine their adequacy, and asked him to determine what the secretary of agriculture can do for crops which are not part of the farm bill, such as sunflowers and flax," Stangeland added.

Stangeland added that he encouraged Fitzgerald to appeal to the secretary of agriculture to extend the emergency period for those counties designated for federal assistance until the spring of 1981 so as to allow greater farmer participation in the ASCS emergency programs. Fitzgerald indicated that secretary Bergland is currently considering this extension.

The ASCS emergency feed program provides assistance to livestock owners of up to 50 per cent of the cost, not to exceed two cents per pound, of purchasing feed to replace that which normally is produced on the farm. Farmers able to report a yield of less than 60 per cent of a normal year are eligible for such assistance.

"Adequate assistance to Seventh district farmers hurt by the drought is essential and I plan to continue working with Fitzgerald and the department of agriculture to make sure everything possible, including an extension of the emergency period, is provided," Stangeland concluded.

Raines On UND Roll Of Honor

Robbin Trontvet Raines of Thief River Falls was among 336 students at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks who were named to the president's roll of honor for the spring semester of the 1979-80 academic year.

To qualify, a student must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.8 or higher (4.0 equals straight A), have earned a cumulative minimum of 30 semester hours and have earned a minimum of 12 hours at the close of the semester.

CLOWNING AROUND at the Viking 75th anniversary parade Saturday were Arnie and Joni Olmscheid of Thief River Falls. Olmscheid, operator of Arnie's Used Mart, had an entry in the parade and added to the activity with costuming, make-up and antics.

Fiddlers Gather For Jamboree July 25-28

An old-time fiddlers tri-state jamboree, sponsored by the Red River Valley Fiddlers association, will meet at Moorhead state university July 25-28.

The jamboree is a non-competitive get-together for fiddlers and their families aimed at tuning up interest in regional folk music.

Open to the public, the weekend event will feature an old-time dance, free-for-all fiddling and a Sunday morning religious service set to folk hymns.

Lloyd Elsert, Crookston, president of the 40-member association, expects more than 200 fiddlers from Minnesota and the Dakotas to attend the jamboree. "We'd like to get some other fiddlers associations started in the tri-state area. Right now, we're the only one of its kind in these parts," he said.

The jamboree opens July 25 at 7 p.m. in Comstock memorial union ballroom on campus, with fiddlers, their families and accompanists registering, getting acquainted and warming up on their strings.

A workshop on how to judge fiddler competition runs from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday in the ballroom. Elsert said at least 20 fiddler contests are scheduled in Minnesota alone each year. "There's always enough fiddlers, but seldom enough qualified judges."

Meetings will follow the workshop from 1 to 3 p.m. in an effort to formally organize fiddlers from Minnesota and North and South Dakota. They will also try to arrange a tri-state fiddlers play-off to choose the top fiddlers in the region.

The free-for-all fiddlers jamboree, featuring some of the best old-time string players in the Midwest, runs from 3:30 to 6 p.m., followed by an old-time dance at 8 p.m. Fiddlers will take turns providing the music. Prizes will be awarded to dancers in waltz, polka and schottische events. There is an admission charged for the dance, but not for any of the other events.

Fiddlers will play hymns for a Sunday devotional service at 9 a.m., then travel around Fargo-Moorhead entertaining for shut-ins and at retirement homes.

A final jamboree on campus that afternoon will end the weekend program.

Overnight accommodations are available at the University. Call the university's music department at (218) 236-2101 before July 21 for reservations. For more information about the jamboree, contact Lloyd Elsert at Box 196, Crookston, MN 56716, or the MSU music department.

Ev. Lutherans Elect Orvick New President

Evangelical Lutheran synod, meeting at Bethany Lutheran college in Mankato, has elected as its new president Rev. George M. Orvick of Madison, Wisc.

Rev. Orvick replaces Rev. Wilhelm Peterson of Mankato, who has served as president since 1976. Rev. Petersen became ineligible for reelection when he accepted the position of president of Bethany Lutheran seminary. The synod's bylaws specify that the president must be a parish pastor, actively serving a congregation. Rev. Orvick previously served as president for three terms from 1970 to 1976.

Other officers of the 20,000 member church body who were reelected are Rev. Norman A. Madson, St. Peter, vice president; Rev. Al Merseth, secretary; and Leroy Meyer, Lombard, Ill., treasurer.

In other action, the convention:

+ Adopted a resolution encouraging the Lutheran church-Missouri synod to return to its former position in church fellowship. The two church bodies were once in fellowship but split when Missouri entered into a closer relationship with other church bodies in the U.S.

+ Received a report concerning a special anniversary offering that the $600,000 offering begun in 1977 will exceed at least $800,000.

+ Declined a proposal to move to every-other-year conventions rather than the present arrangement of annual conventions, or to cut annual conventions to three days.

+ Suspended a Chicago congregation for calling a Seminex graduate ("Seminex" — seminary-in-exile — is a seminary in St. Louis which began as a walk-out of liberal faculty members from Concordia seminary in St. Louis, a theological school of the Lutheran church, Missouri synod). The constitutional requirements of the ELS specify that pastors called to synodical congregations must be graduated from an approved seminary in fellowship with the synod or be examined by the synod's officers in a colloquy. The synod president suspended the congregation earlier this year and the convention ratified his action.

+ Heard a message from Rev. Carl Mischke, head of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran synod, with which the ELS is in fellowship, in which Mischke said, "Our mission is not chiefly to make the world a better place to live, but to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

The convention also resolved a long term debate on the doctrine concerning the nature of the church by adopting a presidential statement on the matter as the synod's "consensus."

Applicants Are Needed For 3 State Agencies

Secretary of state's office is seeking applicants for six vacancies in three state agencies. In accordance with the Minnesota open appointments law, application forms may be obtained at the Office of the Secretary of State, 180 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155; (612) 296-2805. Application deadline is July 22.

Humane Society has one vacancy open immediately for a veterinarian. The society enforces laws preventing cruelty to animals and makes rules governing the humane care, treatment and transportation of animals. Members are appointed by the governor and receive $35 per diem plus expenses. For specific information, call or write Humane Society, 500 Rice St., St. Paul, MN 55155; (612) 296-3613.

Governor's task force on educational policy has two vacancies open immediately for public members, for terms expiring June 30, 1981. School board members, school administrators or teachers are not eligible. Task force conducts a review of major educational policy issues, examines alternative strategies for public policy action and makes recommendations based on the findings.

Members, appointed by the governor, should be representative of public constituent groups in education, and should have a demonstrated interest in elementary and secondary education. Meetings will be conducted at least monthly; members are compensated for travel expenses. For specific information, call or write Donna Knight, 101 Capitol Square Building, St. Paul 55101; (612) 296-1755.

Medical policy directional committee on mental health has three vacancies open immediately for a phsychiatrist, a physician and a psychologist. The committee advises the commissioner of welfare on mental health and medical policy; members are appointed by the commissioner and receive $50 per diem plus expenses. For specific information, call or write Medical Policy Directional Committee on Mental Health, Department of Public Welfare, Centennial Building, St. Paul, MN 55155; (612) 296-30[illegible].

Quies Host Open House At Residence

Governor and Mrs. Al Quie will host an open house at the Governor's residence, 1006 Summit Avenue in St. Paul, on Saturday, July 5 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. Quie will be at the residence throughout the open house; the governor will meet visitors from 10 a.m. until noon. Members of the women's organization of the Minnesota historical society will also be at the residence to answer questions visitors may have.

Brass ensemble of the Greater Twin Cities youth orchestra will perform 10 to 11 a.m. at the open house. Piano music will be performed by Solveig Westby between 11 a.m. and noon.

Residence is also open the first Saturday and the third Thursday of each month from 2 until 4 p.m. for tours led by members of the historical society's women's organization.

Reservations must be made in advance for the monthly tours. Those interested should call the Minnesota historical society educational service at (612) 296-2881.

America Celebrates the 4th with Pride

"We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness…". Our founding fathers had the foresight and wisdom to create a document which clearly defines our American ideals. For the past 204 years, we've upheld these values set forth in the Declaration of Independence and in so doing have become a strong nation of people…from all backgrounds, races and religions…working, growing and prospering together with one goal…a better America…a better world. This July 4th let's celebrate the birth of our heritage with renewed spirit, unity and pride.

New Firewood Cutting Law Is In Effect

Those who cut firewood for their personal use have been advised by the Department of Natural Resources of some important changes in laws regarding cutting of such wood on state-owned lands.

The 1980 legislature changed the cost of the fee to cut firewood from a flat $5 to a fee of "not less than $5" but allowing the fee to be raised to equal the current market value of stumpage of similar species, grade and volume that is being charged in the area.

Maximum number of cords which may be cut under such permits is reduced from 25 to 12.

At the same time, the legislature appropriated $250,000 to the DNR forestry division to develop and implement a fuelwood management program to increase the availability of fuelwood on public lands.

The program is to be submitted for approval to the legislative commission on Minnesota resources (LCMR).

Serious Crime In State Has More Growth

Although serious crime was up 12.9 per cent in Minnesota during the first three months of this year, there are some bright spots in the overall picture, according to public safety commissioner John Sopsic. The rate of increase for all of 1979 was 8.1 per cent.

Crimes of violence and murders were down 4.3 and 45 per cent respectively, said John D. (Jack) Erskine, superintendent of the bureau of criminal apprehension. There were 11 murders during the period compared to 20 a year ago.

In total numbers, there were 33,173 crimes reported, broken down as follows: Murder, 11; rape, 169; robbery, 681; aggravated assault, 689; burglary, 8,515; larceny-theft, 20,681; motor vehicle theft, 2,447. Total number of crimes during a similar period in 1979 was 29,373.

Property crimes and burglaries were up while motor vehicle theft was down.

Robberies were down from [illegible] to 681 but the value of property increased to $468,175 compared to $301,349. Highest dollar loss was in the residential category ($269,352). Bank robbery loss was down 67 per cent.

The 8,515 burglaries represented a 17.1 per cent increase with a large jump of 21.6 per cent in residential cases.

Commenting on the report, Erskine asked: "While we have no hard data, it appears that due to the economic conditions of the country, crimes related to monetary things are up, meaning there could be a correlation between crime and economic conditions. This is somewhat substantiated by the fact that crimes against persons decreased in the first quarter by 4.3 per cent while property-type crimes (associated with thefts) increased by 13.9 per cent.

Higher Dosage OK For Dutch Elm Disease

Based on research at the University of Minnesota, a fungicide used to inject elm trees against Dutch elm disease has been granted a special local need lable by the Minnesota department of agriculture.

The fungicide, Arbotect, can now be used at three times the previously allowed dosage. At this dosage, elm trees injected with Arbotect can be protected for two years, and possibly three, according to Mark Stennes, university plant pathologist.

Stennes cautions, however, that the fungicide works only if used properly and only under certain conditions. "It should not be injected in trees that have wilted before July 1," he notes. "These trees were probably infected last year, and the disease most likely has advanced too far for the fungicide to be effective."

If wilting occurs after July 1, it is probably a newly infected tree and the fungicide can help, provided that the symptoms are restricted to five to 10 per cent of the crown. The best candidates for injection are healthy trees.

It is important to inject the fungicide at the root flares, using two injection points for every inch of tree diameter at chest height. This ensures a uniform distribution throughout the tree, which is necessary for the fungicide to work.

Injection is expensive when done properly and also poses a risk to the tree because the injection holes leave the tree susceptible to decay organisms. For these reasons, university extension specialists recommend injection only for highly valued elms.

It is necessary to obtain the state local need 24c label (SLN-MN 80-0012) before injecting Arbotect at the new higher dosages. These labels, which must be in the possession of the user at the time of injection, should be available shortly at local supply stores.

ARMY National Guardsman Private Arthur Braun Jr., Thief River Falls, prepares for action while on perimeter guard duty during field exercises at Camp Ripley. Braun is a member of the Thief River Falls-based Company B, 2nd Battalion (Mechanized), 136th Infantry which is currently attending two weeks annual training at the camp. Training also includes a three-day bivouac in the field where troops operate under simulated combat conditions. (Minnesota Army National Guard photograph by Spec. 4 Bobbie Cochran).

PFC Randy W. Swenson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Swenson of Thief River Falls, has been appointed as a temporary recruiter aide in Minnesota. His office will be in the new recruiting station at 311 LaBree Ave. in Thief River Falls. Collect calls will be accepted at 681-3376. He will be working there approximately 30 days. Swenson joined the Army May 10, 1979. He received basic combat training at Fort Jackson, S.C. and was further trained as a construction surveyer.

Fireworks Use, Sale Illegal In Minnesota

State fire marshal Wes Werner of the Minnesota department of public safety says the best way to celebrate the Fourth of July, safely and legally, is to enjoy fireworks at an authorized public display.

He reminded Minnesotans that it is unlawful for any person to offer for sale, expose for sale, sell at retail or wholesale, or use or explode any fireworks.

"Fireworks means any substance or article prepared for the purpose of producing a visible or audible effect and includes blank cartridges, toy cannons, firecrackers, torpedos, skyrockets, roman candles, sparklers or any other device commonly used as fireworks," Werner said. The only legal fireworks in the state are supervised public displays.

Sale or use of fireworks is a misdemeanor which can bring a maximum penalty of $500 fine and-or 90 days in jail.

$23.5 Million Loss Reported By Republic

Republic Airlines today reported record May revenues of $65.1 million, an increase of 20 per cent over the $54 million for May 1979.

Operating expenses reached $66.4 million from $47 million, resulting in a net loss of $3.4 million compared to a profit of $4.5 million a year ago.

For the five-month period, the airline's revenues rose to $296 million from $235.1 million last year. Operating expenses increased to $311.2 million from $217.9 million. The net loss of $23.5 millio compares to a profit of $8.1 million for the 1979 period.

"May's financial performance reflects recession-depressed traffic and rising costs, particularly fuel and interest expense, which were only partially offset by the record revenues," said Bernard Sweet, president and chief executive officer. "Also, last May was favorably affected by a strike against United airlines," he said.

Family Weekend Is Held By Scout Unit

Thirty Boy Scouts, Webelos, and Cub Scouts and their families attended Unit 59 family camp weekend at Old Mill state park June 27, 28 and 29.

Bryan Casavan presented the colors during the opening ceremony Friday evening. Boys sang songs around a fire in the shelter at the park. Ceremony closed with everyone singing taps.

Saturday morning activities commenced with reveille at 8 a.m., followed by flag raising.

Richard Melby and Cubmaster Jim Giles took Webelos and Cub scouts on a hike. Webelos earned geologist, naturalist and outdoorsman achievements during the activity.

Boy scouts went on a five mile hike using their compasses and were accompanied by Jerry Okland, Jim Hoks and Robert Stroble. Preschoolers and girls went with Judy Melby on a nature hike.

Saturday afternoon all met at the park shelter due to the rain, to warm themselves by the fire and participate in the lifeline rope toss. Cubmaster Jim Giles worked with the Webelos on their scientist achievement. Paul Hoks gave a knife, ax and saw safety demonstration for all the boys. After an hour of free time, a potluck supper and hot dog roast took place.

Program for Unit 59 began with the song "Smokey the Bear", led by Mike Melby and Chris Okland.

Cubmaster Jim Giles presented Cory Thorstenson with a special pack recognition for saving his brother's life. Cory rescued his two-year-old brother who fell from a dock where the two were fishing.

Following awards were presented to Webelos Andy Melby, showman and sportsman; John Giles, athlete and outdoorsman; and the Noel Joppru, athlete.

Murray Melgaard was presented with the Arrow of Light patch; and 50th anniversary decals were presented to all Cub scouts, Boy scouts, leaders and children in attendance.

Recognition ribbons and Canadian exchange participation ribbon were placed on the troop flag by the Boy scouts.

LuAnn Giles directed Cub scouts, Webelos and girls in singing "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands".

Zion Lutheran church pastor Rev. James Mattson conducted the church service for the group. Service commenced with a sing-along invocation, a reading, a group sing-along, sermonette and sing-along benediction.

Boy scout court of awards began with Mike Melby presenting the colors. Scoutmaster Jim Hoks introduced Paul Hoks who had a taped presentation of Red Skelton's pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Jim Van Schaick, senior patrol leader, welcomed parents to the event. Assisted by Bryan Casavan, Jim Van Schaick presented Troop 59 big hand awards to Rev. Mattson, Judy Melby, Paul Hoks, Jim Giles, Jerry Okland and Jim Hoks for their effort in organizing the weekend events.

Jerry Okland presented skill awards to the following Boy scouts: Jeff Thrane, citizenship; Bill Nygaard, citizenship and cooking; Mike Melby, community living and conservation; Bryan Casavan, cooking, community living and family-living; and Murray Melgaard, Todd Greisen and Quincy Lofberg, cooking.

Scoutmaster Jerry Okland presented merit badges to the following Boy scouts: Jim Van Schaick, rifle-shotgun, model design and building and firemanship; Mike Melby, communications, model design and building and rabbit raising; and Chris Okland, fishing, dog care, model design and building, communications, camping, aviation, rifle - shotgun, physical fitness, general science and pet care.

Scoutmasters Jim Hoks and Jerry Okland presented Boy scouts with the following advancements: Tenderfoot, Quincy Lofberg and Bill Nygaard; and first Class, Bryan Casavan.

Rev. Mattson presented the Star advancement to Mike Melby, Chris Okland and Jim Van Schaick.

Jerry Okland gave a thank you to all present. Burler Chris Okland closed the ceremony with taps. Following the ceremony Boy scouts and Cub scouts roasted marshmallows and made "s'mores".

Sunday reveille and flag raising commenced at 9 a.m. The area state park naturalist took everyone on a 2½ mile nature hike. Following the hike were brief announcements and the weekend closed with the new Pack 59 yell — "It's great to be alive in God's great northwoods".

Also Cub scouts Erik Okland, Andy Melby, Eric Groslie, Jon Hall, Greg Hall, John Giles, Noel Joppru, Brian Christianson, Tom Anderson, Chris Belmont, Chris Anderson, Tony Hoffard, Tim Hoffard, Cory Thorstenson, Chad Thorstenson, Paul Lofberg, Tim Nelson, Jeff Shafland, Scott Bednarz and Darin Robson;

Also leaders Richard Melby, Judy Melby, Jim Hoks, Jerry Okland, Jim Giles, LuAnn Giles, Elaine Thorstenson, Dan Shafland and Mary Ann Lofberg.

'80 RRV Sugar Beet Royalty Is Enthroned

Jody Sinner of Casselton, N.D., was selected as the 1980-1981 Red River valley sugar beet queen at a pageant held last week in Grafton. She will enter the Miss North Dakota pageant next June.

With her selection goes $900 in scholarships. In addition she also was the winner of the swimsuit and evening gown competitions for which she will receive an additional $500. A total of $3,000 is given in scholarships in the various categories.

Other winners were Loree Bilden, Northwood, N.D., first runner up; Melanie Kopperud, Grafton, second runner up; Phyllis Hankey, Park River, third runner up, and Cathy Thompson, fourth runner up. Miss Hankey also received the Miss Congeniality award. Diane Knudson of Fisher was the talent division winner.

Students May Apply For US Youth Program

Senators Rudy Boschwitz and Dave Durenberger have invited interested Minnesota high school juniors and seniors to apply for the United States Senate youth program.

Sponsored by the William Randolph Hearst foundation, the program will provide a $1,500 scholarship and trip to Washington to two Minnesota Students. Students must be juniors or seniors and be elected student body officers, class officers or student council representatives.

"While in Washington," Durenberger and Boschwitz said, "the students will receive an orientation into the functions of the federal government and the United States Senate. We invite interested students in Minnesota to apply for this fine program and visit us in Washington."

Each of the delegates selected will receive a trip to Washington with expenses paid for transportation, hotels, meals and insurance. They will also be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship. The program is open only to United States citizens.

Further information on the program should be available from the local high school principal or from the state department of Education located at Capital Square Building, 550 Cedar Street, St. Paul, MN 55101.

Farmers Urged Not To Hurry To Replanting

Farmers in drought-stricken areas considering a second emergency crop this season should take several things into account before replanting.

According to University of Minnesota extension agronomists Erv Oelke and Neal Martin, sufficient moisture must be present before the emergency crop's last possible planting date or an identical situation may occur.

"In most situations where soil moisture was limiting for a previous crop, soil moisture will also be limiting for germination and growth of the second crop," Oelke says. "If moisture isn't revived in time, it may be desirable to leave the drought-damaged crop in the field for ground cover or leave the field fallow if weeds are a problem."

If soil moisture is sufficient, farmers should consider planting into old stubble without tillage to conserve as much topsoil as possible, Martin adds.

When determining which emergency crop to plant, farmers should consider the chemicals already in the ground from the first crop; herbicide residue problems which are often more acute when soils are dry; the availability of seeds, and the growing season of these seeds; and the potential market for the second crop.

Choice of emergency crops for grain in the northwestern part of Minnesota is very limited after July 1, the agronomists explain. They feel the best possibilities are buckwheat and millet if they can be planted during the first week of July. Other crop possibilities would be forage crops such as sudangrass or sorghum-sudangrass hybrid and forage millets.

Soybeans could also be planted as a forage crop particularly on fields previously treated with trifluralin (Treflan). Late varieties would produce more hay than early ones.

"All of these crops, however, would require sufficient rainfall during July and August to produce reasonably good yields," Martin says. "To obtain average yields of buckwheat and millet, about 10 acre inches of moisture are needed. The forage crops also would need this amount for reasonably good yields."

If some fields are tilled to control weeds and are left fallow, planting a cover crop later in the summer may be useful to prevent wind erosion. Winter wheat or rye could be used for this purpose. Some farmers often will plant barley as a cover crop. This allows them to plant a spring crop on these fields since the barley will winter-kill.

University of Minnesota Miscellaneous Report 24, "Varietal Trials of Farm Crops," gives a variety of information and seeding dates and rates.

For this report and more information on emergency crop planning, contact your local county extension office.

List Films For Showing At Public Library

Monday movies, the weekly film program for children at the Northwest regional library, will take place Monday from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

This weeks movies include:

"Bernice Bobs Her Hair" — Based on a story by F. Scott Fitzgerald, know-it-all Marjorie sets out to teach Bernice how to "fit in" but the tables are turned when Bernice learns more than she is taught.

"Wild Goose" — Satirizes the roles that our society assigns to old people and shows that the elderly are still as alive as other individuals and age groups. The pace and style of this film are reminiscent of old silent movies.

"A Source of Wonder, . . the Calgary Zoo" — On the zoo's territory of some 150 acres, animals from Africa, Asia, North America and other parts of the world live in near-to-natural environments.

"Sylvester" — Adventures of Sylvester, the musical mouse.

Banquet Foods Warning Not Necessary Here

Thief River Falls area food wholesalers have been assured that none of the Banquet Foods products cited as potentially dangerous by the U.S. department of agriculture have been distributed in this area.

USDA assistant secretary Carol Tucker Foreman had announced that certain turkey products produced by the company may contain the pesticide dieldrin in violative levels (above 0.3 parts per million). Dieldrin, banned since 1974 for general use, has been found to cause cancer in laboratory animals.

L.B. Hartz wholesale in Thief River Falls put a hold on Banquet products and checked all warehouse stock for code numbers of lots which were considered potentially contaminated. None were found. A further check with food brokers indicated that none of the potentially contaminated products had been shipped to any grocery distributors supplying the Thief River Falls area market.

Swedish Band Holds Concert At MSU July 11

Vaxjo Schools music corps, 35 youngsters from the old Swedish province of Smaaland, will present a free public concert at 8 p.m., July 11 in Moorhead state university's Weld hall auditorium.

The group is celebrating its 35th anniversary by touring the midwestern Swedish-belt. Most Swedish immigrants who settled in Minnesota and North Dakota came from their home province of Smaaland.

Musicians are between the ages of 10 and 20 and as part of their tour would like to meet as many midwesterners as possible. The group will arrive in Moorhead July 10 after a concert at Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, and leave July 12 to perform at the International peace garden music camp near Dunseith, ND.

Any church, social or youth group that would like to meet the Vaxjo musicians before or after their concert here, should call Henning Clemedtson at 236-5384.

46 MEMBERS from seven chapters, along with seven advisers attended the FFA regional leadership seminar Tuesday at the Thief River Falls area vocational technical institute, in which workshops were conducted on safety, Building Our American Community (BOAC), personal development, and leadership. Members from region 1 (the Northwest corner of Minnesota) meeting for the seminar ranged in ages from 15 to 18 years old.

Filing Fee For Corporations Changed To $10

Secretary of State's office has announced that the filing fee for non-profit corporations, banks, small loan companies, cooperatives and service of process would be changed to $10 effective July 1, 1980. This change was mandated by a 1980 law passed by the legislature in April.

Secretary of state Joan Growe said, "In some cases this will be a higher fee than is currently the case and in some cases it will be lower. Primary goal was to have one fee in order to make it less confusing for people who need to file documents with our office."

Other fees collected by the secretary of state such as the county recorder's fee and the state treasurer's fee remain unchanged.

John Cullen Is Volunteer At MDA Camp

John Cullen, Goodridge, is serving as a volunteer attendant at the second annual summer camp conducted by the Muscular Dystrophy association at Turtle River state park, Arvilla, ND.

Campers and their attendants are from throughout the State of North Dakota and parts of Minnesota. Recreational activities for the week include swimming, nature hikes, wheelchair dancing, campfires, and arts and crafts. This camp is made possible through the special fund raising events conducted throughout the year. Visitor's day at the camp is June 25.

MSU Features Back Seat Astronomy

"Back Seat Astronomy," a lighthearted look at the summer skies, will be the featured show July 8-18 at the Moorhead state univeristy planetarium. The 20-minute program is a guided tour of the mid-year sky.

Summer showtimes are 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children and senior citizens. For more information, call the planetarium at 236-3982.

MSU planetarium is located in Bridges hall near the intersection of 11th street and 8th Avenue south.

Honor Nurse Anesthetists On July 6-13

Nurse anesthetists play an important role in the modern provision of health care, administering more than 50 per cent of all anesthesia.

American Association of Nurse Anesthetists, is particularly supportive of continuing education for certified registered nurse anesthetists, and is dedicated to the idea of quality health care at reasonable cost.

The concern and dedication of these professionals is beneficial to all citizens of Minnesota and the nation, states Gov. Al Quie.

In honor of nurse anesthetists, Governor Quie has proclaimed the week of July 6-13 to be nurse anesthetist week in Minnesota.

Farmers Union To Distribute '79 Dividends

Dividend checks totaling $39,316 will be distributed at the annual meeting of the Farmers Union oil company of Thief River Falls scheduled for Thursday, July 10, at 8 p.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

Election of one director, reading of the financial statement for the year and other business brought before the meeting will be on the agenda. A movie entitled "50 Years of Progress" will be shown and Howard Dalager will report on the young couples' conference he and his wife attended in Bloomington last winter.

Lunch will follow the meeting and drawing will be held for free door prizes.

St. Bernard's Listening Meet Results Ready

St. Bernard's family life committee has published the results of the parish listening sessions which were designed to allow parish family members the opportunity to express the needs and concerns of their family and the parish of St. Bernard's.

Listening process is the first step of a continuous process to kick off the year of the family. Listening initiates action by parish workers, priests and others to meet the needs as expressed by members of the parish.

Copies of the final report are available in the rear of St. Bernard's parish hall.

Views On Dental Health ®
By Donald R. Goodrich, D.D.S.
WHY DENTAL INSURANCE?
Consider these statistics: Of children over fifteen, 75% have some form of gum disease and an average of 11 cavities. By middle age, 2 out of 3 people will have serious gum problems and be well on the way to losing all of their teeth.
Why should such a technologically advanced country as our be in such a poor state of dental health? The answer is: NEGLECT! - Few Americans see a dentist as often as they should and many have NEVER seen one. There are many reasons for this and one of them is money. Now something is being done about it.
While most Americans have some kind of medical insurance, dental insurance has lagged far behind, but now dental coverage is growing by leaps and bounds. Today, some 65 million (3 out of every 10 Americans) are covered by some form of dental insurance and estimates are that coverage could increase to 93 million by 1985. Labor unions have been striving for wider dental protection and are responsible for much of this increase. In these times of inflation, the average American can use all the help he can get.

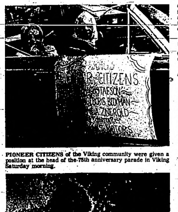
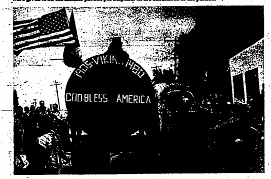
A LITTLE REFRESHMENT after a tough ride was earned by this youngster who pedaled his three-wheeler through the streets of Viking during the 75th anniversary parade. Ice cream treats were given to all the kiddies parade participants at the conclusion of the parade.



PIONEER CITIZENS of the Viking community were given a position at the head of the 75th anniversary parade in Viking Saturday morning.



NOT WITHOUT HUMOR were entries in the 75th anniversary parade at Viking Saturday afternoon, and this entry drew smiles and chuckles from the crowd despite cold and windy weather. The "Norwegian Power Company" truck had doors conveniently labeled "driver side" and "rider side" to help avoid confusion, and in deference to lutefisk lovers in the Scandinavian community also proclaimed "God-Bless America".

LYNNE KROHN, 1980 Northwest Dairy Princess, was right at home when riding in the 75th anniversary parade at Viking Saturday morning. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Krohn, operate a dairy farm near Viking. Lynne was selected 1980 Region One princess at Northwest Dairy day in Thief River Falls June 10.

FRONTIER FLAIR was provided by this couple walking the parade route at Viking during the 75th anniversary of the city on Saturday.

NORWEGIAN VISITORS who took a special interest in the 75th anniversary of the city of Viking Saturday were these house guests of Olof and Effie Pederson. Left to right are (front row) Kjellaug Lied, Per Ivar Lied and Marie Joringdal Lied; back row, Petter Hjoringdal and Jostein Lied. Effie Pederson's father, Elias Hjoringdal, and his brother Ole immigrated to the United States in 1887. Their eldest brother, Thomas, stayed at home to run the farm in western Norway near Alesund. Kjellaug, Petter and Marie are all grandchildren of Thomas Hjoringdal and all were born on the Hjoringdal farm which Elias and Ole left in 1887.

BEGUILING SMILES were bestowed upon parade watchers at the Viking 75th anniversary parade Saturday as these lovelies traversed the parade route in air conditioned comfort.

Bin Clearing Wise In '80 Drought Year

This year of drought could be a good year to clean out some of your grain bins, says Earl Fuller, extension farm management specialist at the University of Minnesota. Sales of enough grain to cover personal tax exemptions and deductions and to avoid reporting a tax loss makes sense. Further given current interest rates, storage is costly, he adds.

Currently, psychology is at work in the daily market, and it is possible that some favorable pricing opportunities may present themselves. For example, rumors concerning a lifting of the Russian grain embargo affect day-to-day price movements, Fuller says.

"The adage about selling a rumor and buying a fact holds," Fuller says. "Following the market carefully may produce some profitable pricing opportunities."

Delivering some grain will ease cash flow binds as well. But whether you choose to move it now or later, keep your creditors informed on your overall marketing plans, he advises. If you decide to continue to hold, then it is likely to require a delay in repayments. Under these conditions your banker will want to know your plans.

It is getting late to replant crops for any purpose. The likelihood of sufficient rainfall to produce sufficient yield to cover the added cost involved decreases as time goes on, Fuller adds. In addition, for a crop like buckwheat, the farmer needs to know where to deliver the crop if it does mature.

"Besides," says Fuller, "the time comes when it is cheaper to buy a substitute feed than to try to produce it at home under these circumstances. Corn grain, for instance, can be fed instead of hay in a dairy ration beyond the minimum forage needed to maintain rumen function. Given a minimum amount of forage produced at home, corn at $100 a ton is a better buy than hay at $30-$60 a ton delivered."

Many Farmers Seek Disaster Assistance

With record numbers of northwestern Minnesota farmers seeking assistance through the ASCS disaster protection program, it is particularly important that participants follow guidelines in making claims, according to Randy Jeppson, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota.

He says individual counties or regions may alter the claims procedures because of the number of assistance requests, but farmers should check with their local ASCS offices before destroying any crops. To qualify for assistance, farmers must report crop acreages to local ASCS offices by July 15, and earlier registration is advised.

Jeppson says that if ASCS representatives determine that yield potential of a crop is too low to justify harvesting, the crop may be left standing as a cover crop. In such a situation, the ASCS agent will appraise the yield potential of the crop at maturity and base payment accordingly. Farmers who choose this alternative must sign a statement that they will not use any of the crop for its feed or grain value.

If farmers opt to destroy the current crop by harvesting small grains for forage, fallowing the field or replanting a second crop, the ASCS agent must be notified first. If a field is destroyed before appraisal by the ASCS agent, the farmer will be ineligible for assistance.

In regions where claims are heavy, ASCS agents may encounter delays in completing appraisals. If farmers are under time pressure to plant a second crop, ASCS agents may allow them to leave test strips in the field for later appraisal. These generally must represent at least five per cent of the field's acreage and must span the entire length of the field and be scattered throughout in addition. Local ASCS offices can provide details on test strip requirements, Jeppson says.

"Currently, there are no emergency conservation programs (ECP) in effect in the state, although Kittson county has applied for this assistance," Jeppson says. "This program encourages chisel plowing of land that will not have an adequate cover crop this winter."

Also available to some farmers are agricultural conservation programs (ACP) concerned with long-term soil erosion control and water quality improvement. There are, however, no ACP programs to assist farmers in establishing annual winter cover crops.

Begins Training In Minneapolis

Mary Gail Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schroeder of Thief River Falls, has been accepted to begin training at the Medical Institute of Minnesota (MIM) in Minneapolis beginning September 29.

MIM is a coeducational school offering specialized courses of instruction in the allied health field. Schroeder, a 1980 graduate of Lincoln high school, will register for the medical assistant program.

She will pursue an intensive course of study for four quarters (12 consecutive months). Her training program combines administrative, examining room techniques and routine laboratory skills to prepare her as an assistant in a doctor's office or clinic. Upon completion of the program Schroeder will be eligible to write the CMA national certification examination.

Bill Jury still isn't sure about his status with the Minnesota team that will journey to Colorado Springs this weekend to compete in the amateur hockey association of the United States (AHAUS) Junior Olympic hockey trials.

A 1980 Lincoln high school graduate, Jury is one of 21 players currently practicing in the Richfield arena with hopes of landing a spot on the 17-member Team-Minnesota roster. The team will fly to Colorado Springs Saturday, but the final roster isn't expected to be announced until Thursday.

Jury is one of three goaltenders vying for a spot on the team. Officials have already said they will carry two goalies. John Columbo of Bloomington and Pat Tierney of Edina are the other netminders in camp.

All three goalies played Sunday at Hibbing when Team Minnesota defeated the Iron Range Olympic All-Stars 5-2. Columbo was the starter, followed by Tierney in the second period and Jury in the third period. Columbo and Tierney gave up one goal apiece while Jury, although tested, kept the Iron Rangers off the scoreboard. Team Minnesota scored an open-net goal at the end of the chippy contest.

Bill has not been bothered by a back problem that plagued him throughout the 1979-80 high school hockey season and nagged him this spring when he played tennis for the Region 8AA champion Prowlers.

The first-ever U.S. Junior National Olympic trials, featuring 18-19-year-olds from throughout the country, will be played July 5-12 at the U.S. Air Force Academy Fieldhouse in Colorado Springs. Team Minnesota will be joined by representatives from New England, Michigan and an at-large team.

Defenseman Mark Huglen of Roseau and forward Ed Christian of Warroad are also Team Minnesota candidates. They both skated regular shifts in Sunday's exhibition game that drew a crowd of about 2,000.

Miscellaneous

+Shawn Quillin of LaCrosse, Wis., and formerly of Thief River Falls, won the 16-and-under boys single title Sunday in the finals of the Grand Forks tennis classic, beating Gary Aasen of Fridley 7-5, 6-3, for the title. Mitch Rustad and Mark Collins, teammates on the 1980 Region 8AA Lincoln high school tennis team, reached the finals of the 18-and-under doubles competition before losing to Dave Skromny and Derrick Lamb of Saskatoon, Sask. 6-1, 6-4. Quillin, a highly regarded high school sophomore, would have been a dandy addition to the 1980 Lincoln high school tennis team that carried the state's No. 1 ranking into the Class AA state tournament where the Prowlers lost a disappointing 3-2 decision to eventual state champion Edina West. And on top of that, Casey Merickel, the much-publicized St. Cloud Apollo eighth grader who was ranked No. 2 in the state Class AA rankings this spring, came ever-so-close to moving to Thief River Falls two years ago before his family decided on St. Cloud. Nobody would have touched the Prowlers this year with Quillin and Merickel added to their line-up that already featured state-ranked Bill Jury and Mitch Rustad.

+A new 18-hole executive golf course will be opened for play in Detroit Lakes July 3. The new course was rebuilt from the former North Nine at the Detroit Lakes Country Club to a complete 18; a project that was started in 1979. "While it will not be as demanding as a full-length course, the advantages are that it can be played in a shorter time — we think about three hours — and at a lesser green fee," reported Dr. John Rutledge, president of the Detroit Lakes Country Club. A name-the-course contest that offers $450 and a membership to the Detroit Lakes Country Club to the winner will be offered through the month of July.

+Tim Knotek of Crookston was named winner in the 1980 Mr. Minnesota Teen contest held recently at Morris. The 1980 Crookston Central high school graduate, who starred in football, basketball and track for the Pirates, plans to attend Concordia college in Moorhead this fall where he'll major in pre-medicine.

THIEF RIVER FALLS first baseman Steve Bengston stretched, but couldn't come up with a wide throw from pitcher Wayne Huseth as Crookston base runner Brian Laliberte crossed the bag Tuesday in the first inning of a Northwest American Legion baseball league game played on the Thief River Falls fairgrounds diamond. The throw by Huseth, who fielded Laliberte's tapper in front of the plate, was one of five first-inning Thief River Falls errors that led to nine Crookston runs. Crookston wound up with a 12-2 victory in the first game of a doubleheader. Thief River Falls took the nightcap 11-5.

McDonald's-Dallmann Winner Over Merchants

McDonald's - Dallmann made it look easy Monday in building a 7-1 lead en route to a 7-3 victory over the TRF Merchants in a publicized match-up of East and West Division leaders in the American League portion of the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association.

Sporting the best record in the 32-team association with a 12-1 mark, McDonald's-Dallmann spotted the TRF Merchants a run in the top of the first inning before scoring three times in their half of the inning. The Merchants never presented another challenge until pushing two runs across in the seventh. Gordy Peterson homered over the left field fence for the winners.

Second place American Legion Raiders stayed within one game of McDonald's-Dallmann in the American League West Division thanks to a three-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning that produced a 5-4 come-from-behind victory over upset-minded Coca-Cola. Mark DuChamp's one-out single drove in the game-winner.

Popplers-Action Realty, involved in a second place tie one game behind the TRF Merchants in the American League East Division when the night began, wasn't as fortunate, losing a 6-5 decision to unheralded Bridgeman.

Hobo Haus also failed to capitalize on an opportunity to move up on the TRF Merchants in the American League East Division, losing a 14-4 decision to the St. Hilaire Bears.

Elsewhere Monday, Home Lumber out-scored Wagon Wheel 14-10, Swenson Plumbing beat Phase II 9-6 and Wagon Wheel got by Terry's Mobil 7-6.

Scott Kays hit a three-run home run in the top of the first inning to lead First Northwestern Insurance Agency to a 13-12 win over National League East Division leader Consumer's Co-op Tuesday. But it wasn't that easy as the winners, among the leaders in the National League West, snapped a 10-10 tie with three runs in the top of the seventh.

Thorp-KKAQ stayed in the thick of the tight National League West Division race with a 12-1 triumph over the TRF Aggies as Curt Quesnell went 4-for-4.

Marlin Johnson and Don Knutson had three hits apiece as IWA routed Sparby-Johnson 20-2.

It was a night of upsets Tuesday for National League West Division contenders Hardees and First Federal as Wilson Brothers surprised Hardees 5-4 and The Club surprised First Federal 4-1.

Elsewhere, Great Northwest Agency edged Dallmann Athletic 9-8, Schumacher's Tireland beat Sound Level-Holthusen and E.T.'s Bees decisioned Lon's.

Crookston, TRF Split Doubleheader . . .

TRF League Win Streak Ended By Crookston 12-2

Thief River Falls and Crookston split an American Legion baseball doubleheader Tuesday, but unfortunately for Thief River Falls, Crookston's stunning 12-2 first game victory will be the one that counts in the Northwest League standings. Thief River Falls' 11-5 second game triumph will go into the books as a nonconference contest.

The first game defeat was Thief River Falls' first Northwest League setback after six wins, creating a first place tie in the league standings between Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks. Crookston improved its Northwest League mark to a third place 5-3. Overall, Thief River Falls is 15-6 and Crookston is 11-10.

Two more doubleheaders await Thief River Falls this week, a 6 p.m. affair at Red Lake Falls Thursday and a 2 p.m. afternoon start Sunday against Detroit Lakes on the fairgrounds diamond here.

Crookston quickly decided the issue in the opener when the visitors sent 14 batters to the plate in the top of the first inning and scored nine times on four base hits, three walks, a hit-batsman and five Thief River Falls errors. The rest was academic as Crookston coasted to a 12-2 win.

"We made more mistakes in that first inning than we have all year," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Nick Drees.

Thief River Falls did indeed contribute to its own downfall as starting pitcher Wayne Huseth hit Jerome Simons with a pitch and then issued walks to Brian Bachmeier and Brent Weiss to give Crookston a one-out, base-loaded situation.

Leftfielder Jeff Cwikla misplayed Trent Stahlecker's fly ball into a double and John Rock hit a sacrifice fly to center field for a 3-0 start. With two outs, Crookston was running when second baseman Tom Drury dropped a fly ball in short right field for a run; Jim Miller singled to center; Brian Laliberte reached base on a throwing error by Huseth that scored a run; Miller scored when the ball got by Drury as Laliberte stole second; Jeff Laniel singled to right for a run; first baseman Steve Bengston dropped a throw for a run; and relief pitcher Kelly Gutterud threw a wild pitch for a run.

In all, it took 25 minutes to get through that first half inning.

An RBI infield single to deep short by Dave Odegaard in the third kept Thief River Falls from getting beat early on the 10-run rule, although that spread finally appeared in the seventh. Laliberte had an RBI single in the fourth for Crookston and the visitors added two more in the seventh when Simons led off with a double and advanced two bases on a pair of wild pitches, and Weiss walked, moved to third on a wild pick-off attempt and scored on a two-out single to center by Rock.

Thief River Falls scored in the bottom of the inning when Drury walked, Dave Kays doubled, Gutterud walked and Mark Harder drew a two-out, bases-loaded walk to force in a run.

Lackluster play carried over into the second game when Thief River Falls benefited from 13 walks and 10 wild pitches in winning 11-5.

It was 5-0 after two innings. First inning walks issued to Mark Harder and Kevin Sanders were turned into runs in an infield single to short by Mark Schmitke that scored Harder and a wild pitch that brought Sanders home. Jim Nyland and Harder walked in the second and third. Jeff Cwikla's bloop single into short center field scored Nyland and Schmitke's opposite field single to right scored both Harder and Cwikla.

But Crookston tied it with a five-run third inning that included just one base hit — a two-out, two-run bloop single to center field by John Rock. Two errors, a hit-batsman and two walks (including a two-out, full county free pass issued to Brent Weiss) gave Crookston the scoring opportunities.

That was all the scoring for Crookston, though, and Thief River Falls won it with two in the third, one in the fourth and three more in the fifth. During the stretch Crookston pitcher Scott Izzo walked five and Babe Ruth Baseball . . .

Independents Are Improved

Thief River Falls Independents, beaten by Crookston 14-2 two weeks ago, showed considerable improvement the second time around Monday by posting a 6-5 win when the two teams of 14-15-year-olds met in a Lake Agassiz Valley Babe Ruth baseball league game at Crookston.

The Independents built a 6-4 lead, then had to sweat out a Crookston come-back try in the seventh when the hosts scored once and had runners on first and third when the game ended.

Mark Gere was both the winning pitcher and top hitter for the Independents. He scattered four hits to pick up the pitching triumph and went 2-for-4 at the plate in the winner's six-hit attack.

Thief River Falls added a second triumph that same afternoon by beating the Crookston B team 14-5. Gary Cornell and Alan Ness both collected two hits for the Independents who finished with 10. Cornell also drove in two runs and scored twice. Ness scored three times.

Kirk Jenson earned the pitching decision, scattering nine hits.

Independents — EGF

East Grand Forks scored twice in the top of the fifth inning Tuesday to snap a 1-1 tie and came out a 3-1 winner over the Thief River Falls Independents in the second half of a doubleheader played on the fairgrounds diamond here.

Three of the game's four runs were scored on suicide squeeze plays. East Grand Forks had a 3-2 edge in the base hit department. Both teams committed one error.

Brian Garceau, who gave up two runs over the final three innings, was the losing pitcher. Gary Cornell was the Thief River Falls starter.

The defeat dropped the Independents' record to 7-5 for the year.

Elks — EGF

Tuesday's Babe Ruth doubleheader started with a 9-5 Thief River Falls Elks victory over East Grand Forks.

The Elks' eight-hit attack featured Scott Johnston, who was 3-for-4, doubled, tripled and drove in two runs. Bob Huot collected three RBI's and Doug Odegaard had two hits.

East Grand Forks led 3-0 through 3½ innings, but the Elks tied it in the bottom of the fourth and won it with a four-run fifth.

Tim Bottem picked up the pitching decision, walking four and striking out eight as the Elks' record climbed to 9-1.

TRF MERCHANTS base runner Bill Dicken went in under the tag of McDonald's-Dallmann second baseman Rocky Ammerman as he advanced a base on a fly ball to center field in the fourth inning of Monday's slow pitch softball game matching the East and West Division leaders in the American League portion of the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association. McDonald's-Dallmann of the West prevailed 7-3.

Title Tie Finishes First Half Trap League Season

Pizza Hut, Northern State Bank, Arctic-Dunrud Trucking and Wilson Brothers were the top four finishers Monday as the Thief River Falls trap league completed its first half season at the Marshallton Gun Club. With a top four finish, those teams earned spots in the league's post-season tournament shoot. They'll be joined by second half season qualifiers.

It was a tight finish. Pizza Hut and Northern State Bank shared first place in the final standings with seven wins, one loss and a tie in nine weeks of shooting for 15 points apiece. Arctic-Dunrud Trucking and Wilson Brothers shared third and fourth place with 14 points apiece, with Arctic-Dunrud Trucking finishing 7-2 and Wilson Brothers going 6-1-2.

It could have been even closer, but four others who were in position to grab a post-season spot were losers Monday as Sjoberg's Cable TV, unbeaten through six weeks of shooting, lost for the third straight time, 118-111 to Arctic; Marshallton Gun Club fell to Arctic Spirit 120-116; Triple J. Trap Co. lost to Miller Insurance 131-114; Pepsi-Cola was a 116-106 loser to Wilson Brothers in the only head-to-head match between contenders. Pizza Hut edged Northland Realty 119-118, Northern State bank handled Service Master 122-118 and Arctic-Dunrud Trucking tipped Hartz Wholesale 118-117.

Elsewhere Monday, Hible's Standard Station beat The Times 121-104, Peterson-Biddick dropped Thune-Upham Insurance 116-108, KKAQ defeated Auto Body Repair 120-111 and First Northwestern State Bank Southside drew a bye.

Second half league shooting starts Monday at the Marshallton Gun Club.

Racquetball Is Added To 1980 TRF Aquacade

A racquetball tournament, scheduled to be held at the new Thief River Falls Racquetball and Exercise Club, has been added to the list of events for the 1980 Thief River Falls Jaycees Aquacade.

The 36th Aquacade celebration will be held July 26-August 3, but the racquetball tournament will begin its elimination-round matches July 21, leading to the August 2 finals.

Racquetball tournament entry fee is $10, with all participants receiving a souvenir shirt. Competition will be held in four classes: men's 19 and under; women's 19 and under; men's 20 and older; women's 20 and older. Trophies will be awarded to top place finishers in each class.

Tournament registration deadline is July 19. To enter the event call tournament director Tom Ritchie at 681-2130, or write Racquetball Director, Box 53, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

All participants practicing for the Jaycee Aquacade racquetball tournament will receive court time at a reduced rate of $2 per hour prior to the tournament. No guest fee will be required for non-club members.

Racquetball Club Offers Free Clinic

A free racquetball clinic for beginners ages 10-17 will be held Monday at the Thief River Falls Racquetball and Exercise Club.

Both boys and girls are invited to take part in the event that will feature films and group instruction.

The clinic will be broken into two groups, with 9-12-year-olds reporting at 9 a.m. and 13-17-year-olds reporting at 1 p.m.

For additional information call the club at 681-2130.

Ruffed grouse society has received an American Motors conservation award for encouraging landowners to improve wildlife habitat. The society currently is sponsoring programs in Minnesota, New York and Pennsylvania costing $40,000.

Action Realty Beats Schmidts

Unbeaten Action Realty ran its season-opening winning streak to eight games Tuesday with a 3-1 victory over Schmidts in the Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league.

Al Erickson pitched a two-hitter for the win, working on a no-hitter for five innings.

Both teams played a man short.

A base-loaded wild pitch in the fourth made it 3-0.

Schmidts finally produced some offense in the sixth when Larry Coltom beat out an infield single, moved to second on Bob Tunheim's sacrifice bunt and scored when Mark Haats drilled a triple into the right field corner. But Haats was stranded at third when Erickson got the next two batters on an infield pop-up and a tap back to the pitcher.

Contact U.S. Forest Service For BWCA News

U.S. Forest Service is the agency to contact for information on the Boundary Waters Canoe Area, not the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

The DNR said that from the number of calls received from the public regarding BWCA regulations and other matters relating to the wilderness area, there apparently is confusion over which agency has jurisdiction.

Information on the BWCA can be obtained from the Federal Information Center in Minneapolis (phone 612-725-2073).

Change Made In Race Route For '81 I-500

Sixteenth annual Saint Paul Winter Carnival International 500 snowmobile race, an affiliated race of the world snowmobile racing federation (W.S.R.F.), race, will return to Brainerd for the stop-over of its third leg in the four-day Winnipeg to Saint Paul cross country spectacular in 1981, race vice president Jerry Brown announced.

This shift in the race route revives a two-year exchange the race shared with Brainerd as host city in 1968 and 1969. At that time the race went through Crookston and Park Rapids on its way to Saint Paul.

"We must thank the citizens of Alexandria, its Chamber of Commerce, Arrowwood Lodge and the Douglas county sheriff's department for their generous contributions to the race the past eight years," race director George Rettner emphasized in connection with the route change. "It is not our intention to allow the race to become routine, if that ever could happen," Rettner continued, "and route changes have been part of revitalizing competitor interest in the race. For three years we even started the race in Saint Paul, but being unable to finish in Winnipeg due to the severe snow storm in 1977 changed our mind on repeating that direction," Rettner recalls with a shiver.

"Our gratitude today is for the willingness expressed by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce convention bureau members who enthusiastically endorsed the race route through their famed resort city," Rettner added. "We are looking forward to working with the resort owners at Cragun's Pine Beach Lodge, Pleasant Acres and Maddens, as well as the entire Brainerd business community which we expect will enjoy seeing the race in their area."

The 1981 edition will begin in Winnipeg on Monday, January 26, with the first stop at Thief River Falls. Day two will terminate at Bemidji, and then on to Brainerd. The distance to Saint Paul from Brainerd is about ten miles shorter than from Alexandria to Saint Paul, but some of that will be added between Bemidji and Brainerd. A more direct route from Brainerd to Saint Paul than the Alexandria to Saint Paul route may save in the total previous race mileage of some 570 miles possibly in the 15-mile range.

The sport class, added in January, 1980, will be retained for the 1981 race. It is expected that the 43 participants will increase for 1981 with the good first year experience. Three women were among the eighteen finishers.

International pro class, attracting a field of 84 in 1980, will be looking for 100 or more contenders next January. Bruce Olson, 1980 international pro class winner, will have his choice of a 1981 Polaris to enter if he chooses, that being a bonus award for competing on a Polaris, in addition to his $6,720 first place cash award.

Snowmobile specifications are not expected to vary from 1980, with the international pro class at 55 hp and 340 cc maximum. Sport class entries will be open to W.S.R.F. Stock A class snowmobiles. Horsepower, weight and handling will be among the performance standards W.S.R.F. will use in classifying snowmobiles for the Stock A rating. Specific snowmobiles eligible in this class will be identified in early fall race bulletins.

Yamaha motor corporation USA will continue its cosponsorship of the race, which will include generous additions to the driver awards package. Yamaha has funded a significant portion of the race operating expenses in order to assure the race continuation, particularly the full distance from Winnipeg to Saint Paul.

Hamm's-Olympia will maintain its fourth consecutive year of cosponsorship support as well, providing daily lap awards and likely their "wrench award" to a support crew among the top ten international pro class drivers.

Tourist and convention association of Manitoba, representing the Winnipeg I-500 race interests, joins with the Thief River Falls and Bemidji Chambers of Commerce as well as county sheriffs, Minnesota state patrol for arrangements throughout the race.

Persons interested in 1981 race information may request full application material, available late this summer, by writing or calling the Saint Paul Winter Carnival Association, Bremer Building, 96 East 7th Street, Saint Paul, Minnesota, 55105, (612) 222-4416.

Saint Paul Winter Carnival's 95th anniversary dates are January 30 - February 8, 1981, celebrating "Merry Ol' Tymes."

AS THE PHOTOGRAPH shows, McDonald's-Dallmann catcher Rex Rugland dropped the throw as TRF Merchants base runner Terry Wiseth rolled across the plate to score the game's first run during Monday's Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association action. Wiseth scored from second base on a single by Bill Dicken. But that was the only lead of the game for the TRF Merchants who lost by a 7-3 count in the match-up of American League East and West Division leaders.

Dwight's Hartz Is 2-1 Eight-Inning Winner

Mavis Miller hit a ground-rule double and scored on a base hit by Becky Reimer to give Dwight's Hartz a 2-1 eight-inning victory over Northern Employers Agency Monday in the Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league.

The outcome — a rare victory for a Division II team over a Division I opponent — altered both standings as Dwight's Hartz gained sole possession of first place in the Division II race while Northern Employers Agency dropped from a third place tie to fifth place in Division I.

The Schmidt Stealers, who have shared first place in Division II with Dwight's Hartz through most of the season, was an 11-1 loser to the Division I-leading St. Hilaire Saints.

Terri Burda hit two home runs and Marilyn Burda hit one as the Ridge Runners burned Great Northwest Agency 25-2 in a match-up of Middle River ball clubs.

Sally Collins hit a grand slam home run and Colleen Stokke hit two homers as Pizza Hut handled the Health Hustlers 14-5.

American Legion beat Walseth Construction 16-5 as Jodi Ranum tripled; Pam Schenkey homered to lead the Mush-o-Rettes to an 8-1 victory over Hydra-Mac; Karen Berggren hit a home run in a 25-2 Roseau Transport win over The Barbers; and Georgine Troska homered as Ekeren Drug dropped Credit Bureau 16-5.

Half of the Minnesota North Stars' staff of scouts is composed of members of the hockey hall of fame. Chief Scout Harry Howell was inducted in the Hall last fall. Scout Gump Worsley was chosen for the honor on June 10 and will be inducted in Toronto on Sept. 8.

TRF Night At Races Set For Sat., July 19

Thief River Falls night at the races will be held on Saturday, July 19, at the Assiniboia Downs track in Winnipeg, with post time set for 7 p.m., according to chamber of commerce president Dale Dillon.

Feature race that evening will be named after the citizens of this commmity and a special horse cooler blanket will be presented by the chamber to the winner. Special group rates are available to all interested in attending this event.

The group rates are $1.25 grandstand and $2.50 for the turf club. Special identification tickets can be obtained at the chamber office, Dillon said, and they must be redeemed at Gates 10 or 11 only, where the special price is paid upon admission.

Middle River Trophy Run Results Listed

Eric Heath of Halma ran a 26:27.0 Sunday to win the 20-29 age group title and established the fastest time of the day in the five-mile Middle River trophy run held as part of the community's 75th Jubilee celebration.

Top three place finishers in each of the four age categories were:

+ Under 20 — 1. Mark Larson, Thief River Falls; 2. Ray Kvalvog, Middle River; 3. David Ortman, Warroad.

+ 20-29 — 1. Eric Heath, Halma; 2. Larry Mike, Thief River Falls; 3. Larry Kvalvog, Middle River.

+ 30-39 — 1. Fritz Rohde, Tallulah Falls, Ga.; 2. Jon Merth, Middle River; 3. Bruce Elseth, Newfolden.

+ 40 and older — 1. Ernie Dobkins, Thief River Falls; 2. Dean Deogne, Florida; 3. Phil Dyrud, Middle River.

Darren Wagner, 9, of Middle River was the youngest participant; Eunice Waterworth, 48, of Newfolden was the oldest runner; and Julie Tunheim of Newfolden was the first lady across the finish line.

George Panek would like to thank you for your support and vote in the special primary election for Commissioner of the Fifth District, Marshall County and ask for your continued support and vote July 8th.

Name Winners In Sportsmen's Club Shooting

Men's Golf League Scores Are Posted

Hartz Wholesale leads the Snead Division and Ekeren Drug heads the Hogan Division, but there's a first place tie between First Federal and Professional Building in the Demaret Division after the fourth week of Thief River Falls men's golf league competition at the Thief River Country Club.

Alex Easton, Wally Krueger, Ed Gilbert, Bill Penning and Bill Corliss were members of the Hartz Wholesale team that leads the Snead Division with a 547. Model Laundry is 30 strokes back at 577, followed by Bridgeman 586, Paint & Glass 599, Doctors Incorporated 602, Miracle Water-Gordon's Hallmark 604 and Larson Music 613.

Jack Boyer, Charlie Boyer, Wally DuChamp, Jerry Imgrund and Arnie Lee golf for Ekeren Drug, first in the Hogan Division with a 550. McDonald's is second with a 563, followed by Home Box Office 574, Elks 578, Blue Cross 581 and Arctic Swingers 582.

In the Demaret Division it's a first place tie between First Federal and Professional Building at 565, followed by First Northwestern State Bank 572, Northern State Bank 574, Lon's 577, Wennberg's 585 and Lee Plumbing & Heating.

First Federal golfers are Milt Reierson, Jay Moum, Stu Rugland, Stan Sjoberg and Wes Johnson. Professional Building golfers are Bob Wurst, Roy Lee, Roger Tunberg, Arnie Johnson and John Moum.

Jay Moum turned in the week's low gross score with a 34. Cal Wicklander and Dennis Bondy share low net honors at 32.

Minnesota right wing Al MacAdam, winner of the NHL's Masterton Trophy, was the fifth most accurate shooter in the league during the 1979-80 season. MacAdam scored 42 goals on 170 shots for a percentage of 24.7.

threw nine wild pitches.

The winning run actually scored in the bottom of the third when Jeff Ulrich led off with a double to center and Jim Nyland followed with a single to right, moving to third on the throw back into the infield. Nyland then found himself too far off second base, but a pick-off throw by catcher Trent Stahlecker was in the dirt and Ulrich trotted home with the tie-breaking run. Nyland would up stealing third and scoring on a ground-out by Scott McKeever.

Viking Zion And Covenant To Show Films

A new film series featuring family expert James C. Dobson, Ph. D., will be shown by the Viking Covenant and Zion Lutheran church of Viking. Entitled "Focus on the Family", the series presents seven of Dobson's most popular presentations, all of which were filmed live at family life seminars.

"The Strong-Willed Child" and "Shaping the Will Without Breaking the Spirit" will be shown July 6 at 7 p.m. in the Covenant church; "Christian Fathering" will be shown July 9 at 8 p.m. in the Covenant church; "Preparing For Adolescence", part 1 — "The Origins of Self-Doubt" and part 2 — "Peer Pressure and Sexuality", will be shown July 13, 7 p.m. at Zion Lutheran; "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women", part 1 — "The Lonely House Wife", will be shown July 16 at 8 p.m. at Zion Lutheran; "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women", part 2 — "Money, Sex and Children," will be shown July 20 at 8 pm. at the Covenant church.

Public is cordially invited to view these films.

James C. Dobson, Ph. D. is associate clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Southern California school of medicine. He is a licensed psychologist in the state of California.

Crop Choices Offered For Replanting

Timing, herbicides present in the soil and the availability of growing contracts should all be weighed as farmers in northwestern Minnesota decide whether to replant emergency or cover crops in areas hard hit by drought or hail.

This is the advice of University of Minnesota agronomists Oliver Strand and B.A. Majek. Because of the limited growing season remaining, only early maturing varieties should be considered for replanting, they add.

A number of replanting decisions will hinge on herbicides present in the field. Strand and Majek offer these crops as possibilities, depending on chemicals present on previous plantings.

If present crop and herbicide are wheat, sunflower-trifluralin (Treflan), possible crops for replanting would be flax, alfalfa, clovers, birdsfoot trefoil, sunflower, dry edible beans, tame mustard, winter wheat or rye (early fall); and soybeans (forage). If present crop and herbicide are sunflower-EPTC (Eptam) — flax, alfalfa, clovers, birdsfoot trefoil, sunflower, dry edible beans, winter wheat or rye (early fall); Sunflower-chloramben (Amiben) — sunflower, dry edible beans, winter wheat or rye (early fall);

Sunflower - profluralin (Tolban) — sunflower, dry edible beans, alfalfa, clovers, birdsfoot trefoil, tame mustard, flax, winter wheat or rye (early fall), soybeans (forage); wheat, barley-picloram (Tordon 22K) — Proso millet, foxtail millet, winter wheat or rye (early fall); wheat oats-dicambo (Banvel) within one month of treatment — proso millet, sudan grass, sorghum-sudan crosses, buckwheat, flax, sunflower, tame mustard, winter wheat or rye (early fall); wheat, barley, oats (without Treflan) OR sunflower without a herbicide — buckwheat, proso millet, flax, alfalfa, clovers, birdsfoot trefoil, sunflower, dry edible beans, tame mustard, foxtail millet, sorghum grass, sorghum-sudan crosses, winter wheat or rye (early fall), and soybeans (forage).

With the present crop and herbicide, sunflower-profluralin (Tolban) — if tame mustard is planted following drought-damaged sunflower, later rains may germinate a flush of volunteer sunflower that cannot be controlled with herbicides. The same applies for buckwheat and tame mustard replanting when the present crop and herbicide is wheat, barley, oats (without Treflan) OR sunflower without a herbicide.

AN ACCIDENT which happened on highway 59 south in Thief River Falls at 9:29 a.m. yesterday resulted in $9,000 in damages to two vehicles involved, according to a report from the Thief River Falls law enforcement center. Patricia Erickson of Thief River Falls was driving a car owned by James D. Erickson also of this city and was stopped facing south on highway 59 preparing to make a left turn into the Northland Foods parking lot. A gravel truck driven by Ernest O. Melvie of Viking was behind the car also traveling south when he collided with the rear of the Erickson car. The truck went up on the right rear of the car, rolled on its right side, slid across both lanes, and stopped in the northbound lane on highway 59. Estimated damages included $4,000 to the Erickson vehicle and $5,000 to the truck. Melvie sustained back pain, while no other injuries were reported.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Peterson of Albany, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Archie Anderson and Julie Knott; Mrs. Billy Peterson, Jon and Brian of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Dagny Peterson, Robert Anderson and Dale Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peters and Reena, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swenson and their houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters, Kim and John of St. Paul Park all spent Sunday and Monday a week ago at Rocky Point of Lake of the Woods.

Youth Camp Has Openings For Area Boys

Thief River Falls Elks Lodge 1308 is seeking boys ages 9-14 who are interested in attending a two-week session of the Minnesota state Elks youth camp July 13-26 on Pelican Lake, near Brainerd.

Minnesota state Elks youth camp, according to Elks literature, is open primarily for deserving youth of Minnesota, ages 9-14. Most campers are young people referred to local Elks lodges through adults who know of the boy's family background. Persons knowing young people who deserve a two-week resident camping experience and who otherwise would not have such an opportunity, are urged to contact the Elks. All expenses, excluding a required physical check-up, are paid by the Elks.

Persons in this area who are interested in the program are invited to contact Bob Jury by calling 681-6415, after 6 p.m.

THANK YOU

We, the Viking City Council, wish to express our appreciation for the splendid area support shown our city during its recent 75th Jubilee. A special word of thanks to the various area news media who willingly assisted with publishing this event; to the many Thief River Falls, Warren, Karlstad, Newfolden, and Viking merchants and individuals who donated prizes; to the Bob Fischer's of Viking who donated and prepared the barbecued pork and the pig which was given to the lucky ticket holder. Our thanks, as well, to all having a part in making the talent show and parade a success, and to others furnishing concessions and displays. Thanks, again, to the various committees and to all who contributed their time and efforts to help make our Jubilee a gratifying success.

For the Viking City Council,
Lloyd Ramsey, Mayor

Body Parts Needed For Transplants

by Alice Tibbetts
'U' M News Service

Thousands of them die every year in accidents. They are mostly young, healthy people between the ages of 15 and 25. They are also the ideal suppliers of the "gift of life" — organs and other body parts suitable for transplantation.

Permission to use the organs of an accident victim for transplantation must come from the family, Jane Van Hook, coordinator of the University of Minnesota organ donor program, counsels the family on the transplant procedure and how the organs will be used.

"Of course this is a hard time for the family to make a decision about donation," Van Hook said. "Signing the permission papers is a very final thing. It is probably the family's first acceptance that the person is dead. For many families it will be the first time they have cried."

Until the family makes a decision, the potential donor is kept breathing and his blood circulating by artificial life support. "These people don't look dead," Van Hook said. "Their color is still good. The family can see their chests are still moving, even though the oxygen is coming from a machine." Under these circumstances, it is hard to accept death, Van Hook said.

Kidneys are the organs in greatest demand, but hearts, livers, eyes, bones and skin for burn victims are also needed. "More than half the families I talk to will give everything," Van Hook said.

Many people can't separate their attachment to the person who has died from the body, Van Hook said. They still identify the body as the person. But even families who are not very receptive to the idea of organ donation usually give at least one organ when asked — generally the kidneys, livers or eyes. "People are more willing to donate kidneys and livers because they don't associate any emotional or personal attributes with them. The eyes and heart are often considered too important a part of the person's personality and soup," Van Hook said.

Van Hook does not try to convince the family to donate their relative's organs, nor does she discuss the recipient "although sometimes I do so the family knows there is a need for the organ," she said. The family of a young man who died recently agreed to donate a kidney only after Van Hook told them a 13-year-old girl was waiting for a transplant. "He would have been a good donor for heart, eyes, liver and bones," Van Hook said.

Often the families object to donation because they don't want the person kept on life support for too long, Van Hook said. The time between death and the transplant must be as short as possible. Once the respiratory system begins to degenerate, the organs deteriorate quickly, Van Hook said. Surgery is usually done within 12 hours after the family grants permission.

Once blood samples and tissue cultures are taken and a matching recipient is found, the donor is taken to surgery. For liver, heart and pancreas transplants, the recipient's and the donor's organs are removed simultaneously in adjacent operating rooms so the organ can be transplanted immediately. The donor is removed from life support when surgery is completed.

"We try to keep the donor on life support for no longer than 24 hours," Van Hook said. "The body is very fragile at this point. We have lost donors during the ambulance ride from another hospital to the university."

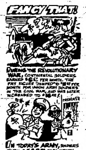
"There is a serious shortage of organs," Van Hook said. "We can't get them for transplant them fast enough."

There are 35,000 kidney patients on dialysis in the United States. Half of them are good candidates for transplants. Last year only 4,600 kidneys were available.

Most transplants are very successful, Van Hook said. The success rate for kidneys is 80 per cent, for eyes, 95 per cent. Eyes can be kept in culture for up to three weeks and skin can be freeze-dried. Hearts, pancreases and livers must be transplanted immediately. Kidneys can be preserved for 48 hours.

Many people are not even aware of the need for organs, Van Hook said. "I have had people ask 'What for?' when I have asked for donations."

Allowing donation can be a very positive decision for the victim's family, Van Hook said. "I look at my job as giving the donor's family the chance to pull something positive out of an untimely death."



DURING THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR, CONTINENTAL SOLDIERS EARNED $6 2/3 PER MONTH. THE PAY FIGURE "JUMPED" TO $13 PER MONTH FOR UNION ARMY SOLDIERS IN THE CIVIL WAR, AND WAS LATER INCREASED TO $16.

IN TODAY'S ARMY, SOLDIERS EARN $448.80 EACH MONTH STARTING PAY, WITH SUCH BENEFITS AS MEDICAL AND DENTAL CARE PROVIDED. IN ADDITION, THE ARMY OFFERS EDUCATION BONUSES OF UP TO $6,000 FOR THOSE WHO QUALIFY AND WISH TO FURTHER THEIR EDUCATION!

Heavy Loading Of Car Reduces Mileage, Safety

With summer often comes loading the family car for vacation trips, home fix-up projects and weekend excursions — all trips that usually involve heavy loads. The Minnesota state automobile association (AAA) offers several reminders to help make those trips safer.

Vehicle loads should be kept within recommended limits at all times. Since 1968, all new cars have carried a label, usually on the inside of the glove compartment door, listing tire pressure and maximum load capacity. The capacity includes passengers, any luggage (whether carried in the passenger compartment, the trunk or on the roof rack) and the tongue weight of any trailer being towed.

For cars with extra loads, tire pressure is important and needs to be checked. High-speed driving with heavy loads increases the temperature of tires, and heat is a tire's number one enemy. Proper inflation keeps heat buildup within safe levels.

Back cargo hatch and-or window in hatchbacks and station wagons should be closed when driving. Dangerous carbon monoxide fumes can easily enter through any opening at the rear of the vehicle. When hauling long, bulky objects that require driving with the rear door open, the ventilation fan should be kept running and a window or two opened for plenty of fresh air, and hauling should be confined to short trips.

Roof racks are gaining appeal as one means of extending cargo space, but a roof rack really cuts into gas mileage. The increased air drag makes the car's engine work as though it's constantly climbing a steep hill or pulling a trailer.

Air drag can tear the rack itself loose from the car, so it has to be installed and secrued properly. In the same vein, haphazardly loaded luggage can easily become airborne, a potential danger for car passengers and other motorists on the road. In open-design racks, any cargo should be secured tightly with nylon ropes or straps and checked frequently.

For maximum safety, comfort and fuel economy, packing carefully — and whenever possible, lightly — is the key, advises Minnesota AAA.

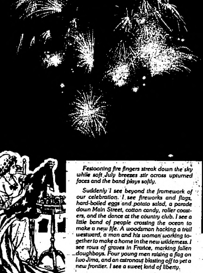
"O Say Can You See"



Festooning fire fingers streak down the sky while soft July breezes stir across upturned faces and the band plays softly.

Suddenly I see beyond the framework of our celebration. I see fireworks and flags, hard-boiled eggs and potato salad, a parade down Main Street, cotton candy, roller coasters, and the dance at the country club. I see a little band of people crossing the ocean to make a new life. A woodsman hacking a trail westward, a man and his woman working together to make a home in the new wilderness. I see rows of graves in France, marking fallen doughboys. Four young men raising a flag on Iwo Jima, and an astronaut blasting off to yet a new frontier. I see a sweet land of liberty.

One of the most important things this land stands for is a man's right to worship God in the way he wants. Go to your church and take advantage of this precious heritage.

Clothing Care ALERT!

CHEMICALS CAN DESTROY CLOTHING

You don't have to live in a lab to run into chemicals that damage your clothing. You will know you have had a chemical encounter if your clothing, bedding or table linen comes out of cleaning discolored, with tears and holes in the fabric or with weakened areas.

Common household chemicals that the International Fabricare Institute (IFI), the world-wide association of launderers and drycleaners, has found to be most damaging are perfume, alcohol, hair care solutions, medicines, peroxide, household bleach, porcelain cleaners, metal polishes, astringents and liquid deodorants.

Fabric damage from contact with chemicals may not appear immediately. But IFI warns that any spillage of any of these common chemicals will damage fibers. This damage can be lessened by flushing the area immediately with cold water and quickly laundering or bringing the article to your drycleaner. Advise the cleaner of the substance that was spilled so he or she will know how to process the item.

Otherwise the chemical will dry in the fibers and weaken them. Continued use and additional laundering and drycleaning eventually will deteriorate the affected fibers if they have not been specially treated originally.

FABRIC DAMAGE

In addition to using caution when handling common household chemicals, IFI advises you to be careful with cleaning cloths used with bleaches, porcelain cleaners and metal polishes.

Rinse them thoroughly after using them. If you place them in laundry hampers while they still contain full concentrates of cleaning solutions, surrounding items will come in contact with these chemicals. Damage will become evident when the items are laundered.

Sparkling sinks and glowing metals are not worth holey clothing. With a little care you can avoid this type of textile damage.

So, be wary of chemicals around your house. They can damage the clothing you wear and the fabrics that decorate your home.

NORTHRUP KING HAS THE WINNING RATIO

Most fertilizers give you plenty of nitrogen for pretty, green lawns. Only Northrup King's Lawn Food gives you Nature's Ratio (22-5-9) fertilizer containing nitrogen for rich top growth plus phosphorus and potash for strong, healthy root growth.

NK LAWN FOOD 22-5-9

Here's why Nature's Ratio is best:

- Nitrogen-22 - for lush top growth and rich green color
- Phosphorus-5 - to stimulate root growth
- Potash-9 - for healthy, disease-resistant plants

Northrup King's Lawn Food ... for a take-it-easy lawn.

The inside story on the SILVER-REED single element office typewriters ...is a simple one.

It's an "electronic brain." We've replaced the troublesome mechanical tilt and rotate steel-tape element controls found in all other single element typewriters with a microprocessor.

Making SILVER-REED the only electronically controlled conventional single element office typewriter being sold today.

The end result is greater efficiency through increased accuracy and typing speed. And obviously, fewer parts means fewer problems.

SILVER-REED single element typewriters have all of the features found on other office machines (and some features that others don't have). And they are available for immediate delivery.

The elements and ribbons are interchangeable with IBM. To get all of the money-saving facts and the name of the dealer nearest you call (800) 421-4191, ext. 22. In California call (213) 837-6104 ext. 22.

Congressional Crusher

Following editorial is from the Wall Street Journal:

As might have been predicted, President Carter accused Congress of pandering to gas guzzlers with its defeat of the President's 10-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax. His chief economic adviser, Charles Schultze, was on the Today show bright and early yesterday calling the congressional action "inexcusable."

We don't always agree with Congress either, of course. But when a President whose own party controls that body can only get 30 votes in the House and 16 in the Senate on an important bill, something interesting is happening. A government in England would not just fall on such a rebuke, it would disintegrate.

The interesting thing happening is that Congress has obviously lost confidence in the President's leadership on energy as well as several other things. A legitimate case can be made for a further gasoline tax as a conservation measure, but not one that tumbled out of the President's bag of tricks the way this one did.

First of all, the public is annoyed with the rising burden of federal taxation. If the President had coupled this $10 billion revenue measure with a supply-oriented tax cut on investment and savings it would have become more palatable. If he had further contributed to the cause of expanded supply by decontrolling the energy industry, his claimed desire to reduce imports would have been believable.

But he did nothing of the kind. Instead, the backroom boys over at DOE concocted a scheme to convert the President's authority to apply fees to crude oil imports into a gasoline tax. Gasoline refiners would have to buy "entitlements" which would be used to reimburse payers of the import fees. The DOE regulatory bureaucracy would be further expanded, the oil products supply chain would be further disrupted, with one possible result being reduced gasoline refining and, hence, gasoline lines. The tangle of governmental interference in the energy industry, comprised of continued price controls, the "windfall profits" tax, constraints on coal and nuclear power development, and the program to squander tax money on high-cost synthetics, would have been enlarged.

The other thing wrong, and most annoying to Congress, was that the import fee-entitlements scheme was a deliberate power play against Congress, designed to force it to accept a fait accompli. A lot of Congressmen think that the levying of taxes is their constitutional prerogative, and they are, of course, right. This affront was combined with the President's clumsy intervention in the congressional budget process last week that helped to scuttle a hard-won Senate-House compromise.

All that distilled down to a vote of 376-30 against the President in the House and 73-16 against him in the Senate. We doubt that he will help his cause by fuming. The lawmakers are not the only ones who are not impressed by the President's energy tactics.

One Of The Worst?

At least since the time Miles Lord was Minnesota's attorney general and perhaps before, his legal expertise and performance have been subject to question. He has done nothing to change that evaluation during his term as a federal district court judge.

Now it seems that at least part of the legal profession is willing to say publicly what has been said more or less privately for some time. An article in the current issue of "American Lawyer" magazine lists Lord as one of the 11 worst judges in the nation. He was selected as the worst judge in the Eighth Circuit which includes Minnesota, Arkansas, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Editors of the magazine, which has a circulation of 23,000, primarily among the legal profession across the nation, said the judging of the 11 worst and 11 best judges was based on "sheer legal ability, judicial temperament, willingness to work hard and integrity."

Judge Lord's designation as worst in the Eighth Circuit was said to be based on interviews with about 30 lawyers, most of whom had appeared before him over the years. Criticism is focused on three cases in particular — the Reserve Mining case regarding dumping of taconite tailings into Lake Superior; a major anti-trust case involving the country's leading drug manufacturers; and the case of an [illegible] mental patient.

The interesting part of the selection of the "worst" and "best" judges is that the evaluation is meaningless. Federal judges are virtually immune from being discharged regardless of incompetence and may not be compensated accordingly for doing exceptionally fine work under difficult circumstances. Federal judgeships appear to be one of the flaws in our national system of justice.

Daily Still A Free Press

Following editorial is from the Red Wing Republican-Eagle:

The extreme defenders of press freedom may deplore the university regents' decision May 9 to make refundable rather than mandatory the $2 per quarter U students pay to get the student-run Minnesota Daily.

These critics will see the action as retaliation for the Daily's offensive "humor" issue a year ago — the one that tastelessly ridiculed Christianity. And it was retaliation.

But while we never felt God endangered by the campus journalists' imbecility, we have an idea that the eight-member Regent majority made a right, pragmatic decision.

Making the Daily $2 refundable (out of a $68.40 package activity fee) simply brings it closer to the position of a normal newspaper, which rightly gives heed to the tastes and sensibilities of its public.

Press freedom, in its constitutional sense, means freedom from government, from legal authority. If the regents had used their legal control of university and campus to impose some censorship on the Daily, to tell the students what they could or couldn't print, then we'd holler bloody murder.

But what the regents did is more like a subscriber's decision not to renew because the paper offends him.

(The R-E tries to be respectful of public taste. When we fall short, we publish the criticism from the offended. We take a risk when we state strong editorial opinion here. We trust that subscribers will find such expression acceptable as long as we give space to others to express their opinions, too.)

The R-E holds the Daily in good esteem. It does a lively, readable job. But we'd find it hard to argue that students who don't wish to pay for the Daily should be compelled to do so — or not attend Minnesota's great, tax-supported university.

Our advice to U students is to read the Daily, let it have your $2, let it exercise free speech — and when it offends you, either admonish the editor in person or write a good, stiff letter to the editor, exercising YOUR free speech. The Daily is an asset to the U.

A kick in the pants for the "humor" issue? Yes, that's what the Daily got. But the Daily remains free. Press freedom doesn't mean an obligation to buy a newspaper you don't want.

Worthless Survey

Following editorial is from the St. Paul Pioneer Press:

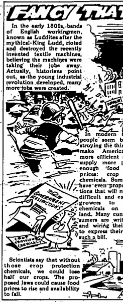
That survey on the health effects of the ever-controversial UPA-CPA electric power line through west-central Minnesota has about as much scientific value as the formula for Uncle Wizard's Snake Oil and Cough Suppressant.

The survey, prepared for the Minnesota Environmental Quality Board, showed that 47 per cent of the 454 landowners in the power line area believe thay have suffered no ill effects from the line 35 per cent think the line is damaging their health and 18 per cent aren't sure.

Those who think their health is being affected said they have suffered from headaches, respiratory problems, fatigue and stress. No doubt they have, but are these problems caused by the power line or by their concern about the power line? Many of the people have led the fight against the power line could very well have developed such symptoms just from worry and lack of rest (or, in the case of those who have been vandalizing the line, feelings of guilt). The survey made no attempt to determine the cause of the residents' symptoms and there is no evidence that the problems are in any way connected with actual electronic emissions from the power line.

One must sympathize with Art Sidner, the state official responsible for the survey. He realizes that all he has is a document that shows a lot of people still are concerned about the power line, a revelation that should hardly surprise the EQB. If Sidner tried to use the survey as evidence that the power line should be shut down, as some of the protesters have suggested, he would be laughed out of court.

FANCY THAT!



In the early 1800s, bands of English workingmen, known as Luddites after the mythical King Ludd, rioted and destroyed the recently invented textile machines, believing the machines were taking their jobs away. Actually, historians point out, as the young industrial revolution developed, many more jobs were created.

In modern times, some people seem bent on destroying the things that help make American growers more efficient and able to supply more people with enough food at lower prices: crop protection chemicals. Some regulators have even proposed restrictions that will make it more difficult and expensive for growers to use those chemicals on their own land. Many concerned consumers are writing, calling and wiring their legislators to express their opinion of such a bill.

Scientists say that without those crop protection chemicals, we could lose half our crops. The proposed laws could cause food prices to rise and availability to fall.

Re: C.B.D. Parking Assessments

Per instructions from the Thief River Falls City Council, the City Engineer's Office is preparing the final assessment roll for the Parking Assessments District. A questionnaire was mailed to all effected persons (residences and churches are exempt) in April, 1979. Information was requested on square footage for:

1.) "Basic Business Area";
2.) Storage Space; and,
3.) Owned Parking Areas.

If you did not respond to this questionnaire or there has been a major change in your business area, please contact Stewart & Walker, Inc. at 681-2944 NO LATER THAN TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1980. Failure to respond will result in computation of the assessments based on information in City files.

A SALAD-COOL AS THE SEA

Lightly salted goldfish crackers spark Fruited Tuna Salad.

When the temperature climbs high on the thermometer and the humidity is termed by all as "certainly sticky," everyone looks for all things cool.

In our daily lives in summer, everything possible should be cool. Food, too, can be cooling — like a chilled salad that combines green grapes, mandarin oranges and pineapple chunks with tuna. When topped with Goldfish Crackers, this Fruited Tuna Salad is a lovely main dish that tastes and looks appealing to all ages.

If guests (or simply a too-hot family) are ready for a relaxing interlude and a cooling repast, this refreshing salad will be perfect despite the humidity.

Instead of rolls on a hot day, serve additional Goldfish Crackers sprinkled on each salad serving. The Goldfish, as the name implies, are tiny fish-shaped crackers, flavored with Cheddar Cheese, Parmesan Cheese or Lightly Salted.

FRUITED TUNA SALAD

- 2 cans (6 1/2 ounces each) chunk style tuna, drained
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons chopped scallions
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 cups sliced celery
- 2 cups stemmed green grapes
- 2 cups fresh or canned pineapple chunks
- 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained
- Boston lettuce leaves
- 1 package (6 ounces) Pepperidge Farm Lightly Salted Goldfish Crackers

In a bowl mix tuna, mayonnaise, scallions, lemon juice, celery, grapes, pineapple and oranges. Chill. When ready to serve, line a salad bowl with lettuce leaves. Spoon in salad. Sprinkle with Goldfish Crackers. Sprinkle each serving with more Goldfish Crackers as salad is served. Makes 6 servings.

Refreshing Summer Tonics

Summer entertaining should be casual and simple... yet it can be simply special when you serve these refreshing tonics. "Patio Punch," easily made with brewed black rum flavor tea and just a few ingredients, is sure to be a crowd pleaser! For a more spirited drink, serve "Orange Tea Sour." Orange & spice flavor tea lends a special flavor to this icy, frothy drink, which is simply whirled in a blender. Served with California Dip, these beverages will make any summer gathering a special occasion!

PATIO PUNCH

4 cups boiling water
8 Lipton® Black Rum Flavor Tea Bags
2/3 cup sugar
3 cups pineapple juice, chilled
2 cups orange juice, chilled

In teapot, pour boiling water over black rum flavor tea bags; cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags; stir in sugar and cool.

In punch bowl, combine tea and juices. If desired, add ice mold. Makes about 15 servings.

ORANGE TEA SOUR

1 cup boiling water
4 Lipton® Orange & Spice Flavor Tea Bags
1/3 cup sugar
1/3 cup whiskey (optional)
2 cups ice cubes (about 12 to 16)

In teapot, pour boiling water over orange & spice flavor tea bags; cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags; stir in sugar and cool.

In 5-cup blender, combine tea with whiskey. Add ice cubes, one at a time, and continue processing until ice is melted. Serve in sour glasses and garnish, if desired, with skewered orange wedges and maraschino cherries. Makes about 6 servings.

BITE BIG CUT 42" WIDE WITH A DEPENDABLE, RUGGED SNAPPER RIDER.
It not only cuts wide and fast but delivers a smooth cut and evenly discharged cuttings. As big as it is, the 42" SNAPPER is extremely maneuverable. It has immediate response steering for cutting in tight places. Like all other SNAPPER riders you also get on-the-go adjustment of cutting height and speed. And a floating cutting unit which reduces scalping and damage.
Before you buy a rider, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more. And its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

POINTERS for PAINTERS

Helpful Hints For Getting The Best Results

If your home is like many, mildew can be a growing problem on painted surfaces. In warm areas with high humidity, mildew growth can be particularly acute on house exteriors.

Fortunately, there are some things you can do about mildew.

Before starting to paint your home, it is first essential that all mildew be removed. Here's how to identify and remove it.

Mildew and dirt look very much alike. But, mildew grows in colonies of dark brown "splotches," and close inspection will tell you that it is a fibrous organic growth.

Remove it by washing with a solution of about two ounces of household detergent and two cups of chlorine bleach added to one gallon of water. Scrub vigorously to remove heavy mildew growth, then rinse thoroughly with clean water—preferably from a hose. Cleaned surfaces should be painted as soon as they are completely dry to guard against a recurrence of the growth.

The proper paint can do more than make your house look pretty—it can help protect it against mildew.

And for maximum protection against mildew always use a mildew-resistant paint such as Devoe Regency House, an exterior acrylic latex house and trim paint which contains ingredients that retard mildew growth on the paint surface. It will preserve the good looks of your home longer.

The Devoe people point out, however, that even a mildew-resistant paint must be applied to a completely clean, dry surface to perform properly.

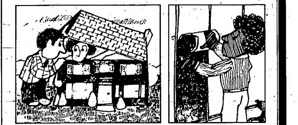
Beat the High Cost of Heating — Look Into A Low Interest Loan


The way we look at it, you've got two choices. As your heating bills go higher, you can keep lowering the temperature and start adding the long underwear, socks, sweaters, hats, scarves, mittens... or, you can make some energy saving home improvements that will keep the warm air in and the cold air out.
And while you're at it, you can also fix your roof, paint your house, repair the plumbing or do something else to make your house a better place to live.
Who's Eligible?
To qualify for a home improvement loan, you must:
- Own the property you're improving.
- Be a reasonable credit risk.
- Have an annual adjusted gross income not exceeding $16,000.

The property you are improving must be at least 15 years old or need energy saving improvements, or have health or safety hazards that need repairing.
What Improvements Can be Made?
You can obtain an MHFA loan for most basic and necessary improvements that make your home more livable. Loans are also available for the following:
- Energy saving improvements such as wall or attic insulation, storm doors and windows.
- Purchasing and installing solar equipment for space or water heating.
- Furnace improvement or replacement.
- Permanent improvements such as remodeling, plumbing or roofing that increase the market value of your property.

Olson Children Honored

Tron, Brent and Tricia, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Olson, were honored Sunday, June 15, on the occasion of their June birthdays. Tron was 16 years old June 2; Brent was 15 on the 5th; and Tricia was nine on the 21st. Festivities included an evening dinner party, highlight of which was a tiered cake, iced in white and inscribed with each of the children's names and also "Happy Father's Day". It was created by Mrs. Olson's sister, Mrs. Wayne Hannon. Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Hannon, Todd and Troy of the Grand Forks air base, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Legg and Masako Wood and Justin of Thief River Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Olson. Tricia also accompanied the Hannons back to Grand Forks to spend until the following Sunday. Later that evening, the Olsons brought birthday greetings to Lana at the Jim Stolp home in Thief River Falls on the occasion of her 18th birthday June 17.

Mrs. Roger Dyrdal, Lynn, Rog, Jeri, Bryce and April were Friday forenoon coffee guests at the Daryl Lewis home. That afternoon Eva Green of Kalispell, Mont., Eldred Ayers of Sanders, Edith Dyrdal, and Mrs. Burt Lane were visitors at the Lewis home. That evening Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Dyrdal were among those attending the fashion show at the Viking school, after which they were coffee guests at the Duane Olson home.

Birthdays

Mrs. Roger Solem took birthday greetings to Clarence Roasse at the CNC unit of Northwestern hospital late Friday afternoon. Later that evening, Mrs. Solem and Cindi brought birthday greetings and enjoyed cake at the Roy Blomker home on the occasion of Roy's birthday anniversary.

Charles and Wendel Sorenson were Monday forenoon callers at the Gordon Olson home and Mrs. Ervin Olson and Tron were Monday afternoon coffee guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bakken, Melanie, Angela and Wendy visited on Father's Day at her parental Andy Hjelle home at Newfolden. Later Melville and the girls visited at his parental Melvin Bakken home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Moen, Keith and Cory and Connie Ellingson of Thief River Falls were Sunday supper guests at the Charles Ellingson home.

Mrs. Burt Lane was a Friday dinner guest of Mrs. Ludwig Peterson in Thief River Falls. Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Peterson of Numedal and Dick Lane of Port Hueneme, Calif., were visitors at the Burt Lane home.

Mrs. Roger Solem spent Wednesday in Fargo, N.D., on business.

Eva Green of Kalispel, Mont., and Eldred Ayers of Sanders were Friday afternoon coffee guests of Mrs. Edith Dyrdal.

Omer Lian of Rocksbury and Tracy Hoglo of Thief River Falls were Friday dinner guests of Mrs. Marion Hoglo.

Ervin Olson, Tron and Brent were Sunday dinner guests at the Glen Olson home. Scott Olson was a Friday dinner guest there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Paulson, Bruce, Eric, Mike and Kristy were Monday evening visitors at the Tim Kazmierczak home.

Mrs. Joe Soiney and Mrs. Clara Letsch of Thief River Falls enjoyed a turkey dinner Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Soiney at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Langaas picked up his mother, Amanda Langaas at Valley Home Sunday and then Harold's sister, Mrs. Norval Johnson and took them for a drive. Later, together with Mrs. Henry Langaas and Mrs. John Langaas of Greenbush, they enjoyed coffee and lunch together at the Johnson home in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bakken, Melanie, Angela and Wendy were Wednesday evening visitors at the Melvin Bakken home.

Kristy Srnsky Is 6

Kristy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Srnsky, observed her sixth birthday Friday evening, June 20. Mrs. Srnsky served birthday cupcakes to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Swenson, who are Kristy's grandparents; also Mr. and Mrs. Tom Srnsky and Tracy of St. Hilaire, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Srnsky, Jenny Wilson of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Halvorson and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brenna, Todd and Tina, and Kristy's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Louis Srnsky and Dennis Srnsky of St. Hilaire, Chad Hagen and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Torgerson, Shane and Misty of Thief River Falls. Also present for the celebration was Kristy's older sister, Kathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hallan were Sunday dinner guests at the Mike Swenson home Sunday in honor of Mrs. Hallan's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Swenson had also made her mother the traditional birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Olson and Steven were Thursday evening coffee guests at the Charles Ellingson home.

Good Cheer club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lilas Klefstad. Mrs. Frank Armstrong was assisting hostess. Three large towel-bibs had been made and were displayed as samples for the club project this year. These will be sent to the Roseau children's home in a couple of months. It was voted to hold a bake sale at Viking June 28, in conjunction with Zion's 75th anniversary celebration that weekend. Lauretta Blomker will be in charge of the sale. Patty Soiney was in charge of entertainment, which included a reading by Edith Dyrdal, and games with prizes awarded. Present besides the beforementioned were Gladys Bakke, Mavis Langaas, Becky Christianson, Eva Green of Kalispell, Mont., Linda Olson, Dodie Mikkelson, Alma Drotts, Carol Knudsen, Sheila and Keri, Myrtle Jablinske, JoAnn Bauer, Carey Soiney, Nathan, Odetta and Jonathan Blomker, Bobby Jo Opdahl and Sandy Berg.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brenna were among the square dancers presenting a program for the residents of Oakland Park nursing home Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Langaas and Mrs. Ella Johnson were among the many spectators.

Mrs. Tild Nelson and Jack of Thief River Falls were Sunday afternoon coffee guests at the Donald Olson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wojchiechowski and Stacey of Strathcona were Thursday evening visitors at the Melville Bakken home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lane were Sunday morning coffee guests and Mary Lane of Thief River Falls was a Sunday evening visitor at the Burt Lane home.

Jane Olson and nephew, Cayler Olson, were Monday forenoon visitors at the Emil Zavoral home in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Prickett, Chris, and Todd of Thief River Falls brought belated silver wedding anniversary wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Russ Lane Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Roger Solem and Cindi were Saturday evening visitors at the Kenneth Carlson home in Sanders.

Mrs. Lilas Klefstad, Mrs. Esther Solseng, Mrs. Eleanor Joyce, Mrs. Lucille Thompson, Norman Olson and Myrl Johnson spent Sunday sightseeing, with points of interest being Park Rapids and Itasca state park, where a picnic dinner was also enjoyed.

Kay Kuzel was a Friday evening and overnight guest of Lynn at the Roger Dyrdal home. The Dyrdals took her to her parental Richard Kuzel home Saturday evening.

Denise Ayers, together with a friend, Tamara Dyrud of Middle River, spent Monday through Friday at Galilee Bible Camp at Lake Bronson. Wednesday evening Mrs. Ayers and Darla accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Leland Nelson of Sanders to the camp to attend the evening service. Friday forenoon Mrs. Ayers and Darla drove up to attend the cantata, "David, A Man After the Heart of God", in which Denise was a participant and also enjoyed dinner with the campers. Dana Nelson accompanied them on the trip home.

Shelly Solseng Is 17

Shelly Solseng observed her 17th birthday Saturday, June 21, when her grandmothers, Mrs. Lillian Knutson of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Esther Solseng and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Page of Thief River Falls were supper guests at the Martin Solseng home. Later that evening Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Lewis and Todd brought birthday greetings and were cake and coffee guests. Forest Fires Help Nature's Process

by Mark E. Canney
University News Service

When uncontrolled fires raged through central Minnesota this spring, the toll they took in anguish and property loss was high.

But despite their sometimes disastrous effects on humans and grassland, forest fires are often a boon to nature, according to a University of Minnesota ecologist.

Before states like Minnesota were heavily populated by humans, periodic forest and grassland fires were as natural and vital to the environment as rain, snow and seasonal climate changes, said Miron Heinselman, adjunct professor of ecology and behavioral biology.

Fires are still important to the maintenance of wilderness areas in North American forests, he said. "Minnesota was and is fire country."

A retired U.S. forest service researcher, Heinselman said that the plants and animals native to Minnesota have evolved in a fire environment and that fire has been a principal agent in the natural history of the area.

Many of these plants and animals have become dependent on fire for their existence. Fires can act as regulators of wildlife populations, aiding in the diversity and stability of these populations, he said.

"The jack pine, a common Minnesota conifer, is a good example of a plant that is fire dependent," Heinselman said. The cones of the jack pine, which hold the seeds of the tree, are sealed with a resin that will not allow the seeds to escape until it has been melted by fire. When the resin melts, the winged seeds are freed and flutter to the ground where they can germinate.

The same fire that releases the captive seeds will also leave on the forest floor a mineral-rich ash conducive to the growth of the new jack pines.

"As a result of the jack pine's adaptation to fires, it is possible to burn an entire stand of trees, notably red pines, have given forests a great deal of resiliency when faced with fires. The Minnesota state tree, the red pine, has a very thick bark that protects it from fire damage. This bark will preserve the tree, allowing a surface fire to burn off the organic matter on the ground and eliminate the tree's competitors while leaving an ashy soil rich in minerals. The tree remains unharmed.

"Fires recycle the nutrients in a forest by burning off the organic layer on top of the ground," Heinselman said. "The organic layer, made up of fallen leaves, twigs and branches, is burned and the resultant ash acts as a fertilizer for further plant growth."

Regular forest fires are also beneficial to many animals. Plants used by these animals as food and shelter thrive after a fire: the pruning effect of fires opens more areas in the forest to sunlight.

Large trees can cut out sunlight necessary for smaller edible plants to survive in a forest. Large canopy-like trees can make the forest floor a virtual desert, Heinselman said.

Deer, elk and moose eat young sprouts that often would not exist without the clearing effect of a forest fire. Because of the rich ash soil and abundant sunlight, these sprouts are often plentiful after a fire.

Grouse, prairie chickens and other nesting birds benefit from the grasses that grow following fires. These grasses can be used as camouflage or as building material for new nests.

The lack of regular forest fires can have a detrimental effect on the local human population, Heinselman said. "Fuels build up in a forest that has not experienced a fire in some time," he said. "These fuels can set the stage for a real catastrophe."

Accumulated forest fuels, such as leaves, pine needles and dead branches, can stoke a very hot forest fire. Such a fire would be very difficult to control because of its intensity, and could encroach on human property, he said.

Because of the benefits of fires to a forest, many foresters are reconsidering the use of fire for forest management. The problems are obvious; controlling any forest fire is never easy. But even so, Heinselman believes controlled fires can avert the more serious threat of catastrophic fires.

"The intelligent use of fires can actually reduce fuel accumulations and help avoid forest fires that could endanger human lives and property," he said.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Answers to homeowners' questions are given by J. B. Featherston, MAI, President of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, the nation's oldest appraisal organization, and the only one affiliated with the National Association of Realtors.

The effect—or lack of effect—of nuclear power plants on nearby real estate value is surprising to many.

Question: Can land values hold up in areas surrounding nuclear power plants? What's happened around Three Mile Island?

Answer: One might assume that home values in the vicinity of a nuclear plant would decrease, but that's not always the case. Negative publicity in one area of the country might have no adverse affect on similar situations in other areas of the country. Local attitude concerning the utility operating a plant can be the determining factor about how the plant is viewed as a neighbor, in some cases.

Professional appraisers sort out factors which affect market value, distinguishing between real economic changes and momentary panic. A helpful booklet, "What to Look for in an Appraisal," is available free from the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, 430 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60611.

Library Plans Youth Trip To Winnipeg

Northwest regional library has announced plans for a children's bus trip to Winnipeg on Friday, August 8.

The trip will be open to anyone between the ages of eight and 15. Plans for the day include a visit to the Assinaboine zoo, the museum of man and nature and the Centennial center planetarium. Participants should bring a sack lunch to eat in Assinoboine park and money for a hamburger stop before leaving Winnipeg.

Bus will leave the Thief River Falls library at 7:30 a.m. Friday and travel highways 59, 175 and 75 to Winnipeg. Arrangements can be made to pick up passengers along this route upon request. The bus will return via the same route arriving in Thief River Falls at 8:30 p.m. Friday evening.

Cost of the trip is $13 which includes transportation, entrance fee to museum and planetarium and cost of minature train ride at the zoo. Those wishing to reserve a seat should send permission statement and $13 with indication of where participant should be picked up to the Northwest regional library, 101 East First, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Methodists Adopt Budget Of $3.4 Million

More than 1,000 delegates to the annual meeting of Minnesota United Methodists recently decided on a $3,400,000 budget and program priorities for the 442 churches of the denomination in the state.

In a state of the church report, the six district superintendents said that churches are "overcoming the 'business as usual' syndrome and are catching a new spirit of 'usual business as special'."

The report also said, "the primary personnel resource of Minnesota United Methodism, of course, is the laity — 122,000 members, 31,000 preparatory members and uncounted nonmember constituents.

In July, a nine-state meeting of United Methodists will convene in Dayton, Ohio to elect bishops of the church. Minnesota delegation reported it will support Rev. Delton Krueger, Alexandria, as its candidate.

Three new bishops will be elected to replace those retiring. If elected, Krueger, superintendent of churches in northwest Minnesota, will not be assigned to Minnesota according to church procedures.

Present bishop in Minnesota is Wayne K. Clymer who has served two four-year terms, the limit for a bishop in any one area. He is scheduled to be assigned to another area in the upper midwest. However, citing reasons of leadership qualities needed in this conference and the fact that he has only four years until retirement, the delegation is also petitioning for his return to Minnesota for those four years. This is possible within United Methodist structure for what is called "strategic missional reasons."

Resolutions brought to the conference by the board of church and society, the social action agency of the church, addressed issues of the draft, human rights in Korea and Iran, and energy conservation. A major issue for delegates was whether or not our national commitment for a strong military defense is excessive.

Among the resolutions approved, the conference called for the Minnesota congressional delegation to call the U.S. government to continued participation in global interdependence and to call a halt to the production of the MS missile system and nuclear weapons.

NORDEN . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Koropatnicki of Walhalla, N.D., Mrs. Cecelia Koropatnicki of Smiley and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Solem and Bobby of Steiner were a week ago Monday evening visitors at the Roger Solem home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Olson, Steve, Kelli and Jill of Rocksbury were Sunday breakfast guests of Mrs. Marion Hoglo. Later that morning, Mrs. Hoglo's granddaughters, Michelle, Shawn and Kathy Lamb of Warren, picked her up and together with Dr. and Mrs. Lamb, she attended a T.E.C. reunion in Crookston. She also remained overnight at the Lamb home with Mrs. Lamb and Kathy bringing her home again Monday morning.

Wally Anderson and Joe Soiney of Thief River Falls were Sunday afternoon coffee guests at the Ray Soiney home.

Orlie Gunderson AVTI Director

Dr. Orlie Gunderson, assistant director of the East Grand Forks area vocational-technical institute since March of 1973, will become director of the Thief River Falls AVTI Tuesday when he meets with Supt. William Corliss to sign his contract at 10 a.m. He will succeed Arnt Aune, who has announced his retirement, as director of the school.

Approved by the Thief River Falls board of education earlier last week, Dr. Gunderson received a release from the East Grand Forks board of education Friday evening. The East Grand Forks AVTI is similar in size to the Thief River Falls school, having 22 programs and about 500 students, Dr. Gunderson said.

A 1958 graduate of Mahnomen high school, he attended Bemidji state university for two years, took a year off to work on construction and then received a bachelor of science degree in vocational agriculture education from the University of Minnesota in St. Paul in 1963.

In 1962 he did his student teaching at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, working with Peter Probasco, Ed Sisler and Fred Sorensen who were in the school district's agriculture department at that time. He taught vocational agriculture at Kelliher for one year and Montgomery for one year before receiving an assistantship at Penn state university. He received a master of science degree in vocational education from Penn state in 1966.

From 1966 to 1969 he served as instructor and department head of the agri-business department at the Willmar AVTI, they received a fellowship to Oregon state university. He received his doctor of philosophy degree there in 1971 and also served an administrative internship at Lane community college at Eugene, Ore.

When he came to the East Grand Forks AVTI as assistant director and the second person hired at the school, he worked with building programs and in programming instruction at the school.

Married to the former Elaine Jacobson of Shelly, Dr. Gunderson will move to Thief River Falls with his wife and three children (Tammy, 12; Chad, 10; and Heidi, 7) when housing has been arranged. He will commute to work here during the interim and will stay with his brother-in-law and sister, Dave and Loni Kjos.

NEW DIRECTOR of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute is Dr. Orlie Gunderson, previously assistant director at the East Grand Forks AVTI. He is pictured at a meeting of the East Grand Forks school board Wednesday evening, during which his resignation was accepted and he was released from his duties.

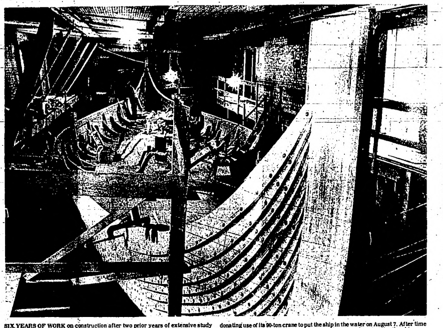
20 NCC Students Awarded Merit Scholarships

Northland community college of Thief River Falls has announced the awarding of 20 merit scholarships for the 1980-81 academic year. The award is based upon superior academic background as measured by grade point average and rank in class, as well as special talent in student government and student activities.

Merit Scholars program is made possible through a special grant by Lowell and Marge Swenson to the Northland Community College Foundation. This coming academic year will represent the second year of this particular scholarship program.

Entering freshmen student scholars include: Sheila Busse, Sharon Krystosek, Mike Semanko, Paula Lendobeja, Jan Swanson, Brian Culkins, Tawnya Hamre and Connie Molstad, all from Thief River Falls. Also, Janet Kasprowicz, Stephen.

Sophomore recipients of the merit scholars award are: Ann Burger, Julie Easton, Pam Kotschevar, Diane Lusignan, Rick Peterson, Angie Sinn and Sandra Hoff, all from Thief River Falls. Also, Donna Larson, Strandquist, Jeff Reese, Hallock, Dale Carlson, Red Lake Falls and Karen Eggers, McIntosh.



SIX YEARS OF WORK on construction after two prior years of extensive study have resulted in the building of this Viking ship by Robert Asp of Moorhead, a former resident of the Thief River Falls area. Asp plans to exhibit the ship at Viking days in Hawley, where the ship has been built in an abandoned potato warehouse, on July 25, 26 and 27 and during the Hawley rodeo in the first days of August. He will then haul the ship to Duluth where the Port Authority of Duluth is donating use of its 90-ton crane to put the ship in the water on August 7. After time spent this summer in sailing on Lake Superior, Asp plans to take the ship on a return voyage of the Vikings to Norway next summer. The 20-ton vessel is made of oak which Asp cut in northern Minnesota and had sawed at the Harvey Engen farm at Viking and at Rollag. An estimated 150 to 200 trees went into the boat's construction.

Former Resident Builds Ship To Return Vikings' Voyage

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

"Of course, we know it will float. It's made out of wood, you know." Bob Asp, formerly of the Thief River Falls community was talking about the 76½-foot, 20-ton Viking ship he has built from northern Minnesota oak trees. "The question," he added somewhat tentatively, "is which side up!"

But the Moorhead junior high school counselor turned Viking hunter and shipbuilder isn't really too worried about the seaworthiness of his craft. He has spent six years building the vessel after a couple of years of effort to read and research and study all he could find on the subject. The research and building experience have made him somewhat of an expert.

His sailing ability is something else. "I took a course in sailing in Moorhead and we were to have some practical experience in a sail boat," he recalls. "We got about 300 yards from the dock in the "Flying Scott" and the wind died. Finally we got another little puff and just coasted back into the dock. That was it for my sailing experience. . . but I passed with flying colors on sitting out a calm!"

Some background for a 57-year-old man who plans to plunk his oak plank ship into the Duluth harbor a month from now and take it under full sail to Norway in 1982, you say? Again, Bob isn't too worried.

"Some people are concerned that I don't know much about sailing," he admitted. "But then, I didn't know anything about building boats, either. O.K.?"

Asp plans to display his ship with its rigging at Central park in Hawley on July 25, 26 and 27 during Viking days in that community, and during the Hawley rodeo August 2 and 3. Norwegian consulate general Olaf Sorlie will be in Hawley for a program and christening of the ship on Sunday, July 27 at 2 p.m.

Then on Tuesday night, August 5, he will transport the ship down highways 10 and 210 to Duluth. Transport will be accomplished by using a truck tractor owned by Bob's nephews, Kenny and Alvin Asp of rural Thief River Falls. A detachable undercarriage and timbers will be used to form a cradle to hold the ship since it is too long for a conventional trailer. A kingpin unit, borrowed from Roy Westberg of Warren, will provide the fifth-wheel attachment between the cradle and the truck.

On Wednesday morning, August 6, the unit should be in Duluth and ready for U.S. coast guard inspection, and, as Bob says, "for us to take a look and see what kind of shape we got it there in". On August 7, with the donated use of a 90-ton crane owned by the Port Authority of Duluth, the ship will be launched in the Duluth harbor. Gov. Al Quie has indicated he will be on hand for the occasion.

Asp plans to spend a good part of this summer in "shakedown cruises" to test the ship and to learn all he can about sailing. His crew will have some sailing experience and he will learn from them. This winter he will store the ship at Knife River and will select the crew which will do the actual sailing to Norway on the return trip of the Vikings. They will train next summer on Lake Superior and take the ship up the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"By then I should know fore from aft and port from starboard without stopping to think," he said, "and talk about the deck instead of the floor so I at least sound like a sailor."

Then in the summer of 1982, he will sail for Norway in the manner of the Vikings of old, dependent on the favor of the elements and the skills of himself and his crew to reach his destination of the Oslo harbor. To top it all off, if all goes as expected, he will turn the ship around and sail back again to the United States.

Asp was born in this area and grew up here, graduating from Goodridge high school. His family lived near Thief River Falls for a time and later moved further west where his brother Arthur now farms. His wife is the former Rose Foldoe who grew up in the area near Carpenter's Corner. Bob served in World War II and moved to Moorhead in 1948 to attend college and later to work.

He got the idea to build the Viking ship in 1971. He was helping his brother Bjarne remodel a house and fell off the roof. While recovering, he was brought books by Bjarne about the Vikings. In the spring of 1972 he began selecting oak trees to use in building the ship.

"I was looking at the estimates the other day," Bob said in his Times interview last week. "I saw where we figured it would take 15 trees to make the ship. We must have figured on using sawdust for lumber. If you multiplied that number by 10 and added a few more you might come pretty close to what we actually used."

Some of the trees were cut in

SHIP BUILDER Robert Asp, 57, is excited about the prospects of putting his 20-ton Viking ship into the water at the Duluth harbor August 7. A dry land sailor whose experience consists of one 300-yard sailing effort away from the dock and back again, Asp is not worried about his lack of expertise as a sailor. "Knowing nothing about sailing doesn't bother me," he says. "I didn't know anything about building boats, either."

SHELLY SHERN of Viking, a 1979 graduate of Marshall county central high school in Newfolden, will be among nine candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title July 26. One of Shelly's hobbies is flower-arranging and she has competed in 4-H club flower contests as well as making arrangements of flowers for her own enjoyment.

Shelly Shern Is Queen Candidate

(This is the fifth in a series of interview articles with candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the Jaycee Aquacade. The official Miss America preliminary pageant will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 26, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Athletics play an important role in the life of Shelly Shern from the standpoints of both spectator and participant. If she can't be playing volleyball or cheerleading for her school team, she would just as soon be watching professional football on television.

Shelly, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Shern of Viking and a 1979 graduate of Marshall county central school at Newfolden. She attended Northland community college last year. Shelly is five feet six inches tall, weighs 112 pounds, has blonde hair and green eyes. Her pageant talent number will be the telling of a story entitled "Godfather Death".

At Marshall county central she was a cheerleader for various teams since seventh grade, including a year as captain, and played on the volleyball team for four years. She carried those interests with her to Northland where she lettered on the girls volleyball team and was a cheerleader for the Northmen sports teams.

Shelly also participated in speech contests in high school, placing second in District 32 competition as a junior and winning first place as a senior. She was a representative of the Future Homemakers of America organization on the student council and graduated as an honor student.

As a member of the Viking 4-H club for nine years she served as secretary of the club and participated in the county style revue by making and modeling her own project garments. She has been a vice president of the Zion Lutheran church Luther league at Viking and sang in the church choir for three years.

For hobbies Shelly enjoys dancing, sewing, swimming, tennis and craft projects. This fall she will transfer to the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks where she plans to major in psychology, eventually attaining a master's degree. "I would like to work with high students as a counselor, working with their personal problems," she said.

Shelly has three brothers, Jeff, 20; Daniel, 17; and Ryan, 14; and a sister Wendy, 15.

A LONG WALK awaits five-year-old Kathea Russell starting Thursday of this week: Kathea, her three-year-old brother Jimmy, her mother Lane and aunt Cassie Fowler are planning on walking some 1,200 miles to the Russells' claim near Leesburg, Idaho. They hope to start a Christian retreat on the 20-acre claim in the Salmon national forest. The walk is just part of the total adventure, something they want to do. Since they lost all their belongings in a fire which destroyed the cabin they were living in at Leesburg March 2, they are looking for camping supplies for the trip. Needed specifically are canteens, back packs, small 2-4 person tent, rain gear and sleeping bags. Friends are holding a yard sale in Red Lake Falls at the Pat Bauer home this week to help raise some funds. They also expect to have a horse or two and a wagon to make the trip so they can transport gear and allow the youngsters to ride. They plan on traveling about 25 miles a day. See Wednesday's Times for a more complete story.

Jaycees Plan Demo Derby At County Fair

The Thief River Falls Jaycees have completed plans for the demolition derby to be conducted at the Pennington county fairgrounds July 18 at 7 p.m.

Evening program will have $1,500 in cash and trophies available for the various winners. Events will include qualifying heats, feature event and the everything goes "grand slam." Various awards will be given to the best appearing car, sportsmanship, and true grit, with $800 available for the feature event, $225 for the grand slam and $50 for each of the heats, plus trophies for top winners in all events.

Entry fee for the derby is $25 per car (includes two pitmen). Pit gates open at 5 p.m. and registration should take place before the 6:45 driver's meeting. Entry forms are available by contacting the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce at 681-3720 days or 681-6767 anytime.

School Board Meets Tuesday

Discussion of potential site for the proposed new high school for Thief River Falls will take place at a special meeting of the board of education Tuesday at 7 a.m. The meeting will be held in the board room of the school district service center.

Hanson And Peterson Marriage Vows Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. David Allen Peterson are at home in rural Pine City following an exchange of marriage vows at the Evangelical Free church in this city and a wedding trip to Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

The bride is the former Laurie Jean Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hanson of this city. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Peterson of rural Pine City.

Rev. Curtis Anderson officiated at the double ring ceremony. For the ceremony, the chancel was graced with an arch candelabra with strawflowers, peach stephanotis, greenery and ivory bows. At each window was a crystal voto light with peach candles, surrounded by colored leaves. Lighting the candles were Dale Novacek, cousin of the bride, and Rich Cogan, a friend of the couple.

At the organ was Kenneth Wold, a friend of the couple. He played Purcell's "Trumpet Aire," as the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," from Midsummer Night's Dream," as the recessional. Mrs. Phyllis Peterson, sister-in-law of the groom was pianist. Prior to the ceremony Pam Hanson, a cousin of the bride, sang, "Gentle Shepherd." During the ceremony, Calvin Lindstrom, a friend of the couple, played the guitar and sang, "Wedding Song." Later he was joined by Kristi Hanson, a sister of the bride, in singing "Make Us One, Father." Following the lighting of the unity candle, Debra Christopherson, a friend of the couple, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a gown of white chiffonella styled with a blouson bodice featuring an embroidered chiffonella yoke accented with a Schiffli ruffle. The gown was fashioned with a mandarin collar, bishop sleeves, and an A-line skirt and chapel length train edged with lace. To complete her attire, she wore a lace edged mantilla of bridal illusion held in place by a lace headpiece embroidered with iridescents. She carried a bouquet of fresh and silk flowers featuring white carnations and baby roses, peach and bronze mums, greenery and babies' breath tied with ivory ribbon streamers.

Karin Hanson attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kristi Hanson, sister of the bride; Cathy Peterson, Pine City, sister of the groom; and Aliza Novacek, Greenbush, cousin of the bride. Andrea Hanson, a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. All wore peach qiana long-sleeved gowns with blouson bodices complemented by a soft ruffle at the rounded neckline. Their bouquets were of peach mums and star flowers accented by brown silk roses and ivory ribbon. Their small golden hoop earrings were gifts from the bride.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Dan Peterson of Pine City. Groomsmen Mark Peterson, Mandan, N.D., Ron Peterson, Coon Rapids, brothers of the groom, and Steve Lange, Pine City, a cousin. Junior groomsman was Nick Peterson of Coon Rapids, a nephew of the groom. The ushers were Tom Geisler, Pine City, a cousin of the groom; Marc Novacek, Greenbush, a cousin of the bride, and Mark Okeson and Marvin Bergrammer of Crystal, friends of the couple. All wore sterling brown semi-formal vested tuxedos with ivory ruffled shirts and peach tipped carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a copper-colored qiana gown with a blouson bodice featuring cape sleeves and an embroidered yoke of ivory chiffonella. The mother of the groom wore a dusty rose street-length dress featuring a blouson top with a cowl neckline.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. Alice McMahon; Mrs. Clara Hanson, grandmothers of the bride, and Mrs. Anna Schenkey, the bride's great aunt.

A reception in the church parlors followed with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gjovik, cousins of the bride, as host and hostess. Annette Peterson, a sister of the groom, presided at the guest book. Punch servers were Helen Hanson and Steve Walsh, friends of the couple.

Centering the serving table was a three-tiered Lady Windermere wedding cake, iced in ivory and decorated with peach and bronze roses. Topping the cake was a Christogram surrounded with ivory colored roses. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Annethea Novacek, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ruth Geisler, aunt of the groom. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Ruby Lindahl and Mrs. Diane Lange, also aunts of the couple. Mrs. Carolyn Hamness, cousin of the bride, served the Kransekake, the traditional Norwegian wedding cake.

Waitresses were Marita Novacek, a cousin, and Cheryl Holt, Donna Kastner, Lorna Knutson, Ruth Lindquist and Sandy Sigurdsen, friends of the couple. Janelle and Theresa Hamness presided at the gift table and Noel and Neil Novacek served as gift bearers. All are cousins of the bride. Renate Vathhauer, a friend of the couple, was flower hostess.

Following the rehearsal, the groom's dinner was hosted at the Hanging Gardens by his parents.

For traveling on the wedding trip, the bride wore a brown blazer and a coordinating brown and wine plaid skirt.

The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and completed a year at Oak Hills Bible institute at Bemidji. Prior to her marriage, she was employed at Country Kitchen and Wold's Holiday Motel. The groom, a graduate of Pine City High school, also attended Oak Hills Bible institute for a year. He is currently engaged in dairy farming with his father. Ehrenstrom Is State Finalist In Teen Event

Seventeen-year-old Stacy Ehrenstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ehrenstrom of Thief River Falls, has been selected as a state finalist in the 1980 Miss United Teenager pageant to be held at Winona state university at 7:30 p.m. on August 4.

The pageant is the official state-wide finals for the Miss United Teenager pageant and contestants from all parts of the state will be competing for the title. All contestants are between 14 and 18 years of age and must have at least a B average in school.

Contestants are requested to participate in the volunteer community service program of the pageant by contributing at least eight hours of time to some worthwhile charity or civic work of their choice.

Winner of the state pageant will receive an expense-paid trip to the national finals — a three-phase pageant held at Hollywood, Calif; Waikki beach, Hawaii; and Washington, D.C.

A student at Lincoln high school whose hobbies include horses, macrame, sewing and sports, Stacy is sponsored in the pageant by Kenneth Berg, L.M. (Max) Graham, Elwood Ehrenstrom and Clarence Beck.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Featuring recipes from the Kitchen of

Mrs. Tim Lundeen
rural Goodridge

Chocolate Dessert

Crust

1 cup flour
½ cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon powdered sugar

Method: Sift together flour and powdered sugar. Cut in shortening until crumbly. Pat into a 9x13 inch cake pan. Bake in a 325 degree oven for about 15 minutes. Cool.

First Layer:

1-8 oz. package cream cheese, room temperature
1 cup powdered sugar
1 cup commercially prepared cream topping

Method: Cream powdered sugar and cream cheese. Add the cream topping. Spread on top of cooled crust.

Second Layer

3 packages instant chocolate pudding
4 cups cold milk

Method: Combine and beat until thick. Spread on top of the first layer. Refrigerate. Serve with or without a dollop of prepared topping.

Mrs. Lundeen stated that this dessert may be varied by using other pudding mixes and by layering pistachio and chocolate pudding.

The Lundeens are living in rural Goodridge where they are engaged in farming. They have one son, Shannon, 15 months old. Mrs. Lundeen stated that she enjoyes gardening, both vegetable and flower. They attend Ekelund Lutheran church.

M. Rupprecht Serves As 4-H Ambassador

Melodee Rupprecht of Thief River Falls recently completed her term as a 4-H ambassador. One of Melodee's responsibilities during the year was to help plan the junior leader conference which was conducted June 16-20 on the Minnesota state fairgrounds in St. Paul.

"Much of the success of the 4-H federation depends on the ambassadors" reported Deborah Matero, Pennington County extension agent. "For 13 years now, ambassadors have represented Minnesota at various national 4-H conferences and the National 4-H Congress which meets in Chicago each year."

The 32 ambassadors were selected from 4-H youth leaders across Minnesota. They received special training at a three-day workshop last July, assisted with 4-H Minnesota state fair activities and organized the junior leader conference during a winter retreat.

"They also had opportunities to visit with business people and others who contribute to 4-H", Matero added.

Melodee has been a member of the Silverton 4-H club for the past 10 years. During this time she has won numberous awards in the clothing and foods projects. She was selected as a state alternate to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago for her records in achievement, citizenship and leadership. Melodee has completed her freshman year at St. Luke's School of Nursing in Duluth, and is employed at Northwestern Hospital as a nurse's aide.

Exempt Native Prairie From Property Taxes

If your property includes native prairie land, Minnesota has a new program to make it worth your while to keep it that way, say officials from the state's department of natural resources and department of revenue.

Preserving what's left of Minnesota's native prairie is the goal of a new law passed by the legislature this spring, which exempts native prairie land from property taxes, starting with taxes payable in 1981.

In addition, the law gives owners of native prairie a credit on the taxes they pay on the rest of their property. Landowners can get application forms from their county assessors. This year's deadline for applying is August 1.

To be eligible, a person must own at least 10 acres of prairie which contain native prairie plant species throughout. Tract must never have been broken or plowed, and the owner must agree to preserve it in its natural state. DNR area wildlife managers will certify that the land qualifies under the program.

Everyone benefits under the new program, state officials say. Landowners have part of their property taxes paid for them by the state, local governments get compensated for the tax base loss resulting from taking the prairie land off the tax rolls, and the state preserves one of its vaulable natural resources.

Prairie land once covered much of the state, except for the northern lake country and Arrowhead region. The DNR estimates that only one-tenth of one per cent of Minnesota's natural prairie remains today.

To find out more about what qualifies as native prairie, landowners can call the DNR's Natural Heritage Program. The toll free number is 1-800-652-9747. For answers to questions about how the tax credit program works, people should call the Department of Revenue's property equalization division, 612-296-5131.

Newcomers To Meet Tuesday

Newcomers club will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Elks club in Thief River Falls. All ladies new to the area are welcome to attend.

MN. State Fair Slates Variety Of Happenings

One-hundred and seventeenth edition of the Minnesota state fair, Aug. 21 through Labor Day, Sept. 1, will offer a showcase of agriculture, competition, industry, education and entertainment. The state fair has traditionally featured the best Minnesota has to offer, providing an opportunity for people to get together to have fun. The 1980 12-day extravaganza will be no exception.

In the Coliseum, equestrian events include English and Western horse shows and the Bob Barnes Professional Rodeo. Nine performances are slated for the English horse show Aug. 21-26. Evening showtimes are 6:30 p.m. Aug. 21 and Aug. 24-26; and 6 p.m. Aug. 22-23. Matinees will be at 1 p.m. Aug. 22 and 12:30 p.m. Aug. 24-25.

Professional Rodeo Cowboys of America will compete for cash prizes and points in the national rodeo standings at 7 p.m. Aug. 27 and at 1 and 7 p.m. Aug. 28. Western horse shows will be held Aug. 29-Sept. 1. Shows are scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Aug. 29 and Aug. 31-Sept. 1; and 6:30 p.m. Aug. 29-31.

Reserved seat tickets for all Coliseum events are $3.50, $3 and $2.50. General admission tickets are available at the Coliseum on the day of the show for $2. The state fair holds memberships in the American Horse Shows association, Tri-State Horsemen's association and the Minnesota Hunter and Jumper association. The exposition's Western horse show is approved by the Appaloosa Horse Club, American Quarter Horse Association, American Paint Horse Association and the Palomino Horse Breeders of America.

The State Fair will provide fairgoers with plenty of free entertainment. Appearing at the Bandshell Aug. 21-26 will be Doug Kershaw (the Ragin-Cajun fiddler), the Jack D'Johns, the Note-Ables and the Mugelstons. On stage Aug. 27-Sept. 1 will be Paul New & Steel City, the Wright Brothers, the Kimberlys and the Barbary Coast Banjo Brass. Shows begin daily at 10 a.m.

Ray Komischke's State Fair Orchestra will perform at the Bandshell at 6:45 p.m. nightly, except Aug. 23, 27, 28 and Sept. 1. The Commodore Chorus SPEBSQSA from Minneapolis will perform at 6:45 p.m. Aug. 23, 27 and 28. The Eighth Annual State Fair Amateur Talent Contest will also take place at the Bandshell. Semi-finals begin at 8:30 p.m. Aug. 21-31; finals will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 1.

The Hamm's Hanneford Aerial Thrill Circus will make its fourth consecutive appearance at the State Fair with daily shows at 10 a.m., 1 and 4 p.m. A special feature of this year's thrill circus will be the Hogo Zacchini Cannon Act. Zacchini, the human cannonball, will perform with the circus at 1 and 4 p.m. weekdays and at all shows on weekends. Additional bleacher seats have increased seating capacity at the free thrill circus to 4,000. The thrill circus will be held west of the Dairy-Animal Products Building on a lot shared with a 30-foot replica of the Hamm's bear.

In Machinery Park, across from the 4-H Building, polka king Krank Yankovic will perform Aug. 21-26. The Chmielewski Funtime Show will be featured Aug. 27-Sept. 1.

Musical fare with a vintage flavor will be offered every day of the fair at Heritage Square, beginning with the third annual old time fiddlers contest Aug. 21. The Blue Rock Bluegrass Band and the Memories perform Aug. 22-26. Appearing Aug. 27-Sept. 1 are the Great Western Band and Sunshine Special, the ladies barbershop quartet that won the 1979 State Fair amateur talent contest.

Phone Service Is Added For Handicapped

Hearing and speech-impaired people who communicate over teletype-like devices will have access to Bell system operators for help with messages that cannot be dialed directly starting Sunday, June 29.

Specially-trained operators may be reached at 1-800-655-1156 (toll-free, for TDD users only) for completing collect, person-to-person and other kinds of calls requiring operator assistance, and for directory assistance service.

The service is similar to that provided voice customers whenever they dial 'Operator.' The difference is that the new service is an exchange of printed messages instead of a voice conversation.

Four regional centers have been established by the Bell system to provide this service. The Central Regional center serving this area is in Omaha, Neb. 11 where operators positions have been equipped with the teletyle-like devices called telecommunications devices for deaf customers, or TDDs.

The other three regional centers are in Philadelphia, Boston and Oakland.

The operators in the four regional centers were given a special training course to be as sensitive as possible to the needs of hearing and speech-impaired people. One of the important points covered is that communicating via the TDD's is much slower than talking.

It isn't known exactly how many TDD's are in operation, but from some estimates the Bell system expects to handle approximately 2,500 messages or requests for service during an average business day throughout the country. Thus the Omaha center is being prepared for about a fourth of that number — perhaps 600 to 800 messages — per day.

The Bell companies being served from the Omaha center include Northwestern Bell (operating in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota), Illinois Bell, Indiana Bell, Michigan Bell, Wisconsin Telephone, Southwestern Bell (Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri) and some South Central Bell exchanges in Kentucky and Tennessee. Non-Bell company TDD customers in those states will also have access to the Omaha center.

Northwestern Bell is now offering reduced rates on long distance calls within the state for disabled persons who use a telecommunications device for the deaf to communicate over phone lines.

To obtain the discount, customers must contact the company's Telecommunications Center for the Disabled and complete an application form which certifies that a member of the household has a hearing loss or speech impairment that requires use of a device and that the household owns or leases such a device.

The discounts reduce daytime rates by 35 per cent. Evening and night rate periods are reduced 60 and 75 per cent from the full daytime rate. The purpose of the discount is to recognize that communication by this type of device is significantly slower and therefore more costly than spoken communication.

The telephone number for the Telecommunications Center is: Metro, 338-2382 and Outstate, 1-800-752-8139.

Vacation Home May Be Eligible For Deductions

If you are lucky enough to be able to buy a vacation home, you may be eligible for possible deductions you may claim on your federal income tax return. According to CPSa, some tax benefits depend on how many days you live in the house or rent it out during the year.

If you rent out your vacation home for less than two weeks a year, you don't need to report rental income or any profit on the rental. But neigher can you deduct any expenses related to the rental. As the owner of a vacation home, CPAs say, you may deduct mortgage interest, property taxes and casualty losses from your federal income tax, just as you do on your personal residence, regardless of the amount of personal use.

To consider your vacation home a business for federal income tax purposes, you cannot live in it more than two weeks a year. (You may live in it longer, if your personal use of the house is ten per cent of the number of days it is rented. For instance, if you rent your house for 250 days a year, you could live in it for 25 days.) You can deduct a depreciation allowance and expense for maintenance and repairs, utilities and rental agent fees. To get the tax breaks, however, be sure you meet the IRS test of a business. . . Profit must be generated in at least two of five years — and the profit, of course, is taxable.

If you live in your vacation home for more than two weeks a year (or more than 10 per cent of the number of days it is rented) you must report the rent you collect for the rest of the year. However, a prorated share of operating expenses and business tax deductions is allowed for the rental period. Tax deductions may not exceed the total rental income, and if you collect more than you spend, the profit is taxable.

When you rent your vacation home to relatives (or to friends at a bargain rate) remember that you must still report the rent as income. Their rental time is then considered as your personal use. Personal use also includes a reciprocal arrangement under which you "swap" the use of your house for someone else's.

If you would like to own a vacation condominium but find that it is out of your financial reach, consider buying it with others under a time sharing agreement. This allows you to own a fractional interest in the property and to occupy it for a certain length of time each year. Your interest, say CPAs, can be sold to someone else should you decide to leave the agreement. If you've owned your interest for more than one year, only 40 per cent of any gain from the sale is taxable as a capital gain. Ownership of the interest for less than one year means the gain is "ordinary," and 100 per cent taxable.

University Library Has Problems With Book Deterioration

by Ralph Heussner
'U' M News Service

Imagine this scenario:

A thief breaks into the University of Minnesota biomedical library in the darkness of night and methodically destroys every journal, research paper, microfilm, slide and tape made since 1900. The materials are beyond repair, and some cannot be replaced.

Sound unlikely? Not quite.

The thief is only a figurative character, but the results of his symbolic misdeeds are the same: reference materials made in the past 80 to 100 years are deteriorating at an alarming rate and, according to one university authority, "there's not much you can do to stop it."

"Medical books published in this century have an estimated life span of only 50 years; this is in sharp contrast to the centuries-long life span of medical books published in the 15th through 18th centuries," said Judith Overmier, curator of the Wangensteen historical library of biology and medicine.

Modern paper deteriorates rapidly because of the harsh chemicals used in processing. The chemicals give the paper a high acid content, which eventually causes discoloration. The paper also becomes brittle more rapidly than neutral or slightly alkaline paper. Modern ink has a high acid content, too.

"Papers used before this century contained no harsh chemicals, had a very low acid content and lasted longer," Overmier said.

Unless a method is found to retard the chemical reaction, today's library materials will not survive for the use of future scholars, the curator warns. "What will medical historians do in the next hundred years when they can't go back and look at the books?" Overmier asked. "Many of these books simply will not last."

In addition to paper, other reference materials are being ravaged by the natural effects of time and use.

"Audiovisual materials, used heavily in modern medical education, also have a brief life span," Overmier said. "For example, the color on slides cannot be retained. The only way to ensure their survival is to recopy them every five years." Microfilm has a life span of 10 years unless it is archivally produced and processed, then stored in a controlled environment.

The Wangensteen Historical Library, opened in 1972 and dedicated to professor and surgeon Owen H. Wangensteen, has been successful in preserving the volumes in its rare book collection. The 29,000 titles, which date back to the 15th century, have essentially stabilized in their deterioration process thanks to controlled temperature, humidity and light.

The collection includes only rare volumes dated prior to 1900. The library will soon expand the collection to include books published through 1920. "This would include some important materials in radiology and advances in other medical fields such as tuberculosis," Overmier said.

The Wangensteen Library, located on the fifth floor of Diehl Hall on the Minneapolis campus, was specially designed to preserve the valuable resources.

Temperature is maintained at 65 to 70 degrees. For every 10 degree decrease in temperature, the life span of paper is doubled.

Humidity is kept at 50 per cent. Excessive humidity increases chemical reaction in paper, which provides ideal conditions for the growth of mold. Too little humidity causes paper to dry out and bindings to warp.

Air filters are used to remove sulfur dioxide, nitrogen, soot, dust and pollen, all of which have damaging effects on paper. Because light bleaches and weakens paper and bindings, the facility uses special light dimmers.

But what can be done to preserve reference materials that are in daily use in the main biomedical library and other reference sites at the University? What about the potential dangers?

"There is a delicate balance between disseminating information and preserving a book," Overmier said. "For instance, it's not good for the binding if a book is placed on a copy machine, but to prevent that would seriously impair research. Librarians tend more toward dissemination of information."

Studies are under way to find methods to retard the chemical reaction in modern paper and audiovisual material. Overmier said art galleries and museums are also actively involved in this research.

Meanwhile, librarians advise that steps be taken to maintain books in the best possible condition. Here are some tips:

Don't mark a place in a book with a pen or pencil. It damages the spine, hinge and paper; don't mend the book yourself. "One of the most common disasters that can befall a book is the well-intentioned mend. There are no sticky tapes acceptable for mending tears in books. The tapes turn yellow, stain the paper, and generally wreak havoc," Overmier said; don't eat in libraries. Numerous insects feed on the glue and starch used in bindings.

An exhibit on the physical preservation of the medical library collection will be on display in the Wangensteen Historical Library through August.

Dear friends,

Families tend to overlook the provisions of the Social Security program that offer survivor and disability benefits in addition to the well-known retirement benefits. When a person who has been covered by Social Security dies, monthly benefits may be payable to certain surviving dependents. Over the years, this can amount to $70,000 or more of payment benefits for a young family.

Services Today At Trinity For Joanne Wedul

Funeral services for Joanne Wedul, 77, who owned and operated Joanne's Beauty shop in this city for many years, are being held today (Monday) at 2:00 p.m., at Trinity Lutheran church. Miss Wedul died Wednesday morning at Northwestern hospital following a lengthy illness.

Rev. Carl Andersen will officiate at the services. Mrs. Walter Larson will be the organist and Mrs. Gordon Peterson, the soloist. Interment will be in the Fort Snelling National cemetery with the Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Serving as pallbearers will be Dean Hams, Jon Wilson, Jerry Wedul, Arlen Hermodson, Strand Wedul and Hans Stensgaard.

Johanna (Joanne) Wedul was born Oct. 24, 1902 in Wyandotte township, Red Lake county, near Plummer to Ole J. and Marit Strand Wedul. She attended school here and was graduated from Lincoln high school and the Normal Training Department in 1922. She taught in the rural schools until 1927. She then enrolled in a course in cosmetology in Minneapolis and following the completion of the course operated beauty shops in various cities, including Marshall and Graceville.

After receiving word that her brother, Vernon, was missing in action in World War II, she enlisted in the Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps (WAAC) in August of 1943. She served overseas in Paris in the Graves Regulation Command. Following her discharge, she returned to Thief River Falls and operated Joanne's Beauty shop here until her retirement. She never married.

She was a member of Trinity Lutheran church, a church circle and taught Sunday school for a number of years. She was very active in the Thief River Falls Business and Professional Women's club, was a past president of the club and for her leadership in keeping the club from disbanding, by obtaining new members was later named Woman of the Year.

She was also a member of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association, holding offices on both district and state level. She also held membership in the American Legion, VFW, and Sons of Norway.

She is survived by two sisters: Mrs. Anna Waale, Thief River Falls; and Mrs. Sidney (Beatrice) Wilson, Goodridge; two brothers: Martin Wedul, Thief River Falls, and Melvin Wedul, Winona; and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents and three brothers: Vernon, who was killed in World War II; Arnt and Oscar.

Mrs. Floyd Lundeen Rites Set At Fosston

Mrs. Floyd (Violet) Lundeen, 67, of Fosston, mother of Mrs. Chris Jenson of Thief River Falls, died here on Saturday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Floyd Lundeen will be held Tuesday at 2:00 p.m., at the Bethel Assembly church in Fosston with Rev. Gerald Lewin officiating. Interment will be in the Manre cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Curtis, Gary, Keith and Wayne Monson, Roger Larson and Darrow Lundin.

The body is reposing at the Carlin Funeral home at Fosston and will repose at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Mrs. Lundeen, the former Violet Evelyn Monson, was born Jan. 27, 1913 at McIntosh to Hans and Cora Monson, now deceased. She was a 1931 graduate of Fosston high school and a 1932 graduate of Moorhead State Teachers college. Following graduation she taught school for five years.

On Oct. 16, 1937, she was married at the parsonage near Gully to Floyd Lundeen. The couple farmed near Oklee until late in 1978, when they moved to Fosston.

She was a member of the Fosston hospital and nursing home auxiliary, served for a time on the Deer Park school board, and was an active member of the Bethel Assembly church in Fosston, teaching Sunday school and release time classes and serving as secretary of the ladies missionary circle.

She is survived by her husband, four daughters: Wanda Lundeen, Duluth; Crystal Carlson, Gully; Mrs. Chris (Marsha) Jenson, Thief River Falls, and Mrs. David (Denise) Martell, Crookston; three sons: David Lundeen, Red Lake Falls, and Arden and Vincent, both of Oklee; 14 grandchildren; a sister, Lillian Monson, Bemidji; and four brothers: Melvin, Carl and Herbert Monson, all of Bemidji, and Reuben, Owatonna.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, who died in infancy, and one sister.

G. Stenerson Services Held In Moorhead

Funeral services for Gordon B. Stenerson, 76, of Moorhead were held Friday, June 27, at Trinity Lutheran church in that city. Stenerson, a long-time lumberman, died Tuesday, June 24 at Rochester.

Rev. David Anderson officiated at the services. Soloists were Rev. George Gilbertson and Donald Dale with Mrs. Ardis Sitte as organist. Interment was in the Moorhead Riverside cemetery.

Pallbearers were Stephen Hagen, and Gale, James, Jay, John and Leslie Stenerson.

Gordon Stenerson was born March 5, 1904 at Erskine to Gunder and Betsy Stenerson. He received his schooling at Erskine, Concordia college at Moorhead, and the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks where he obtained his bachelor's degree in business administration.

Since then, he had been active in the operation of the family business. The family operated lumber yards at Erskine and Borup before moving to Moorhead in 1946 where they owned the Stenerson Brothers Lumber company. He semi-retired several years ago, spending the winters at Fort Myers, Fla., and the summers in Moorhead.

Stenerson was very active in community affairs. He was elected president of the Moorhead Chamber of Commerce in 1955, was president of the Greater Moorhead Development corp., Moorhead Plastics, Inc., and in 1958 was elected president of the board of trustees of St. Luke's hospital. In 1959, he was named Clay County Man of the Year.

He was married in McIntosh on June 13, 1928 to Juliette Ostby. She survives.

Also surviving are a son, Robert Stenerson of Moorhead, two daughters: Mrs. Karl (Linda) Hagen, Elroy, Wis., and Mrs. Gordon (Janet) Peterson, Thief River Falls; 11 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren; a brother, I. T. Stenerson, Moorhead; and three sisters: Mrs. Albert (Ragna) Jenson, Moorhead; Mrs. Manley (Christine) Furuseth, Halstad, and Mrs. Ralph (Mildred) Kling, Warroad.

Services Held For Herbert T. Vettelson, Sr.

Herbert T. Vettelson, Sr., 69, father of Louis Vettelson of Thief River Falls, died unexpectedly on Tuesday at his farm home near Oklee.

Funeral services for Herbert Vettelson, Sr., were held Thursday at 10:30 a.m., at the Oak Park Lutheran church, rural Oklee, with Rev. Charles Keeler officiating. Mrs. Leona Sletto was the soloist and Mrs. Sandra Rustan, the organist. Interment was in the church cemetery with the Petterson Funeral home, Oklee, in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Alton Torske, Clarence Howard, Arthur Gustafson, Marvin Gustafson, Edwin Halvorson and Max Jensen.

Herbert Thomas Vettelson, a son of the late Willie and Mathilda Florence Vettelson, was born Sept. 20, 1910 near Oklee. He attended school and grew to manhood in the Oklee area, where he was engaged in farming. He had lived on his present farm since the Early 40's. Since 1975, he had been semi-retired.

He was married on July 1, 1946 at Oklee to Lorina Torske. She survives.

Also surviving are five sons: Herbert Jr., Goodridge; Louis, Thief River Falls; Loren, Trail; and Glen and Alan of Oklee; a sister, Mrs. Bennie (Myrtle) Howard, Belgrade, Mont.; and three brothers: Myrle Vettelson, Plummer; Lealand, Gully; and Walter, Trail.

He was preceded in death by three brothers.

The 1980 census asks when a person moved into his or her current residence, but why: Because it helps identify transitional communities and aids planning for schools and law enforcement.

Strengthening Our Military

The United States used to be accustomed to maintaining a strong military with qualified, well-trained personnel. However, since the Vietnam Conflict, it has become unpopular to serve in the military, not only for new recruits but also for trained personnel. The net result is that there is currently a tremendous lack of skilled and experienced personnel and the ability of our nation to respond to a major crisis has been reduced. Recent events in Iran and Afghanistan remind us of the importance of our Armed Forces.

The All-Volunteer Army was an admirable idea, but it has failed to maintain this nation in a state of military preparedness. In addition to the problem of attracting qualified personnel to military service, the U.S. is also confronted with the problem of retaining well trained, highly skilled personnel. For example, the Army is losing significant numbers of non-commissioned officers which resulted last year in a shortage of 46,000. The Navy was recently forced to tie up a ship vital to supplying ships at sea because of a lack of qualified manpower. And the Air Force, which has traditionally been the most stable service, has a shortfall of 2,500 pilots, 1,100 engineers and 500 navigators.

The problem is obvious. Our current military compensation system simply does not provide enough adequate incentives to attract or keep people in the military. Dedicated, highly skilled people are leaving the service because they cannot afford financially to stay. They find it difficult to continue serving for low pay when it is possible to make much more working in the private sector.

A third class petty officer with over four years of service earns less than a starting garbage collector. A Sergeant E-5 with a wife and two children qualifies for food stamps at most posts in the United States. Regular military compensation has fallen more than 18 per cent relative to the cost of living since the All-Volunteer force was created.

There can be no solution to our serious military manpower problems until we substantially increase military pay and allowances. A solution I support is the National Defense Compensation act of 1980 which will provide the incentives necessary to attract and retain a sufficient number of quality military personnel within the constraints imposed by our need to balance the Federal budget.

This bill would eliminate the authority of the President to impose caps on military cost-of-living increases, which are responsible for decreasing rates of first, second and third term re-enlistments.

Second, this legislation provides for a nine per cent pay increase over and above the cost-of-living for the three lowest enlisted grades and the two lowest officer grades.

Third, the National Defense Compensation Act provides for an 18 per cent increase for career enlisted and officer grades.

Fourth, it provides for a 100 per cent increase in the following special duty pay: flight pay, parachute duty pay, submarine duty pay, demolition duty pay, sea pay and a carrier deck pay. Flight pay was last increased in 1954, carrier deck pay in 1965, parachute, submarine and demolition duty pay in 1955.

Improving the military's ability to attract recruits and maintain qualified people is a must. I am hopeful that this legislation or similar legislation will help to provide the fair and equitable compensation that is so deserved by those who serve.

Top Penn. Co. DHIA Herds Listed For May

Jerry Hamre, supervisor of the Pennington county dairy herd improvement association (DHIA) lists the following herds as top in the association for May.

In first place is Don Fulton, whose herd produced an average of 54.4 pounds of milk and 1.88 pounds of butterfat; followed by Roger Walter, 51.4 and 1.94; Pearson Brothers, 50.8 and 2.03; Mylo Carlson, 50.2 and 1.92; D. Lundeen and Sons, 48.5 and 1.77; Roy Nelson, 47.4 and 1.67; Duane Olson, 45.1 and 1.64; Orlan Stolaas, 44.9 and 1.66; Duane Vatsaas, 44.8 and 1,67; and Marvin Koop, 44.5 and 1.75.

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. Amount of milk or butterfat is averaged out over all the cows. This gives the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month. If too many dry cows are included in the herd, the average for the month may be low, even though the cows which are milking are high producers.

There were 29 DHIA herds and four owner-sampler herds on May test for a total of 33 herds on test. There were 12 cows that completed records with over 625 pounds of fat in 305 days or less.

Re: C.B.D. Parking Assessments

Per instructions from the Thief River Falls City Council, the City Engineer's Office is preparing the final assessment roll for the Parking Assessments District. A questionnaire was mailed to all effected persons (residences and churches are exempt) in April, 1979. Information was requested on square footage for:

1.) "Basic Business Area";
2.) Storage Space; and,
3.) Owned Parking Areas.

If you did not respond to this questionnaire or there has been a major change in your business area, please contact Stewart & Walker, Inc. at 681-2944 NO LATER THAN TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1980. Failure to respond will result in computation of the assessments based on information in City files.

"NEW DAWN", a Christian Outreach team from DeSmet, S.D., will present a program of Christian music at Zion Lutheran church, 605 Main av. N. in Thief River Falls on Wednesday at 8 p.m. The group has traveled extensively in South Dakota for three years and has made summer tours to Illinois and Montana. They travel by means of freewill offerings. The high school students present their music to appeal to all age groups.

TINY POM TON'S were a part of the Plummer parade Friday morning which was one of the activities during the town's annual Fourth of July celebration. Evening activities included a dance with the Bob Davidson band and a display of fireworks.

Honor Students Listed At St. Catherine's

Dean's list for the second semester of the 1979-80 year of the College of St. Catherine was released this week by Sister Anita Pampusch, academic dean of the St. Paul women's college.

The list honors students who achieved an outstanding academic record during the second semester of the 1979-80 school year. A student must earn a grade point average of at least 3.7 (B-plus) to be named on the list.

Students on the list from this area include Jean Dziengel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dziengel, Strandquist, a junior social work major; and Tracy Kertz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Kertz, Thief River Falls, who is a freshman social work major.

Energy Field Day July 11 At Staples

Staples irrigation center and the Staples regional energy information center are co-sponsoring a rural agricultural energy field day July 11 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Staples irrigation center located two miles north of Staples.

There will be commercial and educational exhibits featuring earth sheltered housing, wind energy systems, insulation, wood stoves, photovoltaic cells, energy saving products for the home and various types of solar collectors. There will also be exhibits featuring solar grain dryers, energy efficient livestock confinement buildings, an alcohol still and other exhibits relating to energy use on the farm.

Scheduled are wagon tour stops featuring guest speakers from state agencies, the University of Minnesota, area power companies, Southwest state university, Mankato AVTI and the extension service.

The individual topics covered will be: "Residential Energy Conservation," "The Overall Farm Energy Picture," "Solar Applications in Minnesota," "Wind Power Potentials in Rural Minnesota," "Reduced Tillage Methods and Economics," "Economics of Alcohol Fuel and High Energy Crops," "Well Efficiency and Energy Use," "Alcohol Production," "Power Company Load Mangement Systems," "Increasing Irrigation Pumping Efficiency," "Energy Management for Dairymen," "Use of Alcohol Fuel in Tractors and Power Units" and "Low Pressure Alternatives in Irrigation."

Mark Seetin, Minnesota commissioner of agriculture, will address field day visitors at noon. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

MN. POW's May Receive New VA Benefits

Minnesota's former prisoners of war, approximately 1,600 total for World War II, Korea and Vietnam, may receive important new Veterans administration benefits as a result of a study of POW problems by the VA and the department of defense.

Study recommended that psychoses suffered by any of the nearly 100,000 American former prisoners of war any time after military service should be considered service connected.

In another major recommendation the study of former POWs said these veterans should receive VA hospital care and outpatient treatment for any disease as well as neuropsychiatric disability.

Establishment of an annual POW-MIA recognition day was also recommended.

Max Cleland, the head of the VA, in forwarding the study to the congress, said, "I fully endorse these recommendations for the well-being of this most deserving group of veterans."

VA-defense study was authorized by Congress two years ago with a specific mandate to "carry out a comprehensive study of the disability compensation awarded to, and the health needs of, veterans who are former prisoners of war."

The aim of the study was to recommend actions to assure former prisoners of war receive compensation and health care benefits for all disabilities which may be attributed to their internment.

Congressional action will be needed on some of the major recommendations because they require changing existing laws which establish the parameters for granting medical care and disability compensation for these veterans.

Other recommendations in the study relate to establishment of protocols for treatment of POWs, gathering of information related to medical histories of POWs and providing follow up medical treatment.

Study also recommended the VA establish an advisory committee of experts on disabilities prevalent among former POWs and that that committee advise the administrator and his staff on agency policies and procedures relating to former POWs.

Finally, the study recommends establishment of a VA central office coordinator with the responsibility for assisting in the implementation of ongoing VA programs for former POWs. Coordinator would also serve as liaison with former POWs, former POW groups and the department of defense office of POW-MIA affairs.

Co-Chairmen For Anderson Effort Noted

Announcement was made recently by George Soule, coordinator of the John Anderson Independent campaign in Minnesota, of the names of the co-chairmen in the Seventh congressional district.

Appointed are Paul Welle, Bemidji; Barbara Watson, Moorhead; and Scott Schleifer, Morris.

Soule said he was "excited about the quality of the people accepting leadership positions with the campaign. The Congressional district co-chairmen are political and community leaders, men and women of all ages and walks of life, drawn from independents and the Independent-Republican and DFL parties, representing a diverse range of political viewpoints."

The Congressional district co-chairmen will supervise the Anderson campaign activities in their district and will develop and nurture local organizations. A campaign organization will be established in every county in Minnesota, according to Soule.

DOT Supports Shared-Ride Transportation

Four new park-and-ride facilities are being built in the Twin Cities area by the Minnesota department of transportation (Mn-DOT) to support shared-ride transportation in Minnesota. Mn-DOT is also developing park-and-ride sites throughout the state.

Park-and-ride facilities provide a place where commuters park their cars while they complete the rest of their trip by car pool, van pool or bus.

Mn-DOT is providing design and construction management for the four new facilities in Hopkins, Wayzata, Burnsville and Roseville. Roseville facility is expected to be completed in June, Hopkins in September and the others are expected to be completed by the spring of 1981.

Mn-DOT Commissioner Richard Braun said the four Twin Cities metropolitan area facilities are being constructed for the Metropolitan transit commission (MTC).

The MTC will reimburse Mn-DOT for the design and construction costs of the four new sites. Total cost for the new facilities is approximately $412,500.

Mn-DOT has previously constructed park-and-ride facilities adjacent to Interstate 35 in Forest Lake and Wyoming, north of the Twin Cities, and at several locations in Minnesota's Iron Range region.

In addition to its involvement with the four new sites, Mn-DOT was directed by the Minnesota legislature to develop a statewide system of park-and-ride sites, emphasizing use of existing parking facilities.

The legislature appropriated $200,000 to build or lease parking facilities or to provide resurfacing, lighting, fencing, signs and-or traffic control for facilities to be located on existing parking lots or on publicly owned land such as highway rights-of-way.

Of the $200,000 available to develop park-and-ride sites, $175,000 will be allocated by Mn-DOT through its district offices. The remainder is reserved for use by cities, counties, school districts and transit commissions to develop park-and-ride facilities.

SBA Loans Okayed For 45 Mn. Companies

Paul W. Jansen, district director of the Minneapolis district office of the Small Business administration, announced recently that $6,854,9000 in SBA loans had been approved for 45 Minnesota companies in the month of June. The projected additional employment created as a result of these loans is 415 jobs.

Direct management assistance counselling was provided to 895 Minnesota firms through the Small Business administration's in house counselors or through support groups like the service corps of retired executives and the 12 colleges participating in the Small Business institute program.

Two loans, amounting to $90,000, were made to minority owned firms, making the minority component of the June loan portfolio 4.4 per cent of the total loans and 1.3 per cent of the total loan dollars.

The Coming Revolution

Following editorial is from the Ely Echo:

The revolution is inevitable.

Not the political kind, although it may be in a sense. We are talking about a revolution in forestry in the U.S. It will come because of economic necessity. And it will come because the printed news media will demand it, about 80 years late; but then, newspaper and magazine editors are no brighter than the average citizen. Perhaps not as bright as the average.

Only a few newspaper editors and publishers are really aware that they are printing on trees. But they will within this decade, be made critically aware. With 65 per cent of the nation's printing stock being imported, it will be only a matter of time, price, and availability of paper until some newspapers and magazines cannot print. Then and only then will there be a frantic examination of our nation's forest management program. Essentially, it is a program not yet in existence.

We have a lot of publicity about "forestry", a lot of magazine stories about "forestry", and we have schools of "forestry". But we don't really practice "forestry". Not unless you consider raising a few tulips in the front yard as "farming".

This is not to say we do not have foresters. We do. And some very good ones — federal, state, and private. Most of them KNOW what forestry is and they are attempting, within miniscule budgets, to make trees grow. But they are also aware that any type of intensive, sustained yield timber management, as has been practiced for centuries in Europe, will require a revolution in public attitudes, in political attitudes and in the structure of forest management itself.

Essentially, managing a forest requires dedicated, trained people on a given area all the time. No one could run a farm if he lived in the city, drove to the farm and worked from 9 to 4 five days a week. And then was transferred to a different farm every few years. Federal foresters barely begin to learn an area when they get transferred elsewhere, ostensibly to provide a "variety of experiences", whatever that means. As one forester noted: "It is probably good for the person, but it doesn't do a thing for the forest." State foresters don't shift as much, but there are too few of them and spread too thin.

Since we are talking about revolutionary concepts, here is one upon which we invite comment from foresters, loggers and the public:

RESIDENT FORESTERS — Every block of timber (perhaps township in size for starters) would have a resident forester who would live within the area with his family, if he has one, for 20 years or more. This forester would know every nook and cranny of his area, and every tree stand. He would be entirely responsible for the harvest, site preparation, replanting, release, cruising, growth and health of his area. District headquarters would be smaller and more specialized, providing expertise in specific forest practices, extra labor for planting or release work, fire crews, etc.

With this management concept, loggers could also be invited in on a cooperative basis, involved year around. Loggers could not only be involved in harvesting, but also in site preparation and replanting. It would be a self-perpetuating, long-term, generation-after-generation concept involving entire families, with father-son-grandson perpetuation of the forestry process.

The logger who would be involved in the harvest, site preparation and planting of an area, would know that his son, grandson, and probably great grandson would be involved in that same forest area. He would have the same interest and exert the same care with the land and the trees that the family farmer applies to the land he is leaving to his sons and grandsons.

There are probably a good number of drawbacks to this concept, many of them political and bureaucratic. But one thing it would do . . . it would grow trees. Today. Next week. And on a long-term basis . . . planned perhaps on a hundred years at a time. And it would also preserve the scenic beauty of the outdoors without getting into clear-cut, no-cut confrontations. Of course there are people who will say it can't be done. But in some places it is being done.

It is being done in Europe. It is being done on some U.S. private forests. Without a doubt SOMETHING is going to be done. The wood revolution is inevitable. And it is closer than most people think . . . at least, closer than most newspaper and magazine editors think.

Art Of Political Insult

Manager Bob Graham of PKM Electric cooperative in Warren relates the following in a column in the "PKM News":

When it comes to the barbed insult, the powder puff offerings of modern day politicians and political writers are as bland as melba toast. Take Abraham Lincoln. In speaking of a lawyer he didn't like he said, "He can compress the most words into the smallest ideas better than any man I ever met."

Later, as president, he selected General Hooker to take over the army during the Civil War. Hooker rushed into action by sending dispatches from "Headquarters in the saddle", whereupon Lincoln commented to an aide: "The trouble with Hooker is that he's got his headquarters where his hindquarters ought to be."

While campaigning for election, William Jennings Bryan, the silver-tongued orator from Nebraska, bellowed in a speech, "I wish I had the wings of a bird to fly to every village and hamlet in America to tell the people about the silver question." Promptly some wit in the audience cried out, "You'd be shot for a goose before you'd flown a mile." When elected to Congress, a fellow senator described Bryan as being like the Platte River in his native state of Nebraska, "only six inches deep but six miles wide at the mouth."

According to Clarence Darow, Calvin Coolidge was "the greatest man who ever came out of Plymouth Corner, Vermont." Another writer said his greatest achievement was that he slept more than any other president. But the unkindest barb of all came from H. H. Mencken, the Baltimore columnist, who, on being informed of Coolidge's death, laconically asked, "Are they sure?"

Just as Al Smith began a speech while campaigning for governor of New York, a heckler shouted: "Tell us all you know, Al — it won't take long." "I'll tell 'em all we both know," Smith replied. "It won't take any longer."

Angered by a candidate loose with his facts, a reporter told newsman Heywood Broun, "He's murdering the truth!" Broun replied, "Don't worry, he'll never get close enough to do it any harm."

Finally — when New York attorney Roscoe Conklin was asked to campaign for presidential candidate James G. Blaine, he replied, "I don't engage in criminal practice."

End Money Entitlements

Following comments were written by Jay Van Andel, chairman of the board of Amway Corporation of Ada, Mich., and Richard M. DeVos, president and co-founder of the company:

It may shock you to learn that Congress has no say in how 75 per cent of this year's federal budget will be spent. That three-fourths of the budget is called "entitlements". These are programs which disburse, on demand, benefits or services authorized by past Congresses. They include countless commitments which, once enacted, are "set in stone," regardless of future costs.

Programs such as social security, some veterans' benefits, unemployment assistance, medicare, medicaid, and others are in the entitlement category. While no one is suggesting that such programs be eliminated, spending associated with them must be controlled, because at the present rate of growth, these open-ended programs will consume 90 per cent of the federal budget by the year 2000.

If Congress were to agree, today, to inflation remedies such as a balanced budget and spending limitation, essential reductions could be imposed on only 25 per cent of the outlays. This would mean severe cuts in controllable items such as defense, education and even some poverty programs.

Until now, Congress has been unwilling to do anything to limit or reduce the number of "blank check" programs. In fact, new ones are being initiated, and interest groups lobby hard to protect existing programs.

Congress must be more than what Representative David Stockman calls "a green eye-shaded disbursement officer who totes up the bill, writes the check, and then trundles off to mourn after the process is all over."

No new programs should be added in the entitlement category. Programs already in that category must be shifted back to the annual appropriations process. There, the efficiencies of the delivery system and merits and need for specific programs are subject to Congressional review. Fiscal responsibility is incompatible with blank check legislation.

MAKING HIMSELF COMFORTABLE before the parade in Plummer began Friday morning was this young spectator who joined a crowd of others — both young and old — who watched the various bands, floats, antique cars and clowns that comprised the parade which traveled down Main street as part of the town's Fourth of July celebration.

IT'S FASTER THAN walking was the impression obtained while watching this acrobat as she pedaled her way down Main street in Plummer Friday morning during the Fourth of July parade which marked the beginning of activities throughout the day. Entertainment following the parade included races, a tug-of-war between Middle River and Plummer, an evening dance, and fireworks.

Need Members For Regional RETAC Group

Regional employment and training advisory committee (RETAC) of the Northwest regional development commission (NWRDC) is seeking members to serve as representatives for minorities, businesses, veterans, women, handicapped and youth.

RETAC committee meets the third Tuesday of each month, usually at Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls or Crookston, but occasionally meetings are conducted elsewhere throughout the region. RETAC members are reimbursed through the commission for travel expenses.

The RETAC committee exists to carry out the Comprehensive employment and training act and the Regional development act of 1969 as it relates to employment and training. The committee serves as an advisory and coordination link between the NWRDC and the department of economic security in the execution of the state's responsibility as balance of state prime sponsor under the CETA Act of 1973 as amended, in order to maximize the benefits of that program to the Region one area by providing localized input and planning.

Anyone interested in serving on this committee, or anyone who has suggestions for a representative in any of the above categories, please contact Leon Heath, NWRDC Office (218) 281-1396.

Motion Picture At Assembly Of God Sunday

"Sound of the Trumpet," an 85-minute motion picture produced by Ken Anderson films, will be shown at the Assemblies of God Church in Thief River Falls on Sunday at 7 p.m.

The film story is built around a television network newscaster named Aden Cosmol, an avowed agnostic who through a series of events and investigation in this country and Israel, was confronted with spiritual realities he had never before considered viable.

The public is cordially invited to view this film according to Pastor J.L. Hagemeister.

Pennington Co. 4-Hers Attend Various Camps

During June many Pennington county 4-Hers attended various camps, according to the Pennington county extension office.

Steve Larson of Smiley 4-H attended conservation camp at Itasca State Park, June 9-13. While at camp, he participated in classes on wild edible plants, energy, insect collection, firearms, prairie and forest habitat and wildlife studies. Camp took place at the University of Minnesota biological station.

Doug Courneya of Steiner 4-H attended Long Lake conservation camp near Aitkin which was sponsored by the soil conservation service. While at camp, Doug participated in water, forest, fisheries and wildlife studies. Camp participants do a biological study throughout their two weeks at camp.

Lake Sarah 4-H camp was held near Erskine June 11-13. Twenty-seven Pennington county 4-Hers between the ages of 11 and 13 attended. Included were Debra Grandbois and Tony Rondorf, Black River; Diane Ayers, Stacy Vagle and Lorie Reierson, City View; Todd Carlson, Susie Thune, Danny Iverson, Colleen Johnson and Connie Geatz, Happy Acres; Koni Koropatnicki, Kratka; Mary Rogalla, Darren Panek and Kay Lynn Kainz, Mavie; Maria Edington, New Solum; Daryl Rupprecht and Loren Haagenson, Silverton; Kristine Sorteberg, Smiley; Lara and Kara Dunning, Monica and Wayne Rausch, Roger and Jeri Dyrdal, Joni and Debbi Courneya, Steiner; and Randy Stenvick, Star. Campers participated in classes in canoeing, nature, photography, wild edible plants, nature study and arts and crafts.

Serving as junior camp counselors, June 9-13, were Kerry Madunich and Mark Thune of Happy Acres and Roy Dobias and Wanda Sylvester of Black River. Serving as camp cooks were Ethel Moe and Bernice Vatsaas. Deb Matero was camp director and Howard Person taught a class in edible wild plants.

County 4-Hers Judge Livestock At Barnesville

Several Pennington County 4-H members recently participated in the general livestock judging contest at the county fair in Barnesville. Representing the county were Cindy Solem of City View 4-H, Doug Courneya of Steiner 4-H and Darrell Rupprecht of the Silverton 4-H club.

The team judged two classes each of swine, sheep and beef. Of the 16 teams participating, Pennington county placed fourth in the sheep class and seventh overall.

General livestock team is coached by Howard Person, Pennington county extension agent.

Solem Places Second In MN. Essay Contest

[redacted]

Cindy Solem of the City View 4-H club placed second in the state for her 4-H beekeeping essay on "Honey Bees in History." This essay contest is sponsored by the American Beekeeping federation, Inc. Essays are judged on the basis of neatness, originality, completeness and accuracy of ideas expressed.

Cindy attends Franklin junior high school and has been an active 4-H member for five years, taking part in public speaking contests, general livestock judging, demonstrations and a number of other 4-H projects. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Solem.

Bethany Bible Camp Reunion At Grace Lake

July 19 and 20 have been chosen for the reunion of the Bethany Bible camp at Grace Lake, Bemidji. Theme of the two days is "Forty Years of Grace".

Tentative plans for the two days are for an informal service at the lake front on Saturday evening and Sunday services will begin at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m., with Rev. Ken Moland as the featured speaker. Breakfast and dinner will be served on Sunday and parking spaces will be provided for those wishing to come in camping vehicles.

This camp is the facility of the American Free Lutheran churches and an invitation is extended to all interested persons.

Gifts Of Cash Tax Free Up To $3,000 Each

If you are thinking of giving gifts of cash or tangible assets to a graduate, you may be required to file gift tax returns. Those who receive your gifts, however, don't need to report them on their income tax returns, notes the Minnesota society of certified public accountants.

You may make a graduation gift of up to $3,000 to any person without paying a federal gift tax. If you and your spouse make the gifts together, you may increase your tax-free gift to $6,000 to each person. Depending on your prior gifts, you may even be able to give more to each person without incurring a gift tax.

Is your husband or wife a June grad? If so, remember that a special provision of the tax laws governs gifts to a spouse. Basically, a substantial amount of cash property can be transferred to a spouse without incurring gift or estate tax.

If you would like to give shares of stock to your grandchild the graduate, consider the fact that any dividends and interest over $100 he or she receives on the stock will be considered taxable income. If more than $1,100 is unearned income, including $100 in dividends, is received in a year, a tax return must be filed. Of course, a students income will be relatively low and the tax burden light. You may want to arrange to have him or her receive additional shares in the stock instead of dividends. Generally, stock dividends are not taxed until the stock is sold.

You can purchase bonds for a minor and have them registered in his or her name, which allows all proceeds on the bonds' maturity or sale to be cashed in or deposited by the minor. Savings bonds issued in your name may be reissued to close relatives.

Childbirth Classes To Begin Thursday

Prepared childbirth education classes for expectant couples will be offered in Thief River Falls beginning July 10.

The five classes will cover the stages of labor and delivery, medication, postpartum and the newborn. Emphasis will be on breathing and relaxation techniques. For more information call Cheryl Lee, 681-5461.

Slow Down and Live

July 7, 9, 14, 16

NOTICE TO HOMEOWNERS

If you have an annual income of less than $6,000 and are interested in improving your home, you may qualify for financial assistance from the Thief River Falls Housing and Redevelopment Authority.

The Housing Rehabilitation Office will be accepting preliminary applications for home improvement grants.

To qualify for a home improvement grant your gross adjusted yearly income must be less than $6,000. You may take deductions of $750 per adult and $500 per child or dependent. Your gross assets (not including personal property and the property to be improved) must be no more than $25,000. You must own and occupy the property to be improved or have life estate rights. You must live in the City of Thief River Falls.

Priority will be given to energy savings and city code improvements such as insulation, re-wiring, plumbing improvements, furnaces and those items that are necessary for a habitable dwelling.

ALL APPLICATIONS WILL BE HELD IN THE STRICTEST CONFIDENCE.

APPLICATIONS WILL BE REVIEWED ON A "FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED" BASIS.

All persons, regardless of race, color, creed, national origin, sex, religion, marital status, age, handicapped status or reliance on public assistance, or political opinion or affiliation, will be treated fairly and equally in employment or program participation competition.

Robert Asp Builds Viking Ship In Hawley

the Alvarado area, some came from Oak Grove high school in Moorhead, others from other Minnesota communities. The first 11,000 board feet were sawed on Harvey Engen's sawmill at Viking. Later sawing was done at Rollag.

"You find that each board has its own characteristics," Asp said, "and you try to take advantage of those characteristics in fitting the wood to the ship. We used some boards up to 18 feet long, although for the most part they are in eight and 10-foot lengths. By using the shorter lengths, we could get more lumber out of each tree."

In 1974 Bob laid the keel for building his ship, a project that would take much longer and become much more costly than he had ever imagined. "I used to have a savings account," he said. "I don't any more!"

The ship is built free-standing with the ribs filled in and attached to the outer hull. The ship is 17½ feet wide amidships with end posts rising 13 feet above the bottom of the keel. The bow post will be fitted with a carving crafted by a Moorhead artist. The boat is expected to draw about three feet of water, leaving four feet of freeboard above waterline.

Asp explained that the side strakes are one inch thick, lapped and riveted with steel rivets and galvanized plates one and one-eighth inch square. The 10th strake up from the keel, which is about at the waterline of the ship, is two inches thick in the middle to provide a strong point for attaching the ribs. This then tapers down to the one-inch thickness.

The advantage of cutting his own trees, he said, was that he could select the more flexible wood for areas where bends had to be made, and could use matching boards on opposite sides of the ship for symmetry. The boards on the gunwale are four and one-half inches thick and holds have been made to attach the 36 shields which will be part of the boat's authenticity. The ship will also have 16 oars on each side and for steering a large oar on the side which is 22 inches wide, extends four feet, eight inches into the water and is equipped with a tiller bar.

The 37-foot mast is of pine with a base 11¾ inches in diameter. It will hold a sail of dacron sailcloth made by Oscar Heath of Eden Prairie and measuring 30 feet high, 38 feet wide at the top and 40 feet wide at the bottom. The sail cost over $3,000.

"I don't make many mistakes," Asp quipped, leaving the distinct impression that he didn't expect to be believed. "But one mistake I did make was in estimating the costs, particularly as we got ready to put the ship in the water. Another is in estimating the support which people are willing to provide."

The Hawley community has adopted Asp and his ship and say it will be like having a child move away when the ship leaves town. One end will have to be knocked out of the converted potato warehouse which has served as the Hawley shipyard for the past six years when the time comes to move the ship outside. The city plans to demolish the building later and create a parking lot.

Many fund-raisers have been held in the Hawley area. A small book on the project has been written by Asp and is available from the Hawley city clerk for $2.50 plus 50 cents for postage and handling. The books will also be on sale at the Viking days and Hawley rodeo. Funds are also being raised through a promotion whereby a person can have his or her name engraved on the ship for $25. By mid-June 60 people had signed up and many have been added since then.

Asp said his state representative has volunteered to raise the money to pay for the sail and that other support has been offered and is appreciated.

"You know Uncle Sam," Asp said. "Right now this is a hobby so I can't deduct any expenses from income tax. If there should be any money to be made at some time, however, I'm sure it will be taxable income. But those are the rules we have to play by and I suppose we can live with them."

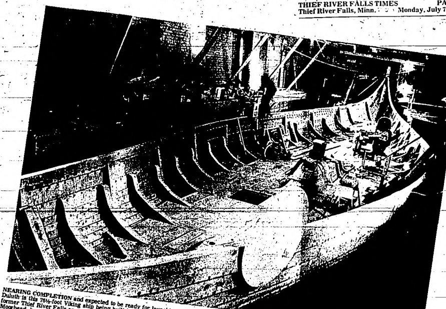
Asp really has no idea of the total cost of his project. Funds now being raised will be used for such things as equipping the ship with supplies and radio equipment and costs related to launching and storage.

Although the challenge of building and sailing a historic ship is a monumental one, Bob Asp faces yet another battle. Shortly after laying the keel for his ship in 1974, he discovered that he had leukemia. The ravages of the disease and the treatments to attempt to arrest it have taken a physical toll, shrinking his height by several inches and making him appear somewhat older than his 57 years. He calls the results of treatments a "trade-off".

"Of course, there are many different kinds of leukemia," he said, "and there are some kinds that are a lot more aggressive, so we are thankful about that. I was just down to Minneapolis for a check-up and they felt my pulse and said, 'you're still living'. I feel very confident with the schedule that we have set that I'll be in charge when the time comes to sail."

Bob's opportunity to sail his ship comes earlier than it would have as a result of his brother's generosity. Charlie Asp of Moorhead hired three carpenters to help work on the ship all last summer and paid the bill himself. That assistance cut a couple of years off the building program.

Bob confirmed Friday that work is progressing as expected and he believes the schedule for showing and launching the ship will be met. In about a month the world will know whether or not Asp's Viking ship will float right side up. We wouldn't take any bets against it.



NEARING COMPLETION and expected to be ready for launching August 7 in Duluth is this 76½-foot Viking ship being built by Robert Asp of Moorhead, a former Thief River Falls area resident. Asp, a junior high school counselor in Moorhead, has been working on the ship's construction since 1974. He said he underestimated several things when undertaking his project — the amount of lumber needed, the eventual cost and the cooperation and assistance from other people, especially the Hawley community. The ship will be on display at Viking days in Hawley July 25, 26 and 27.

HAWLEY SHIPYARD is the proclamation on the sign outside this converted potato warehouse in Hawley. Inside the building, which Robert Asp rents for $10 a year from the city of Hawley, is being constructed a wooden ship which is expected to sail to Norway next summer.

CRAFTSMANSHIP of the ship building art is shown in this photo of the stern of Robert Asp's Viking ship. Oak on the gunwales of the boat is four inches thick. The side strakes are an inch thick. When construction is completed, the boat will be coated with marine epoxy to help keep the wood dry.

HOLDING THE MAST in the middle of Robert Asp's Viking ship will be this fish-shaped reinforced area constructed from about two tons of solid oak. The 37-foot mast will be rigged with a dacron sailcloth sail measuring 30 feet high, 38 feet wide across the top and 40 feet wide at the bottom. The ship is 76½ feet long, 17½ feet wide and about seven feet deep amidships. It will draw about three feet of water, leaving about four feet of freeboard, Asp said. Speed is expected to reach 10 to 11 knots at extreme peak.

REFERENCE MATERIALS for construction of the Viking ship being built by Robert Asp, formerly of Thief River Falls, include this book entitled "The Viking Ships" and drawings of the Grokstad Viking ship. Asp said his work followed the drawings as closely as possible.

Brenda Lund Has High Goals

Brenda Lund, who will be a senior at Lincoln high school this fall, is competing this summer as a member of the Bloomington Aquatic AAU swim club as a diver, with a lofty goal of earning a berth in the national age group AAU finals later this summer in Santa Clara, Calif.

Diving off a three-meter board instead of the one-meter board used in high school competition, Lund will have her first opportunity to gain a spot in the prestigious national meet when she dives in a large invitational at Rochester July 24-27. A first place finish there will get her to Santa Clara August 13-17.

Another avenue would be a top four finish in a zone meet held at Dallas, Texas July 31-August 3.

John Dailey, who coaches the Bloomington squad, is optimistic about Brenda's chances to make the national field. He's the one that brought the Prowlers' standout to the Twin Cities for the summer after contacting John Hustad, coach of the Lincoln high school girls swim team, during last year's state high school meet.

As a junior at the 1979 state high school swimming meet last November, Brenda was making her fourth straight state meet appearance, finishing an impressive fourth against a strong field that was headed by Kelly Johnson, an Irondale sophomore and a year-round diver who competed in the Can-Am games in Mexico City in 1976 and participated in the Junior Olympics the past two years. Johnson won the state meet with a record 471.15 points, followed by Kim Christopherson of Cooper with 393.20, Tracie Johnson of Irondale 372.75 and Lund with 367.40 points.

Brenda has had a remarkable career with the Prowlers that already includes two top six state meet finishes. She placed sixth in the state meet as an eighth grader and followed that with Section 3 diving titles in 1977 and 1978 but never made it back to the top at the state until 1979 after winning her third straight Section 3 title.

Lincoln Fall Schedules

Lincoln high school athletic director Russ Smith has completed 1980 fall athletic schedules for the Prowlers for football, volleyball, girls swimming and girls tennis.

Thief River Falls will open its 1980 football season Friday, August 29, at home against Grand Forks Red River. The Prowlers will then travel to Detroit Lakes Friday, September 5, and will be a first-time visitor to Grand Rapids Friday, September 12.

Staples will be in Thief River Falls Friday, September 19, with the Prowlers going to Moorhead Saturday, September 27, to complete their non-conference schedule.

As usual, the final four Thief River Falls games will be Northwest Athletic Conference contests as the Prowlers travel to Bemidji Friday, October 3; celebrate homecoming by hosting Fergus Falls Friday, October 10; entertain East Grand Forks Friday, October 17; and finish at Crookston Friday, October 24.

All games start at 7:30 p.m. Only change in the schedule finds Grand Rapids, a perennially strong Class AA school, replacing Crosby-Ironton, a Class A Mid-State Conference member. The Prowlers and Rangers met the past two years on a home-and-home basis, with Thief River Falls pulling out a dramatic 28-27 victory at C-I in 1978 and winning by a 26-14 margin here last fall.

Thief River Falls' 16-match volleyball schedule opens Friday, August 29, at Detroit Lakes. The Prowlers' home opener will be Tuesday, September 9, against Fisher. The 1980 North Half Region 8AA volleyball tournament will be played Thursday, October 30, and Saturday, November 1, at Park Rapids.

Lincoln girls will start their tennis season Monday, August 25, at East Grand Forks. First home match will be played Tuesday, September 9, against Crookston. The 1980 North Half Region 8AA tennis tournament will be played Friday, October 10, at Fargo.

Swimming schedule starts Tuesday, September 9, when Detroit Lakes will be in Thief River Falls.

Miscellaneous

+Plans to have a basketball league for high school-aged boys this summer at the Detroit Lakes high school gym have collapsed, reports Ralph Anderson of the Detroit Lakes Tribune. The league operated during the summers of 1978 and 1979 with players from Detroit Lakes, Mahnomen, Audubon, Wauben and Frazee taking part. Lack of interest on the part of the basketball players themselves, as well as the increasing costs of transportation were listed as the most apparent reasons for the fact that the league didn't get off the ground this summer. "It's a disappointing development because I felt things went pretty well the past two years," Detroit Lakes basketball coach John Erickson, the summer program director, told Anderson. He said the program was a great aid to the players. "I know we didn't have the league the summer before my first year as head coach and we won only four games. We've been .500 or better the last two years and I think the league had a lot to do with the record."

TRF Schedules Tournament For Young Players

Second annual Thief River Falls invitational baseball tournament for 11-12-year-olds will be played Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday on the fairgrounds Little League diamond.

Frist round games Tuesday will find the Thief River Falls Twins playing Red Lake Falls at 12 noon; Thief River Falls Yankees vs. Goodridge at 2 p.m.; Thief River Falls A's vs. Middle River at 4; and Thief River Falls Blue Jays vs. Oklee at 6.

Wednesday's schedule features semifinal games in both the championship and consolation brackets. Consolation round games will be played at 12 noon between the Twins-Red Lake Falls loser and the Yankees-Goodridge loser; and at 2 p.m. between the A's-Middle River loser and the Blue Jays-Oklee loser. Championship semifinal games will be played at 4 p.m. between the Twins-Red Lake Falls winner and the Yankees-Goodridge winner; and at 6 p.m. between the A's-Middle River winner and the Blue Jays-Oklee winner.

Finals Thursday will include the consolation finals game at 2 p.m., third place game at 4 and championship game at 6.

Thief River Falls Twins are the defending tournament champion.

Staples Wins Horace May Baseball Title

Staples successfully defended its title Sunday with an 8-4 victory over the Bemidji Braves in the finals of the 15th annual Horace May invitational baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds at Bemidji.

Staples was a 9-5 first round winner over the Thief River Falls Elks Saturday, scoring five times in the sixth inning to erase a 5-4 deficit.

The Elks out-hit Staples 7-4, but also committed five of the game's eight errors. Staples scored its first four runs without the benefit of a base hit.

Tim Bergland led the Elks at the plate with a 3-for-4 performance and two RBI's. Todd Ortloff was 2-for-3 and drove in three runs. Scott Johnston was the losing pitcher in relief.

Thief River Falls Independents reached the tournament semifinals with a 7-5 first round win over Park Rapids Saturday. But they lost a pair of games to Bemidji opponents Sunday, losing a 9-1 decision to the Braves in the semifinals and dropping a 9-7 contest to the Lions in the third place game.

Independents beat Park Rapids 7-5 by scoring three times in the sixth inning, pushing the tying and winning run across the plate on a suicide squeeze bunt by Gary Cornell.

Jim Hallamek and Alan Ness both collected two hits and scored two runs for the winners who out-hit Park Rapids 7-5 and picked up just one of the game's four errors. Brian Garceau was the winning pitcher. However, Ness, while scoring the winning, suffered a broken leg and was fitted with a cast that will sideline him the rest of the summer.

Bemidji Braves scored four times in the first inning and were never challenged in their 9-1 semifinal victory over the Independents. The winners finished with a 13-5 base hit advantage and the losers committed four of the game's five errors.

Leading 5-0 through the first three innings, the Bemidji Lions held on for a 9-7 consolation championship win over the Independents. The base hits with even at nine apiece, with Hallamek going 2-for-4 and driving in three runs for the Independents.

Both Thief River Falls teams will be involved in the 12th annual Thief River Falls Elks Babe Ruth baseball tournament this weekend. Games will be played Saturday and Sunday on the Thief River Falls fairgrounds diamond.

HOME RUN swing and home run trot were exhibited by Coca-Cola first baseman Paul Walker who drilled a line drive two-run home run over the center field fence in the fourth inning of Thursday's Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league game against Melvies. Walker's homer turned a close 1-0 game into a 3-0 contest that Coca-Cola went on to win 6-2. The winners improved their record to 8-1, but still trail unbeaten Action Realty in the league standings. The two league leaders are scheduled to meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. on the fairgrounds fast pitch softball diamond. Action Realty beat Coca-Cola 4-3 earlier this summer, with a second showdown two weeks ago postponed by rain. Schmidts beat Northland Pro 4-3 in the second half of Thursday's fast pitch doubleheader. Earlier in the week Northland Pro was a 12-2 winner over Melvies in a single Wednesday night ball game. The league will be idle until Wednesday when Action Realty plays Northland Pro and Coca-Cola meets Schmidts. A single Thursday night game will find Melvies and Schmidts playing to avoid the league basement.

Action Realty, Coca-Cola Will Square Off Friday

Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league will be idle until later this week, but the schedule will feature a Friday night confrontation between unbeaten league leader Action Realty and once-beaten second place Coca-Cola.

Those two will meet for the second time this season at 7:30 that night. Action Realty beat Coca-Cola 4-3 earlier this summer, and a scheduled second encounter was rained out.

Last week's results included a 12-2 Northland Pro victory over Melvies Wednesday and a doubleheader Thursday when Coca-Cola defeated Melvies 6-2 and Schmidts surprised Northland Pro 4-3.

Northland Pro 12
Melvies 2

Bob Lundbohm, Tim Engelstad and Brian Peterson — the first three batters in the line-up — collected two hits apiece Wednesday to lead Northland Pro to a 12-2 triumph over Melvies.

Lundbohm started it by beating out a bunt single in the top of the first inning. He went to second on a throwing error and scored on Peterson's single.

Melvies took a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the first inning as Doug Martell walked and stole second. Karl Chromy's single to center tied the contest and Chromy made it 2-1 by scoring on Darwin Nelson's double to right-center field.

The score stood at 2-2 after three innings when Peterson walked, stole second and scored on an error in the third.

Northland Pro then pulled away, scoring single runs in the fourth and fifth innings before breaking loose for six runs on four hits and two Melvies errors in the sixth. A two-run seventh finished the scoring.

Coca-Cola 6
Melvies 2

Coca-Cola kept pace with idle Action Realty by beating Melvies 6-2 in Thursday's doubleheader opener.

It began in the top of the fifth inning when Roger Cota was hit by a pitch and scored from first base when Melvies mis-played a sacrifice bunt by Rob Almquist.

A two-run line drive home run over the center field fence by Paul Walker made it 3-0 in the fourth inning. Mike Drury's third base hit of the game — a single in the sixth — wound up making it 4-0 when he scored on an error.

Coca-Cola tacked on two more runs in the seventh on a lead-off triple by Cota, followed by a single by Almquist and a pair of Melvies errors.

Both Melvies runs came on solo home runs — by Karl Chromy in the sixth and Delray Beito in the seventh.

Schmidts 4
Northland Pro 3

Schmidts climbed out of the league basement by scoring three times in the bottom of the seventh inning to pull out a 4-3 Thursday night victory over Northland Pro.

Scoring started in the second when Kevin Sethre walked, Steve Haats singled and Dean Lawrenz hit a sacrifice fly.

Northland Pro scored three times in the fourth inning on five base hits. Back-to-back doubles by Jeff Hendrickson and Mark DuChamp started it. Joel Carlson came up with a sacrifice, then Jeff Tunberg and Don Balmer both singled.

But Schmidts struck in the bottom of the seventh when the first four batters all reached base safely as Howard Dalager singled, Larry Coltom walked, Bob Tunheim singled and Mark Haats walked. Throw in a sacrifice by Jim Sethre and a passed ball and it adds up to three runs and a come-from-behind Schmidts win.

Law Requires Scuba Divers To Have Lights

Night scuba divers are now required to have a light visible (when above water) for a distance of 150 feet, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

The requirement is the result of a bill passed by the 1980 legislature and which went into effect on June 15.

The bill also prohibits scuba divers from possessing a spear between sunset and sunrise.

Officials said the bill was aimed at improving the safety of scuba divers and to facilitate enforcement of regulations prohibiting illegal fish spearing.

West Teams Beat East

Top two teams in the American League West Division posted narrow wins over the top two teams in the American League East Division Wednesday to highlight the results in the rain-soaked Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association.

McDonald's-Dallmann, No. 1 in the American League West Division, came out a 4-3 winner over the Popplers-Action Realty and the American Legion Raiders, No. 2 in the West, posted a 9-6 victory over the TRF Merchants, the American League East Division leaders.

Those results did not affect the status of McDonald's-Dallmann, the American Legion Raiders or the TRF Merchants. However, Popplers-Action Realty, at least a co-leader in the American League East Division through much of the season, tumbled to fifth place.

Hobo Haus moved up to second place in the American League East Division with a 7-5 triumph over Swenson Plumbing, knocking the third place losers three games off the pace in the American League West Division race.

Elsewhere, Coca-Cola edged Terry's Mobil 10-9, Phase II handled Arnold Realty 15-5, Tony Dorn, Inc. blanked Home Lumber 7-0, Furuseth-Nelson got by Bridgeman 9-8 and the St. Hilaire Bears completed a night full of close encounters of every kind by beating Tony Dorn, Inc. 11-9.

Those were the only late week games scheduled in the 32-team association.

Crookston To Be Here For AAU Swimming

Thief River Falls will host Crookston Wednesday at 6 p.m. in an AAU dual swim meet in the Franklin middle school pool.

Coached by Dan Vrudny, Thief River Falls opened its 1980 AAU home schedule last Tuesday with a 387-139 dual meet victory over Fosston.

Three Thief River Falls boys competed in the Bloomington Aquatic Club summer novice AAU diving meet and came up with two firsts and a third place finish on the one-meter board.

Todd Wing was a winner in the 12-and-under category with 117.6 points, with Eric Ose placing third in the same age group with 104.1 points.

Jeff Rosetta was a winner in the 13-14 age group with 133.55 points.

THE BALL SKIPPED by Melvies third baseman Karl Chromy and into left field for a base hit during Thursday's Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league game against Coca-Cola at the fairgrounds diamond. Chromy hit a sixth inning home run, but Coca-Cola was a 6-2 winner in the first half of a doubleheader that saw Schmidts knock off Northland Pro 4-3 in the nightcap.

Legion Team Owns 18-7 Record

Another busy week awaits the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team, beginning Tuesday when Warroad visits the Thief River Falls fairgrounds diamond for a 7 p.m. Northwest League game.

First place in the six-team Northwest League standings will be at stake Thursday when Thief River Falls travels to East Grand Forks for a 7 p.m. pennant showdown.

Thief River Falls will play a pair of doubleheaders at Fergus Falls this weekend, playing Battle Lake Saturday at 3 p.m. and taking on Fergus Falls Sunday afternoon at 1.

A doubleheader sweep at Red Lake Falls Thursday and a split at home against Detroit Lakes Sunday left Thief River Falls with an 18-7 record. Thief River Falls posted 4-1 and 14-4 wins at Red Lake Falls. Against Detroit Lakes, Thief River Falls was a 4-2 winner and a 2-1 loser.

Thief River Falls scored three times in the third inning Thursday to open a doubleheader at Red Lake Falls with a 4-1 win.

A walk issued to Mark Harder and a stolen base, followed by an RBI single by Mark Schmitke provided Thief River Falls with a 1-0 first inning start.

The third inning featured singles by Scott McKeever, Kevin Sanders and Schmitke, along with a double by Jim Nyland.

Winning pitcher Wayne Huseth kept Red Lake Falls scoreless until the sixth, finishing with a five-hitter.

It could be said that Thief River Falls was a come-from-behind 14-4 winner in the second half of the Red Lake Falls doubleheader after spotting the hosts a 4-0 first inning head start.

But winning pitcher Scott McKeever, touched for three hits and three walks in the first inning, scattered four hits the rest of the way and kept Red Lake Falls from doing any further damage while benefiting from an 11-hit Thief River Falls attack.

McKeever, Kelly Gutterud, Dave Kays and Tom Drury all had two hits apiece for the winners, with McKeever and Gutterud — the No. 1 and 2 hitters in the line-up — driving in three runs apiece.

Triple Play Highlights Women's Softball Play

Roseau Transport pulled off a triple play Wednesday as part of a 15-5 victory over Dwight's Hartz in Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league action.

It was a line drive to the shortstop that was turned into a short-to-second-to-first triple play for the winners who benefited from Sharon Harris and Cindy Bruggeman home runs to beat the Division II leaders.

Renee Bedard pitched a shutout and Georgine Troska homered as Ekeren Drug blanked Hydra-Mac 10-0.

A home run by Colleen Stokke, along with triples by Anita Hanson and Reta Rantanen, sparked Pizza Hut to a 10-2 triumph over Credit Bureau.

Pam Dallmann was the winning pitcher in a 10-0 American Legion shutout of The Barbers, with Becky Bergland hitting a three-run double for the winners.

Northern Employers Agency doubled the Schmidt Stealers 6-3, the Mush-a-Rettes handled Walseth Construction 9-1, St. Hilaire Saints stopped Great Northwest Agency 16-3 and the Ridge Runners defeated the Health Hustlers 20-3.

Babe Ruth Baseball . . .

13-Year-Olds Take Twinbill

Tim Nyland was the winning pitcher in both games Wednesday as Thief River Falls defeated Red Lake Falls 12-0 and 11-0 in a Babe Ruth Prep League baseball doubleheader for 13-year-olds.

Nyland tossed a one-hitter in the opener. Joe Blankenfeld and Jeff Vanyo had three hits apiece for Thief River Falls, while Nyland scored three times.

Steve Solheim finished the second game in relief, but Nyland was the starting and winner while collecting two hits and scoring three times.

The sweep improved Thief River Falls' record to 5-3 for the year.

In 14-15-year-old Babe Ruth action Thursday, Thief River Falls teams came up with a pair of doubleheader sweeps.

The Elks, playing at Red Lake Falls, blanked Bagley 7-0 in the first half of a split doubleheader and beat Red Lake Falls 9-2 in the second game.

Tim Bottom pitched a one-hit shutout in the opener, walking three and striking out five. The Elks had just three base hits themselves — two by Lon Aune, who also drove in three runs.

Scott Johnston followed with a two-hitter in the second game as the Elks pushed their record to 11-1. Johnston, who struck out 13 and walked three, carried a no-hitter into the sixth.

The Elks banged out nine base hits in that one, with Bottom collecting three, including two doubles. Aune, Johnston and Tim Bergland all had two hits apiece, with Bergland driving in three runs.

Thief River Falls Independents improved their record to 9-5 with a home field sweep over Greenbush, 8-7 and 13-2 in a pair of five-inning games.

The Independents managed just three base hits in the opener, but used three Greenbush errors and a bundle of walks to score eight times, including a five-run first inning. Ryan Bakke, backed by errorless defense, was the winning pitcher, scattering five hits.

Jim Hallamek went 3-for-4, hit two doubles, drove in three runs and scored three times as the Independents won the second game in much easier fashion, 13-2.

Kirk Jenson was 2-for-3 in the 11-hit Thief River Falls attack. Winning pitcher Alan Ness gave up just three hits. Greenbush commited five of the game's seven errors.

GOLF FACTS and FANCIES

It doesn't matter if you are a top touring professional or a 30 handicap weekend golfer. When you are done playing the par 3, 17th hole at the Bay Hill Club and Lodge, you will know you have played one of the most challenging and difficult golf holes anywhere.

Golfers lose, for example, more than 400 golf balls each week in the long lake that runs almost from tee to green. And, should your tee shot carry the lake, it must contend with a long shallow trap guarding the approach and strategically placed bunkers to the left and rear.

Fortunately, the 17th at Bay Hill is also a rewarding and beautiful golf hole. It is not uncommon, for example, to see a mermaid in scuba gear happily returning golf balls to the unfortunates who "caught it just a little bit fat."

This novelty, however, is just part of the excitement generated at the 17th hole at Bay Hill, home of the Bay Hill Classic sponsored by Brown & Williamson's Rich Lights cigarettes. Other tales about this challenging par-three are just as colorful.

Arnold Palmer, owner of Bay Hill, has his own favorite 17th tale. It occurred during a friendly round he was playing with some friends. His caddy recommended a three iron off the tee. Palmer heeded the advice, caught the ball fat and landed it smack in the middle of the lake. Reverting to a two-iron, he tried again. This time the ball sailed out, bounced short of the green and rolled into the hole for a hard-earned par.

In the tales one prefers not to tell department is the incident that occurred during the 1979 Bay Hill Classic when one of the pros hit his ball into the bleachers at the 17th green. Incredibly, the ball bounced off the bleachers and back onto the green, but the poor guy was so flustered he took three putts to bogey the hole!

The stories all prove that No. 17 at Bay Hill remains one of the most storied golf holes in existence.

Dry Weather Hurts Ducks Across Canada

An unusually mild winter accompanied by a below-normal spring precipitation level, has left much of west central Canada with the driest conditions experienced in recent years, according to officials of Ducks Unlimited, North America's largest waterfowl conservation organization.

Reduced winter snow cover meant a low amount of melting and runoff. Add to this an exceptionally warm and dry spring and it totals up to a poor projected duck production year in the normally prolific prairie regions of southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, according to Dale E. Whitesell, DU executive vice president.

"In Manitoba there has been a 70 per cent decline in the number of spring ponds compared with last year," Whitesell said. "Habitat conditions are very dry in the southern part of the province, forcing many birds to abandon nesting attempts, and 'overfly' to open water in the north." Whitesell said that birds on the overfly are traditionally not effective breeders. "In the north, the breeding populations are up significantly, though much of this increase represents drought-displaced ducks which may not breed this year. If the drought continues, next year's habitat and breeding conditions will suffer as well."

The breeding grounds of southwestern Saskatchewan are also dry, Whitesell pointed out. "The breeding populations on the grasslands of Saskatchewan have declined by as much as 80 per cent from last year. The birds are being forced to the north in this area as well. The number of birds observed in the parkland regions has more than doubled last year's numbers," he said.

But all is not gloomy. DU staff biologists report a strong breeding effort in the Cumberland marshes of the Saskatchewan river flood-plain, according to Whitesell. Water levels at these large fertile northern marshes are maintained by DU water-control projects.

"Across the prairie provinces, better than 90 per cent of the DU projects are holding water, with over half of them full," Whitesell said. "In a year this dry, it just underscores the need for DU water-control projects on the Canadian breeding grounds. We can anticipate that permanent water areas, such as those created by our projects, will receive maximum waterfowl usage this year.

Recent staff reports indicate that some rain has fallen in Alberta and other parts of west central Canada," Whitesell said. "While this will help alleviate drought conditions somewhat, it is a little late to have any appreciable effect on the breeding situation," he added.

"The best we can do now is hope for heavier summer rains to maintain the levels on ponds holding what water there is," Whitesell said. "This could salvage some breeding activity this year, and provide a little moisture carry-over into next winter."

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!

Aquacade Softball, Racquetball Tournaments Have Openings

Officials of the Thief River Falls Jaycees Aquacade noted this week there are still openings in both the Aquacade men's slow pitch softball tournament and the Aquacade racquetball tournament.

The ASA-sanctioned softball tournament will be played Sunday, July 27. Entry fee, due July 22, is $40. Tournament managers are Doug Volk, telephone 681-1912 or 681-6196, and Tim Barrus, telephone 681-6051 and 681-4324.

Trophies and a $70 first place prize will be up for grabs in the event.

The racquetball tournament, a new Aquacade event, will start Monday, July 21, with the finals scheduled to be held Saturday, August 2.

Competition will be held for both men and women, divided into two age categories — 19 and under, 20 and older. Entry fee is $10, which will include a souvenir T-shirt and reduced court time rate for practicing participants. Tournament director is Tom Ritchie, telephone 681-2130.

Trophies will be awarded to the top place finishers in each class.

Camping With RV's

Connie B. Howes, an outdoor writer has produced a "Recreational Vehicle Handbook," which describes how to choose, buy, rent, insure, store and maintain today's RV's. The booklet supplies tips on driving, safety and special use.

Connie and Minnesota Outdoor authors Stu and Dee Mann have spent time together at outdoor weekend events in pursuit of fish and fun.

The handbook contains many pictures in graphic detail.

Connie has masterminded a checklist to assure a successful vacation, covering before departure; daily enroute; vehicle equipment; kitchen and cooking equipment; linen supplies; bathroom supplies; cleaning supplies; clothing and personal items; miscellaneous; and a list of associations for RV and camper users.

Outdoors Briefs

Department of Natural Resources has reported there will be no moose season in Minnesota this year, as there was a moose season last fall. Seasons are every other year.

The DNR also reported that tularemia has been found in several beaver specimens sent to the DNR's laboratory from northern Minnesota. The disease can be transmitted to people. Every precaution should be taken, such as protective clothing and removal of ticks.

Rubber gloves should be worn when skinning or handling fresh hides from regions in which tularemia is suspected. Contact the DNR for more information.

Private Lands

According to A. H. Rohlfing, a reporter for the NSSF, it makes good sense to know whose land you are hunting on, and have the necessary permission. He continues with this statement:

"Private land is, after all, still private land, and no sportsman should object to presenting himself to the landowner. It would certainly seem that it isn't the hunting that landowners object to so much as it is having people presume to use their land without asking. If we can believe the survey, one-third will say "come in" once they've been properly approached and know who's on their land.

There's food for thought there for all hunters. Take the time to get to know the man who owns the land you hunt on. Stop in before you leave, too, and share your bag with him. A card at Christmas helps. Be the good citizen in the field that you are the rest of the year and maybe, just maybe, the "no hunting" signs might begin to fall."

Fish Derby

Annual Muskie-northern fishing derby sponsored by the Leech Lake Chamber of Commerce begins Saturday, August 2, at 6 a.m. and ends Thursday, August 7, at 2 p.m. Entry fee is $5. The fee must be paid by 12 noon Sunday, August 3. Persons entered will be provided with receipts which must be shown upon entry of a muskie or northern at official weigh-in stations. Weigh stations include Huddle's Resort, Whipholt; Stony Point resort, Stony Point road; Reed's Sporting Goods, Walker; Kelsey's Bait Shop, Walker; Sugar Point Resort, Federal Dam; Grand Vu Lodge, Pine Point; The Tackle Box, Walker; New Leech Lake Campground, Bena; Ottertail Point Campground, Ottertail Point; Northwoods Shoppe, Benedict.

Minimum contest length for muskies is 36 inches, and 30 inches for northerns. All fish must be weighed at one of the official weigh stations prior to 10 p.m. the day caught and by 2 p.m. Thursday, August 7.

To be eligible for competition in the muskie-northern derby fish must be caught in one of the following lakes: Leech Lake, Horseshoe Lake, 11th Crow Wing Lake, May Lake, Benedict Lake, Garfield Lake, Steamboat Lake, Big Bass Lake and Long Lake.

ACTUAL SIZE of the schistosome responsible for swimmer's itch is about one-and-a-half millimeters. The head, which shows up darker in the photo, penetrates the skin and the forked tail drops off. Swimmer's itch is a result of penetration and subsequent death of the head portion of the parasite.

Swimmer's Itch Is Caused By Parasite

by Mark E. Canney
U M News Service

Every summer, thousands of persons in the Upper Midwest trek to the lakes to swim, bake in the sun and rid themselves of their winter pallor.

While most return with tans, some also come home with a case of schistosome dermatitis, or "swimmer's itch."

A result of mistaken identity on the part of a common parasite, swimmer's itch occurs in both salt and fresh water. The parasite responsible for swimmer's itch in the Upper Midwest — the freshwater schistosome — is found chiefly in Canada and the northern United States, especially Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

"There are about a dozen different species of schistosome parasites in the Upper Midwest that can cause swimmer's itch," said Donald E. Gilbertson, professor of ecology and behavioral biology at the University of Minnesota.

Gilbertson, who has studied the swimmer's itch schistosomes in Minnesota, said that while very little is known about the parasite, outbreaks of schistosome dermatitis seem to occur in cycles.

"Swimmer's itch seems to be prevalent around Memorial day and then again later in the summer," he said.

Freshwater schistosomes are found only in lakes and in slow moving water that contains certain snails. The parasite lives in these snails for a portion of its life cycle. When it reaches its swimming stage, the schistosome leaves the snail and becomes a pest to humans.

To complete its life cycle, the schistosome must penetrate the skin of a host animal and migrate to the bloodstream. Known also as blood flukes, schistosomes reproduce in the bloodstream.

The proper animal hosts for the Upper Midwest schistosome are birds and muskrats. Unfortunately for humans, however, a schistosome can't tell the difference between a man and a muskrat.

The parasites attach themselves to human swimmers and waders, seeking out wrinkled areas of the skin, points where hair emerges and other skin irregularities.

Once it finds a suitable penetration site, the schistosome, which is less than a millimeter long, begins to stretch its body, making itself longer and slimmer. The parasite then trusts its anterior muscular sucker into the entry site.

Near this sucker are glands that scientists believe secrete an enzyme capable of breaking down tissue. The thrusting motion, along with the secreted enzyme, enable the schistosome to penetrate the skin.

Because humans are not appropriate hosts for the parasite, the schistosome dies immediately after penetration. (Some schistosomes do maintain part of their life cycle in humans and can cause very serious disease, but these are not found in the United States or Canada.)

While they do not pose a serious health threat, the local schistosomes can cause a great deal of aggravation.

Typically, there is a pricking sensation as the parasite penetrates the skin, a sensation so slight it often goes unnoticed. Soon after, a red spot appears and becomes an itchy welt within a few hours. Itching is most severe two to three days later and may persist for several days.

Swimmer's itch becomes more severe each time, much like bee stings, Gilbertson said. A first encounter with the parasite will probably not result in dermatitis, he said.

Other than confining aquatic activities to fast-moving rivers, there is really no way to prevent swimmer's itch, but Gilbertson says a good toweling off immediately after leaving the water minimizes the risk.

Not all northern lakes contain schistosomes, and some contain fewer than others. Greater schistosome densities can also occur in specific areas of lakes. The swimming-stage parasites are found near the surface of the lake and can be transported from one part of the lake to another by winds.

Because of this wind-driven movement, ridding a swimming area of the snails known to harbor the dermatitis-producing parasite will not guarantee against outbreaks of swimmer's itch.

About the only thing a person can do, Gilbertson said, is to keep a supply of calamine lotion on hand. Applied to the welts, calamine will take some of the itch out of the swimmer's itch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kline and family of Soudan came Friday for a weekend visit at the Laurel Kline home leaving Monday to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kilen and two sons of San Diego, Calif., arrived Tuesday evening to spend about two weeks visiting at the Steve Chwialkowski home here, and with relatives at Middle River and Gatzke. Mrs. Kilen is the former Shirley Chwialkowski.

Byron Bengtson of Crookston and Ronald Bengtson drove to St. Cloud to attend the Miss Teen pageant in which their sister Cindy was a participant. The boys were overnight guests at the Jim Peterson home at Alexandria and also visited with Hillary Peterson Jr.

Billy Sumner and son Robert of Liberal, Kans., visited Monday a week ago at the Philip Boen home. Robert stayed at the Boen home visiting for the week while Billy went to Thief River Falls to visit his brother. Mrs. Billy Sumner (Donna) and daughter Virginia and her husband and two children are coming for the Karlstad celebration and the all class reunion this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Mrs. Lennae Gilder and Jason and Jeffrey, all of Warren, visited Sunday afternoon at the Clarence Carlson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Olson of Lake Bronson were Saturday evening visitors at the Richard Weiler home.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Olson of Lake Bronson were Saturday evening visitors at the Richard Weiler home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvestor Kasprowicz visited Sunday evening with Laurel Klines and their house guests.

Mrs. Marvin Richter (nee Mary Storeby), Michael and Micah of Shannon, Wis., Mrs. Ruth Storeby and grandson Daniel Lemke of Fergus Falls spent the weekend at the Arthur Anderson home while visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snap of Wooden, Ia., came Tuesday and visited at the Laurel Klines until Wednesday. Paul is Laurel's cousin.

This past week visitors at the Steve Chwialkowski home have been Carl Huggs of Lancaster, Lisa Henrickson of South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Chwialkowski and family and Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Johnson and family, all of Drayton, N.D., Mrs. Joan Kaushagen and boys of rural Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrss. Terry Sollund and girls of Karlstad, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hugg and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Chwialkowski, Todd and Shannon, Darwin Nelson, Gene, Douglas, Erick and Elmer Henrickson, Daryl, Brian, Judy, Stacy and Clayton Westman and Gordon Berggren.

Renae Stennes and Myrtle Bothum of Karlstad visited with Adeline Stennes Wednesday afternoon.

Garnet Swenson of Longview visited Rudy Lindgren Thursday afternoon and Sunday afternoon Norrell Underberg of Longview visited Rudy.

Dinner guests Sunday, June 22, at the Orville Koland home were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Granica of Glenwood, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schmidt and Jill of Coon Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bakken, Jamey and Jesse, Barbara and Sondra Deschene, all of Grand Forks, Omer and Helen Deschene, Bob, Gwen and Jonathan Schmidt, Minnie and Joyce Schmidt and R. J. Kroll, all of Stephen, Newell and Loretta Berggren and family, Elsie Lefrooth, Elmer and Emily Johnson, all of Newfolden, Laurits Koland of Karlstad, Cora Schmidt of Edina, Mr. and Mrs. Art Anderson and Janice Carlson of Strandquist, Harvey and Cora Schmidt were godparents of Michael. A special cake baked and decorated for the occasion was brought by Michael's grandmother, Minnie Schmidt.

Eleven ladies attended the community Bible study held at the Anna Brekke home Friday afternoon, June 27. The fourth lesson was studied, which was "Coping with Broken Relationships". Much of this study was from the Old Testament. Fifth lesson will be "Coping with Tragedy and Sorrow". Anna served a delicious lunch and Mrs. Hilda Peterson of Thief River Falls was a guest.

Wallace Onger and Anton Kasprowicz were the winners of the $5 coupons given away at the Saturday night drawing June 28. Sally Weiler's name was called for the third $5, but was not present so next week it will go up to $10.

Sara Wikstrom and Delphine Braff visited with Elsie Kimbrough and Gladys Wilkes on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gayhard Nelson and Myron and Dion Nelson and Mildred Nelson visited and were coffee guests after the drawing Saturday evening at the Irene Larson home.

Debbie Lindstrom, Chris and Nathan of Grand Forks were visitors and supper guests at the Morris Lindstrom home Thursday evening.

Delphine Braff and Sara Wikstrom were Saturday afternoon visitors at the Roy Stennes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Boen, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wollin visited Sunday afternoon at the Roy Anderson home in Karlstad, bringing Emogene birthday wishes.

Ernie Kujava called at Alvin Holmstroms a week ago Monday evening.

Elmira Brekke of Karlstad visited with Ida Bruce Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Joe Novak of Greenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Johnson and children of Drayton, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Chwialkowski and Shannon and Mrs. Jerry Rux have been recent visitors at the Ray Henrickson home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wikstrom Sr. of Karlstad visited Sunday evening with Sara Wikstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lindstrom were guests at the Howard Brandt home in Thief River Falls Sunday evening.

Shirley and Eldred Swanson of Minneapolis came Saturday evening to visit at the Henfred Bernhardson home until Wednesday.

Bertha, Ernest and Gladys Holmstrom, Ellen Stromberg and Frank Grochowski helped Elmer Holmstrom celebrate his birthday Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Waterworth helped Elmer celebrate on Saturday evening. Carol Thompson and girls from Red Lake Falls came Sunday and will be house guests at the Elmer Holmstrom home until Wednesday.

Fern Kronz and Hilda Peterson visited with Anne Bernhardson Thursday evening.

A week ago Monday Walter and Ruby Ladoux, Mrs. Leonard Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thompson drove to Hallock where they visited Walter's cousin. At Lancaster they visited Sophie Beck and then drove on to Tolstol, Canada for a joyful ride before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Thun visited at the Anne Hansen home in Newfolden after attending the mid-summer's dinner at Bethesda.

Gilman and Adeline Stennes, Audrey Boen, Chester Berg, Andy and Pam Boen and Mitze, Monty Boen and Leatrice Larson and Donavon visited at Merrill Stennes' Sunday afternoon to help Leif celebrate his birthday.

Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kleinvachter and Tom drove to Fargo for a weekend visit with Selma's cousin, Andrew and Berget Hansen. Andrew will be 99 years this summer and Berget will be 91. They still live alone in their own home and care for themselves. During the weekend visit they also visited with the Oscar Brakkes and with Esther Olsgaard at Moorhead. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Olsgaard (Esther's son) visited Esther and Art while there. Mrs. Brakke and Esther are Selma's aunts. On their way home from Moorhead they stopped off at Crookston to visit at the Chuck Conatti home.

Hilda Peterson of Thief River Falls spent from Thursday until Sunday at the Charles Kronz home. Saturday they attended the 75th anniversary celebration at Middle River and also the all class school reunion.

Visitors at the Elsie Lefrooth home since her return home have been Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom, Vance and Adrienne Lefrooth, Margaret, Vanette, Loyal and Vance Jr., Donny and Marlys Lefrooth, Greg and Melanie, Anna Brekke, Bradley Nelson, Elphie Adlis, Richard Johnson, David and Elaine Grovum, Isaac, Betsy Thompson and Joan Holmstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson visited at the Claus Pearson home at Karlstad Saturday evening.

Robert Berggren and Holly Brosdahl were visitors and coffee guests at the Art Kleinwachter home on Friday afternoon. Tom Kleinwachter of Stephen was a supper guest at Art's in the evening.

Hilda Peterson of Thief River Falls and Fern Kronz attended the funeral at Middle River for Mrs. Herman Young on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Lefrooth and Mrs. Elsie Lefrooth returned Thursday from a two week's trip to Europe, Asia and Africa. Elsie has promised to have a write-up about their trip. Perhaps for our next week's column.

Alice Skoglund of Middle River and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Erickson of Longview, Wally Rud and Pastor Moyer have visited at the Earl Sihlberg home this past week. Sunday visitors were Gene Kleinwachter and Joyce Bothum of Kennedy.

Lloyd and Lois Lindstrom of New Lennox, Ill., arrived last week at Morris Lindstrom's and will be here through the Karlstad celebration and all class reunion.

Thelma Thompson of Karlstad, Louise Becker of Warren, Valborg Torkelson of San Diego, Calif., and Amy Fedji of Hoople, N.D., visited with Ruth Holmstrom Wednesday. The ladies brought all the food for a picnic lunch and helped wheel Ruth out on the lawn for a picnic. It was the first time in 1½ years that Ruth had been out of her home. It was a fun day with visiting old friends and the picnic lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Holmstrom visited and were supper guests at the Elsie and Ivan Kimbrough home Thursday evening and also visited with their house guest, Gladys Wilkes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Borowicz and David and Gordon and Lila Grandstrand, all of rural Stephen and Marlin Nelson were Sunday afternoon and evening guests at the Mildred Nelson home. Visitors during the past week have been David, Dion and Christopher Nelson and Lila Grandstrand.

Rudy Lindgren visited Andrew Stalock on Tuesday and he visited Bertha Palm on Wednesday.

Out of town visitors at the Julius Kleinwachter home have been Mrs. Marvin Richter and sons of Shannon, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gustafson of Hallock, Gary Benson and family of Rochester and Sophia Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Grandstrand of Viking visited at Louis Lofstroms a week ago Monday. Earl and Dean Grandstrand who spent the weekend at the Lofstroms, returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wernberg and Rudy Lindgren visited Saturday at the Gust Johnson home.

Roger Holmstrom spent the weekend at the Alvin Holmstrom home.

Gladys Wilkes and Delphine Braff visited Irene Larson and were luncheon guests on Sunday afternoon. They spent the afternoon reminiscing of by gone days when all three of them enjoyed some jolly days.

There will be a potluck dinner at one o'clock at the Zion church Sunday, July 13, with a family Luther league program to start at 2:30 p.m. We hope to have the complete program printed next week so until then, keep July 13 open so you can join us at Zion for a worship and fellowship meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson of Thief River Falls visited at the Elphie Adlis home Saturday and Joyce Wikstrom and Corey of Karlstad visited there on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thun and Mrs. Ella Thun attended the Nancy Monroe - Rod Reitmeier wedding at Our Saviour's Lutheran church at Warren on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson and Andrew, Nelson Ladoux and Mrs. Elsie Lefrooth visited on Sunday afternoon at the Isaac Thompson home. Later that afternoon, Elsie accompanied the Isaac Thompsons to Karlstad to the open house birthday celebration in observance of Mrs. Agnes Carlson's 80th birthday at her senior citizen apartment home.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom visited Tuesday evening at the David Grovum home in Thief River Falls. Later that evening both couples enjoyed dinner at the Legion in observance of David and Elaine Grovum's second wedding anniversary and Morris and Marcelyn's 30th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Backlin of Warren were Sunday evening visitors and supper guests at the Henfred Bernhardsons.

Gene Anderson, son Carl and Sherrie and Sue Ann came driving the team of horses used in the parade at Oslo Saturday and the girls rode ponies to visit at the Elmer Holmstrom home Sunday. Unusual visitors coming in this fashion, but fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Norrell Underberg of Longview, Wash., are here and will be visiting relatives and friends in the Karlstad and Strandquist area for two weeks, also taking in the Karlstad 75th anniversary festival and all school class reunion.

Senior Citizens

Thursday, June 26, the senior citizens met for their weekly meeting. No work was done and we did not have any activities for our fun day.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Braun of Greenbush visited our center, as also did Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kasprowicz, Gladys Wilkes and Delphine Braff. It was so nice to see Anna Holmstrom back at the center. She's been absent since hip surgery last fall, but is getting along nicely now, so we hope to see more of her at our regular Thursday meetings.

Art Braun gave a talk on a club that may help senior citizens receive reduced prices on drugs and prescriptions, etc. Our center voted to join the club and our delegates from the club as well as others who are interested plan to attend a meeting at Middle River July 10 at 10 a.m. We hope to be back for the center's meeting in the afternoon.

We will have no meeting at our center July 3 due to the various celebrations in our area but we plan to hold a brief meeting at the center Tuesday, July 1, to discuss farther the joining of above-mentioned club. Mildred received the door prize Mabel Borsvold gave, Ruth Anderson received the prize Jim Kline Jr. donated, Delphine Braff received Anna Holmstrom's prize and Art Braun received the prize Evelyn Kline gave.

Janice Nelson of Warren gave our center some rummage and the Isaac Thompsons gave us some useful bags of material we can use. Thanks. Irene Larson was hostess Thursday.

MAYOR BOB CARLSON, in behalf of the city of Thief River Falls, presents a check for $2,500 to Bob Kurkowski, an artist in residence at the Fargo public schools and general manager of the creative art studio in Fargo, at a special ceremony recognizing the completion of the art work on the west side of the Thief River Falls fire hall Thursday. Original plan was to make a painting on the wall, but because of technical difficulties, including the climate, the project was completed as a mosaic, according to Kurkowski, who has been practicing art since the age of 11. Sod and greenery will be placed on the hill in front of the mosiac by the park and recreation department. "I strongly believe people should know and be able to see what we have had in the past with the fire department," Mayor Carlson said. "The project makes another first in Minnesota."

KENT H. BAILEY, grandson of Howard and Grace Tweten, Thief River Falls, and who resided with David and Pat Scramstad, also of Thief River Falls, before enlisting in the Armed Forces in the delayed entry program, is presented stationed with the Rangers — 2nd Battalion, 75th Infantry in Fort Lewis, WA, where he is receiving out of state and out of country training in warfare tactics, foreign weapons, demolitions, hand to hand combat, airborne operations, scuba diving, SOT, Halo repelling and maintain climbing. A 1979 graduate of Lincoln high school, Bailey left Aug. 14, 1979 for Fort Jackson where he was processed into the service, and following that time reported for basic training at Fort Gordon, GA where he received his advanced individual training in communications, radio operator and Morse code. He attended jump school for three weeks before going to Fort Lewis, WA, where he began his Ranger Indoctrination Program (RIP).

NEW ADMINISTRATOR on the Thief River Falls school district staff is Dr. Orley Gunderson who takes over the reins as director of the area vocational-technical institute. Dr. Gunderson is shown above with Dr. William Corliss, superintendent of schools, as he signs his contract for the new position. In the lower photo he discusses a staff meeting and review session with Fred Ballou (left), assistant director at the AVTI, and Arnt Aune, who is retiring after lengthy service as the director.

County Fair Opens Here Next Thurs.

Entry day at the Pennington county fair in Thief River Falls will be Thursday, July 17, with open class entries to be received from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. In the 4-H club department entries will be accepted from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with conference judging to be held on all projects except livestock, poultry and rabbits, horses and dogs.

Livestock entries will be judged on Friday, July 18, along with poultry and rabbits. The 4-H club horse show will be held on Saturday and the dog show is scheduled for Sunday. Also taking place on Sunday in the sports arena will be the 4-H fashion revue with coronation of queens for the 4-H clothing project at 2 p.m. Awards program will be coordinated with the fashion revue.

On opening night the fair will sponsor an amateur talent contest with up to 15 entries being accepted and cash prizes to be awarded to the top five winning performances.

On Friday night the annual auto demolition derby is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the grandstand. The county fair association is cooperating with the Thief River Falls Jaycees in presenting the demolition derby which attracts one of the largest crowds of the fair each year.

Something new for recent fairs will take place on Saturday when the Northern Minnesota horse racing association presents a racing program. The 7 p.m. program will include quarter, half and three-quarter mile open class racing, chariot racing, chuck wagon racing and other events.

Sunday evening, following an open pit beef barbecue sponsored by the Northwestern Stockmen's association, the grandstand program will include the Buddy Young show and country singing star Charly McClain. Miss McClain has been selected as the country's most up and coming country female vocal artist of the year.

"From the entertainment standpoint we believe this year's fair will come up to the high standard that has been maintained over a period of many years," states Vernon Lee, president of the sponsoring Pennington county fair association. "We have secured the best program available for the grandstand show and on the midway and

Amateur Talent Contest Slated At County Fair

Amateur talent is being recruited for opening night grandstand performance at the Pennington county fair on Thursday, July 17, at 7:30 p.m. In event of rain the contest will be held downtown in the city auditorium.

Rules for the contest are simple, according to Mike Lehrer and Doug Engstrom, co-chairmen of the contest. All talent must be strictly amateur, performances will be limited to four minutes in length and the first 15 entries received will be accepted for performance.

Prizes offered include $75 for first, $50 for second, $35 for third, $25 for fourth and $15 for fifth. Decision of the judges will be final. A piano, microphones and sound system will be provided. Any other necessary equipment must be furnished by the performers themselves.

Registration forms are available at Larson Music company in downtown Thief River Falls and completed registration forms are to be returned there. Persons with questions may contact Mike Lehrer at Franklin middle school (681-2700, extension 268), or Doug Engstom at Lincoln high school (681-2700, extension 247).

Admission to the talent program will be 50 cents per person or $1 per family.

To Honor Cruse With Coffee Hour Thursday

Norm Cruse, who has resigned as executive vice president of the local chamber of commerce, to accept a similar position in a larger city in Iowa, will be guest at an informal coffee time from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday at the Rex cafe Terrace room.

Dale Dillon, president of the chamber of commerce, invites chamber of commerce members and other friends and acquaintances of Norm to stop by and have a cup of coffee and goodies with him during that time. The event is open to everyone and not restricted to chamber members.

History Group Meets Thurs. At Goodridge

Goodridge area historical society will meet Thursday at 8:30 p.m., at the historical building.

All board members are urged to attend as plans for commemorating the Tri-County fair, which was held in Goodridge in 1919, will be discussed.

Panek Elected Commissioner

George Panek

George Panek of rural Goodridge won a narrow victory over Delray Larson of Gatzke on Tuesday's special general election to select a county commissioner for Marshall county's fifth district. Panek received 427 votes to 389 for Larson, according to unofficial totals released by Charles Cheney, Marshall county auditor.

Cheney said he accepted the voting results by telephone and that they will not become official until the county board meets as a canvassing board Thursday to check the vote totals. Panek will fill the vacancy on the board created by the death of Nilo Rantanen of Middle River earlier this year.

Larson carried 12 of the 20 precincts in the election but fell victim to large margins built up by Panek in his home area. Both candidates received strong support from their home territories. Larson, for instance, carried Whiteford and Moose River townships 28-0, Linsell township 10-0, Thief Lake township 36-1 and Rollis township 83-4. Panek, on the other hand, carried Grand Plain township 46-0, Moylan township 87-2, New Solum township 60-9 and Excel township 48-6.

"Both men can be extremely proud of the support they received from their neighbors," auditor Cheney noted in commenting on the 38-vote margin. In the primary election Larson had received 238 votes, Panek 218 and Grant Satre of Grygla 165. Panek will take office as commissioner on July 14 at the semi-annual meeting of the county board.

Unofficial election results as tabulated by the Marshall county auditor's office include the following:

Hearing Date Set; Circus Denied At Council Meet

Thief River Falls downtown business faction gathered during last evening's Thief River Falls city council meeting to express their concerns over two agenda items which were resolved by the council.

Discussion of the parking assessment district project was presented by Don Stewart of Stewart and Walker Inc. of Thief River Falls. The decision to proceed with the assessment district hearing process was resolved at a June 3 council meeting following a meeting of parking assessment district members and Thief River Falls city council members.

"We are about ready to proceed with the assessment hearing process unless, following this discussion, there is some reason why the hearing should not be set at our suggested date of August 5," Stewart began. "At the assessment roll hearing, the final proposed assessments including the additional relocation project costs will be stated," he continued.

Following council discussion, and various responses from Thief River Falls businessmen, alderman Dr. Don Goodrich introduced the resolution to set the hearing date for August 5 at 7:30 p.m. The resolution, seconded by alderman J. J. Womack, carried.

Course of action following from the decision will involve the adopting of the assessment roll to include the $47,500 for additional special assessments for the possible additional relocation costs by the council then a 30-day waiting period by which any litigation procedures may occur.

The other agenda item bringing concern from Thief River Falls merchants involved the denial of the request for a license from the Carson and Barnes circus proposed to be conducted in Thief River Falls July 31. Conflict arose between businessmen over the date set for the circus — the same date set for Crazy Days in Thief River Falls.

At a meeting with the retail business association, it was agreed that the circus set on that date would detract from Crazy Days, according to Norm Cruse, executive vice president of the chamber of commerce.

Thief River Falls merchants expressing their views on the issue during last evening's meeting shared the feeling that they were not against the circus, but were against the day chosen for the circus. In previous discussion between ALICE MELGARD, 20, is the reigning Miss Warren, crowned on June 6 and serving as that community's royalty during the city's centennial this year. One of her hobbies is cooking and baking, along with summer sports, music, interior design and current fashion trends.

Alice Melgard In Queen Event

(This is the sixth in a series of interviews with candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the annual Jaycee Aquacade. The official Miss America preliminary pageant will be held Saturday, July 26, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Reigning as Miss Warren of 1980, Alice Melgard is enjoying the reign but looking forward to an eventual degree in business education so that she can teach secretarial courses.

Alice Ann, 20, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Melgard of Warren, a 1978 graduate of Warren high school and a 1980 graduate of the University of Minnesota at Crookston. She is five feet six inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes. Her pageant talent number will be a piano solo entitled "Fountain in the Rain".

A student of piano for five years, Alice sits down at the keyboard often to play for her own enjoyment. She was in the cast of the Warren high school musical "Sound of Music" where she played a nun and sang alto in the high school choir.

For four years Alice was a member of the girls' basketball team at Warren.

Family Walk To Idaho Starts Thursday

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

It's not enough that 20-year-old Cassie Fowler, her two young children and her 32-year-old sister want to get away from civilization for awhile. It's not enough that they plan to build their own cabin on a 20-acre claim on a mountainside in Idaho's Salmon national forest. It's not enough that they will have to cut wood, fetch water from the stream and live without electricity and most modern conveniences.

Those things are not enough. Beginning tomorrow they will leave the Helen Torkelson farm four and one-half miles southwest of St. Hilaire and start walking west. And they plan to keep on walking — for some 1,200 miles — until they get to their destination sometime this fall.

The general plan is to parallel Interstate 94 by following secondary roads to Billings, Mont., then parallel Interstate 90 from there into Idaho. If they can average 20 miles a day — and they think they can — their claim called "Friar's Fortune" should be in sight along about mid-September.

Lane and Cassie don't seem to have any doubts about being able to accomplish the task they have set for themselves and for five-year-old Kathea and three-year-old Jimmy. If they had a horse and some type of wagon — which they hoped to have but haven't been able to arrange — the odds for success would seem much greater. But, horse or not, they're going to start the journey Thursday.

The ladies emphasize that they are not hitch-hiking but intend to walk the distance. They realize the youngsters won't be able to maintain the same pace, although they have been walking several miles a day for conditioning. That means the children will have to be carried for part of the distance, and that restricts the amount of gear which their mom and aunt can carry in backpacks.

Objective of the trip is to establish a Christian retreat on the mountain — a place where a limited number of people can go to find some solitude and respite from physical or mental strain and perhaps discover an inner peace and contentment. The women are members of the Seventh-day Adventist church at Crookston and plans have already been made for their pastor to hold Bible study and nutrition classes in Idaho next summer.

Once Lane and Cassie get to their claim they won't be strangers there. They spent January and February of this year as caretakers for the ghost town of Leesburg. The town once had a population of 10,000 people during the gold rush days but now is completely deserted. It is located a half-mile from their claim. The owner of the town allowed them to live in a cabin at Leesburg in exchange for keeping an eye on the property to prevent looting or vandalism.

On March 2, while the family was out with some visiting snowmobilers, the cabin burned. Exploding ammunition made it inadvisable to try to save anything and they had to stand by and watch as all their possessions were destroyed. They came back to Red Lake Falls to tend to some matters here and to sort out their thoughts and make some decisions.

They staked their claim in an act similar to homesteading in one of the few areas where such opportunity still exists today. They are required to do a minimum of $100 worth of work on the claim each year to retain it. The property is accessible by road during the summer but seven miles from a road after snowfall. It has a stream with a waterfall.

"It's just a beautiful place," Lane said. "There's deer and elk and bear and lynx and rabbits and birds. There are rainbow and cut-throat trout. You work hard and you sleep good and you don't have time to get ulcers or get bored."

Except for about four months in the winter when everyone else heads for lower elevations and civilization, there are usually a few people in the area. Lane and Cassie hope there will be a few around to offer a helping hand when they try to raise a cabin this fall.

"We plan on building the cabin close to the water," Cassie said. "We can cut the

GETTING IN CONDITION for a projected 1,200 mile walk from rural Red Lake Falls to their claim near the ghost town of Leesburg, Idaho, are Cassie Fowler (right), her five-year-old daughter Kathea and three-year-old son Jimmy, and her sister Lane Russell. As of last night they were still looking for a horse and some type of cart or wagon to allow the youngsters to ride part of the way and to transport camping gear and some supplies. Also expected to make the trek are the family's dogs, an Irish setter named "Red" and a part dingo named "Yoshi". Cassie and Lane hope to arrive in Idaho in time to raise a cabin before snowfall. They eventually hope to establish a Christian retreat on their 20-acre claim.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Ann Kelly-Dr. Tunberg Vows Spoken In Virginia

Miss Ann Kelly and Dr. Thomas Tunberg were united in marriage June 27 at 6:00 p.m., at Kelly's chapel United Methodist church in Chilhowie, Va.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kelly of Chilhowie. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Tunberg of Thief River Falls.

Rev. William A. Adams of Abingdon, Va., officiated at the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Nancy Boone, pianist, and Sherry Collins, flutist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding dress of ivory satin.

Serving as her only attendant was her sister, Lynn Olmstead.

Jeff Tunberg of this city attended his brother as best man. Usher was William Kelly, Jr., brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic institute and State University. She enrolled in the dietetic internship program at St. Mary's hospital, Rochester, Minn., and received a graduate degree at the University of Kentucky. Prior to her marriage, she was clinical nutritionist at Massachusetts General hospital in Boston.

Dr. Tunberg is a graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical school. He recently completed his general surgery internship at Tuft's New England Medical center in Boston. He will continue his surgical training at Milwaukee County General hospital in Milwaukee, Wis.

The couple will reside in Milwaukee. Photo: Betty J. Moser, Chilhowie, Va.

25th Anniversary Is Observed By J. Duane Nelsons

Mr. and Mrs. J. Duane Nelson were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 22.

The anniversary celebration began with a Mass at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls with Rev. James Bernauer officiating. Soloist at the Mass was Mrs. Joe Dvorak of Drayton, N.D., who also sang at their wedding 25 years ago. She was accompanied by Mrs. Arnold Hammer, Goodridge. Mass servers were Reynold Nelson and Terry Nelson. Randy Nelson was commentator and Don Maruska was the reader. Ushers were Jim Seibel, Rodd Gryskiewicz, Gary Nelson and Doug Hvidsten.

Also present were the couple's attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Phelps, Park River, N.D., Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Nelson, Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Nelson, Argyle, together with Mr. and Mrs. Art Nelson, Nelson's parents, and Esther Drellack, Nelson's godmother.

Following the Mass, a reception was hosted at the Goodridge hall by the couple's children: Mr. and Mrs. Don (Debbie) Maruska, Rebecca, Tammy, Dee, Randy, Jodi and Lisa. A dinner was served throughout the day to the large number of relatives and friends that attended. Centering the serving table was an anniversary cake made and decorated by the couple's son, Randy. Punch servers were Danelle and Denise Nelson. Music for dancing was provided by the Gary Ray show.

Dorothy Schmitt Will Speak At Women's Aglow

July meeting of Women's Aglow Fellowship will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m., in the basement meeting room at the city auditorium.

Guest speaker will be Dorothy Schmitt of Silver Spring, Maryland. Mrs. Schmitt had written a number of articles on women of the Scriptures and has spoken at numerous Aglow meetings and women's conferences. She and her husband Charles ministered in northern Minnesota for 15 years before moving to Maryland. They spend their summers overseeing family camps at Camp Dominion at LaPorte.

Women of all faiths are welcome to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Trinity Golden Years To Meet At Silas Hansons

Golden Years of Trinity will meet July 15 at 2 p.m., at the Silas and Marge Hanson farm.

The theme of the program will be "Come! Let us raise a joyful song to the Lord." Psalm 95:1. The meeting will open with devotions and a sing-along. Skits will be presented and the Golden Years choir will sing. Lunch will be served by the Hansons, assisted by members of the Esther circle.

The church bus will make its usual stops at 1:00 p.m., and will return to the church by 1:30 to pick up passengers. Anyone needing a ride to the church is asked to call the church office, 681-1310 in the morning.

Deer Park Club Makes Corsages; Plans Anniversary

"Corsages for Different Occasions," was the theme of the July 3rd meeting of the Deer Park garden club held at the home of Mary Kusmak.

Highlighting the meeting was the demonstration given by Helen Chervestad showing the step-by-step method in making corsages. She also gave helpful hints as each member made a corsage using cut flowers, greenery, ribbon, wire and florist tape.

Ethel Wiseth presided at the meeting. Following roll call and the reading of the garden club creed, plans for the observance of the club's 20th anniversary were finalized. It was noted that the annual tour of the gardens will be held in conjunction with the anniversary celebration set for August 8. Helen Chervestad, on the tour committee reported that the tour of gardens will begin at the Ethel and Robert Wiseth home with a noon luncheon. She stated that six stops have been planned, ending at the Lois and Ernie Swanson home. There anniversary cake and old-fashioned punch will be served. Invitations will be mailed.

Norma Hanson, on the program committee, reported that the program given at the noon luncheon will be based on the theme, "Say it with Flowers."

The luncheon committee, composed of Marion Marquis, Lauretta Stucy and Theodora Anderson, stated that their theme will be "Summer Garden."

Members present at the meeting were Norma Hanson, Dorothy Svanjord, Helen Chervestad, Lavonne Radniecki, Luella Peterson, Lois Swanson, Edna Appelman, Mary Kusmak, Ethel Wiseth and Inga Coan. Sara Kusmak was a guest.

The next meeting of the Deer Park garden club will be an organizational meeting on September 2. Roll call will be "What ribbons or awards did you get at the Horticulture show?" The program will be tasting new varieties of vegetables.

Albert J. Johnsons To Note 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Johnson of Thief River Falls will be honored on their 55th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 13, at an open house at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Carriere, 106 Idlewood court. Hours will be from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The couple's daughters and their families are hosting the event. They invite all friends and relatives to attend.

TRF Christian Women To Hear Fargo Woman

All three groups of the Thief River Falls Christian Women's clubs will meet Tuesday with Mary McWethy of Fargo, N.D., as guest speaker.

The morning group will meet at the Best Western from 9:30-11:30 a.m. A continental breakfast will be served. Ruth Shefveland will demonstrate fresh flower arranging. Guest musician will be Jane Mackenroth. The cost of the breakfast will be $2.00.

The luncheon group will meet at the American Legion from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m., with Don Grabanski presenting a special feature, "Sunny Hair Fashions." Two musical selections will be presented by the vocal group, "Back-Behind-the-Barn Boys." Cost of the luncheon will be $3.00.

The council group will meet at the Best Western from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Featured at that meeting will be musical selections by Linda Short, Warren, and a make-up demonstration by Diane Matson of Mr. Duane's.

The meetings are open to all area women. During the morning and luncheon group meetings, a preschool nursery, by reservations only, will be available.

Reservations to the meetings should be made by Friday, July 11. Cancellations are essential by Monday noon. For reservations or further information call 681-2311.

St. John Luth. Church Picnic Set For Sunday

St. John Lutheran church congregational picnic is scheduled for Sunday at the park near the Oakland Park Nursing home. Road will be marked.

The event will begin with an outdoor service at 11 a.m. A potluck picnic dinner will follow. Iced tea and nectar will be provided. Since there are no electrical facilities, those who wish may bring coffee in insulated containers. Everyone is asked to bring their own chairs or blankets and eating utensils, such as plates, cups, glasses and silverware.

An afternoon of fellowship will follow the picnic with the couples club in charge. There will be games for all ages, such as sit-down games, sack races, horse shoe and tug-of-war.

All members of the congregation are urged to attend. Friends are welcome.

Rev. Barrie Henke, pastor of the congregation, stated that as usual the morning worship services will be held at the church at 9:15 a.m.

Wildwood Whirlers To Dance At Gonvick

Wildwood Whirlers square dance club of Gonvick will host a dance Saturday at the Gonvick school gymnasium. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:00 p.m., with Dee Dee Dougherty calling the tips.

All area square dancers are welcome. Lunch will be served.

Council Okays Hearing But Rejects Circus

the circus and the retail business association of Thief River Falls, the suggestion had been made to change the date of the circus, but that suggestion had been refused by circus personnel, according to Cruse.

Opposition to the views expressed by Thief River Falls merchants came from alderman Ole Engelstad who stated that, "this circus is known to draw large crowds of people. The circus was here before Crazy Days ever began."

Duane Holland of the Thief River Falls police department added that during Crazy Days the regular police force plus three extra men are needed in the area and that the addition of the circus would pose additional problems for the police force.

Following discussion, alderman Milan Borsheim introduced the resolution to deny the request for the permit to operate the circus in an afternoon and evening performance in Thief River Falls July 31, and also to deny the request for rental of the grounds near the Thief River Falls sports arena on that date — based on the conflict in dates with Crazy Days.

The resolution, followed by a roll call vote, resulted in seven votes in favor and one vote from alderman Engelstad opposed.

In further council action, a parade permit was granted to the Thief River Falls Jaycees for the Aquacade parade set July 26. Also, a parade permit was granted for a parade to be conducted in Thief River Falls during the International War Veterans Alliance convention August 3, which also includes the granting of the use of the Thief River Falls city auditorium for the convention, and the placement of a sign in Thief River Falls during the convention thanking Canada for their aid with our American hostages in Iran.

In airport committee recommendations, alderman Goodrich reviewed the present air fares of $158 for a round trip from Thief River Falls to Minneapolis.

"This price seems unjust according to the short trips made and I believe we should complain about these prices," alderman Goodrich stated.

In connection with this issue was the discussion of the transfer of Airport Development Aid Project (ADAP) funds to Brainerd for airport construction assistance. At an April 25 meeting, it was mentioned that the transfer of funds from one city to another was not allowable under federal guidelines—a transfer which, since that time, has been made possible.

"I am not for transfering the funds to Brainerd until the air fares are down," Mayor Bob Carlson stated.

In a resolution introduced by alderman Goodrich, Jerry Wigness, city clerk, was instructed to send correspondence to Lawrence McCabe, deputy commissioner of transportation for aeronautics under the Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn-DOT) in St. Paul, to Ken Hoeper, administrative assistant under the Mn-DOT department of aeronautics and to Robert Wurst, city attorney, who is also president of the local airline service action committee (LASAC), to request a meeting with Brainerd, Bemidji and LASAC for the discussion of air fares.

The resolution, which followed a second by alderman J. J. Womack, carried.

In further action on the issue concerning ADAP fund transfer to Brainerd, council members agreed to table the matter until further discussion with LASAC and airport committee members could take place.

An issue brought up at the June 24 regular city council meeting concerning a license for Ralph Foster for his portable concession stand to be set up in Thief River Falls was accepted last evening by council members. The license will be purchased at a fee of $75 for six months with the stipulation that Foster abide by the two-hour parking regulation.

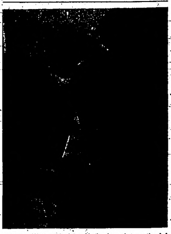
Alderman Clayton Restad discussed cost factors involved with blacktopping the pedestrian walkway at the corner of Nora Street and Pennington avenue to the walkway at the Red Lake river dam. Following alderman Restad's discussion, it was resolved that the project would be put on the agenda for next year using federal revenue sharing funds.

In utility committee recommendation, it was resolved that the city would pay one-half of the costs incurred by Al Johnson of 1017 N. LaBree avenue for sewer work done by Carl Lee of Lee Plumbing and Heating company in Thief River Falls. Discussion of the item resulted from previous debate at a June 9 meeting involving the question of the sewer line work in the alley behind Johnson's home being the responsibility of the city or the property owner.

Discussion of the 1980 street improvement project concerned the $100,000 bid figure which had come in below the city engineer's estimated bid figure for the project. Suggestion involving a change order in the project concerned proceeding with work at the entrance to the Thief River Falls sports arena as indicated in the original 1980 plan and to exclude work on Brooks avenue and Fourth street, was made by Jim E. Walker, city engineer.

Following discussion, it was resolved that the matter would be referred to the finance and taxation committee with representatives from the park and recreation committee and the city attorney in attendance, with a report back to the council.

Next regular city council meeting is set for July 22 in the council chambers of the city auditorium.



FIVE GENERATIONS, pictured in the above photo, are headed by Mrs. Marie Larson of this city, a resident at Valley Home. Seated next to her is her son, Roy Larson. Behind them are his daughter, Dionne Ulrich and her son, Rodney Ulrich, whose son, Ryan, is being held by Mrs. Larson. With the exception of Mrs. Larson, all are residents of Red Lake Falls.

WINIFRED LARSON, gospel soloist from Skokie, IL. will be singing at the Evangelical Free church, Third and Kendall avenue in Thief River Falls, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Miss Larson, who has been involved in a ministry of music for several decades, has traveled throughout the United States and much of Europe with well-known Bible teachers and evangelists and has sung frequently at Bible conferences.

STRANDQUIST . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kleinwachter are the proud parents of a baby boy born July 2 at Northwestern hospital at Thief River Falls. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herb Goethe of Goodridge and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kleinwachter. Congratulations!

Sunday Una Mae Koland, Carla Luttrell and Rean took Ted Koland to Brainerd, where he will be spending a week at camp.

About 60 relatives enjoyed a reunion of the Underberg, Koland and Swenson families at the Roy Anderson home Sunday.

Farmers Urged To File Report On Crop Acres

Chairman Harold Kalsnes of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee urges all farmers to file an acreage report with the ASCS office before July 15.

"Reports cannot be accepted after the deadline, and farmers who do not certify their acreage are not eligible for low yield disaster coverage or for loans on harvested grain," Kalsnes reports.

"There are no set-aside requirements or acreage limitations in the 1980 farm program," Kalsnes stated, "and farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage will receive higher disaster benefits. This is especially important in Pennington county this year, where yields have been reduced by 50 per cent to 90 per cent due to the drought.

"Farmers have everything to gain and nothing to lose by filing an acreage report," Kalsnes stated. He urges all farmers to file the report at the ASCS office on Dale street in Thief River Falls before Tuesday.

Family Walk To Idaho Will Start Thurs.

logs for it in a day or two. They will be put up unseasoned and chinked with moss and clay the way they used to do it. We'll have to get a stove out there because we won't be able to take one with us."

If one is enough of a romantic, it is possible to see the advantages of unfettered living at 6,500 feet of elevation in the clear mountain air. But it is also hard to overlook the lack of conveniences now taken for granted, the isolation for long periods during the winter, the distance from medical and hospital facilities and the dependence on the kindness of nature. In reality, if one is ill or injured, Grizzly Adams won't come walking over the ridge to make it all better after the next commercial.

In their spare hours between daily chores of wood cutting, hauling water, doing housework, caring for the children and other duties, they expect to pan enough gold to barter for necessary supplies. They will have no other source of income — at least until they are able to establish the retreat they plan to have.

Despite the rigors and uncertainties of the return to nature, Cassie, Lane and the children are eager to return to "Friar's Fortune". "Are we going to walk to the mountains now?" asked three-year-old Jimmy excitedly as the family was gathered for the photo appearing with this article.

First of all, however, they have to get to Idaho — and there are a lot of steps between here and there. So far they have received some camping equipment from Chuck Reep of Red Lake Falls and Milton VanRaden of Fertile and a monetary gift from the SDA church in Crookston. A yard sale is being held in Red Lake Falls in an attempt to raise a few more dollars for needed items. "But that's it," Lane admits.

And time is growing short; the longer they delay the later they will reach their destination. Unlike the monarch who offered to exchange his kindom for a horse, Lane Russell and the Fowlers need a horse to reach their kingdom.

If anyone can help, call Red Lake Falls 253-2276.

Plan Two Miss Goodridge Competitions

Two Miss Goodridge contests will be sponsored by the Goodridge area historical society in conjunction with the one-day event commemorating the Tri-County fair held in 1919 at Goodridge.

Winners of the Miss Teen of Goodridge and the Mini-Miss Goodridge contests will be crowned at 11 a.m. August 30 and will ride in the parade scheduled for 1:30 p.m. that day.

In the Miss Teen Goodridge event, contestants must be between the ages of 13 and 19 and write an original essay entitled "My Home Town". Judges will select four finalists from these entries.

In the Mini-Miss Goodridge contest for girls age six to 12, contestants are to write an original essay on "My Home Town" or submit any form of original art work relating to that topic. Three finalists will be selected from these entries.

Mrs. Jeanne Johnson of Goodridge, who is chairing the contests, asks that each contestant send her name, address, telephone number, age, special interests or talents and a $1 entry fee to Box 253, Goodridge, MN. 56725 by August 1.

Sr. Federation Office Given Desk, Chair

Northwest senior federation office in Thief River Falls has received a gift of a wood desk and office chair from Vi Henning, according to Rosalie Mozinski, coordinator for the federation.

The office is located on the second floor of the Thief River Falls city auditorium and opened for the first time last week. It will be staffed mostly by volunteer workers when a schedule has been arranged. Alton Clark of Middle River is president of the federation.

Picnic Honors Olga Engevik At Gatzke Sun.

A community picnic, sponsored by Agassiz Retired teachers, will be conducted at the Gatzke senior citizen center July 13.

The picnic, a farewell party for Olga Engevik, who will be moving to Thief River Falls, will begin with a pot luck dinner at 1 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

C. Fredrickson Services Held In Michigan

Clarin Fredrickson, 62, a former resident of the Holt and Viking areas, died unexpectedly on May 26 at his home in Gladstone, Mich.

Funeral services for Clarin Fredrickson were held May 29 at 10:30 a.m., at the First Lutheran church in Gladstone with Rev. Ronald Swanson officiating. Interment was in the Mausoleum of Gardens of Rest, near Gladstone.

Clarin Fredrickson was born April 21, 1918 at Ismay, Mont. There he resided until the early 30's when he moved with the family to Minnesota, living at Holt and then on a farm northwest of Viking.

On Aug 28, 1940, he was married to Maalfrid Samuelson of Viking.

Fredrickson was an electrician for the Soo Line railroad. The couple lived at various places before moving to Gladstone more than 30 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters: Mrs. Ed (Carol) Schweitzer, New Prague, and Mrs. Kent (Linda) McMartin, Cadillac, Mich.; and five grandchildren: Chad and Erica Schweitzer and Jeff, Kraig and Jason McMartin.

Also surviving are two sisters: Mrs. Cliff (Greta) Johnson, Granite Falls, and Mrs. Bill (Lillian) Clayton, Dallas, Tex.; and two brothers: Orrin Fredrickson, Mound, and LeRoy, Minot, N.D.

Relatives attending the services in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Fredrickson, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Fredrickson, Mrs. Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Bill Clayton, were Mr. and Mrs. Arne Samuelson, Viking; Mrs. Bjarne Westberg, Minneapolis, Mrs. John Vogt, Apple Valley; Mrs. Curtis Anderson, Rosemount, and DelRay Johnson of Benson.

Rites Today At Brooks For T. J. Payment

Tennis J. Payment, 76, a resident of the Hillcrest Nursing home in Red Lake Falls since 1969, died Friday, July 4, at the United Hospital in Grand Forks, N.D.

Mass of the resurrection for Tennis J. Payment was offered today (Wednesday) at 10:00 a.m., at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Brooks with Rev. Larry Wieseler as celebrant. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Petterson Funeral home, Red Lake Falls, was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Wallace Champagne, James Sabourin, Russell Noyes, Leonard Boucher, Xavier Payment and LeRoy Carriere.

Tennis J. Payment was born June 6, 1904 at St. Hilaire to Ozias and Emelie Champagne Payment, Sr. now deceased. He grew to manhood in the Brooks area where he farmed until becoming a resident of Hillcrest Nursing home. He never married.

He is survived by three brothers: Phillip and Nap Payment, both of Yakima, Wash.; and Anthony of Brooks; and two sisters: Mrs. Dale (Betty) Schmidt, South Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Laura Morreau of Selah, Wash.

Two brothers and four sisters preceded him in death.

Rites Set For Heather June Marie Dimmen

Heather June Marie Dimmen, three and one-half month old daughter of Eloise Dimmen and Thomas Bowman, both of Duluth, died July 5 at St. Mary's hospital in Rochester. She began having health problems shortly after birth and had been hospitalized at Rochester for the past three weeks.

Funeral services for Heather Dimmen will be held in Thief River Falls on Thursday at 10 a.m., at the Green Funeral chapel with Rev. James Mattson, pastor at Zion Lutheran church, officiating. Mrs. Arnold Hammer will serve as organist and soloist. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

She was born March 17, 1980 in Duluth.

Surviving are her parents, her twin sister, Heide; a sister, Nicole; her grandfather, Selmer Dimmen, Thief River Falls, two aunts and one uncle.

Arven Nybo, 67, Once Of Holt, Dies July 6

Arven Nybo, 67, of rural Gonvick and formerly of Holt, died Sunday near Gonvick.

Funeral services for Arven Nybo were held today (Wednesday) at 1:00 p.m., at the United Lutheran church at Bernier with Rev. Dale Moe officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Cease Funeral home, Bagley, was in charge of arrangements.

Arven Nybo, a son of the late John and Amanda Nybo, was born March 8, 1913 at Preceville, Sask., Canada. As a child, he moved with the family to Montana, and later to Holt, where he grew to manhood. He was married Nov. 7, 1942 at Gonvick to Hannah Grone. Following their marriage, the couple moved to Bernier, near Gonvick.

He is survived by his wife, two sons: Kenneth Nybo, Gully; and Richard, Northfield; four grandchildren; two sisters; Mrs. Elmer (Agnes) Sather, Clearbrook; and Mrs. Loris (Gladys) Larson, Hopkins; and two brothers: Alfred Nybo, Bloomington; and Clifford, Webster.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, one son, a sister and one brother.

Mrs. Wesley Ulvin, 81, Dies At Roseau

Mrs. Wesley (Edith) Ulvin, 81, of Roseau, sister of Mrs. Lillie Ulvin of this city, died June 29, at the Roseau Area hospital following an illness of two years.

Funeral services for Mrs. Wesley Ulvin were held Thursday at 2 p.m., at the Mission Covenant church in Roseau. Officiating were Rev. Theodore Kronberg and Rev. Allen Fadel. Mrs. Harvey Halvorson was the organist and Rev. and Mrs. Fadel, the vocalists. Interment was in the Hope cemetery at Roseau.

Pallbearers were Verner Anderson, Kenneth Grand, John Ulvin, Adolph Ulvin, Robert Row and Rodney Brodin.

Mrs. Ulvin, the former Edith Skoglund, was born in Roseau on Nov. 7, 1898 to Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Skoglund. She attended school in Roseau and later worked in a bank in Minneapolis. She then came to Thief River Falls and was employed here for many years at the Bratrud Clinic.

On Nov. 30, 1939, she was married to Wesley Ulvin. The couple lived at Wannaska until 1967, when they moved to Roseau, where she resided until her death.

She was a member of the Mission Covenant church at Roseau. While living at Wannaska, she was organist at the Bethlehem Lutheran church and for a time was Sunday school superintendent there.

She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Norval (Eva Jean) Sovde, Greenbush; four grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Lillie Ulvin, Thief River Falls.

She was preceded in death by her parents, five brothers and one sister.

State Taxpayer Ass'n. Holds Annual Meet

Members of the Minnesota Taxpayers association held their 54th annual meeting recently at the Minnesota arts and science center. Purpose of the meeting was to elect officers and directors and discuss current tax topics.

The meeting was highlighted by a panel on Minnesota's economy and taxation. Discussion centered around Minnesota's current fiscal status, based on the department of finance's recent report showing that general fund revenues for May, 1980 were $21 million below projections. The amount is extremely significant considering the fact that the surplus projection for June 30, 1981, is $3.7 million. There was concensus among the panel that the new figures provide documented proof that Minnesota is in a recession.

Members of the association were told that the downturn was expected, and will not last as long or be as severe as the recession now being witnessed in the rest of the nation.

Reasons cited for the downturn were: "Expectations" of a recession, which reduced inventories and caused temporary layoffs; high interest rates which caused capital construction postponements, and reduced consumer spending; federal credit controls; and loss of federal aid. The resulting loss in corporate and sales tax revenues; together with effects of indexing the individual income tax in 1979 has left the state in a strained financial status.

Members were reassured that Minnesota's economy is expected to recover by the end of the fourth quarter this year. In addition, Commissioner Burggraaff explained new budget controls and stated that no new taxes with the exception of highway funding, are being considered for the next legislative session.

In order to reflect the Association's growing membership and diversity, the board of directors was increased to 35 members. New directors are John J. Doyle, Minneapolis; Jerald Erickson, New Ulm; Alfred E. France, Duluth; Joseph Micallef, St. Paul; and Tim Stern, St. Cloud.

MAKING USE OF one of the new trash cans located at the corner of Fourth street and Main avenue in Thief River Falls is Mayor Bob Carlson, who, along with Gus Holmes, head building custodian for the city, distributed 25 trash cans throughout the city Monday afternoon. The trash cans, obtained through federal revenue sharing monies, will be stored with the Thief River Falls sanitation and street departments during the fall and winter. The old cans will be painted and will be placed near neighborhood grocery stores and parks, according to Mayor Carlson. "It is our hope that the citizens of Thief River Falls will comply with the decal on each new trash can," Mayor Carlson said.

Crop Summary Shows Moisture In Short Supply

Most row crops continued to make good growth with last week's warm, dry weather. According to the Minnesota crop and livestock reporting service, topsoil moisture is becoming short and rain is needed soon in a large part of the state. Many crops are starting to show stress from the lack of rain and only slight improvements in conditions were reported from the previous week. Parts of northwest Minnesota did receive a good rain in late June that partially alleviated the excessively dry situation but more rain is still needed.

Row crops are all about 90 per cent cultivated. Field corn is nearing three feet in height, sunflowers are at two feet, and soybeans measure one foot. Soybeans and sunflowers are just beginning to bloom. Corn condition has improved substantially. In the last two weeks farmers rated the crop at 51 per cent good; this week 67 per cent was rated good. Soybeans and sunflowers remain in fairly good condition.

Half of the winter wheat and rye crops have turned ripe and cutting is just beginning. Spring wheat, oats and barley are over 90 per cent headed with eight to 17 per cent turned. The small grain condition improved slightly.

Most of the crop is in fair to good condition in the southern two-thirds of the state but in the important northwest, condition is mostly poor to fair. The flax crop remains behind normal for this date. Budding is 74 per cent complete and 39 per cent of the crop is blooming.

The first cutting of alfalfa is nearly finished at 97 per cent. Fields remaining to be cut are mostly those that have poorer growth. Second cutting is expected to begin this week.

FmHA Declares Disaster Area, Senator Says

Senator Rudy Boschwitz announced today that the Farmers Home administration has declared 16 counties in Minnesota as disaster areas making them eligible for low interest loans.

Fifteen of the counties in the northwest part of the state were declared disaster areas due to drought in the area while Winona county received the designation due to tornado damage. The 15 counties named are Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Koochiching, Beltrami, Marshall, Polk, Pennington, Red Lake, Norman, Mahnomen, Clearwater, Clay, Becker and Hubbard.

The declaration means that farmers in the disaster areas will be eligible for actual production loss loans of up to $500,000 at five per cent interest. To qualify for loans under $300,000 applicants must be turned down by one commercial lender, while they must be rejected by two commercial lenders to qualify for loans from $300,000 to $500,000.

The repayment period for these loans, according to Boschwitz, is seven years for those secured by equipment, livestock or grain and up to 20 years if secured by real estate. Any farmer who is certified for an actual production loss loan will automatically become eligible for annual operating loans and debt re-financing loans in following years.

Boschwitz said, "the granting of these disaster designations is welcome news to the farmers of Minnesota who have watched their crops destroyed by the drought. These loans will not bail them out completely, but will keep them operating through some very tough times."

Boschwitz invited anyone with questions about the disaster loan program to call his office in St. Paul toll free at 1-800-652-9771 for more information.

Vietnam Vets Glad To Have Served Country

While most Vietnam era veterans now agree with a majority of the public that America should have stayed out of Vietnam, these same veterans are glad they served their country and would serve again if asked.

These were the findings in a survey conducted for the Veterans administration by a polling organization and released by Max Cleland, administrator of veterans affairs. The study was ordered by President Carter "to better understand some of the issues that will continue to confront the Vietnam era veteran."

The survey reflects strong patriotic feelings on the part of veterans, despite disillusionment with the war and a great deal of bitterness about their treatment after the war. Ninety-one per cent of the veterans serving in Vietnam agreed with the statement: "Looking back, I am glad I served my country." Two-thirds of Vietnam veterans say that they would serve again if asked.

The survey also confirmed an advance sample finding that although only one in five Americans still supports America's involvement in the Vietnam war, a great majority of the public has a high regard for the veterans who fought that war.

"It appears that the public is finally separating the war from the warrior," Cleland said. "Despite the unfriendly reception Vietnam veterans received when returning home, which is verified in the survey, this group of veterans is beginning to find some understanding and sympathy among the American people."

There also is evidence that most veterans of the Vietnam era are adjusting well to civilian life, although there remains much to be done in healing the physical and psychological scars. Cleland said the survey underscores the need for efforts such as the VA's new readjustment counseling program for Vietnam era veterans. Since its authorization by Congress late last year 86 unique "storefront" vet centers have been opened nationally to help those veterans who most need help with readjustment problems."

The polling organization interviewed 7,000 people nationwide between November 1979 and March 1980. They fell into four groups: The general public, Vietnam era veterans, educators and employers. The VA said that the surveys are the most thorough and comprehensive ever undertaken of attitudes toward Vietnam era veterans.

Other survey findings included:

—Nearly three-quarters of the veterans of earlier wars feel that people their own age gave them a very friendly reception compared to less than half of the Vietnam era veterans.

—Most of the veterans who served in the Vietnam area said that they experienced moderate or heavy combat conditions while there.

—Three-quarters of the Vietnam era veterans feel the federal government should be doing more for them. A two-thirds majority of the American public agrees.

—Employers' commitments to hiring Vietnam era veterans have declined over the decade of the '70s.

—The vast majority of educators report that neither age, nor military experience, nor discrimination has been a problem for Vietnam era veterans at their schools. They rate the veterans frequently "better" than other students.

—Seven out of 10 Americans favor preferential hiring of veterans for federal jobs. There was nearly equal support for this among women as well as men.

Soine Honored At Experiment Range Program

A research range at the Northwest experiment station, Crookston, was recently named for Dr. Olaf Soine. Soine was honored for his 29 years of service as a researcher, teacher and citizen leader in northwestern Minnesota.

A research range denotes a measured space, an appropriate place, a permanent allocation of soil for experimental field plots. All land at the University of Minnesota, Northwest experiment station has been analyzed for soil type and has been appropriately organized into a comprehensive research range plan.

Honoring Soine for his dedication to the community of Crookston was Harold Thomforde, mayor, who cited the many contributions that the recipient had made as a member of the board of managers of the Red River Valley winter shows, city council and various other boards in the area.

Speaking for the farmers of the Red river valley, Bruce Hamnes, Stephen, president of the Minnesota crop improvement association, spoke of the many ways in which Soine served that group. Dr. B. E. Youngquist, superintendent, University of Minnesota, Northwest experiment station, made the official dedication and designation of range three as the Olaf Soine range.

Soine thanked the friends and officials who attended the ceremony which began in the field plots at the official range and was moved to the auditorium of the Northwest experiment station after a brief rain shower. Soine talked of his retirement activities which began when he left the experiment station in 1974 and recalled many incidents of his past research and teaching experience.

Gene Miller, Northwest experiment station, was master of ceremonies for the event and for the activity at the luncheon which followed at the Best Western inn at Crookston.

Boschwitz Asks End To Embargo On U.S. Grain

Calling on the Senate banking, housing and urban affairs committee to schedule immediate hearings on his bill to end the grain embargo, Senator Rudy Boschwitz said, "everyday this embargo remains in effect rural America and our farmers suffer while other countries benefit."

Boschwitz was joined by 37 other members of the senate in requesting hearings on the bill which he introduced recently. The bill to end the grain embargo was referred to the committee on banking, housing and urban affairs chaired by Senator William Proxmire of Wisconson.

"Evidence abounds," Boschwitz said, "the the cooperative agreement to embargo shipments to Russia is breaking down and the Soviets are receiving the grain they need.

"The American Soybean association has released evidence that soybean processors in Europe are taking advantage of the depressed prices of U.S. soybeans and are processing them to fill orders from Russia. Under normal circumstances these orders would have been filled by U.S. processors," he said.

"Accounts also indicate that the Australians have increased their volume of grain sales to the Soviets by 11 times over the same period last year," Boschwitz added. "This can hardly be called restraint.

"The latest blow came from the administration itself," Boschwitz said, "when it stated that it would do nothing to stop U.S. grain companies from selling 1980 foreign grain to the Soviets. Our own administration has in effect backed off efforts to halt the sale of foreign grain to Russia and open the door for everyone except the U.S. farmer.

"We cannot continue to call on our farmers to bear a burden which no one else is carrying. Rural America is hurting and we must lift the embargo if we are going to get our farmers on their feet again," Boschwitz said. "If the administration will not lift the embargo, then Congress must and the sooner we do it the better."

UMC Awards Contracts For P.E. Complex

Two more contracts have been awarded by the University of Minnesota for the continued development of an outdoor physical education complex on the Crookston campus of UMC. The two projects now under contract represent the second and third phases in construction of a series of contiguous outdoor facilities at a total cost of approximately $600,000.

Accepted was the low bid of about $168,000 by Northern Paving company, Crookston. The contract awarded to the paving firm is for surfacing of various intramural and intercollegiate athletic areas. It also entails construction of a 400-meter, eight-lane running track on which an all-weather surface will be laid. The track will circle UMC's first home gridiron, which is currently being graded. Surfacing work is expected to start between July 15 and 20, a college spokesman indicated.

Aqua Engineering company, Eden Prairie, was the recipient of the second contract. The Eden Prairie firm submitted the low bid of approximately $28,000 for irrigation. This contract includes installation of a sprinkler system and other water services. Gridiron turf will be watered via built-in sprinklers while water at spot locations on other playing fields will be applied by more conventional irrigation methods.

Bible School At SDA Church

Seventh-Day Adventist church will conduct vacation Bible school the week of July 14-18. Classes will start each morning at 8:45 and let out each day at noon.

All children between the ages of four and 14 are invited to attend. The program will include crafts, songs, stories, Bible verses and nature displays.

Wenstrom Asks Small Business Paperwork Cut

Congressional candidate Gene Wenstrom has proposed that federal paperwork requirements for small business be immediately reduced by 25 per cent, and he has written President Carter urging him to use his executive authority to do so.

Wenstrom, the DFL endorsed candidate for Congress, said he would be releasing a set of proposals during the next few weeks that will aid small businesses. At the top of the list is reducing federal paperwork.

"Last year, small businesses had to submit a total of 305 million forms. These forms created more than 850 million pages of paperwork. When laid end to end, that is enough paper to stretch around the world nearly six times.

"The saddest part of all these figures is that there is substantial evidence that a great part of all paperwork is duplicative and serves no useful purpose," Wenstrom said.

He said the small business committees of Congress have been examining paperwork requirements and have found that they can be reduced by at least 25 per cent without harming the necessary needs of government.

Wenstrom's letter to Carter asked the President to mandate a 25 per cent cut in the next 12 months and to require federal agencies to explain any inability to comply.

"For too long the traditional reaction by those in government has been, 'There ought to be a law.' When I talk with small businessmen and women and examine all the paperwork they must comply with, I think those in Congress ought to be prepared to say, that in some instances, 'There ought not to be a law,'" Wenstrom said.

Wenstrom said all regulations should be written in plain English and there should be sunset reviews on various rules to make sure they are removed from the books when obsolete.

SBA Rep Will Visit Bemidji

Donald J. Waligoski, a loan officer with the small business administration, will be in Bemidji on July 10, to talk to small business men and women about SBA loans.

An appointment to see him can be made by calling or writing the Bemidji chamber of commerce, Bemidji avenue and Third street, telephone 751-3540, according to district director Paul W. Jansen. An SBA representative will be in Bemidji on the second Thursday of each month.

Congressman Stangeland To Seek Reelection

Congressman Arlan Stangeland has officially filed as a candidate for reelection to the U.S. House of Representatives from the Seventh district of Minnesota.

Rep. Stangeland, first elected to the House in a special election in 1977 and reelected in 1978, is a family farmer. He and his wife, Virginia, operate an 850-acre diversified farm in Wilkin county near Barnesville, and he adds that his experience as a lifetime family farmer has provided him with the "knowledge necessary to represent a rural district in the House of Representatives."

A member of the House government operations committee and the House public works committee, the 50-year-old incumbent Congressman officially began his political career by serving in the Minnesota House of Representatives from 1966 to 1974. Prior to being elected to the U.S. House of Representatives he served as a member of the Barnesville board of education.

"Providing a voice in Washington for the people of the Seventh district is my main concern and I think I have done this successfully. I have tried to bring congressional representation closer to the people and, by constantly traveling throughout the district, I feel I have an excellent grasp of what concerns Seventh district constituents," he said.

Stangeland emphasized his concern for providing constituents with the kind of service they deserve and he says he feels he has established a successful constituent program by installing a toll-free number (1-800-432-3770) in his district office in Moorhead and by returning home to Minnesota every weekend to be available to constituents who need his help.

"If someone needs my help, it is as simple as picking up the phone and calling my district office or writing a letter. I have consistently worked to help constituents solve problems with the Federal government and I am looking forward to providing any assistance that is necessary in the future," he said.

Social Security Men Here Tues.

Views On ® Dental Health
By Donald R. Goodrich, D.D.S.
ADULTS AND ORTHODONTICS
Teeth-straightening braces, long associated with school-age children, are now becoming more popular with adults. The American Association of Orthodontists estimates that some 4 million Americans are undergoing orthodontic treatment. Out of this number, over 20% are over age 20.
Why are so many adults subjecting themselves to the orthodontic regimen? There are several likely explanations. The development of braces that are less noticeable; the ability of many adults to pay dental fees that their parents, perhaps, could not afford; a wider acceptance of braces by an adult generation attuned to self-improvement; concern for good health, and naturally, good looks.
Until the mid-1960's it was accepted wisdom in the field that braces were for kids. The theory was that orthodontics could be successful only if the patient was still growing. Now, it's generally agreed that, though growth is helpful, it's not always necessary for effective treatment. Today, you can produce the smile you've always wanted, as the circus announcers tout: "For kids of all ages."

Philippines Wheat Buyers Visit In Area

Key wheat buyers and processors from the Philippines, one of the largest export markets for U.S. hard red spring wheat, are visiting Minnesota to observe the state's production areas and marketing system. The visit by the Philippine trade mission is sponsored by the Minnesota wheat research and promotion council and U.S. Wheat associates.

According to Minnesota wheat council chairman Terry Fladeland of Red Lake Falls, the team has been in the state from July 3 through today. Following discussions on spring wheat quality and utilization at the department of cereal technology at North Dakota state university, the team toured the wheat area from Moorhead to the Canadian border, meeting with farmers in the Moorhead and Warren areas.

The team also observed the operations of the Minneapolis grain exchange, to learn more about the U.S. marketing system, and met with grain traders in Minneapolis. The Philippine delegation will also visit Minnesota's Port of Duluth.

"The Philippines purchased a total of 31 million bushels of U.S. wheat during the 1979-80 marketing year ending May 31," Fladeland stated. "Over 22 million bushels of this was hard red spring wheat, with the balance being white wheat, from the Pacific northwest.

Fladeland reported that spring wheat purchases in 1979-80 by the Philippines represented a 12 per cent increase over the year before. He added that the Philippines have purchased exclusively U.S. wheat for the last two years.

The team has been led by Jose B. DeJesus, director of the directorate for marketing operations for the national grains authority, the government agency responsible for procuring and distributing both imported and domestically produced food and feed grains.

Cancer Society Receives Gifts

American cancer society memorial gifts were made recently in honor of several individuals, according to Mrs. Charles Krause, memorial chairwoman for the Pennington county chapter.

Gifts were given in memory of Carolyn Austad, Dorothy Iverson, Lois Prichard, Minnie B. Johnson, John Uggerud, Melvin Grinde, Elmer Bratsch, David L. Grannis and Bob Jenkins.

United Commercial Travelers auxiliary 98 and the St. Hilaire Co-op Creamery association also made donations.

Memorials are used for cancer research, education and service.

U.S.-Canada Legislators To View Trade

Congressman Arlan Stangeland announced today that a delegation of United States congressmen and senators will travel to Canada later this month to meet with their Canadian counterparts in an effort to bring about greater grain export cooperation between the two countries.

Congressman Glenn English (D-Okla.), chairman of the House delegation, and Arlan Stangeland, ranking minority member, stated that the U.S. group will travel to Canada for meetings in Ottawa on July 26. The United States delegation will also include Representatives Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), Jack Hightower (D-Tex.), Charles Stenholm (D-Tex.), Kent Hance (D-Tex.), Ron Marlenee (R-Mont.) and Jim Jeffries (R-Kans.). The U.S. contingent will also include several senators who have not yet been selected. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Canada-United States interparliamentary group, of which Stangeland is the only member in the House delegation.

"We hope that our discussions with our Canadian colleagues will help bring about greater cooperation and coordination between the grain export policies of our two nations," stated Stangeland. "This trip is a result of my discussions with Canadian members of the interparliamentary group during meetings in Canada and San Deigo. I think that it is particularly important at this time and am pleased that it has materialized after a year's effort," continued Stangeland.

The lawmakers are expected to discuss differences and similarities between Canadian and American agricultural policies, and to explore the possibility of increased cooperation in order to achieve a better economic price for North American wheat.

"It is inconceivable to me, with our two countries supplying 70 per cent of the world's wheat, that we have to sell at such low prices. We should use every tool available to us to assure a fair return for our farmers and a favorable balance of trade," said Stangeland.

Federal Crop Insurance Is Boon This Year

Farmers in the parched Red river valley who decided last spring to manage risk by taking out federal crop insurance will be better off financially than if they had not, according to USDA officials. Federal crop insurance has approximately $45 million in liability in the drought stricken counties.

"Indemnities paid to farmers could reach as high as 60 to 70 per cent of the total liability depending on the rainfall during the balance of the growing season for sugar beets and sunflowers," said Will Dufresne, regional director of the federal crop insurance corporation in St. Paul. Over 600,000 acres of wheat, barley, sugar beets, sunflowers, flax and oats are covered by federal crop insurance in the counties hardest hit by the drought.

The amount of payment depends on the percentage of coverage selected by the farmer at planting time. Farmers who have maximum coverage will receive payments covering the majority of expenses for their seed, fertilizer, herbicide and fuel. Farmers who decided to take greater risks by selecting a lower crop coverage will receive payment for smaller proportions of their crop yield.

Federal crop insurance provides protection from all natural disasters and includes wheat, barley, oats, flax, sunflowers and sugar beets grown in the Red river valley. Payments are made in addition to payments farmers receive from disaster relief programs.

Sunflower and sugar beet farmers who participate in the non-profit crop insurance program will be eligible for payments if their production falls below their guarantee. Those two major crops in the Red river valley are not included in the ASCS disaster program.

The economy in the drought area can expect to feel the boost of federal crop insurance payments sometime in August. Payments are received about a month after the final claim is filed. Additional adjusters are being employed to speed up claims during the emergency. They will be concentrated in the hardest hit counties of Marshall, Kittson, Roseau and Polk.

Farmers are urged to notify the federal crop insurance office in the county prior to destroying any of their crop so an appraisal on the crop may be made.

Grill Can Be Hazard When Care Not Taken

For those planning to entertain this weekend with sizzling hamburgers or mouthwatering steaks straight from the outdoor grill, the Minnesota safety council has some pointers for cooking out over a barbeque fire:

(1) Use a commercially prepared special liquid, solid fire starter, wood shavings or an Underwriters Laboratories listed electric starter. Don't substitute gasoline or cigarette lighter fluid for commercial products designed for the job.

(2) If you use a liquid starter, let it soak into the coals for a couple of minutes before igniting it. Avoid pouring more fluid on the coals once they're lighted — a vapor explosion is the possible result.

(3) Use your outdoor grill away from flammable materials such as that stack of wood for next winter's fire or the gallon can of gasoline for a power mower.

(4) If the weather threatens to dampen your cook-out, don't be tempted to use the outdoor grill inside. Coals give off deadly carbon monoxide. It's best to postpone your barbeque to a sunny day.

I-R CANDIDATE Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls filed July 1 for the office of state representative for District 1-B at the secretary of state's office in St. Paul. The district includes Pennington, Red Lake and parts of Marshall and Polk counties.

C. Christensen Files For MN. Legislature

Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls filed July 1 for the office of state representative for District 1B, comprised of Pennington, Red Lake and parts of Marshall and Polk counties.

In filing for the office, Christensen stated, "It is my intention to use my years of experience in local government on a state level to represent the people of the district.

"I have seen the necessity for very careful consideration of individual and local needs, and have recognized the necessity of meeting those needs within the confines of our fiscal capability," Christensen added.

"Our area has problems that are unique to a rural setting. The need for good roads, quality education and property tax relief are just some of the areas that must be addressed differently in northwestern Minnesota than in the urban area," Christensen said.

"I have learned the importance of communicating with those whom you represent. I will listen and respond to the people of District 1B to the best of my ability."

Christensen is a life-long resident of the Thief River Falls area, having farmed here all his life. He and his sons operate a diversified farm east of Thief River Falls. Christensen has served on the Northwestern Hospital board, Valley Home board, school board and township board and has been an active member of his church as well as other community organizations.

Christensen and his wife, Verna, have four children. Mrs. Christensen is the former Verna Sollom of Newfolden.

"I am looking forward to meeting and visiting with many of the people all across District 1B during the campaign," Christensen added.

Stumpf Files For Office In Legislature

DFL-endorsed candidate LeRoy Stumpf filed for election to the District 1-B seat in the Minnesota House of Representatives this week. Stumpf, 36, will be seeking his first term in the legislature.

Stumpf lives and farms near Plummer with his wife Carol and their children Jeny and Tom.

Stumpf is a board member of the Inter-county Community council, past president Northwest Stockmen's association, member of the Farmers Union and Sons of Norway and several other farm and community organizations. He also worked as county extension agent for the University of Minnesota.

Stumpf believes that taxes, economy in government and energy concerns will be some of the main issues dominating this year's campaign and will also be the priorities of the 1981 Legislature.

"My many concerns about state issues, as well as many local problems, prompted me to seek election to the House," Stumpf said. "I look forward to representing the interests of District 1-B at the state level, and pledge to conduct an open and fair campaign. It is my plan to speak personally to as many area residents as possible during the upcoming weeks. Good communication between the people in this district and their elected officials is the key to responsive and good government".

Alice Meigard Candidate In Queen Pageant

She also was a member of the girls' athletic association and served on the staff of the "Chronicle", the high school student newspaper.

Moving on to the University of Minnesota at Crookston, she took business courses for two years and this spring received her associate of applied science in business degree. She hopes to attend the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks in the future to earn a bachelor's degree in business education. At UMC she was on the dean's list and earned first place honors in the general office division of UMC's competitive events.

Alice likes to travel whenever she can, is interested in music, enjoys summer sports including swimming, tennis and biking, likes to cook and bake, has a flair for interior design and likes to keep aware of current fashion trends.

Crowned Miss Warren on June 6 to reign over such events as the city's centennial this summer, Alice has ridden in several parades and made other public appearances.

County Fair To Open Here Next Thursday

we will have a carnival that is highly recommended. We do not hesitate to recommend to the public all of these features of the fair."

Oliver (Skip) Swanson, secretary for the fair, urged open class entries for the annual exposition. "We are dependent upon you and your neighbors for entries," he reminded residents of the area, "and we urge you to help make the exhibits of the 1980 fair the best ever. Regardless of how successful our fair may be financially, it cannot be a truly good fair unless there are lots of good entries."

Richard Anderson, treasurer of the association, noted that the liberal premium money available to winners should be an incentive to competition in all classes. Entries for premium prizes are limited to residents of Pennington, Red Lake and Marshall counties with the exception of livestock divisions where entries are unlimited.

20 Cases Listed By LEC July 8

Thief River Falls law enforcement center listed the following individual cases by reporting date, according to a July 8 listing.

June 26, 4:44 p.m., Third and Main — Roberta Wegge of Thief River Falls was stopped at a red light facing north on Main, where she looked right and left before proceeding to make a right turn on the red light as Tricia Armstrong, 13, also of Thief River Falls, was riding a bike and attempted to cross the street going west in the crosswalk. The front of the Wegge vehicle struck Armstrong causing her to sustain a knee injury. No damages resulted to the bike or the car.

July 1 — A person witnessing the attempted theft of gasoline from his vehicle called the police who arrived at the scene to find the witness with one subject in custody while the other had fled the scene. Subject charged with theft is Loren D. Stigen, 20, Thief River Falls.

June 30 — Jim Fremstad of Johnson Realty reported that someone had stolen the "For Sale" sign valued at $20 from the front of a house located at 316 W. Fifth street.

June 28—First and Main, 2:49 p.m. — Lester Spalding of Thief River Falls was traveling east on First street in a truck-van when the front of his vehicle collided with the rear of a parked car owned by Harry C. Jasperson of Thief River Falls. The Jasperson vehicle was parked legally facing east on First street. Damages to the Spalding vehicle estimated at $800 and $900 to the Jasperson vehicle. No injuries were reported.

June 29 — Mrs. William Dicken of 830 S. Kendall reported that someone had taken their gold 1976 Chrysler two-door hardtop car valued at $3,000 from their garage. June 30 the car was found one mile south of Newfolden with a flat tire. Recovered value of the car was $2,990. Theft is under investigation.

July 1—4:07 p.m., Kendall and Michael Street — Thelma Berggren of Thief River Falls was traveling south on Kendall and Jon Ness of Thief River Falls was traveling east on Michael when the two vehicles collided in the intersection. Both of the vehicles were totaled. Debra Johnson, a passenger in the Berggren vehicle, injured her right leg, Berggren cut her left knee, and Jeff Ness, a passenger in the Ness vehicle, cut his left leg.

July 1 — Thune-Upham and Associates reported that someone had stolen a concrete cast resting lion statue (one of a set) valued at $500 from a walkway at the Ed Broughton residence. Theft is under investigagion.

Important Trucking Reforms

Farmers, shippers and the American consumer won a major victory recently as the House and Senate agreed to a bill to reform trucking regulations. As a result, billions of dollars will be saved annually and several hundred million gallons of fuel will be conserved.

As a member of the House Public Works and Transportation Committee, I have been working for almost two years to get this legislation passed. Provisions include easing entry requirements for new companies, fostering greater route and rate competition, conserving energy, and the elimination of many unnecessary restrictions on the movements of goods and property.

One of my main concerns was including language to provide substantial benefits to farmers and agriculture interests. It was with this in mind that I introduced an amendment to the bill in subcommittee which stated that independent owner operators could transport agricultural soil conditioners, agricultural limestone and fertilizers simply by showing they are "fit, willing and able." The amendment, however, was defeated by a 12 to 11 margin in subcommittee but was reintroduced before the full Public Works and Transportation Committee which accepted it. An attempt was made on the House floor during debate to delete this important amendment but, following my explanation for its need, these efforts were dropped.

This amendment will also substantially ease requirements for farmers or other independents in hauling these agricultural products, thereby reducing empty backhauls which, until now, have made it very costly for farmers to transport their agricultural products to market.

This trucking legislation also allows for eased entry requirements for foods and edible products, thereby expanding market opportunities for independent owner operators. Furthermore, this bill increases the number of exempt commodities by exempting livestock and poultry feed along with seeds and plants that are hauled to a farm or to a business that sells to producers of goods used in agricultural production.

By broadening the agricultural exemptions in this manner, the farmer will be allowed to haul more products free of ICC economic regulation. Agricultural cooperative associations will also be allowed to haul up to 25 per cent of their total interstate tonnage in non-farm, non-member foods, in movements incidental and necessary to their primary business as cooperative associations. Currently, such cooperatives may transport only 15 per cent of their total interstate tonnage in such goods.

This bill is a reasoned compromise and, even though it will not satisfy everyone, it will do away with the most wasteful, restrictive practices that have burdened the trucking industry. As a result, we can expect to see agricultural products transported more efficiently and at less cost and, in addition, a number of the transportation problems which have frequently inconvenienced farmers and the agriculture industry will be eliminated.

Baseball Is Featured

Baseball, offered at nearly every age level, is being featured in this week's Thief River Falls sports schedule.

Play started yesterday (Tuesday) in the second annual Thief River Falls invitational baseball tournament for 11-12-year-olds. Played on the Little League diamond at the fairgrounds, the tournament features four Thief River Falls teams — Twins, Yankees, A's and Blue Jays, along with entries from Red Lake Falls, Goodridge, Middle River and Oklee. Finals of the event are scheduled Thursday, with the consolation title being decided at 2 p.m.; third place game at 4; and championship contest at 6.

Two league titles will be decided Thursday night when an American Legion confrontation will send Thief River Falls to East Grand Forks for a 7 p.m. Northwest League showdown and an all-Thief River Falls Babe Ruth game of 14-15-year-olds between the Elks and Independents will decide the Lake Agassiz Southern Division pennant at 8 p.m. on the fairgrounds diamond.

Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks will enter Thursday's American Legion shoot-out deadlocked for the Northwest League lead with one loss apiece in the six-team standings that will be used to determine post-season seeding for sub district tournament play later this month.

It was a memorable 9-8 Thief River Falls victory when the two teams met here last month. But the game itself was overshadowed by arguments, bickering and finally ejection of an East Grand Forks player.

Thief River Falls ran its overall record to 19-7 last night with an 11-3 win over Warroad that completed the team's home field schedule. Final 11 regular season games will be played on the road over the next two weeks, including a Northwest League start at Roseau next Tuesday. East Grand Forks nearly duplicates Thief River Falls' record with an 18-6 mark after a 15-5 Northwest League win over Newfolden last night. While East Grand Forks' lone Northwest League loss was suffered here, Thief River Falls' bid for an unbeaten pennant-winning season was jolted by Crookston 12-2 last week.

And while Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks square off for local American Legion bragging rights, the Thief River Falls Elks and Independents will settle the Babe Ruth question. An Elks win would give them the Lake Agassiz Southern Division pennant. A win by the Independents, who lost to the Elks in their first meeting 8-5 last month, would create a title tie between the two rivals.

It's a nice compliment on the Thief River Falls baseball program that two local teams can be playing for the title on the final day of the regular season. This is the first time Thief River Falls has fielded two 14-15-year-old Babe Ruth teams. In the past the players all performed for the Elks.

Those same 14-15-year-olds will be on the field this weekend for the 12th annual Thief River Falls Elks Babe Ruth tournament. Warroad, Bemidji, Roseau and Goodridge will join the Thief River Falls teams for the tournament that will utilize both the fairgrounds and Northland community college diamonds Saturday. Sunday's finals on the fairgrounds will include the consolation game at 12 noon; third place contest at 2:30 p.m.; and championship final at 5.

Not to be left out, the Thief River Falls 13-year-olds will host Crookston Thursday at 1 p.m. in a Babe Ruth Prep League doubleheader on the fairgrounds.

That's a lot of baseball at a lot of different levels; all free entertainment.

Jury Is Not Selected

Bill Jury did not make the final 17-man roster for the Minnesota team competing in this week's U.S. Junior Olympic hockey trials in Colorado Springs, Colo.

A three-year regular in goal for the Lincoln high school Prowlers, Jury was one of three goaltenders in the Team Minnesota training camp trying to land one of the two available positions on the team. Those spots went to John Columbo of Bloomington and Pat Tierney of Edina.

Forward Ed Christian of Warroad and defenseman Mark Huglen of Roseau were selected for the team that is now playing against a field of three other regional entries in Colorado Springs. The 68 junior-aged (17-19-year-old) players in the trials will be screened for the selection of the 1981 U.S. junior national hockey team that will compete in Munich, West Germany.

No-Hitter Is Pitched In TRF Tournament

A no-hitter pitched by Jeff Anderson of the Thief River Falls Blue Jays highlighted opening round play Tuesday in the second annual Thief River Falls invitational baseball tournament for 11-12-year-olds.

Thief River Falls teams won all four quarterfinal games in the eight-team tournament as the Twins blanked Red Lake Falls 4-0, the Yankees handled Goodridge 25-2, the A's knocked off Middle River 4-1 and the Blue Jays stopped Oklee 11-0.

Semifinals in both championship and consolation round brackets were scheduled to be played today (Wednesday). Consolation games featured Red Lake Falls vs. Goodridge at 12 noon and Middle River vs. Oklee at 2 p.m. Championship round matches include the Twins vs. Yankees at 4 p.m. and the A's vs. Blue Jays at 6.

Thursday's finals will start with the consolation title game at 2 p.m.; third place game at 4; and championship game at 6. All games are being played on the Thief River Falls Little League diamond.

Coaches Play 12-Year-Olds Friday Night

Third annual exhibition baseball game matching the Thief River Falls youth baseball program coaches against the Major League 12-year-olds will be played as a doubleheader Friday on the Thief River Falls Little League diamond.

The coaches will face the 12-year-olds from the Blue Jays and the A's at 5:30 p.m., catch their second wind and then square off against the 12-year-olds from the Yankees and Twins at 7.

Representing the coaches Friday will be Ron Novak, Neil Carlson, Myron Peterson, Bill Blankenfeld, Tim Engelstad, Jim Hallamek, Wayne Huseth, Jim Nyland, Paul Williams, Charlie Cornell, Bruce Williams, Bill Olson and Paul Qualley.

Fans are invited to watch the spirited action.

Golf Lessons Will Be Given At Country Club

An intensive golf lesson instruction package will be offered at the Thief River Country Club July 17-21. Special emphasis on the fundamentals of golf will be featured throughout the five-day lesson package.

The lessons are open to anyone who is interested in improving their golf game. Cost for the five-lesson program will be $15, including video tape swing analysis.

Dick Skay will be the instructor. The lessons begin Thursday, July 17, at 7 p.m. at the Country Club driving range. Reservations for the package can be made by calling the golf club pro shop at 681-2955.

Shoot Canceled By Sportsmen

Pennington county Sportsmen's club sponsored IHMSA sanctioned metallic silhouette match scheduled to be held Sunday, July 13, has been canceled due to a conflict with the Minnesota state rimfire silhouette matches scheduled to be held that day at Lake Elmo.

Detroit Lakes Arm Wrestling Event Is Set

Arm wrestling will be one of the feature attractions of the 45th annual Detroit Lakes Jaycees water carnival, being celebrated July 4-13.

The fifth annual Can-Am arm wrestling tournament will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. on the city beach. Competition will be held in five classes: 150 pounds and under; 151-175 pounds; 170-200 pounds; 200 pounds and over; and women.

Entry fee is $4 per person, $20 for a team entry — consisting of five members, one from each class. Officials are asking contestants to register in advance by sending checks made payable to the Northwest Water Carnival, Matt Brenk, Arm Wrestling Chairman, 1200 Summit Ave., Detroit Lakes, MN 56501.

SLIDING BETWEEN THE legs of Goodridge pitcher Tim Wayne, Thief River Falls Yankees base runner Billy LeTourneau scored on a wild pitch in the first inning of Tuesday's opening round game in the second annual Thief River Falls invitational baseball tournament for 11-12-year-olds. Umpire Wayne Huseth and batter Quincy Lofberg watched the action. The Yankees, scoring 24 runs in the top of the first inning, won the game 25-2. Tournament semifinals are scheduled to be played today (Wednesday), with the consolation, third place and championship games scheduled for Thursday on the Thief River Falls Little League diamond.

Late TRF Attack Beats Upset-Minded Warroad

Held scoreless through four innings, Thief River Falls exploded for 11 runs in the fifth and sixth Tuesday night to become an 11-3 winner over upset-minded Warroad in a Northwest American Legion baseball league game played on the fairgrounds diamond here.

Warroad built a 3-0 lead against the error-plagued Thief River Falls ball club. The game's first batter, Brad Nash, walked to start things. Scott Knutson singled and Nash scored on an error at the plate.

In the third inning, Knutson walked and Wes Ehler singled, with a pair of errors scoring both runners.

Ehler, meanwhile, checked Thief River Falls on two hits through four innings.

But Thief River Falls finally made connection in the fifth when six base hits produced five runs. The sudden attack at the plate included a double by Kelly Gutterud and singles by Mark Harder, Dave Odegaard, Tom Drury, Mark Schmitke and Kevin Sanders.

Thief River Falls' sixth inning included more of the same as nine batters paraded to the plate for four hits and six runs, beginning with a lead-off double by Harder and ending with an RBI sacrifice by Jim Nyland.

Greg Harder pitched the first five innings to pick up the win as Thief River Falls improved its Northwest League record to 7-1 and overall mark to 19-7.

Thief River Falls will be at East Grand Forks for a 7 p.m. battle of Northwest League co-leaders Tuesday. A pair of doubleheaders will be played at Fergus Falls this weekend, with Thief River Falls facing Battle Lake Saturday at 3 p.m. and then meeting Fergus Falls Sunday at 1 p.m.

Men's Golf League . . .

Close Race Featured In Demaret Division

First Northwestern State Bank has a one-stroke edge in the tight Demaret Division race that highlights the fifth week standings in the Thief River Falls men's golf league.

A week ago First Federal and Professional Building were co-leaders in the Demaret Division, seven shots ahead of First Northwestern State Bank. But the July 2 standings show First Northwestern State Bank with a 712, First Federal 713, Northern State Bank 714, Professional Building 715, Lon's 729, Wennberg's 738 and Lee Plumbing & Heating 739.

Dave Kjos, Ken Mayer, Bob Kosel, Roger Rueter and Terry Gere golf for First Northwestern State Bank.

Ekeren Drug continues to lead the Hogan Division standings with a 704, followed by McDonald's 713, Home Box Office 714, Arctic Swingers 727, Elks 730 and Blue Cross 738.

Jack Boyer, Jerry Imgrund, Wally DuChamp, Arnie Lee and Charlie Boyer are Ekeren Drug golfers.

Hartz Wholesale held on to its lead in the Snead Division with a 687, followed by Bridgeman 722, Model Laundry 728, Miracle Water-Gordon's Hallmark 753, Doctors Incorporated 757, Paint & Glass 758 and Larson Music 759.

Bill Corliss, Bill Penning, Alex Easton, Wally Krueger and Ed Gilbert golf for Hartz Wholesale.

Jon Bolen turned in the low gross score for the week with a 34 and Wally Krueger had the low net score with a 29.

Thief River Falls golfers fared well at the Warren shortstop tournament recently when Jay Moum took top honors with a 106, former Thief River Falls resident Tom Zieman of International Falls was second with a 107, Marv Carlson was third with a 110 and Jerry Johnson was fourth with a 111. In addition, Ken Moum and Ken Espeseth finished 1-2 in the first flight.

Elks, Independents To Play For League Title

A first place finish in the final 1980 Lake Agassiz Southern Division baseball league standings will be at stake Thursday when the two Thief River Falls 14-15-year-old teams — the Elks and Independents — meet at 8 p.m. on the fairgrounds diamond.

Both teams were winners Tuesday when the Independents brought home a 21-8 victory from Goodridge and the Elks picked up a pair of forfeit wins over Roseau.

The Elks, scheduled to be at Goodridge for a 1 p.m. league game today (Wednesday), are 13-2 overall. The Independents are 12-6. In league play the Elks have a one-game edge with a 9-1 record to the Independents' 8-2 mark. The Elks beat the Independents 8-5 in their first meeting back on June 11.

There was lots of offense featured in the Independents' victory over Goodridge as the winners banged out 16 base hits, drew 14 walks and stole 10 bases. Dave Stimac was 5-for-6 at the plate, driving in six runs and stealing three bases. Jim Hallamek was 4-for-6 and had three RBI's while Mark Gere and Brian Garceau had two hits apiece.

Winning pitcher Ryan Bakke scattered five hits, but walked eight while striking out five.

Both teams will complete their regular season schedule by participating in the Thief River Falls Elks invitational tournament this weekend. Sub District tournament play starts Tuesday at Crookston.

Thief River Falls surrendered four unearned runs Tuesday and dropped a 4-3 Babe Ruth Prep League game for 13-year-olds at East Grand Forks.

East Grand Forks scored three times in the first inning and then broke a 3-3 tie with a run in the bottom of the fifth inning. The hits were even at four apiece. Tim Nyland was a tough-luck loser on the mound for Thief River Falls, 6-5 for the year.

Thief River Falls 13-year-olds will host Roseau in a 1 p.m. doubleheader Thursday.

Three games that the Minnesota North Stars will play in this fall's precedent-setting hockey tournament in Stockholm are scheduled for Sept. 22, 23 and Sept. 25. The North Stars will face Washington on Sept. 22, Djurgardens on Sept. 23 and AIK on Sept. 25.

Legion Splits Doubleheader

An American Legion baseball doubleheader Sunday afternoon matching Thief River Falls and Detroit Lakes on the fairground diamond here produced a split as Detroit Lakes pulled out a 2-1 first game victory but Thief River Falls bounced back to take the nightcap 4-2.

Detroit Lakes 2
Thief River Falls 1

Offense was at a premium in the doubleheader opener won by Detroit Lakes 2-1.

The visitors started with a 1-0 lead when Rick Melbye homered in the top of the first inning.

Losing pitcher Jeff Ulrich, who gave up just three base hits, got himself in trouble in the third when he hit a batter to start the inning and later issued a wild pitch to score what proved to be the game-winning run.

Thief River Falls threatened to pull it out in the bottom of the seventh when pinch hitter Tom Drury was hit by a pitch, Dave Odegaard singled and Ulrich walked to load the bases. A fielder's choice ground ball to shortstop forced Ulrich at second, but scored Drury. A stolen base put the tying and winning runs in scoring position, but Mark Harder's potential game-winning line-drive to left field was caught on the run by Brett Shasky to end the game.

Thief River Falls 4
Detroit Lakes 2

Another strong Thief River Falls pitching performance earned dividends in the second game as Wayne Huseth pitched a two-hitter in a 4-2 win by the hosts.

Detroit Lakes again began with a 1-0 lead when Rick Melbye singled and later scored on a first inning error.

But Huseth allowed only one more hit and one other run the rest of the way, with Thief River Falls scoring single runs in the second, third, fifth and sixth innings for the win.

Thief River Falls scoring was done in remarkably similar fashion. Jeff Ulrich doubled to lead off the second and scored on a two-out error. Mark Harder's lead-off double in the third was followed by singles by Kevin Sanders and Mark Schmitke. In the fifth, Sanders singled to lead it off, stole second and scored on a two-out double by Ulrich. In the sixth, Jim Nyland opened with a single, stole second and scored on an error tacked on to a sacrifice by Huseth.

TRF Man Is Among Newest DNR Officers

First female conservation officers hired by the State of Minnesota were sworn into service on July 2 along with 15 men, the Department of Natural Resources reported.

Richard Tarte, director of the DNR enforcement division, said the only other female game warden or conservation officer to serve the state was in the early 1930's when the wife of a warden who died filled in for her deceased husband for a short period until a male replacement could be found.

The two new women CO's are Cathy L. Hayes, 22, of Lake Elmo and Joyce A. Minor, 28, of Fridley.

Tarte said the women were required to pass the same written examination, physical agility tests, oral examinations, background investigations, medical examinations and psychological examination as their male counterparts.

Physical agility tests included carrying a canoe over a prescribed distance and placing it on a car, placing a 100 pound sack of sand of a special automobile "deer carrier" or rack, and running an obstacle course.

The two women, together with the 15 other new officers, will first be sent to a two week orientation course at the Arden Hills training center. Following that they will attend a three-day conservation officer school and then be assigned to the field for six months under the supervision of conservation officer trainers.

During this period they will be on probation and carefully evaluated to determine whether or not they should be given permanent status with the department.

Fifteen of the 17 new officer positions are additions to the previously authorized complement of the force. The increase was approved by passage of a bill at the 1980 legislative session.

Timothy P. Miller of Thief River Falls was one of the new conservation officers added to the DNR staff.

Tarte said the addition of these positions brings the total uniformed complement of the enforcement division to 175.

Names of the other new officers and their home towns include:

TRF Trap League Opens Second Half Shooting

Thief River Falls trap league began its second half season shooting Monday at the Marshallton Gun Club with two ties highlighting the results.

Pizza Hut and Auto Body Repair shot to a 121-121 draw while Wilson Brothers and Marshallton Gun Club were deadlocked at 118-118.

Wetlands Are Faced With Uncertainties

For more than 200 years the nation's wetlands — the marshes, swamps, and bogs found across the country — were considered wastelands, fit only for draining and filling. Now, however, wetlands are recognized as a priceless natural resource. Unfortunately, of the estimated 200,000 square miles of wetlands that existed in what are now the "lower 48" states when the first settlers stepped ashore in America, nearly half have been obliterated. And, according to the president's council on environmental quality, about 470 square miles are destroyed every year to make way for airports, marinas, vacation homes and other development.

Against this background, a new threat to the nation's remaining wetlands recently turned up in the House public works and transportation committee. It came in the form of an amendment that was surreptitiously tacked onto an important environmental measure, the oil spill liability bill, which would provide a fund to clean-up oil spills.

The sneak amendment would alter Section 404 of the clean water act by vesting in the Army Corps of Engineers the authority to determine which wetlands are subject to the clean water act. The committee passed the amendment, which will soon come before the entire House for a vote, in an attempt to void Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti's opinion that the U.S. environmental protection agency — not the Corps of Engineers — has final say in any dispute as to whether an area is a wetland.

Now, conservationists are torn: Should they support the important oil clean-up bill? Or oppose it because of the wetlands amendment:

Civiletti made his ruling last September, after a federal district court had stopped the proposed clearing of more than 10,000 acres of forested wetlands in Louisiana's Bayou Natchitoches Basin. In this case, the Corps of Engineers took the position that the wooded bottomlands were not wetlands, and therefore the developer did not need a federal permit, under Section 404 of the clean water act, to clear them. The EPA insisted that the lands were wetlands and that a permit was required. The court upheld the position of the agency, which is generally considered more sensitive to environmental considerations than the Army engineers.

In justifying the amendment to H.R. 85, the House committee claims that Civiletti's ruling creates an "intolerable" administrative situation by confusing the responsibilities of EPA and the Corps under Section 404. However, the Corps and EPA have solved this problem themselves recently by signing a memorandum of understanding which limits EPA involvement in jurisdictional calls under Section 404 to a relatively few special cases where there are legitimate technical disputes involving the designation of an area as wetland or non-wetland.

Why are conservationists so concerned about the nation's wetlands?

Aside from their beauty, these invaluable natural resources serve many vital ecological functions. They are indispensable breeding grounds and refuges for wildlife, including fish, waterfowl and mammals. They produce plant life that is the source of much of the organic matter consumed by shellfish and other aquatic life. The endless chemical reactions that occur in wetlands aid in the natural purification of water, neutralizing sewage and other contaminants, and "recharging" ground water resources. They also act as buffer zones, protecting landward areas against erosion, flood and storm damage.

Wetlands are absolutely essential to the nation's fish supply. Two-thirds of the fish caught commercially off the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, and one-half caught off the Pacific Coast spawn and feed in wetlands.

At stake in this most recent wetlands controversy are more than 1.2 million acres of hardwood bottomland in the lower Mississippi Valley alone, the potholes of the northern prairie states and the ephemeral streams of the arid West. Many of these areas would not be covered by the Corps definition of a wetland. EPA, on the other hand, believes that these wetland resources, as part of the life cycle of many species.

SECOND BASEMAN Trisha Armstrong of the St. Hilaire Saints juggled the ball as she tried to complete a force-out on a Health Hustlers base runner during Monday's Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league game played on the East Side diamond. Outfielder Lynette Huot looked on. The Division I leading Saints ran their record to a league-best 13-1 level with an easy win.

Three Shutouts Posted In Women's Softball

There were three shutouts recorded Monday in the Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league as the gap continues to widen between Division I and Division II teams.

Dwight's Hartz edged the American Legion 2-0 behind Carla Reed's two-hit pitching and is now the only Division II team with a winning record.

Lois Anderson, in addition to pitching a shutout, also homered as the Mush-a-Rettes drilled The Barbers 14-0. Tammy Peterson and Darlene Dahl also hit home runs for the winners.

A shutout was pitched by Dawn Nelson as the Ridge Runners handled Credit Bureau 10-0.

St. Hilaire Saints ran their record to 13-1 with a 23-2 romp over the Health Hustlers as Marlys Huot hit three triples and Patsy Huot, Trisha Armstrong and Penny Johnston all homered. The Saints trailed 2-0 until they scored nine times in the third inning, an outburst that featured two-run home runs by Armstrong and Patsy Huot.

A grand slam home run by Kelly Storhaug sparked Ekeren Drug to a 16-5 win over Walseth Construction. Marlene Foss and Georgine Troska tripled for the winners.

Coco Stokke homored as Pizza Hut defeated Hydra-Mac 9-2; Julie Tunheim hit a home run as Roseau Transport beat the Schmidt Stealers 10-3; and Northern Employers Agency downed Great Northwest Agency 18-3.

Dwight's Hartz is the only team in Division II with a winning record; none of the eight Division I teams have a losing record.

No Surprises Recorded In Monday Slow Pitch

There were no surprises Monday as the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association resumed play after a brief Fourth of July break.

Play was confined to the American League East and West Divisions, and in every case the team with the better record came out a winner, with a match-up of 4-8 teams in the West resulting in a 14-13 nine-inning Home Lumber victory over Terry's Mobil.

In other American League West Division action, front-runner McDonald's-Dallmann got by the upset-minded St. Hilaire Bears 8-5, the American Legion Raiders handled winless Arnold Realty 14-5 and Swenson Plumbing took care of Bridgeman 13-3.

American League East Division leading TRF Merchants defeated Wagon Wheel 18-8, Hobo Haus shaded Furuseth-Nelson 8-5, Popplers-Action Realty brushed off Phase II 13-3 and Coca-Cola was a forfeit winner over Tony Dorn, Inc.

Scores from Tuesday's National League games were hard to come by and as a result standings are not updated.

However, Great Northwest Agency pulled into a first place tie in the National League East Division with Consumer's Co-op by posting a 10-9 eight-inning victory when those two met last night. Kenny Niemala was 5-for-5 for the winners, coming through with a two-out single in the bottom of the eighth to win it.

Richard Holmes collected three base hits as First Federal stayed in the thick of the tight National League West Division with a 6-4 decision over Dallmann Athletic.

First Northwestern Insurance kept pace, too, with a 6-4 triumph over fading Hardees while The Club beat the TRF Aggies 9-5.

Changes Made In Raccoon Hunting Laws

Some new laws affecting raccoon hunting were passed by the 1980 legislature, the Department of Natural Resources noted.

The new provisions go into effect on August 1.

One provides that those who hunt at night for raccoon must be on foot and may use an artificial light only when using dogs.

Another provides that no rifle longer than .22 caliber may be used, and that when shotguns are used the shot must not be larger than No. 4.

Order and Notice of Hearing On Petition For Adjudication Of Intestacy, Determination Of Heirship and Appointment Of Personal Representative In Supervised Administration And Notice To Creditors

State of Minnesota
County of Pennington

PROBATE COURT
COUNTY COURT
PROBATE DIVISION

In Re: Estate of Clifford Storholm, also know as Clifford S. Storholm, Deceased.

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS AND CREDITORS:

It is Ordered and Notice is hereby given that on the 30th day of July, 1980, at 2:00 o'clock P.M., a hearing will be held in the above named Court at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, for the adjudication of intestacy and determination of heirship and for the appointment of Clenore Storholm, whose address is 724 LaBree Avenue North, Thief River Falls, Minnesota as personal representative of the estate of the above named decedent in supervised administration, and any objection thereto must be filed with the court. That, if proper, and no objections are filed, said personal representative will be appointed to administer the estate, to collect all assets, pay all legal debts, claims, taxes, and expenses, and sell real and personal property, and do all necessary acts for the estate. Upon completion of the administration, the representative shall file a final account for the allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the Court, and close the estate.

Notice is further given that ALL CREDITORS having claims against said estate are required to present the same to said personal representative or to the Clerk of the Court within four months after the date of this notice or said claims will be barred.

Dated July 8, 1980.

Notice of Hearing

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN PURSUANT to Chapter 11 of the Municipal Code of Thief River Falls, that Investment Development Company of 509 21st Ave. So., Fargo, N.D., has requested a rezoning of property described as approximately 3.3 acres of land located South of Greenwood Avenue, bounded on the East by Allwood Acres and on the West by Southern Addition. Exact legal description is available in the City Planning Office.

The property is presently zoned Agriculture and the proposed zoning is R-2 with a special use permit for townhouses.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the Planning Commission will hold a hearing on the above rezoning on the 21st day of July, 1980 in the Council Chambers of the City Auditorium at 7:00 p.m. at which time all persons desiring to be heard thereon may be heard. All property owners within 350' of the affected property will be notified by mail and may direct any comments they might have to the City Planning Office at 681-6780 or in writing Box 528, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Dated this 7th day of July, 1980.

TWISTER

It came roaring out of the northeast like a freight train. In a matter of minutes, it had changed the lives of hundreds of people and left a path of death and destruction that few would ever forget.

Why do twisters come? And why are some lives taken and property destroyed, while the lives and homes of others are spared without a scratch?

The laws of nature are mysterious. We can only marvel at the power revealed through violent storms and try to be as best prepared for them as possible. We have the promise of our Lord to be with us: "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

One day we will know the answers to many questions that have long troubled us. Until then we can only "trust in the Lord with all our hearts and lean not unto our own understanding."

Renew your own faith this week. Worship in the church or synagogue of your choice.

Giant Squid Really Maligned Creatures

by Thomas Harney
Smithsonian News Service

Pity the poor giant squid. Through no fault of its own, except perhaps shyness, it has been cast in science fiction stories and movies as a vicious, aggressive sea monster. Rising from the briny depths, it clutches at hapless, helpless ships and people, dragging them off to its murky lair.

In fact, the giant squid is probably one of the most maligned sea creatures inhabiting the ocean, according to the Smithsonian Institution's Dr. Clyde Roper, an expert on these huge animals.

Its misbegotten image, he says, probably stems from its rare encounters with man. Normally, giant squid live in waters close to the ocean bottom, 300 to 500 feet or more down on the edge of canyons and around rocky outcrops of the continental shelf. However, when the animals are sick or dying, they may drift to the ocean's surface.

"Sometimes people in fishing boats have poked or tried to get a line around one of these moribund animals," Roper relates. "In such circumstances, it is a natural reaction for the squid to rear up to protect itself — gripping a boat with its arms and tentacles."

This could be a very unnerving experience for the fishermen. Giant squid can grow to awesome size. The largest one ever measured had a body about 15 feet long with tentacles that gave it an astounding 60-foot total length.

The big animals seldom come to the surface, however, and it is unusual for fishermen to catch them, presumable because giant squid live in rough and inaccessible areas where bottom nets cannot be set.

Even in death, giant squid usually elude man. When one of the dead animals washed ashore on Plum Island off the Massachusetts coast near Boston last February, it was the first giant squid found in U.S. waters in more than 20 years and only the fourth time such an event, called a "stranding," had been recorded in this country. Worldwide, about 100 squid strandings have been documented.

"We have a tremendous number of unanswered questions about giant squid," Roper says. One problem is the lack of specimens to study. Smithsonian's national museum of natural history has one of the largest and most comprehensive research collections of cephalopods — squid, octopus, cuttlefish and chambered Nautilus — in the world, but it does not have an adult giant squid.

Years ago, Roper installed two large tanks in expectation of acquiring a giant squid specimen or two. And indeed, in 1972, two were discovered. Unfortunately, they turned out to be anything but giant in size. They were in fact the smallest specimens of giant squid ever found — Two four-inch-long juveniles recovered from the stomachs of deep-sea fish.

So scientists rely heavily on strandings as a major source of information on the animal's distribution and biology. Giant squid are known to favor cold waters and wash up more frequently on the coasts of Newfoundland and Norway, for example, than in the United States. Because areas of these coasts are sparsely populated, quite a few strandings are believed to have gone unreported. Even when strandings were reported in earlier times, the animals often were cut up for fish bait or dog food before the specimens could be acquired by zoologists for study.

Scientists who have examined the few specimens preserved in museums theorize that the giant squid may not be very strong swimmers. They are not as heavily muscled as some of the "power swimmers" — the medium-sized oceanic squid. Nevertheless, a few eyewitness accounts suggest that the giant squid are by no means sluggish.

One ship captain several years ago reported an extraordinary sight — a whole school of giant squid at the surface of the ocean on the Grand Banks off the coast of Newfoundland. Many of the smaller species of squid in the ocean swim in schools, Roger says, so the report is not necessarily fantasy.

However, he adds, stories about encounters with giant squid of vast proportions and aggressive behavior are ridiculous.

"Most giant squid we find are in the 20 to 40-foot range, and I think it is unlikely that they get much larger than 60 feet," he says. "Nevertheless, some people seem to feel that there must be monsters and other huge creatures around. In my view, the lives of real animals are so exciting and fascinating that it's not necessary to make up huge and grotesque creatures that don't exist."

Roper was among the scientists who examined and measured the Plum Island giant squid at the New England aquarium in Boston, where the preserved animal is currently being exhibited. The 450-pound creature required four men to carry it off the beach — on a stretcher. The squid had reddish maroon skin and black eyes about 10 inches in diameter, the body was six and one-half feet long, the head two feet and the eight arms six to eight feet each. Seven of the eight arms were nearly intact with only tips missing, but the two long feeding tentacles were entirely missing. When it had those two tentacles, Roper estimates, the giant squid's overall length was 25 to 30 feet.

When the summer is over, the squid will be sent to Harvard's museum of comparative zoology where Roper and MCZ curator Dr. K. H. Boss will examine it more closely and dissect it.

"If it turns out to be a female, as we suspect," Roper says, "we can determine by its ovarian development if it was immature or mature, and if it had spawned. The females of some small species of squid die after spawning, but I doubt that this happens with a giant squid. The Plum Island giant squid could have been five or more years old; it would be a tremendous biological waste for the animal to spend so much energy and time growing and then die as soon as maturation and spawning take place."

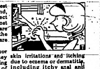
Roper believes the chances are slight that one of the animals will be captured alive or observed and photographed in its deep water habitat. So scientists will continue to rely on strandings and specimens recovered from the stomachs of sperm whales.

"The largest of the toothed whales feeds extensively on squid, including the giant squid," Roper says. "A 35-foot-long giant squid was found intact in a sperm whale's stomach. Clearly, the sperm whale hunts in the deep sea habitat of the giant squid and is well adapted for capturing it.

"This and the fact that sperm whales often bear circular scars on their heads around their mouths, scars which may have been made by the sucker disks of giant squid tentacles, have created a mental image for people of great deep-sea struggles between squid and whales.

"But in my opinion, the giant squid is no match for the sperm whale. The 'battle' would most likely consist of the squid trying to escape as quickly as possible from the 70-ton toothed whale!"

A Better Way To Ditch That Itch!



Your skin is the largest organ of your body. And, like the others, it is subject to a variety of ills. In most cases these conditions are minor, and some of the more common problems are itching and irritation.

But there's nothing minor about the discomfort they can cause. Anyone suffering from poison ivy, the bite of an insect or allergy rashes wants just one thing: safe, immediate relief.

Now consumers can purchase a more effective remedy for minor skin irritations than has ever been available before without a prescription.

The new DERMOLATE products are based on the active ingredient hydrocortisone, which up until now was available only with a doctor's prescription. Hydrocortisone at low concentrations has recently been approved for non-prescription sale, making it possible for pharmacists to recommend it for the treatment of skin conditions which have previously been treated with less effective preparations.

DERMOLATE provides symptomatic relief of minor skin irritations and itching due to eczema or dermatitis, including itchy anal and scalp areas; allergic rashes such as poison oak, poison ivy and poison sumac; and rashes due to soaps, detergents, cosmetics and jewelry.

It is the only nonprescription hydrocortisone available in four formulations for distinct skin areas. These formulations — cream, spray, lotion and ointment — are designed for convenient application on the skin area involved.

DERMOLATE Hydrocortisone is available from Schering, one of the nation's most respected drug manufacturers.

Whenever you or any member of your family are bothered by minor skin conditions, consult your pharmacist. He can recommend the proper specific treatment to bring you safe, effective relief.

Conservation Stressed By Power Group

Power plant siting advisory committee today told the Minnesota environmental quality board (MEQB) how conflicts over new electric power plants and high voltage transmission lines can be reduced. Most importantly, energy conservation should be actively promoted so that fewer new plants and lines are needed.

Any new plants that are needed should be small (under 400 megawatts) and should be designed so their waste heat can be used for industrial heat or space heat, the committee said, and further recommended that new plants should use various alternative fuels and technologies.

Power plant siting advisory committee is appointed annually by the MEQB to advise it and the MEQB's power plant siting program staff. The MEQB is responsible for siting large electric power plants and routine high voltage transmission lines in Minnesota.

This year's advisory committee includes business owners, livestock and grain farmers, environmentalists and other interested citizens from all parts of Minnesota. The 25-member committee focused on three general power plant issues: plant size, cogeneration and alternative fuels.

The committee's findings and recommendations are presented in its report entitled "Options for Electric Energy Supply." Jeanne Crampton, who chaired this year's committee, said, "The committee believes that an effective conservation program will cost both consumers and electric utilities less than building a large number of new plants. We believe that the simplest, most direct and effective method of dealing with the problems of siting new power plants is to eliminate the need for them through conservation."

Committee also recommended that any new plants that are needed should be relatively small so that the amount of land taken from any one community is reduced and located near the electric consumers so that transmission line additions can be reduced.

According to the committee, new power plants can be built to provide some tangible benefits to the community including burning municipal solid waste as a fuel supplement and providing a relatively cheap heat source for space heating or industrial processes. One possibility that was suggested by the committee is to use the waste heat in the production of alcohol fuels.

Copies of the committee's report are available from: Power Plant Siting Program, Minnesota Environmental Quality board, 550 Cedar Street, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

Some 93 million veterans, dependents and survivors of deceased veterans — or approximately 41 per cent of the total population of the United States — are potentially eligible for Veterans Administration benefits and services.

Exposure To Sun Is Summer Hazard

This year, at least one million Americans will need treatment for overexposure to the sun. Adults often can't wait to tan gradually and children often can't wait to get out in the sun and play. But it doesn't take long before all are reminded of the painful effects of overexposure to the sun.

As the peak of the sun season approaches, a Twin Cities physician offers the following warnings for parents and children.

—Children, especially babies, should be introduced to the sun gradually and with extreme caution. If they have light complexions, they should be introduced to the afternoon sun (after 4) for five minutes the first day, 10 the second, 15 the third, adding five minutes each day.

—It is essential that children be adequately supervised and protected while their skin is exposed. Legs, feet, shoulders, skin on the inside elbow joints and backs of knees should not be allowed to burn.

—Never allow direct or reflected sunlight to shine on a baby's eyes even though he or she may be sleeping. Cover eyes with pads or a soft cloth. If a child is old enough, make sure that he or she wars proper sunglasses.

Almost all the burning ultra violet rays are reflected by water and can produce an agonizing burn. Protect yourself and your child with a good sunscreen, a broad-brimmed hat and long terry beach robe. At all times, babies should be protected from sun reflected off the water.

—Infants and children can tolerate only half as much exposure as adults and usually get a sunburn after a brief exposure.

—The sun from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. is the most dangerous. In the early stages of sun exposure you can get a burn just by staying in the sun too long, whether it is 9 in the morning or 4 in the afternoon.

—Not all parts of the body react the same way to the sun. Noses, ears and bald heads are especially vulnerable. Legs, which also burn easily, can become very painful.

—If a member of your family is taking a prescription drug, check with your doctor to make sure it's safe to stay out in the sunlight.

—If you stay out in the summer sun for any length of time, either at work or play, wear something on your head, drink plenty of water and stop your activity at the first sign of dizziness or weakness.

In case of sunburn, use ointments, wet compresses, a lightweight mineral oil or bland cold cream. If the burn is really painful or if blistering is extensive, consult your doctor at once.

Tips On Summer Eye Care

Odd-colored sunglasses may look good but can interfere with true color perception. Eye specialists say stick with natural gray, green or brown.

A vacation may not be just what the doctor ordered—for your eyes, unless you're careful.

Annoying and sometimes seriously sunburned eyes are just one of the hazards your eyes may face on a vacation. Other typical vacation-related problems are black eyes and eye socket fractures from baseball beanings or rackets, cuts and bruises from excursions into the woods, dry eyes from overexposure to wind and stinging, burning eyes from chlorinated swimming pools.

Although the low-grade irritation from pools usually clears up within a short time, cool compresses or decongesting eye drops available over the counter will ease discomfort, says the American Association of Ophthalmology, an organization of physicians specializing in eye care.

Eye drops can also help eyes dried by long exposure to the wind, but they should be used sparingly and according to directions. Those who have spent hours on a beach in the bright sun may also experience temporary night blindness, so they should be cautious about driving home at night.

A far more serious problem is the eye sunburn common to skiers. Temporary blindness known as actinic keratitis can result from too-great exposure to the intense ultraviolet rays of the sun in clear air.

Like sunburn, its symptoms do not occur immediately, and the victim may not realize until the middle of the following night that his eyes have been burned. He may wake up in intense pain, unable to open his eyes.

Such cases call for immediate care in an emergency room, preferably by an ophthalmologist, as do all serious cuts and bruises. Only an ophthalmologist, who is a doctor of medicine (or osteopathy), has the training and expertise to provide total eye care.

What can you do to protect your eyes while on vacation? Eye physicians suggest safety glasses for sports such as tennis and racquet ball and a good pair of sunglasses, large enough to cover the sensitive skin around the eyes, yet permit peripheral vision during those active summer days.

THEN and NOW!

Happy Birthday, Reader's Digest Readers

When Reader's Digest began offering quality books at bargain prices through the mails in 1950, it is unlikely that even its editors were fully aware of the growth it would enjoy.

The first volume of Reader's Digest Condensed Books went to an audience of about 180,000. Today, as it marks its 30th anniversary, Reader's Digest Condensed Books counts its readership in the millions, and ranks as one of the two or three largest publishers of hardcover books in the world.

At the hub of this remarkable enterprise are twenty editors who read about 2000 books every year in order to select the 20 to 25 volumes that go into Condensed Books.

What makes Condensed Books so popular? One reason, its editors and readers agree, is that they preserve the flavor of the original works at a much-reduced length. Condensed Books enable busy readers to enjoy the color, the characters, the essence of the best current literature at a fraction of the time—and cost—they would normally require.

As much as they value the acclaim of readers, Condensed Books' editors are even more proud of the approval of the authors whose works they condense. Typical is the praise offered by Rumer Godden, who wrote: "Yours are the only condensations I have ever felt happy about. They are a lesson in precis for any author."

The question most frequently asked of Condensed Books' editors: "Which of your books have been the most popular with readers?" For many years the answer was "The Nun's Story." That was replaced eventually by James Herriot's memoirs, "All Creatures Great and Small." Others among the all-time "top ten" are "Not as a Stranger," "Airport," "The Caine Mutiny" and "A Palm for Mrs. Pollifax."

As it enters its fourth decade of publishing, Reader's Digest Condensed Books would seem to have ample reason to crow over past successes, and look forward to future growth.

Our Independence

"When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation."

With these words the Continental Congress in Philadelphia began the declaration which was to separate the North American colonies from Great Britain on July 4, 1776. And whether we observed it or not, this was the act which we commemorated with the national holiday on Friday. . . July Fourth. . . Independence Day.

It is well that we mark more of the words from that declaration written by Thomas Jefferson and subjected to 86 changes by the congress.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident," the declaration continues, "that all men are created equal, that they were endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness."

The declaration goes on to set forth the grievances which the colonies had with the mother country and its monarch. And finally it states, in language totally clear if somewhat complicated, what the declaration is about:

"We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress, assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions do, in the name, and by authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do.

"And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

In adopting the declaration the colonies brought down upon themselves the wrath of a world power which waged a determined and bloody war in an attempt to bring them back into line. That persistent war, from 1775 to 1783, resulted in 4,435 battle deaths and 6,188 wounded, according to incomplete records of the U.S. defense department.

By today's standards of population and weapons capable of mass annihilation those totals may not sound great. But to a fledgling nation with a ragtag army and the British nation sending troops far beyond its own shores the losses must have been staggering.

With spirit and determination the revolutionaries persevered and forged out of the chaos a nation such as the world has never known. Based on freedom. . . "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness". . . the nation has grown and prospered and become a haven for the oppressed with a generosity almost to a fault.

But without those first few brave men in the Continental Congress, those who dared to defy a monarch and who chose freedom above all else, there would be no Independence Day to celebrate. And what a loss that would have been for the world and all of us privileged to live in this great land.

Go And Do Likewise

Columnist Lois Trapp wrote the following in the Grafton Record:

When the slogan "Cheaper Crude or No More Food" began appearing on the bumpers of farm pickups, agricultural experts and conservative farm organizations dismissed it as more of that American Agriculture Movement nonsense.

Free trade had produced the astounding grain exports which ended grain surpluses and helped our trade balance against rising costs of oil. That it had also led to the inflation of land value beyond its productivity and tripled machinery cost and other farm inputs was beside the point.

When we talk of free trade, there is some evidence, however, that we are talking of the world as we wish it were and not as it is. We have always paid lip service to free trade, although cynics might point out that American business has always been more enthusiastic about free trade in raw materials than in competition against their finished products.

Today, with the OPEC cartel dictating oil prices, with the Communist bloc countries using government trading monopolies to play producer against producer, with the increasing use of subsidies, tax concessions and rebates by other nations to exert control over basic commodities, we are playing a game in which everyone else uses different rules.

For some time the United States has been subsidizing the world with its food. OPEC countries are buying American food with deflated dollars and inflated gold prices. Other countries buy it with American loans. The immense exports have put a strain on our transportation system and it is the American taxpayer who pays for inprovements in road beds and waterways, all to speed our food to the rest of the world.

Few of us would begrudge food sent to the hungry undeveloped nations. It is a different story when dealing with the industrialized nations, the Communist bloc and the OPEC nations. Free trade is not worth the effort as it is actually costing us money.

There are gloomy experts who say that by the year 2000 there will be no food to export. The resources needed to produce America's miracle crops are not renewable. Oil and natural gas for fuel, fertilizer and pesticides are ever more expensive and in shorter supply. Irrigation is drawing down the water table under many of our prime agricultural lands. We lose 35,000 acres of land a week to highways, airports and housing developments. Large scale agriculture is resulting in increased erosion of our soil. Can we then afford to keep on exporting cheap food at prices set by the free market and importing oil, and other commodities at whatever the traffic will bear?

The drop in grain prices since the Carter embargo is pointed to by many as an illustration of how government interference in the free market plays hob with farm prices. Despite that embargo, we exported more of the 1979 crop than ever before in history. Some economists believe that high interest rates and the start of the world recession are more important factors than the embargo.

The multinational grain companies run an efficient and sophisticated system that collects grain from every corner of the country and channels it around the world. God forbid that the government should try to take over that system. Considering the woes of the postal system, even the most ardent socialist would blanch at the prospect.

Dan Morgan, in an article in the recent "Atlantic" suggests that just as the Federal Reserve regulates the money supply without destroying the banking system, a grain reserve board or similar public authority, independent of political interference, could price grain exports and equip the United States with the leverage to negotiate long-term access to oil and other foreign resources, yet leave the selling to the grain companies.

Of course, to be successful, this would also require some agreement between the U.S., Canada, and perhaps other grain exporting countries, to stop cutting each others' throats in the battle for grain markets. That might not be easy, but the last OPEC meeting illustrates that even when they cannot agree on anything, they manage to keep the price up and use the threat of oil cut-off for their own political purpose. Perhaps we should go and do likewise.

Borrowed Nonsense:

The political candidate had gone to the pastor of his church for an endorsement. "Before I give you my support," the pastor said, "I must ask you a question. Do you partake of alcoholic beverages?"

"Before I give you my answer," the politician replied, "I must ask you a question . . . Is this an inquiry or an invitation?"

One nice thing about gardening is that if you put it off long enough, eventually it will be too late.

Innovative music companies looking to the future are reportedly designing guitars powered by windmills for no-nuke folk singers.

Hints For Homeowners

Home Improvement, Safety And Economy New...For A Better Home

Few if any of us have ever thought of simply walking the aisles of a modern hardware store to see "what's new," but it makes good sense. Almost every day a new product appears that either does a job once not possible or does a job quicker, easier and cheaper. And they're made for the economy-minded, do-it-yourself homeowner who is most likely also an energy-conserver.

If you take a look, you'll find some of these recent newcomers:

- compact Dura-Chimney maintenance kits for removal of soot and creosote deposits.
- home and family security devices—fire and anti-intrusion alarms—become better and less costly every day. No home should be without these effective, easy-to-install protectors.
- wrap-around No-Drip Tape halts sweating and dripping of cold water pipes, and insulates hot water pipes to prevent heat loss.
- a tool that does the work of many is a Crescent adjustable wrench,—it even fits metric-sized nuts.
- a Sta-Put aerosol spray prevents slipping of area and scatter rugs.
- easy-up wallpaper, called Flair Squares, lets you work with small sections at a time for perfect pattern match.

- Wisper-Lite scissors and utility shears make all cutting a lightweight breeze in the sewing center, kitchen and workshop—you'll find them in department store notions sections.
- a Handy Dandy Trash Bag Stand replaces conventional heavy cans. A frame of hardwood dowels holds any standard 30 gallon heavy-duty trash bag.
- formulated powder called Quik-Rok becomes pourable when mixed with water and stronger than concrete. for patching and sealing.

These are but a handful of what's new or improved. Why not go "hardware shopping" and find the easier ways to the making of a better home.

U.S. Immigration Policy and the Cubans

President Carter is claiming a moral victory over Cuban President Fidel Castro by taking action to allow more than 100,000 Cuban refugees to enter the United States. He seems to be of the opinion that our acceptance of these people shows to the world the abuses of Castro's totalitarian government but, in the meantime, Castro has demonstrated that he, instead of Mr. Carter, is in control of our immigration policy.

On March 17, the President signed into law the Refugee Act of 1980, which is designed to replace a number of existing relief programs enacted sporadically over the years to meet international crises. The new act also established a regular process for refugee admissions, an emergency admissions procedure, new procedures for granting asylum and a new refugee resettlement program.

Under this act, a total of 320,000 refugees and immigrants were to be allowed into the country each year. Under normal circumstances, the act projected a flow of 50,000 refugees per year. President Carter, however, has decided to allow that number to rise considerably in violation of the law which states that more than 50,000 refugees can be admitted following appropriate consultation with Congress.

The intent of this law is to establish proper channels for admitting and processing refugees. Because of the Administration's lack of a firm refugee policy, the taxpayers are being called upon to support tens of thousands of Cubans who may never meet the requirement of political refugees. Problems could have been reduced or possibly avoided if the president had acted quickly and decisively under the Refugee Act.

In my opinion, the following steps should be taken to resolve this problem:

First, the President should insist that the U.N. High Commissioner on Refugees assume the responsibility of placing these Cuban refugees in other countries and enforcing such agreements.

Second, the President should determine which refugees are "political refugees," and those which are not. He should also consult with Congress under the terms of the Refugee Act in regard to such determinations.

Third, any Cubans determined not to be "political refugees," found to be undesirable or who have come or may come solely for economic reasons, should be deported, returned to Cuba or sent to a third country which would agree to accept or return them to Cuba.

Fourth, the Department of Justice should promptly prosecute any persons who have encouraged or engaged in bringing Cuban refugees to the United States and have knowingly violated federal laws or an executive order.

Fifth, the federal government should be wholly responsible for the funding of the refugees, not states or local communities.

The U.S. must regain control in this refugee crisis. We cannot be expected to accept everyone who may or may not be classified as a refugee. The Department of Health and Human Resources estimates that processing each refugee will cost $1,200 with the overall cost being estimated at between $300 million and $1 billion. In addition, these individuals will be eligible for welfare, food stamps, medicaid, government work programs such as CETA, and other federal programs.

I am not opposed to the United States participating in the refugee crisis but currently the, influx of refugees totals more than the population of Clay and Otter Tail counties, the two largest counties in the Seventh district. President Carter should be appealing to other countries to accept their fair share. Without equal distribution, the U.S. will be faced with higher unemployment and higher budget deficits and the overall impact to the country will be felt for a long time to come.

Family Get-Together

Thursday evening, July 3, many relatives gathered at the Curtis Swanson home. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Claffy and Mrs. Mike Claffy and Stacy, all of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jorde, Mrs. Dawn Berard, Julie and Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jorde, Tami and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Blodgett and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ranum, Olaf Jorde, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja of Smiley, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson and Terry of Detroit Lakes, Clarence Jorde, Mrs. Clara Jaennette and Wesley Swanson and friend Shirley. Dolly Claffy and Cherry Johnson brought a beautifully decorated cake to honor Mrs. Jaennette on her 80th birthday which was June 26 and Mrs. Lendobeja on her 75th birthday, which was July 6. Ice cream and other goodies were also served.

Mrs. Clara Jaennette and Mrs. Anne Muzzy entertained for dinner Tuesday at the Muzzy home in Thief River Falls Mr. and Mrs. Ed Opelt of Estherville, Ia., and Floyd and Willie Mathieu. Mr. and Mrs. Opelt left for their home the next day after being house guests for several days at the Mathieu home.

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Johnson, Mark, Sheryl and Jeffry, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Naeseth and Randy, Robbie Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Stocks, Lisa and Lori and Todd Bottem enjoyed camping at a resort near Park Rapids from Thursday to Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solem were Tuesday overnight guests at the Rev. Kermit Solem home at Rothsay. Wednesday afternoon they attended funeral services for Ingard Ohe at the South Immanuel Lutheran church with Pastor Solem officiating. They returned home Wednesday evening accompanied by Mrs. Kermit Solem, Aaron, Cassy and Arlen. Other luncheon guests that evening at the Solem home were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brandt and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Solem and Bobby. Mrs. Kermit Solem and children accompanied her folks, the Brandts, to their home at Roseau later in the evening.

Potluck Dinner

A family get-together with potluck dinner was enjoyed at the Clifford Jorde home July 4. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Goethe from Goodridge, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rondorf and Lee from Red Lake Falls, Jody Hoglo from St. Hilaire, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goethe, Mr. and Mrs. William Rondorf and Paul, Anna Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rondorf, Leonard Rondorf and family, Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Rondorf, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rondorf and Ronnie and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jorde.

Thursday afternoon luncheon guests at the Lester Halvorson home were Mrs. William Halvorson of Bloomington, Mrs. Ruth Scott of Kitchner, Ontario, Canada and Mrs. Gustie Thorson of Thief River Falls. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Halvorson accompanied them for a visit at the Alfred Solem home.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Lloyd Larson, Mrs. Arne Espeseth and Mrs. Donald Olson were luncheon guests at the Milton Reierson home in Thief River Falls.

East & West Steiner Softball Game

The softball game held each year the first Sunday afternoon after July 4 on the ridge south of Solems between East and West Steiner is once again history, and the gloves, bats and burlap sack bases have been laid away for another year. The members of the opposing teams can again resume friendly relations. The east siders retained possession of the "shirt", largely through the effort of self-appointed east side player umpire, Clark Dyrud. With advancing years and apparently failing eyesight his services on the east side team have been instrumental in winning games. The west siders, ranging in age from six to seventy plus, put on an exhibition of the fine points on how softball should be played, with three base hits and home runs, double plays and sensational fielding. For a while it became apparent the "shirt" would once again be in possession of the west siders but the race is not always for the swift or the battle for the strong. So the "shirt", though by now ragged and soiled, is still in possession of the east siders, at least for another year.

Saturday Mrs. Lloyd Larson and her sister, Myrtle Seeger, attended the 1930 Lincoln high school class reunion at Best Western. They toured the high school and also toured the city by bus in the afternoon, followed with refreshments. In the evening they enjoyed a banquet at the Elks club rooms, followed with a social hour. Myrtle received the prize for coming the farthest distance. Lloyd Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Art Lufkin of Crookston joined them for the social hour. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Seeger attended the class picnic at L. B. Hartz park.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solem enjoyed having dinner with the ten children of the late John Hansons and their families at the Thief River Falls armdry.

Mrs. Geda Knower of Seattle, Wash., was a caller at the Lloyd Larson home Sunday. She accompanied the Larsons to the open house in the afternoon at the Mrs. Mabel Furr home in Thief River Falls in honor of Mrs. Furr's 90th birthday. Supper guests at the Larson home later were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Highfill of Gladstone, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Orville Harstad of Viking and their grandson, Larry Harstad Jr. of Fresno, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sorenson of Newfolden and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kleinwachter, Kent and Hope of Strandquist.

Mrs. Angeline Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Giles, Mary and John, Mr. and Mrs. John Lubitz, David and Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lubitz, Mary and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Steinhauer and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dyrdal and family of Rosewood enjoyed a family reunion of the late Lawrence Lubitz maternal relatives, the Raas family at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Richter at Broadview, Saskatchewan, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. One hundred eight people were present and the farmyard resembled a little village with all its campers, with people everywhere. Everyone enjoyed renewing acquaintances and visiting.

Community Picnic July 13

Annual community picnic at the Steiner hall will be held Sunday, July 13, starting with a noon dinner. Each family is asked to bring buns, wieners, and pie for its own family and one dish to pass. Public is invited.

HOW SUPERMARKETS SERVE THE PUBLIC INTEREST

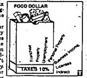
Taxes—And—Government—Regulations

It probably won't tax your imagination to recognize that taxes affect the prices you pay for food.

Just how much of your food dollar is eaten up by taxes is hard to say. Sales taxes, added directly to the bill, are readily visible in states where they are collected. But what we don't see are the costs of property taxes, taxes on assets or earnings, license taxes or fees to do business, and business income taxes.

Then, too, there are federal and state unemployment taxes and workmen's compensation premiums. Add the taxes paid by the food suppliers and by the farmers, and the total comes to a hefty ten percent of your food dollar.

At the supermarket, the tax bill is greater than the net profit. The Food Marketing Institute estimates that for the average store, taxes run above one percent of sales volume, or more than $900 a week. And that's not counting sales taxes—or matching employer Social Security taxes.



Taxes take quite a bite out of your food dollar.

People generally overlook the hidden expense of complying with government regulations. It takes people and paper to deal with all the government agencies that take an interest in the food business. Many regulations are important to public health and safety, but multiplicity and overlapping of rules and agencies is confusing—and costly. One supermarket organization calculated that it filed reports or dealt with 123 federal, state and local government agencies.

THE VOICE of BUSINESS

by Richard L. Lesher, President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Just recently, nine local neighborhood organizations from around the country came to Washington to explain how their self-help work projects were countering youth crime in big-city ghettos. The remarkably revealing two-day event was sponsored by the American Enterprise Institute; but with the exception of one account by columnist William Raspberry, it was largely ignored by the national media. That's a shame, frankly, because the media, and through them the country, might have learned something.

These organizations, after all, are run by people who must cope daily with wretched ghetto conditions. They know what they're talking about. What's more, their message gave short shrift to Washington's traditional belief that inner city tensions can best be cooled by a new outpouring of federal aid.

For example, before the government even knew of its existence, one local organization, the House of Umoja, had already made great strides in eliminating the shootings and stabbings that once plagued Philadelphia. Impressed with such an obvious success story, Washington stepped in and offered "to help." Here's what happened then in the words of House of Umoja leader, Sister Falaka Fattah:

"Because we have a residential program, which is a group home, now we have to deal with a license every year. Before we were 'discovered,' we were doing the same job without a license. In order to have a license, you have to pass the different regulations — you know, the kitchen has to be just so; you have to have credentials in terms of staff, you have to have a social worker. They tell you your house has to be fixed up, but they don't give you any money to fix it up. It's a bureaucratic nightmare."

And on, and on . . . and on. One participant noted that in order to qualify for many of their jobs programs " . . . . you've got to be a criminal . . . you can't be just a poor kid who needs service." Doesn't the government understand that the incentive is to prevent crime, not create it?

One man who does understand incentives, and their vital role in fighting the crime by creating jobs, opportunity and hope, is Congressman Jack Kemp of New York. Kemp, you might remember, is that engaging fellow who has won a wide audience around the country — while ruffling quite a few feathers in Washington — because of his penchant for spouting such heresies as: "People don't work to pay taxes, but to earn more after-tax income. So, by lowering tax rates, we can increase work, savings, investment, growth and prosperity."

As Kemp notes, if a person receiving the equivalent of $8,000 a year in welfare benefits today were offered a $10,000 a year job, that person would face an astounding tax rate of 80 per cent. Where is the incentive for individuals to get off welfare if the government insists on taxing their new work effort at higher rates than it imposes on millionaires? And why give grants and loans to businesses that must be financed by higher taxes on the very enterprises most likely to offer new opportunities to the disadvantaged?

So Kemp proposes we stop feigning compassion while perpetuating dependency, and start treating the poor as individuals of real worth and potential entrepreneurial skills. The way to do that, he argues, is to get the wheels of innovation rolling again by reestablishing incentives at the local level. Along with Congressman Robert Garcia of New York City, he offers a novel approach — The Urban Jobs and Enterprise Zone Act. Poverty areas meeting specified criteria could be designated Enterprise Zones, within which individuals and enterprises could engage in economic activity at dramatically reduced rates of taxation.

The beauty of this approach is that the government will not lose revenues by reducing tax rates on young blacks and Hispanics who currently produce no taxable income. Of course we must do more than just increase tax incentives. We must also reduce the conditions of excessive regulation that are hampering neighborhood organizations like the House of Umoja, and go after other disincentives as well. In Washington, D.C., the highest workers' compensation in the country, which is mandated by law, payment of the minimum wage, and rent controls, have all combined to impoverish a large area of the city and drive thousands of jobs into the surrounding suburbs. These problems are serious and they must be faced.

Still, Congressman Kemp has taken a big step in the right direction. He has offered a bill that deals with human nature and economic reality, the way they are, rather than the way Washington wants them to be. And, by offering hope, rather than merely a handout, to those who have no hope, he is articulating the true meaning of compassion and of help. Just think how many more people government could help, if only it had the courage to free enterprise.

The scene was Baltimore, Maryland, and the sting was on. Heavily armed government agents surrounded their prey, communicating via walkie-talkies at every corner. Then, with stunning precision, they moved in for the kill, grabbing their suspect, while successfully netting a quarter million dollars of evidence.

What, you are probably wondering, was the object of this gestapo-like raid — a mob-financed operation pushing drugs, prostitution, or illegal arms? Why no, not at all. The alleged criminal is small businessman Pierre J. Arquin, who stands accused of knowingly importing 18 handmade British sports cars which lack required pollution control equipment, and whose bumpers do not meet federal safety standards.

Arquin, who could be sentenced up to five years in jail, expressed bewilderment at being treated like a dangerous criminal. Labelling the indictments "ridiculous," and "a wholesale prosecution of a highly vulnerable and defenseless company," he claimed he was only following the common practice of his trade — bringing in cars, then adding the equipment required by federal law before selling them.

Arquin's indictment is unprecedented, but it caught my eye for another reason as well. The raid on his firm occurred right after the release of the White House Small Business Conference Commission's final report — a report that has been widely critized for failing to endorse publicly the one battle cry that united the 1,700 delegates who attended the White House Small Business Conference last January: Reduce the size and intrusiveness of the federal government; or, to put it in the delegates' five favorite words: "Get Government Off Our Backs!"

The Commission's report, issued by the 11-member group appointed by President Carter two years ago, urges nothing of the sort. Indeed, while attempting to portray a conflict that does not exist, between bit business and small business, the report ignores some of the most important conclusions adopted by the delegates at the January Conference. While conveying the impression that the Commission's members are familiar with the problems of small business, the report seems determined to avoid jeopardizing the Administration's big government agenda.

For example, while paying lip-service to the gravity of inflation, the Commission report ignores the delegates' calls to balance the federal budget, limit federal spending to a specified percentage of GNP, freeze the minimum wage, repeal the Davis-Bacon Act and reform the Social Security system.

Another Commission copout is capital formation. Despite the abysmally low U.S. rates of savings and investment, the report cannot muster the courage to endorse a reduction in tax rates for both business and individuals, or to support a meaningful depreciation reform bill. As for regulatory reform, the Commission insipidly recommends requiring "all federal agencies to analyze the cost and relevance of regulations to small business," which is a sweet gesture, but about as helpful as asking a poisoned man if he wants to pass up his second drink.

One New Jersey delegate, Gary Wellman, was so upset by the Commission report's whitewash of his colleagues concerns that he told Nation's Business: "I'm not sure why small business owners have to have a commission to tell us what we need. But I do know that most of us have been disillusioned with President Carter's attempts to help small business. Now comes this Commission report. It makes us look like political fools."

But then, getting the run-around is nothing new for small business leaders. That is why many of them, led by the U.S. Chamber's Small Business Center, are so determined to organize their own meetings and to pressure Congress into satisfying their needs — and America's. I just hope they hurry. The way things are going now, if the government can't inflate, tax, and regulate small business people into oblivion, it might just settle for throwing them in jail.

Home Pickling . . . Relish The Thought

Relish this...a colorful melange of fresh vegetables, picked and pickled by you for year-round eating enjoyment.

Because they add texture, flavor, color and tang to any meal, relishes have a special place on picnic tables, at backyard barbecues, on holiday menus and at family gatherings.

And CELERY RELISH is no exception, particularly when it's made with the "vinegar of choice," Heinz Distilled White.

CELERY RELISH

- 2 cups Heinz Distilled White Vinegar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1-1/4 cups granulated sugar
- 2-1/2 tablespoons salt
- 2-1/2 tablespoons mustard seed
- 1/2 teaspoon ground turmeric
- 2 quarts sliced celery (about 2 pounds)
- 3 cups chopped onions (4-5 medium)
- 1-1/2 cups chopped green peppers (2-3 medium)
- 1-1/2 cups chopped sweet red peppers (2-3 medium)

Combine first 6 ingredients in saucepot; heat to boiling. Add vegetables; simmer 3 minutes. Continue simmering while quickly packing one clean, hot jar at a time. Fill to within 1/2 inch of top making sure vinegar solution covers vegetables. Cap each jar at once. Process 5 minutes in boiling-water bath. Makes 5 pints.

CELERY RELISH is one of more than 40 kitchen-tested pickling recipes included in the popular HEINZ GUIDE TO SUCCESSFUL PICKLING. This 32-page booklet also features processing methods, altitude charts, storage suggestions and weight/measures table.

It's available with one label from any gallon or quart-size bottle of Heinz Distilled White, Apple Cider or Apple Cider Flavored Vinegar. Send name, address and label to:

Here's to Your Health

BY WHEELOCK WHITNEY
President, Minnesota Council on Health

A suntan lotion suited to the needs of the individual can be helpful in preventing a burn and promoting a tan, advises the Minnesota medical association.

Better commercial suntan lotions contain chemicals called sunscreens. Their function is to absorb some of the ultra violet rays of the sun while allowing others to penetrate the surface of the skin. MMA warns that although the better suntan lotions provide a greater protection against sunburn for a longer period of time, it is unwise to rely on any suntan lotion for protection against unlimited exposure to the sun. Remember that it is also possible for a burn to develop through a tan. A suntan lotion generally contains a lubricant which keeps the skin from drying out too rapidly. Suntan lotion should be reapplied frequently (at least every two hours) and whenever the protecting film may have been worn off or washed off the skin.

Generally, artificial tanning lotions which merely color the skin darker without tanning are safe. However, it is important to remember that they do not provide adequate protection from the rays of the sun unless they also contain a sunscreen agent. Sometimes the users of these artificial tanning preparations have been disappointed because the bottled tan has produced streaked and uneven results.

There is no quick cure for sunburn once it occurs. Lots of time is necessary for the healing of a sunburn. Application of wet compresses and soothing lotions to the sunburned area are generally effective in easing the pain. Application of a bland cold cream or mineral oil may also be beneficial. A physician should be consulted if the sunburn is severe.

Sun is one source of the body's required supply of vitamin D. However, ample supplies of this vitamin can normally be found in most individual's balanced daily diet.

In some cases, the sun has been helpful for certain skin disorders like acne, exzema, and psoriasis. However, a doctor's advice should be sought before attempting to use the sun as a source of treatment for any skin problem.

Chronic Fatigue Can Be Clue to Illness

Getting tired is a universal experience and not an unpleasant one if there is a good reason for it, advises the Minnesota Medical Association (MMA).

Excess of chronic fatigue can sometimes be a clue to a more serious health problem.

Chronic fatigue is one of the most common symptoms which physicians see in their practice. It can be as much a matter of concern for children as for adults.

Boredom is perhaps the most common reason why people suffer from fatigue. The thought of "just not having anything to do" contribute to boredom. The tired housewife faced with the prospect of spending day after day at home caring for a growing family and tending other household chores is a common victim of fatigue. Other common fatigue prospect is the man who works at a full time job then moonlights at one or more part-time jobs far into the night.

Other diseases and conditions which may produce chronic fatigue symptoms include emotional illness, anxiety, depression, anemia, low blood count, cancer, diabetes, kidney disease, and hepatitis.

Chronic fatigue is also common among persons who practice poor nutritional habits. This form of fatigue is seen frequently today among children who are not eating properly, either by their own choice or as the result of poor parental supervision. Teenagers who avoid regular, well balanced meals frequently fall into this category. Fad dieters who avoid basic nutrients to either lose weight or maintain a desired weight level will often complain of fatigue.

When should a physician be consulted about a chronic fatigue problem? The MMA suggests that medical care should be sought when the fatigue extends over a period of several weeks or longer. A physician should also be consulted if chronic fatigue interferes in any manner with the normal activities of daily living including work, play, school, home-making, and family relationships.

Medical Treatment Can Relieve Tennis Elbow Symptoms

The sport of tennis has experienced a tremendous growth in popularity in recent years. It has been estimated that today there are more than 36 million tennis enthusiasts in the United States.

The incidence of individuals suffering from tennis elbow appears to have kept pace with the increased popularity of the sport.

The Minnesota Medical Association (MMA) explains that tennis elbow classically to a doctor means pain over the outer aspect of the elbow. If, for example the arm is allowed to hang at the side and feel the point of the elbow pointing away from the body and the pain is directly over this area, the condition is likely to be tennis elbow. Although this condition has been under study for more than a century the exact cause of tennis elbow has not been established.

It is commonly believed that tennis elbow is a form of tendinitis, an inflamation of the tendons and of tendon muscle attachments in the surrounding area. Tennis elbow can be very difficult to document because there are no visible symptoms even when surgery is performed.

This condition is not unique to tennis players. Housewives, secretaries, golfers, dentists, and surgeons, infact anyone who does a repetitive movement with the palm up then down with the elbow flexing and extending is a potential candidate for tennis elbow.

Calcification of the joint is not ordinarily associated with tennis elbow.

With proper treatment the course of tennis elbow can be shortened significantly. Without adequate treatment pain and discomfort may be experienced from one to two years.

Physicians who treat tennis players who suffer from this condition ordinarily do not care to restrict the patients participation in the game. In a number of cases improvement of the discomfort has been experienced by switching from a wood to an alumi um or steel tennis racket.

Frequency of play can sometimes be a problem. Those who play tennis more often are more likely to suffer from tennis elbow.

Symptoms of tennis elbow may also be reduced by wearing a band which has been designed to go around the forearm next to the elbow. These bands may be prescribed by the physician and they are also available in tennis shops.

A two handed back-hand can also help to reduce the symptoms.

More drastic therapy, including injection of the tennis elbow with medications is often performed by the doctor. In a very small percentage of cases, surgery is performed to relieve the symptoms of tennis elbow.

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Novelty's the key to success of almost any party. Give a party with a guest of honor, someone new in town or on the block. Decorate the party to fit a popular or seasonal theme. Or serve something special with the drinks — fruit out of season or some gourmet seafood or spread, if the budget permits.

The right time for a toast is any time you're with people you care for!

Just about any budget will permit a sparkling refreshment. Why not one that has the sparkle and taste of fine wines without the accompanying higher costs, such as Champales? The newest is Golden Champale, which, like the Sparkling Extra Dry and Pink Champales, is a malt beverage made from yeast, barley and hops. Champale does not resemble beer or malt, but is light, bubbly and has the sparkle of wine.

How much ahead of time should you invite people to your party? Ten days to two weeks, but not more than three weeks in advance is a good rule of thumb.

Do it yourself and save!

Uncover Clues To Crib Death Causes

Sudden infant death syndrome is the leading cause of death in infants between the ages of one month and one year. It occurs in about two of every 1,000 live births worldwide. Also called "crib death," it cannot be predicted or prevented, but researchers are coming up with a variety of clues in their quest for the cause — or causes — of this tragic phenomenon.

Sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) takes the lives of more than 7,000 babies in the United States each year. In 1979 there were 140 SIDS deaths in Minnesota alone. The victims are babies who appear to be in good health, but die suddenly and unexpectedly, usually in their sleep.

Medical researchers, however, are finding that the SIDS victim may not be in good health, but may have subtle defects in the heart, respiratory system or brain stem, the part of the brain that controls breathing. The defects may be caused by poor nutrition or ill health during pregnancy.

These findings were reported at the fourth national sudden infant death syndrome conference hosted by Minneapolis Children's Health center's Minnesota SID center earlier this month. Representatives from across the country attended the Minneapolis meeting.

Although SIDS occurs in all types of families, it seems to strike certain population groups more than others. According to Dr. Marie Valdes-Dapena of the University of Miami school of medicine, a leading authority on SIDS research, SIDS seems to occur more often in babies of young mothers, especially teenage mothers, in poor families and among racial minorities, who generally have less access to good health care. There has, however, been a slight decrease in the incidence of SIDS over the past five years. Dr. Valdes-Dapena suggests that this is due to overall improvements in death and prenatal care.

When a baby's breathing stops momentarily due to respiratory illness or an inflamed windpipe, the brain stem normally sends a signal that makes the baby breathe stronger. Somehow, this doesn't seem to happen in many SIDS babies. It may be because of slight brain stem defects resulting from problems in pregnancy, such as poor nutrition.

The facts that SIDS deaths occur more frequently among premature babies, infants with a lower alertness score at birth, and infants of mothers who smoke or use drugs are further indication that SIDS may be caused by very slight brain damage.

The conference emphasized the importance of investigating SIDS deaths to provide more clues to this mysterious disease.

Dr. James Weston, chief medical examiner of New Mexico, advocated state laws requiring investigation by trained pathologists, who know how to investigate the scene of a death and perform an autopsy in search of clues to the death. The problem, he pointed out, is that in some states the coroner does not even have to be a physician, let alone a specialist in pathology. Also, in order to reduce spending, some states are cutting back on funds for autopsies, which are vital in providing clues to the cause of SIDS.

"But," said Dr. Ralph Franciosi, chief pathologist at Minneapolis Children's health center, "parents of SIDS victims always ask me two questions: 'What causes sudden infant death?' and 'Did my baby die in vain?' The parents actually prefer that we perform an autopsy so we might learn something from their baby's death and prevent another baby from dying in the future."

Dr. Franciosi, who is also project director for the Minnesota sudden infant death center, said that a SIDS death should not be viewed as an end, but as a beginning for learning why these babies die. He also urged greater care in examining so-called "near-miss" babies, who are revived after they stopped breathing. Frequently, the physician will examine the child briefly, take its temperature and an X-ray, and send the child home when, in fact, the child is at great risk. Studies have shown similarities between SIDS victims and near-miss babies. Both have younger mothers and are of low birth weight.

As a result of the 1974 federal sudden infant death syndrome act, SIDS centers are being set up in each state. Through an interdisciplinary effort involving coroners, medical examiners, police, public health nurses, mental health professionals, physicians, emergency personnel, funeral directors and SIDS center staff, the centers seek to educate the public about SIDS, and to train people to handle not only the technical procedures of death investigation, but the surviving families' grief as well.

Typically, the coroner notifies the SIDS center of an SIDS death within 24 hours. The center staff then contacts the family and sends a public health nurse to the family's home to provide comfort and answer their questions about their child's sudden, unexplained death.

Keynote speaker Senator Dave Durenburger of Minnesota stressed the urgency of continued funding for SIDS research in spite of Congressional budget cuts in social services, because the ultimate goal of the research is the prevention of sudden infant death. Sen. Durenburger, a member of the Senate finance subcommittee on health, has been involved in the SIDS center in Minnesota since its inception.

Preservation Of Buildings Can Earn Credit

People have been renovating and living in historic houses for some time, but lately the preservation bug has bitten business owners who are rehabilitating historic commercial buildings. According to the Minnesota society of certified public accountants, important tax benefits await business owners involved in renovating buildings.

Rehabilitating "certified historic structures" can bring tax breaks to business owners under provision of the 1976 tax reform act and the revenue act of 1978 which expand the benefits of previous laws, CPAs say. Warehouses, factories, office buildings, stores and other business structures, including hotels, are eligible for tax credits if they are listed in the national register of historic places or are located in a registered historic district. Apartment buildings and single-family residences generally do not qualify, although they may be eligible if converted to business use.

To qualify for special tax treatments, business owners must do renovation work that will improve the usefulness, extend the life or aid in preserving an historic property. Such rehabilitation may include the replacement or the addition of plumbing, wiring, heating and cooling systems, flooring and partitions. Costs of expanding the building or of acquiring the property itself cannot be included when figuring the tax credit, according to CPAs.

For income tax purposes, the IRS will let the owner of a certified historic business structure deduct rehabilitation expenses over a five-year period, as long as the expenses are incurred before June 15, 1981. Or, instead of this "rapid amortization", a business owner can claim a larger deduction for depreciation over a shorter period of years than previously possible. To use this "accelerated depreciation" provision, expenses must be incurred before July 1, 1981, the CPAs say.

Another federal income tax benefit to owners of historic business buildings is an investment tax credit of 10 per cent of rehabilitation expenses for buildings which have been in use (but not renovated) for at least 20 years. The improvements must have a useful life of at least five years.

Many states and cities have their own local tax benefits for historic preservation. Local real estate taxes on a historic business building or one in a landmark district can often be reduced because the value of the property has declined. The state preservation office can provide details about local and federal tax benefits.

Fair Entry Day This Thursday

Entry day for the Pennington county fair will be Thursday with open class entries to be received from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and 4-H club entries to be accepted for conference judging from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Judging of all open class entries and 4-H club livestock, poultry and rabbit entries will take place on Friday.

Senior citizens or handicapped persons are advised that the para-transit bus will make runs to the fairgrounds Thursday, leaving from Valley home at 1:30 p.m., Riverside Terrace at 1 p.m. and Skylite apartments shortly after 1 p.m. The bus will return riders at 3:30 p.m.

On Friday the bus will leave Oakland Park nursing home at 1:30 p.m. and return at 3:30 p.m. Senior citizens or handicapped wanting a ride Thursday or Friday should call 681-6760 mornings.

Matt Armstrong carnival will be on the midway and will be open for business on Wednesday. Kids days will be observed Wednesday, Friday and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m. A $6 bracelet will be sold which will permit wearers to ride as many rides as they like during the six-hour period.

Registration for the amateur night program Thursday evening at the fair is being accepted at the Larson Music company. Four individuals and four groups had registered as of this morning with the participation limited to the first 15 entries. Others planning on competing in the event are urged to register at the store as soon as possible since entries will be accepted as they are received.

County Board Meets Today At Courthouse

Pennington county board of commissioners is meeting today with the session beginning at 10 a.m. On the agenda for this morning were Wayne Alfveby, director of the Northwest regional library, to discuss the library budget; county engineer Arvid Olson and county sheriff Charles Richards; and Kay Kraatz, who was to make a presentation on the retired senior volunteer program.

This afternoon the board is to review a preliminary plat of part of the Ives addition in St. Hilaire, discuss the possibility of installing a new gravel tax and discuss the preliminary census report that has been received by the auditor's office.

Pageant Ticket Sales Begin For July 26 Event

Tickets for the Miss Thief River Falls pageant are now on sale at Larson Music company and Ekeren Drug, Inc., in Thief River Falls. The pageant will be held Saturday, July 26, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Advance tickets will be sold for $2.75 each with admission at the door to be $3. All seats are reserved.

Sponsoring Thief River Falls Jaycees announce that several prizes have been added to the scholarship award and wardrobe and travel allowance Miss Thief River Falls will receive. They include a custom-made diamond ring from the Jewel Box and professional hair care for appearances during her reign by Model Hair Shoppe.

Talent winner in the pageant will receive a $50 gift from the Thief River Falls community arts council. Any other business or organization wishing to participate in the awards program may contact Jim Hoks or Allen Rux, pageant co-chairmen for the Jaycees.

Shooting Victim Condition Said Stable Today

Leonard Hellquist, 60, remains hospitalized at Northwestern hospital today following receipt of a chest wound from a .410 gauge shotgun in the basement of his home last Wednesday morning.

Hellquist reportedly called the hospital and reported that he had shot himself and the hospital notified the local law enforcement center, at 9:32 a.m. Wednesday. Police responding to the call to the Hellquist residence at 114 Circle drive found him in the kitchen of the home.

According to the police report, Hellquist was home alone at the time of the shooting. Investigation by the police department is continuing. Hellquist's condition is described as stable but improving this morning although he is still in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Board To Meet At Goodridge

Board of education for School District 561 at Goodridge will meet tonight (Monday) at 8 p.m. in the home economics room of the Goodridge high school.

Two File For Commissioner

Only two persons have filed for Pennington county commissioner so far and filings will close this Tuesday, according to C.W. Rodekuhr, county auditor.

Filing last week were Lyle Jennings and Albert Koop for the third district commissioner post. Koop is the incumbent commissioner. Other commissioners whose terms expire this year are Roger Hoffman in the first district and Glenn Tasa in the fifth district.

School Board To Meet Thur.

There will be no meeting of the Thief River Falls school board on Monday, but a meeting will be held Thursday at 7 a.m. at the school district service center. Proposed sites for location of the projected new high school will be discussed along with other board business.

LINDA SHORT of Warren will be among the nine candidates for Miss Thief River Falls honors July 26 in Thief River Falls. Linda, 24, has aspirations to be a professional singer and has won a number of performance contests. Her vocal solo at the pageant will be "Without A Song".

Linda Short In Queen Contest

(This is the seventh in a series of interviews with candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the annual Jaycee Aquacade. The official Miss America preliminary pageant will be held Saturday, July 26, at the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

If it were possible to create a 32-hour day, Linda Short would be able to fit all her activities into it and maybe get eight hours of sleep. But only maybe; she seems to have enough unfulfilled ambitions to take care of that 32-hour day as well.

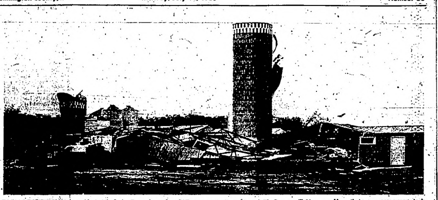
Linda, 24, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Short of Warren, a 1974 graduate of Warren high school and a 1978 graduate of Luther college in Iowa. She is five feet six and one-half inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes. Her talent presentation will be a vocal solo, "Without A Song".

Linda holds a BA degree in vocal performance, has had extensive theatre instruction and has studied at the Peabody conservatory in Baltimore, MD. She has won a national high school choral award, received the American Legion auxiliary award as outstanding senior girl at Warren high school, was selected for the Frances Adams Wages music scholarship as a senior, was a member of the district champion one-act play cast and president of the high school choir.

In college she was a regional finalist in a vocal contest in Des Moines, Ia., a soloist in the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" and a soloist with the Luther college Nordic choir.

Linda is interested in social and political issues, nutrition and health, sailing, swimming, people and travel. She has taken three trips to Europe and is currently writing two books. Her other hobbies include tennis, jogging and playing the piano.

Although she harbors desires to sing professionally in the future, her immediate goal is to enroll in an LPN program and become a licensed practical nurse. "My health and understanding of basic health problems are important to me," she said. "Without good health I cannot sing."



TOTAL DESTRUCTION was evident at the Irving Beyer farm along SAR 52 near Dorothy in Red Lake county after a tornado struck the farm shortly after 6 p.m. Friday. Beyer and three of his grandchildren were in the barn pictured above when the tornado struck. They lay down in a corner of the milking parlor pit and could hear the building being torn apart above them. The air was filled with insulation, Beyer said, and they could hear breaking glass when the pipeline for the milker collapsed. The Beyers milk 90 cows and have that many more young stock on the farm. Only three calves were lost as a result of the storm. Beyer, a Red Lake county commissioner, said he is "grateful to God for sparing the people" and cannot express his thanks fully enough for all the folks who came to help with clean up work on Saturday. Between 150 and 200 people pitched in to help with that task. Beyer said he is undecided about rebuilding at this time.

Tornado Rips Through Dorothy Area, Demolishes Beyer Farm

Friends and neighbors with equipment and enthusiasm gathered in the Dorothy area of Red Lake county Saturday to help families there clean up following the tornado which skipped and twisted from farm to farm shortly after 6 p.m. Friday.

The tornado traced a narrow path about seven miles long, starting at the Ron Proulx farm and hitting the farms of Irving Beyer, Richard Weiss, Don Schirrick, Ruben Lehrer and Sylvester Schmitz before drawing back into the skies. Also hit was a house owned by the Dennis Haglund family near the Beyer farm and an unoccupied farmstead owned by Dean Haave between the Lehrer and Schmitz farms. All of the farms were on the north side of SAR 52 and all but the Proulx farm were east of Dorothy.

Although the storm hit with little advance public warning, all of the people home at places where it hit were aware of its coming. The twister seemed to move slowly and hundreds of people observed it as it made its way in almost a straight west to east direction, veering only slightly to the north. The tornado activity was visible for nearly an hour.

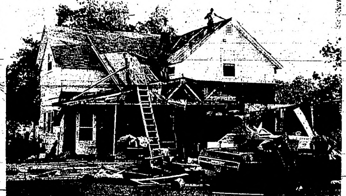
First farm hit was the Ron Proulx farm where a silo was demolished and an older hip-roof barn was extensively damaged.

Most serious damage was done at the Irving Beyer "White Gold" dairy farm where a large metal dairy barn was destroyed, silos demolished, garage stripped from the house, huge trees uprooted and nearly every building on the farmstead damaged in some way. Beyer and three of his grandchildren who were in the barn milking the 90-cow herd escaped injury by lying down in the milking parlor.

With Beyer were Susy and Steven Haglund, ages 12 and 9, and Paula Peterson, age 13. The Haglunds are children of Beyer's son-in-law and daughter, Dennis and Nancy Haglund, who live just east of the Beyer farmstead. Paula is the daughter of Beyer's daughter, Cheryl Peterson of Dilworth.

Dennis Haglund saw the storm approaching and rushed home to get his wife, Nancy and one-year-old infant to safety. Nancy called the Beyer farm to warn her father who she knew was in the barn milking at that time. The Beyers have a phone in their dairy barn. Beyer said he went out to look at the approaching storm but wasn't aware it was a tornado.

He said he went back to the barn and explained to the grandchildren that it would probably get dark because the electricity would be cut off but that they would probably be all right. As the storm hit he had the children lie down in a corner of the milking parlor and lay down on top of them. The only sounds he heard were of the barn being torn apart above him and breaking glass as the pipeline for the milking system collapsed. The air was filled with insulation, he said, and everything was over in what was probably a minute.



A DOUBLE GARAGE, 28x32 feet in size, disappeared from the Irving Beyer home near Dorothy in Red Lake county as a tornado struck the farm shortly after 6 p.m. Friday. Within two hours after the storm hit, when this Times photo was taken, volunteers were at work repairing the damage so that the house could be lived in for the night. Some old farm records were kept in the garage area and canceled checks from those files were found as far as five miles to the east.

At the Haglund home to the east, Dennis, Nancy and the baby were in the basement. Dennis watched until he could see leaves and branches go into the air behind the Beyer house to the west, then joined his wife and baby in a storage area under the basement stairs. They heard debris hit the house but no other sound from the storm. As soon as it was over he ran for the Beyer farm and met Irving and the children coming from the barn. They assured each other that everyone was all right at both places.

Other members of the Beyer family had been to Red Lake Falls and upon seeing the storm coming had tried to race it to the Beyer farm. When they saw they would be unable to do so, they circled to the south and came in behind the tornado from the west. They could see pieces of metal from the barn rise into the air and arrived at the farm only a few minutes after the tornado had struck.

The tornado demolished the large barn which included a 120x50 main section, 28x122 section built as a "T" on the north end of the main barn and a 64x28 calf barn. A 24x70 silo was leveled to the ground and a 20x65 silo collapsed down to about 10 feet high. Tops were torn apart on three other silos. A 28x32 double garage on the north side of the house disappeared and the house itself was heavily damaged. Two calves were killed in the tornado and one died the next day. Several others were injured.

In addition to the damage to the house owned by the Haglunds — including having a 2x4 driven through the south upstairs wall — a steel bin vanished and a pole building used for a machine shed was destroyed. Poles 6x6 inches square were pulled out of the ground and one was found driven into the pasture northwest of the house like a giant spear.

MAJOR DAMAGE caused by the tornado which hit the Ron Proulx farm Friday evening was the loss of a silo and extensive damage to the barn. The house also had roof damage and was struck by flying debris. The Proulx farm was the first of several hit by the twister which traveled about seven miles before receding back into the clouds.

No one was home at the Richard Weiss farm where the tornado apparently passed just north of the main buildings. The north half of the roof on the machine shed was ripped off and two bale wagons were destroyed as well as other equipment damaged. A new garage, on which building was completed just two days before the storm, was not damaged. A large tree in front of the house was twisted and broken and had to be cut down.

At the Don Schirrick farm about two and one-half miles east of the Beyer farm, the wind hung a self-propelled combine in a group of willow trees, smashed three forage boxes, picked up a gravity grain box and tossed it several hundred yards into the river. A row of evergreen trees north of the farm yard was battered and a number of trees toppled as well as oak and elm trees twisted and broken.

Mrs. Schirrick and their four children were home. Two of the children came in and said there was a tornado coming. "I didn't believe them at first," Mrs. Schirrick said. "It was real calm outside. But I went out to look and sure enough, there it was. We went to Don's folks' place next to the road and got into the part of the house built into the hill. You could hear the roar when the tornado went past."

For the most part, the tornado seemed to hit north of the buildings and therefore did most damage to the machinery, equipment and trees. "It seemed to pick out anything with any value and smash that," Don said. "The old equipment that I have for parts and you can buy ten for a dollar never got touched. The good stuff that we need to use got all beat up."

Lying near the overturned combine on the Shirrick farm is a large fuel tank. "I know it isn't mine," he said. Richard Weiss is missing a 300-gallon fuel tank. He lives a mile to the west. It might be his.

Ruben Lehrer watched the tornado come across country toward his farm after hearing thunder and going outside to check the weather. He said the size seemed to change from about the width of a silo to nearly a quarter of a mile as it picked up dust in open fields. It was easy to see debris in the air and the twister made a sound like a big bumble bee, he said.

He and his wife went into the

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Mavie 4-H Club Notes Its 50th Anniversary

Approximately 100 leaders, members, parents and friends attended the 50th anniversary observance of the Mavie 4-H club held recently at the Goodridge school gymnasium. Highlighting the event was the presentation of the 50-year charter to the club. It was accepted by the club president Bernadette Rogalla.

Honor guest at the celebration was Mrs. Irving Haughom of Lake Tahoe, Calif., the former Estelle Philipp, who organized the club. She was presented with a special gold clover award by the club's current leader Mrs. Gordon Hendrickson.

Other former leaders present, who were recognized and who commented on their years in club leadership, were Mrs. Frances Oski, Mrs. George Breznay, who received recognition for 25 years as club leader; Mrs. Charles Svendsgaard, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Maidment, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Svendsgaard, Mrs. Vernon Philipp, Mrs. Ethel Sanders, Mrs. Vernon Rogalla, Mrs. Gerald Wayne, Mrs. Richard Nelson, Mrs. Dayle Kainz and Mr. and Mrs. George Panek.

The special 4-H Family award was presented to the Svendsgaard family. It was noted that three generations of Svendsgaards have been active in the Mavie club and that some are still active members.

Pennington county agent Terry Courneya presided at the program which included a welcome by leader Mrs. Alan Foley. Current club members led the flag and club pledges and also presented musical selections. Michelle Hendrickson played a flute solo, Tim Panek sang, accompanied by Marjorie Iverson, and Melissa Iverson presented a clarinet solo. Tim Panek also gave an appropriate reading. Everyone joined in singing "4-H Spirit," with Mrs. Vernon Rogalla serving as accompanist.

Deb Panek, a former member, read greetings from those unable to attend. Included were letters from Mrs. Forrest Rice, a former leader, and Victor Nabben, a former member; a mail-a-gram from Mary Ann Oski Kehoe, a former member; a taped greeting from Bill Svendsgaard, a former member; and a telephone message from Erland Nabben. Congratulatory greetings were also received from several neighboring clubs.

In expressing her appreciation to everyone who had helped in making the anniversary observance a success, present leader Mrs. Gary Iverson paid tribute, not only to leaders and members, but also the parents for the support given through the years.

Decorations for the event were in the 4-H motif with green and white streamers decorating the gymnasium. The serving table was centered with a large retangular cake topped with an open book cake inscribed with the 4-H pledge. On either side were four-leaf clover cakes, all baked and decorated in green and white by Margaret Rupprecht. Current club members presided at the punch bowl, served as ushers and were at the guest book. As former leaders registered, they were presented with green and white silk corsages, made by Mrs. Dale Svendsgaard.

Former leaders and members attending were from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; Thunder Bay, Ont., Canada; Crookston, Minneapolis, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls and Goodridge.

Anniversaries To Be Noted At ALCW Convention

Three anniversaries will be noted at the seventh triennial convention of the Northern Minnesota District of the American Lutheran Church Women (ALCW) to be held July 31-August 2, at Duluth.

Anniversaries noted will be the 450th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession, the 400th anniversary of the Book of Concord, and the 20th anniversary of the American Lutheran church and its women's auxillary.

The sessions will be held at the University of Minnesota, Duluth, with registration to begin at 11 a.m., July 31. The first general meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., with Rev. James Nestingen of Luther Northwestern seminary as guest speaker. His topic will be "Our Lutheran Heritage."

Friday morning speakers will be Sister Noemi of St. Scholastica, Duluth; and Rev. Ernie Mancini, campus pastor at Concordia college, Moorhead.

National ALCW President Elaine Donaldson will address the convention and lead the "Creative Bible study" interest group. Other interest groups to be presented Friday afternoon and the group leaders are "The Electronic Church," Dr. Michael Rogness; "Politics is Not a Dirty Word," Rev. Myron Nysether; "A Woman and Her Property," Clyde Brueland; "I've Got the Spirit," Rev. Philip Baker; "Parenting in the '80s," Daniel Bergland; "Live Better on Less," Rev. Brooks Anderson; "Chemicals Change People," Jack Longie; "Coping with Stress," Gale Adelaman; "Roots of Our Faith," Dr. James Nestingen; and "How in the World," Rev. Charles Lutz.

The Friday evening banquet, limited to 600 persons, will feature a dramatic presentation on Martin Luther by Rev. Glenn Schoonover, senior pastor at Messiah Lutheran church, Fargo, N.D.

Northern Minnesota District ALCW President Ruth Lee will be in charge of the business meeting; Marjorie Leegard, Detroit Lakes, will lead devotions at all sessions; and Dr. Michael Rogness will give the meditation at the closing communion service. Convention music will be directed by Jerry Evenrud of the music and arts department of the ALC's division of life and mission in the congregation. There will also be other musical numbers, including selections by Our Savior's Lutheran church bell choir of Moorhead.

All women are welcome to attend the convention.

Calvary LCW To Host Friends And Neighbor Day

Valley Home Events Reported By Ella Overum

Nine Valley Home residents observed their birthdays during the month of June, according to Ella Overum, Valley Home news reporter.

Residents noting birthdays and the dates observed, were Louella Sovde, June 2; Blanche Protz, Louis Handegaard, and Leo Schiefert, all on June 6; Olaf Abrahamson, June 7; Clarice Sundberg, June 13; Clara Espeland, June 28; Mabel Roisland, June 29; and Grace Lindblom, June 30.

At the monthly birthday party, all were seated at a special table. Each received a birthday card with a cash gift from the Home as well as a birthday card from the Catholic Daughters, who visit the home the first of the month. As a special treat, doughnuts and ice cream with chocolate topping and nuts were served with the afternoon coffee.

Several of the birthday celebrants served special treats to all the residents on the day of their birthdays. Louis Handegaard served old-fashioned ice cream broomsticks; Mabel Roisland treated birthday cake and ice cream; Louella Sovde and Blanche Protz provided the spice cake, and all joined in serving the ice cream at the monthly birthday party.

Two picnics highlighted the month's activities. On June 16, 22 of the residents, together with Tammy Rude and Nancy Hendrickson, traveled to the Lester Brekke farm southwest of Erskine where they had a picnic dinner. The second picnic was held June 24 at the senior citizen park near Valley Home. To correspond with the hobo theme, many wore appropriate attire. The menu included pork and beans, wieners, potato chips, sandwiches, carrot and celery sticks, lemonade, coffee and watermelon. Eating utensils included pie tins and tin cups. Music for the event was provided by Eleanor Bothman, who played the accordion. Highlighting the picnic was the crowning of Carl Olson and Bernice Olson as hobo king and queen.

Devotional programs during the month were given by a group from Newfolden, Rev. Carl Anderson and Rev. Julius Hovland of Trinity; Lester Brekke, Rev. George DeWall and family of the Bible Baptist church, who have services every Sunday afternoon; Intern Paul Abel and wife Becky of Our Saviour's Lutheran church, who are in charge Thursday afternoon services; LeRoy Knutson, Bill Wagner, Rueben Haugen and Mr. Hodney of Newfolden; Rev. Mark Johaningsmeir of the United Methodist church, Rev. Nancy Lund of Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Flaten and Mary Ellen Flaten of Newfolden, and R. B. Hackett, who leads Bible study every Sunday morning.

Tuesday evening devotionals were given by Dean Paskewitz, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Abel, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hauter, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Trochmann, Norris Trochmann and Laurie Trochman. Mass is offered every Saturday morning and Bible study, with Judith Wold in charge, is held every Tuesday morning.

Adding interest to the month's activities was a program given by Linda Sutter of the Miracle House, who played the guitar, sang hymns and told of her travels in foreign countries.

Other programs were presented by Carmen Henderson and the ballet dancers, the Back Behind the Barn Boys singing group from Gatzke; Mrs. Amundgaard, Mrs. Arnold Berg and Gloria Swanson; the Rachel circle of Trinity Lutheran church, who presented a Bible study and served sweet breads with the afternoon coffee; and the ALCW group from the Gatzke Lutheran church, who also presented a Bible study and served a variety of breads.

Residents of the two sections at the home, Western Lane and Memory Lane, joined in hosting a farewell party for Shirley Lindeman. She was presented with gifts and was honored at a luncheon featuring two decorated cakes.

The bowling team competed in a game at Oakland Park Nursing home against that team. The Oakland Park players won. Bowling for the Valley Home team were Martha Knauf, Julia Alexander, Ethel Johnson and Ed Breznay.

Other activities at the Home included games, band and choir practice, and regular visits from the AVTI Cosmo girls, who cut and style hair and give perms.

Birthday Noted By Mrs. Minnie Scramstad, 91

Mrs. Minnie Scramstad was honored on her 91st birthday on Wednesday, July 9, at a party at the David Scramstad residence. Lunch featured a cake baked by Mrs. Pat Scramstad and decorated by Minnie's grandson, David.

Gifts were opened and viewed, the birthday song was sung by the great-grandchildren, and four-generation pictures were taken.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. George Rockstad, Mrs. Audrey Bennett and Wendy, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Scramstad, Roger and John, the David Scramstads and their children, Christine, Mitchell and Katie, and Miss Darla Tweten.

Rhonda Haugen And Lindsay Lee To Be Feted

Rhonda Haugen and infant daughter, Lindsay Lee, will be honored at a shower on July 17 at 7:30 p.m., at the Faith Lutheran church in Goodridge.

All relatives and friends are welcome.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Featuring recipes from the Kitchen of

Mrs. Florence Hamm
Highlanding

Hour and a Half Buns

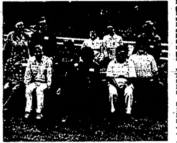
- Half cup warm water
- 2 packages dry yeast
- 1½ cups lukewarm milk
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt, less if shortening contains salt
- ½ cup shortening
- 5½ to 6 cups sifted flour.

Method: Soak yeast in ½ cup warm water. Combine milk, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Add shortening, two cups flour and yeast mixture and beat with egg beater until smooth. Add remaining flour and stir with spoon until dough leaves side of bowl. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until dough becomes smooth and elastic and no longer sticky — about 5 to 10 minutes. Place in a lightly greased bowl, grease top of dough, cover with wax paper and let rise in a warm place, about 80-85 degrees, until doubles, about 30 to 40 minutes. Shape into buns and place on a greased cookie sheet. Cover and let rise about 30 minutes. Bake in a 425 degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes three dozen buns.

Mrs. Hamm lives south of the Highlanding bridge. She has seven sons and one daughter and with the exception of her son, Daryle, who is at home doing the farming, they are married and living elsewhere. Her family also includes 20 grandchildren, 10 step-grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hamm stated that during the summer, she enjoys gardening and tending the chickens. Sewing is her winter hobby.

REUNITING OF mother and daughter who have only seen each other twice in the past 15 years took place at Johnson's Boarding Home in Thief River Falls recently when residents from Christus group home in Grand Rapids spent a weekend at the home. Donna Johnsrud, a resident at Christus, and her mother, Amy Johnsrud, who lives at Johnson's home, enjoyed various activities together upon their meeting including the 10th annual "Family Friendship" potluck picnic at Johnson's boarding home.



CHRISTUS GROUP HOME residents from Grand Rapids arrived in Thief River Falls recently by invitation of Johnson's Riverside boarding home in Thief River Falls. Christus members toured the boarding home and grounds and were involved in games, singing and conversation, as well as the 10th annual "Family Friendship" potluck picnic at Johnson's boarding home. Special guests included the Lowell Trochman family singers and the Northern Gospel singers who provided music and entertainment to the nearly 200 people who gathered for the weekend visit. The Christus home expressed appreciation to Johnson's residents and staff for an enjoyable two-day visit.

John N. Swanson Family Reunion Held at Sibley

John N. Swanson family reunion was held the Fourth of July weekend at Sibley State park. Of the 126 family members, 66 attended. The week-end outing featured a Hawaiian theme. Upon arrival, each received a Hawaiian name tag and a lei, designed by Marlys Sprague and Ethel Moquin.

Festivities began Friday with the roasting of a whole pig, with Dennis Neeser in charge. All means were planned and prepared by Mabel and Floyd Olson and Emma and Albert Kassa. Ethel Moquin served as general chairman; John and Adeline Swanson were secretary-treasurer; and John Pietila and Deb Tougas were photographers.

Several prizes, all in the Hawaiian theme, were given. The family plaque, designed by Ethel Moquin, was won by Alice Noer; and the niece-nephew afghan, made by Margie Johnson, went to Anita Pietila. The baby-picture guessing contest was won by Ruthanne Neeser, who received a birthday calender. Neal Sturre, Jason Bonander and Mary Nelson had the highest score in translating the Hawaiian welcome message. Others winning prizes were Lois Swanson and Ross Bonander.

The usual Sunday morning worship service was led by Ernie Swanson. His sermon theme was "Shadows." Jane Bonander was the pianist for the singing of the hymns.

It was noted that the new family members since July of 1978 were Derrick Sprague, Laura Lee Roen, Timothy Swanson, Diane Nelson, Patti Johnson, Roderick Henry and Annette Sprague.

Attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noer, Dick Noer, Paula and Julie; and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Noer, Mike, Dave and Penny, all of St. Paul; Ed Geving, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kassa, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Swanson and Alan Swanson of Goodridge; Debbie Tougas of Oklee and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Sprague of Detroit Lakes;

Also Mr. and Mrs. Burnard Sturee, Neal, Nathan, Anthony, Daryl Karlajoyce, Anna and Paula, Linda Wartner and Doug Platzer, all of Staples; Ethel Moquin, Tracy, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Nelson, Mark and Mary of Waverly, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Olson of Perham and Mrs. Alan Bonander, Jason and Ross of Butte, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rundquist, Annemarie and Nikolas and Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson, Eric and Reid, all of Minneapolis;

Also Mr. and Mrs. Gene Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Neeser, Greg and Jeff, all of Willmar; Mr. and Mrs. John Pietila, Karen, Kathy, Kimberly and J of Lake Park; Mary Swanson of Mankato; Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson, Fridley; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Johnson, St. James; and Mrs. John Schofield, Robert, Andrew, and Grant of Melrose.

FmHA Raises Loan Income Limits $10,000

Farmers home administration (FmHA) has raised the income limits for above moderate income rural home-ownership loan guarantees from $20,000 to $30,000 in the 48 contiguous states, according to John F. Apitz, FmHA director for Minnesota. In higher cost areas, the limit was raised to $50,000 for Alaska and $100,000 for Hawaii and Guam.

Since the above moderate income guaranteed housing program for rural areas was implemented by FmHA at the beginning of fiscal year 1979, only individuals and families with an adjusted income of between $15,800 (moderate income ceiling) and $20,000 were eligible to participate in the continental United States.

Under the program, Farmers home guarantees repayment of up to 90 per cent of loans made by commercial lenders for the construction of single-family dwellings in rural areas, including most towns of up to 20,000 population that are outside standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA).

"Many people in the expanded income range are currently unable to obtain mortgage credit, which effectively prevents them from enjoying safe, decent and adequate housing," Apitz said. "This increased financial assistance from Farmers home will greatly enhance the quality of their lives.

"By expanding the income eligibility, much more credit can be extended to the public, allowing more rural residents the benefit of home ownership," Apitz added.

The change became effective immediately in order to make this service available without delay. Following publication in the "Federal Register" on June 20, comments will be accepted on the change for 60 days, then the action will be reviewed to incorporate any necessary revisions.

Farmers home has indicated there is adequate funding for this program during fiscal year 1980.

50-Year Award Initiated At '80 State Fair

Minnesota state fair has instituted a new award for 1980, honoring persons who have participated regularly in the state fair for the past 50 years. To receive the 50-year award, applicants must have been involved in at least 25 state fairs beginning in 1931 or earlier.

Persons who qualify for the award will receive a commemorative plaque, to be presented during the 1980 state fair, August 21 through Labor day, September 1. In addition, the names of all those who receive the award will be included on a permanent wall plaque in the lobby of the state fair administration building.

Reception for 50-year award winners will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, August 24 at Heritage square

Those eligible for the 50-year award include competitive exhibitors, concessionaires, commercial exhibitors, employees of the state fair and anyone who has had a long association with the exposition.

Applicants thus far include Dale Kelsey of Madelia, grain exhibitor; Elmer R. Jones of LeSeuer, draft horse exhibitor; C. I. "Spike" Piper of Blue Earth, long-time employee of the state fair admissions department; S. C. Haller of White Bear Lake, poultry exhibitor; Bert Schwinghamer of Albany, dairy cattle exhibitor and Future Farmers of America cattle judge; Gale Frost of St. Paul, who held a variety of positions at the state fair and is presently curator of the state fair history museum; Harold Saeltre of Kasson, sheep exhibitor; and Olaf Kjome of Spring Grove, dairy cattle exhibitor.

Anyone interested in applying for the award should contact Minnesota state fair, 50 year award, Falcon Heights, Minn. 55108; phone (612) 642-2251. Deadline for entry is August 4.

Marshall Co. Has Livestock Feed Program

Farmers who have suffered feed losses due to the drought may now sign up for the Emergency Livestock feed program according to Alton Nybladh, Chairman Marshall County ASC committee.

To be eligible a livestock owner must have suffered a 40 per cent or more loss in livestock feed or pasture normally produced on the farm. Also he should not have sufficient feed on hand and be required to make feed purchases in quantities larger than normal.

Prior to signing up, the ASCS office requests that the producer have the following information: The number and kind of livestock in age groups in six-month intervals; amount of feed on hand including barley, oats, corn, hay and roughage; and the acres of pasture and what type, such as native or improved pasture. Sign up for the emergency feed program will be taken at the ASCS office in Warren.

For those interested in purchasing hay, ASCS has a large list made available by the Minnesota Farmers Union for hay for sale in Minnesota and Wisconsin. This list is on file in the office for anyone who wants to come in and look at it.

BSU Announces Spring Quarter Dean's List

Spring quarter dean's list was released recently by Dr. Willard Bornschlegl, acting vice president for academic affairs at Bemidji state university. Students carrying 12 or more quarter hours during any one term and earning a "B" or better average are on the list.

Those honored from Thief River Falls include Jodell Dallmann, James Giles, Gary Halvorson, Frank Hazard Jr., Karla Nygard, Jeffrey Oseid, Dan Reed, Kathryn Sheller and Keith Wheeler.

Also listed from the area were: Bruce Jelle, Grygla; Gregory Solberg, Gully; Julie Burrell and Janice Kotok, Middle River; Deborah Graham and Marcy Reierson, Newfolden; Diane Mosbeck and Lucy Derosier, Red Lake Falls; and Steven Hjelle, Viking.

Bids Received For Road Work On Highway 2

Bids on trunk highway maintenance work totaling $1,146,510 have been received by the Minnesota department of transportation (Mn-DOT).

Included in these bids was: Seal Coat service, Bemidji, submitted the apparent low bid of $68,139 for pavement joint repair on US 2 between the Red river of the north and the TH 220 junction in East Grand Forks, and on US 2 between the Red Lake river in Crookston and TH 32 in Polk county. To begin July 21, work is to be completed within 45 working days.

FWS To Make Hay Available To Dry Farms

Standing hay on federal land units managed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) in five counties of northwestern Minnesota will be made available to farmers because of drought conditions, George Bekeris, FWS area manager announced. The hay will be sold at fair prices.

"We're opening up selected areas within our waterfowl production areas to emergency haying operations in Becker, Clay, Mahnomen, Polk and Norman counties because of hay shortages caused by the drought," he said.

Waterfowl production areas are managed primarily for wildlife by the FWS. The decision to allow available forage to be harvested by local farmers is part of the service's neighborly tradition to help landowners when they're facing hardship in an emergency, Bekeris explained.

In 1976, during a severe drought, the Fish and Wildlife Service provided 8,900 acres of available forage to needy farmers in 19 counties of Minnesota in a similar commitment to public involvement.

The hay on FWS lands is being allocated on a local priority basis. Bekeris said qualified applicants would be local persons who have ongoing livestock operations and would not re-sell the hay.

First consideration will be given to persons who formerly owned lands that are now waterfowl production areas or farmers whose lands are contiguous with FWS units. The hay will be available for a limited time, according to Bekeris.

"We simply don't have enough hay to supply every farmer facing a shortage," he said, "but we will hold the names of other interested persons on a standby list in the event there is still some forage left after local landowners harvest their share."

Local farmers with bonafide livestock operations may call or write for information. Contact Wetlands Manager, Eldon McLaury, Detroit Lakes Management District, RR 3, Box 47D, Detroit Lakes, MN 56501, or telephone 218-847-4431.

As workers shifted their membership from professional and public employee associations to labor unions, employee association membership decreased from 3 million in 1976 to 2.6 million in 1978, the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

NANCI KEZAR, of City View 4-H club, models her reefer-style plum colored wool coat and light plum dress during the 4-H fashion revue conducted at the Thief River Falls city auditorium Thursday afternoon. Winners of the clothing project will be announced Sunday afternoon in the sports arena, with queen coronation for the project beginning at 2 p.m.

Kremer Files For Primary From Dist. 1B

Jim Kremer announced today that he has filed to be on the DFL ballot in the primary election on September 9. Kremer, a resident of Thief River Falls, said that he mailed in his affidavit for filing and it was officially filed on July 9.

In announcing his filing, Kremer said that he filed, "to give the voters of District 1-B a chance to choose the candidate they want on the DFL ballot in November. So far I have been able to meet hundreds of people from all over the District and am very encouraged by the response I have received. People like the idea of being asked for input. I think they recognize that the solutions I propose to the problems faced by our rural area are solutions that come from the people," he said.

"I urge all the residents of the district to listen to the candidates and compare what they are saying. I think that if you examine the platforms of the various candidates you will see that what I am suggesting reflects the ideas and concerns of our area. Our platform has been worked on by the people from our area and has not been dominated by the metropolitan areas of the state," he added.

Kremer concluded by once again encouraging people to contact him with their ideas. "We will be at the county fairs in the next two weeks and we are looking forward to hearing any ideas people have for strengthening our rural areas," he said.

Tornado Rips Into Dorothy Area Friday

basement and shortly thereafter could hear things hitting the house. In an upstairs bedroom a one-inch siding board about five inches in width was driven through the wall, puncturing outside siding, lath and plaster and creating a large crack in the closet wall.

A new garage disappeared, the car parked in it facing east was turned facing south, three smaller outbuildings were blown away and innumerable trees were broken, many of them large oaks. A refrigerator kept in the garage was found 200 yards away in a creek bed, missing a door and motor. The Lehrers found an unbroken egg which had been in the refrigerator, however, as well as several bottles of ketchup and other items.

At the vacant farm owned by Dean Haave east of the Lehrer farm, the silo and a granary were destroyed. Further east, at the Sylvester Schmitz farm, a new machine shed was damaged, two bale wagons were destroyed and some trees were lost.

When the Schmitz family saw the tornado approaching, they got in a car and drove south about three-fourth of a mile and watched. They didn't realize it had hit their farm until they drove back into the farm yard after the twister had passed.

Several of the families said that the funnel of the tornado was not well defined as it approached, but that they could see the definite shape of the funnel after it had gone on by.

A number of oddities resulted from the storm:

+ At the Lehrer farm, a sickle section was driven into the side of a shed like an arrowhead, but was driven in cross-grain.

+ At the Haglund home a 4-H club project calf had been tied to a truck to graze near the house. After the storm the truck was found across the road. Some time later the calf was seen wandering back from across the road, dragging a length of rope.

+ At the Beyer farm some old farm records had been stored in the attached garage. Canceled checks were found as far east as the Lehrer farm five miles away and more than half a dozen at the Schirrick farm about two and one-half miles away.

"I'm grateful to God for sparing the people," Irving Beyer said in reflecting on the storm Sunday. "And we can never thank enough all the people who came to help on Saturday. There were between 150 and 200 people here helping and they all came to work. They were some tired folks when they went to bed last night." Beyer is a Red Lake county commissioner.

Five chain saws were in use by 8 a.m. Saturday to cut up the trees which had gone down in the Beyer yard and nearly obscured the house. Tractor and a dozer were used to remove the stumps and level the yard. Tractors and wagons were used to collect the metal and wood fragments scattered about the pasture and fields and staves from the collapsed silos were hauled away to be eventually buried.

The herd of 184 cattle, including the 90 milk cows, was herded Friday night to the Curtis Beyer farm where the milk cows were placed in a separate pasture from the 55-cow Curtis Beyer herd. No decision has been made yet by the Beyers about rebuilding, but Irving says it is likely.

MSU Invites Artists For Sept. Festival

Regional artists are invited to exhibit and market their wares in an outdoor arts festival September 26 during Moorhead state university's 1980 homecoming celebration.

The alfresco festival, "Coming Home to the Arts," is sponsored by the university's student union program board and will run from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the campus mall.

Potters, quilters, wood workers, photographers and painters are all welcome as well as country-style musicians and other folk artists. Demonstrations on creating crafts or ethnic and native foods are also needed.

To enter, contact Sandy Olson at the MSU student union program board, Box 333, Moorhead state university, Moorhead, MN 56560, or call her at (218) 236-2264. Entries should be submitted by early August.

The first state law fixing 10 hours as a legal work day was passed in New Hampshire, in 1847, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

Since its inception in 1930, the Veterans Administration hospital network has grown from 54 to 172 medical centers.

Dear friends,

In preparing a legal will, name an executor or administrator for your will. If you die intestate (without a will), the court will appoint an executor who may not exactly be the one you had in mind to supervise the distribution of your personal estate.

Short Of Forage? Substitute Grain

Beef producers short on forage due to the drought should consider feeding grain to suckling calves.

"This is the starting point for other management alternatives," says Ray Arthaud, extension animal scientist at the University of Minnesota. Grain feeding (creep feeding) will supply energy for calves to grow at near normal rates.

Creep feeding should be profitable given present grain prices and expected feeder prices this fall, Arthaud says.

"Cows that don't give much milk are subjected to stress from their calves," Arthaud says. Calver will try to nurse frequently and butt the cows when milk is no longer available.

Frequent nursing is also a stimulus to produce more milk. A cow on limited feed will rob her own body reacting to this and other stimuli to produce milk.

Cows that lack nutrients will be slow to come into heat after calving. "At best, they may calve late the following year; at worst they may not calve at all," Arthaud says. Creep feeding will take some pressure off the cows and may help them come into heat.

Early weaning may be an aid to reproduction. Calves can be weaned by two to three months of age if they've started eating grain by this time. Cows will require less energy if they're not lactating and may start their reproductive cycle earlier.

Cows need to conceive about 85 days after calving to maintain a 12-month calving interval. Weaning the calves at 60 to 90 days of age will not bring some cows into heat within the 85-day limit. However, having some late calves in 1981 is probably better than none or few, Arthaud says.

For suckling or early weaned calves, either whole oats of whole shelled corn are excellent feeds. Grinding or rolling these grains often is not profitable. Barley can also be used, but course barley should be coursely ground or rolled. Wheat is less desirable, but can be used if it's coursely ground or rolled.

For lactating cows, all required nutrients are important. But energy is likely to be the first limiting nutrient under drought conditions. Good pasture usually supplies enough energy. Cows not on pasture or on extremely poor pasture need a full feed or good quality legume-grass hay to get enough energy. A full feed of hay is about 24 to 28 pounds, assuming very little is wasted.

If feed must be purchased, Arthaud advises considering substituting some grain for part of the hay, depending on relative costs. Price comparisons between various alternatives are available at Minnesota county extension offices located in drought areas. County agents also have emergency crop information for northwestern Minnesota.

Hamre, Broten Return From Wash., D.C.

Tawnya Hamre and Rona Broten, both of Thief River Falls, recently returned from Washington, D.C. after completing "Citizenship-Washington Focus" — a week-long experience in citizenship and leadership training at the national 4-H center. Rona and Tawnya were two of over 600 4-H members from Minnesota and nine other states participating.

Program is designed to help young people understand the structure and function of our system of government, the heritage of our country's development and prepare plans for active citizen involvement when they return home.

Using the Nation's Capitol as a "classroom", the program included a day on Capitol Hill to meet with members of congress and see government in action. Field trips to historical and cultural sites as well as to federal agencies and community organizations were among the most informative and exciting parts of the week.

In workshop sessions at the national 4-H center, young people discussed contemporary issues and concerns and ways in which skills and knowledge gained during the week could be applied to the 4-H program here. One of the best parts of the experience was being able to share ideas with 4-H members across the country, gaining new ideas to put to use at home and sharing each others past experiences as well.

Citizenship - Washington focus is conducted by the national 4-H council in behalf of the cooperative extension service and the U.S. department of agriculture.

Vietnam Vets Can Call Agent Orange Hotline

Veterans seeking employment are always encouraged to keep in close contact with their veterans employment representative. Contact Gerald Okland at 318 Knight av. N., Thief River Falls (phone 681-1100) for a current listing of jobs available in state and federal civil service.

Vietnam Veterans of America have begun the first national toll free Agent Orange "hot line" for concerned veterans. Number to call is 1-800-424-6402.

Veterans who call the "hot line" number will receive written information about Agent Orange and a special 'Self-Help Guide' outlining steps necessary to secure health care and help through the VA. Callers will be sent a medical questionnaire allowing them to participate in the first major independent study of the health impact of exposure to Agent Orange among Vietnam veterans. Study is being directed by Dr. Jeanne Stillman of Columbia university School of public health. The 'Self-Help Guide' was written by attorneys at the national veterans' law center.

In the past two years approximately 1,500 veterans have applied to the VA for disability benefits and more than 10,000 have applied to the VA for medical examinations concerning Agent Orange exposure.

Disabilities for which they have sought benefits and examinations are persistent loss of sensation in hands and feet, nervousness, frequent blackouts, chornic fatigue, persistent pain in the joints, severe muscle spasms, liver dysfunction, tumor, genetic damage as evidenced by birth defects in their children and cancer. The area office is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Gretchen Quie To Sponsor Pottery Contest

Gretchen Quie, wife of Gov. Al Quie, is sponsoring a juried design competition for pottery dinnerware to be purchased for the Minnesota governor's residence.

All potters interested in entering the competition are invited by Mrs. Quie to an open house at the governor's residence from 4 to 5:30 p.m. July 28. Those wishing to attend the open house should call (612) 297-2161 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Jurors for the competition will be Warren MacKenzie, Warren Westerberg and Mrs. Quie.

The 15 semi-finalists' work will be exhibited in the Kresge gallery at the Minneapolis institute of arts during October. The first-place winner will receive a purchase award of $400 for a three-piece, 12-place setting with an additional purchase award of $100 for three serving pieces. Deadline for submitting slides of the three-piece setting is September 1.

Entry blank and additional information can be obtained by writing or calling Betty Hemstad, 4904 Ridge Place, Edina, Minnesota 55424, (612) 922-2890.

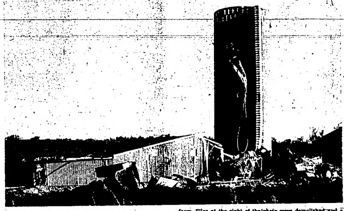
BRUCE PHARMACY
421 N. LaBree Ave. 681-5523

A HUGE ELM TREE was twisted off and toppled against the Irving Beyer home during Friday evening's tornado. It was one of many large trees broken or uprooted in the farm yard. Work crews of volunteers arrived at the farm Saturday and cleared away the broken trees, removed the stumps and leveled the yard.



BACK SIDE of the Irving Beyer dairy barn is shown in this photo taken Friday evening after a tornado touched down at the farm. Silos at the right of the photo were demolished and a portion of the barn still standing shows evidence of being battered by flying objects.

POTENTIAL OWNERS of Pamida, Inc., along with the other approximately 5,500 employees of the company, are Nancy Mules, manager and Cecil Moser, assistant manager of the Pamida Discount center in Thief River Falls. D.J. Witherspoon, founder and board chairman, and Lee E. Wegener, board vice chairman, are retiring and it is proposed that the company be sold to an employees' stock ownership trust which would make all employees of the company owners of the business. With stock figured at $5 per share, the transaction would total $46.3 million and involve 195 discount centers in 13 states. If everything falls into place, the transaction would take place about six months from now. The company would be operated under the Pamida name in substantially the same manner it is now.

Desiccant Can Speed Harvest Of Sunflowers

Early sunflower harvest and use of a desiccant to help dry-down the crop can mean fewer blackbird and weather problems, according to a number of North Dakota and Minnesota sunflower experts.

North Dakota state university crop specialists note that sunflowers are normally ready for harvest 100 to 120 days after planting — which is usually 30 to 45 days after bloom. Because of this relatively long maturity span, birds have plenty of time to damage the crop.

"Blackbirds start to flock up in late August or early September, just as the crop is reaching maturity," said Dr. Dennis Kopp, NDSU extension entomologist. "When the crop is made, it's extremely attractive to these birds. But the sooner the crop gets out of the field, the less time birds have to do their damage."

"Planning ahead is the key to bird control," said Marvin Klevberg, president of National Sunflower Marketing, Inc. and a sunflower grower since 1951. Don Watts, a Chaffee, ND sunflower grower is in agreement.

"The sooner you can harvest, the sooner you can quit chasing birds," he said. Besides planting early, both Watts and Klevberg speed up sunflower harvest by aerially applying a desiccant to a portion of their acreage to remove moisture from green plants and help dry down oilseed varieties.

In addition to bird damage, another problem brought on by later harvest is bad weather. "Some growers wait until the last possible moment before harvesting," said Larry Mitich, NDSU extension agronomist. "But experienced growers who have run into two-foot snow drifts in sunflower fields realize that special steps must often be taken to get this crop out of the field."

Although many farmers formerly delayed harvest in hopes that a killing frost would help eliminate weeds, that method is frequently ineffective these days, according to Ralph Taylor, a Crookston sunflower processor. "Killing frost can't be counted on to come on cue," he said. "It could be weeks late. And the longer the frost takes, the more time birds and weather have to damage the mature crop."

However, the experts agree that growers can avoid or at least minimize these problems by planning ahead of time, planting as early as possible, using short-term sunflower varieties and applying a crop desiccant to speed up harvest in the fall.

Jobless Pay Raised $12 On Sunday, July 6

Minnesota's maximum weekly unemployment insurance benefit has been raised $12, from $150 to $162, effective Sunday, the Minnesota department of economic security has announced.

Barbara Beerhalter, assistant commissioner for unemployment insurance, said the increase will apply to workers who file claims after July 6 and whose average weekly wage is $300 or more. The current $150 maximum weekly benefit will continue to apply for all claims established prior to July 6.

Under state law, the maximum benefit amount is recalculated every July based on the average weekly wage during the previous year. The $162 maximum as of July 6 is 66 and two-thirds per cent of the average weekly wage in 1979 of $243.19. Current $150 maximum is 66 and two-thirds of the average weekly wage in 1978 of $225.36.

As of June 28, about $160 million in unemployment benefits has been paid compared with nearly $100 million for the same period.

As of June 28, about $160 million in unemployment benefits has been paid compared with nearly $100 million for the same period last year. Total for 1979 was $151 million. Money to pay unemployment insurance comes from taxes paid by employers.

Aquatennial Welcomes MN. To World Of 80's

Minnesota is well known for its beautiful lakes and parks, and Minnesotans know how to enjoy them to their fullest: by celebrating summer during the annual Minneapolis Aquatennial "Summer Break" festivities.

The 1980 Aquatennial theme, "Welcome to the New World of the 80s," is carried out by international entertainers from all parts of the world and also by the collage of sporting, dramatic, artistic, ecological and festival events July 18-27.

Aquatennial will be celebrating it's 40th festival presentation this summer. The concept of Aquatennial orginated with a group of Twin City businessmen visiting Winnipeg, Manitoba during a parade honoring King George VI in 1939. These men came up with the idea or organizing a parade and celebration honoring Minnesota. The first aquatennial conducted in July of 1940, was so successful that it's tradition has been carried out ever since.

With over 250 events taking place during the 10 day festival, there is always something for everyone to enjoy. Downtown Minneapolis and area shopping centers and plazas focus on art and culture with art fairs, a fashion show and the Nicollet Mall "Summer Break" block party.

Taiwan will be represented by the Ron Shing children's chorus, Scotland by the Edinburgh Society of Royal country dancers, France by The Maitrise Gabriel Faure choir and Norway by a group of 15 violinists. Folklorico and tradiational dancers will be arriving from Mexico and the St. Anne's calypso song and dance revue will be arriving from Jamaica. From Hawaii will be Polynesian and Tahitian dancers featuring traditional dances of the South Pacific.

Featured guests from the United States include Disneyland Ambassador Nancy Englert and two Disney characters: Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck. And, from right here in Minnesota, is the McDonald's All American high school jazz ensemble.

In addition to international entertainment there are the sports and lakes events which enable Minnesotans and area visitors to take full advantage of the beautiful lakes and parks for which Minnesota is famous.

Also, there is the Aquatennial Bicycle Road Race, the Dairy Queen milk carton boat race, and the Celebrity Regatta and Hydroplane races. A new event, the world's largest chili cook out, will feature talented cooks preparing their favorite chili recipes, vying to be named Chili Champ. Everyone with a Skipper Pin will be entitled to free chili. Special events such as the Youth and Family Expo and Senior Summer Break enable people of all ages to take part in Aquatennial festivities.

Highlighting the 10-day festival are four parades. Grande Day parade (July 19) and the Torchlight parade (July 23) are included in the nation's top 10 parades with more than 170 units included in each of them.

Minnesota Mayors and Legislators will be hosted to a full day of activities including luncheons, dinners and attend the two spectacular parades July 23 and July 19. Minnesota high schools will also participate in the Aquatennial invitational parades. Thirty-five queen candidates representing Minnesota communities will join with representatives of 14 suburban communities to vie for the coveted selection of Queen of the Lakes, July 25.

Junior Aquatennial Parade, July 27, highlights the creativity and talents of children up to 15 years of age. They will be parading costumes, floats and clown make-up which they've created themselves.

A unique parade which carries out the aquatic theme of the Aquatennial, is the Flotilla Frolic which winds it's way down the Mighty Mississippi July 26. Decorated and illuminated water craft of all sizes travel the river.

Summer 1980 ends with a bang when the spectacular Fireworks Finale is staged over Lake Calhoun Sunday night, July 27. This sparkling display will provide a dramatic conclusion to Minneapolis Aquatennial's, "Welcome to the New World of the 80s."

Kjos, Stokke Attend State Banking School

David Kjos, First Northwestern state bank of Thief River Falls and Steven J. Stokke, Northern state bank of Thief River Falls, were among the 132 Minnesota bankers who attended the 15th session of the Minnesota school of banking (MSB) held at St. Olaf college in Northfield. They were members of the first-year class at the school established by the Minnesota Bankers association (MBA).

Students of the school study bank management and operations, lending, money and banking, investment, bank law and marketing during the two-year school. In addition to a full schedule of classes during the week, evening seminars and study groups are held to augment classroom instruction.

Shop and save in Thief River Falls.

Thank you to the voters of the Fifth District, Marshall County, for their support.

A BIG THANK YOU

Requests for Coverage

Although the Times does its best to comply with requests for coverage of news events and generally places a liberal interpretation on what is "news", now and then we have to turn down a request or are unable to provide coverage.

Larry Windom of the Detroit Lakes newspapers finds that it is depressing to be in the position of refusing news coverage, but he gets a lift from a "day brightener" which he keeps in his files. The brightener is a list of requests made of newspapers and, although fictitious, is not far from the truth of actual requests received fairly often. Here are some of the suggestions made as listed in Windom's column:

"Hello there, I'm really sorry to bother you at 7:30 on a Sunday morning. I know it must be your day off, but could you send a reporter and a photographer over to our class meeting in about an hour? We're going to give our good, old friend Henry a perfect attendance pin for 10 years without missing a Sunday."

"We thought if we sent it in to that other newspaper, they'd put in the local paper too. You mean you don't swap stories and pictures? Well, all newspapers did that, I was told!"

"I don't really care about seeing my picture in the paper, but the others in the club said I ought to come down . . ."

"And this kitty walked all the way home from Oxford and in this picture — see right there — that's my little girl, see her?"

"Why does your paper print so many stories and pictures praising the Democrats? I thought your editorial policy was Republican."

"Why do you print so many stories praising the Republicans? I thought you said your news columns would be fair and impartial."

"We're having our regular semi-weekly meeting of the Barrel Hoop Collectors Club and I want you to send a reporter and photographer, too. You see, we send our clippings in to the national office and get awarded points on our achievement board for each picture and each story."

"I'm the public relations chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the Button Hook Gatherers Society, and we had our monthly meeting the week before last. It took all this time because we wanted to get it right. So you print it as it is without changing one word! The new officers are listed on page 39. And not only that, I've written out the headline just the way we want it. What's that? You mean to tell me that 'Gettysburg Moss Gatherers' won't go in a one-column headline?"

"Whaddaya mean I can't call him a wife-beating, collection-stealing, lily-livered embezzler in my letter to the editor?"

"Our ladies have sold 19 batches of homemade cookies for the benefit of the three-toed sloths of Afghanistan and we think it would be nice — just this once, of course — if you would publish a four-column picture of this on page one."

Food Takes Smaller Bite

Following editorial is from the Pioneer Journal at Wadena:

Lost in the outcry over soaring food prices is the fact that Americans today are spending a considerably smaller share of their income for groceries than they did 20 years ago.

A study by the General Accounting office, Congress' investigative arm, found U.S. farmilies laid out 28½ per cent of their income for food in 1960, but only 19.2 per cent in 1978. The study concedes, however, that some low-income Americans do spend as much as 40 per cent of their income to eat. In its study the GAO included restaurant and alcoholic beverage tabs.

One reason for the drop in the share spent on food is that housing, transportation and other goods and services have been taking a bigger bite out of the family budget.

Food prices in the U.S. have been climbing at an average of eight per cent a year since 1972, the GAO found, but they are still among the lowest in any industrial country. And where does the food dollar go? The GAO says 68 cents of it is paid for labor and other costs involved in processing, packaging, transporting and selling food.

What we're trying to say is that high quality food is still a great bargain in the U.S. It has been suggested that supermarket shopping carts be divided right down the middle and that shoppers pack only groceries in the left half and everything else be stacked in the other half as a visible reminder that food is by no means the only thing we go to the store to buy.

The side of the cart devoted to everything else will include all sorts of health and beauty aids, things you never found in grovery stores until recent years. Before they came along, you could look at your supermarket checkout slip and have a pretty close idea as to just how much you were spending on food from week to week.

It's not that way anymore. A typical shopping cart today has the milk and corn flakes and hamburger pretty well buried under shampoo and dental floss and hair spray and paper plates. Piled high along the sides are toilet tissue, garbage bags, plastic wrap, paper toweling, mouthwash, magazines, cigarettes, birthday cards, fireplace logs, panty hose, grass seed and soaps for all occasions — face, hands, dishes, general laundry and delicate fabrics.

But when the housewife shopper frowns at the amount of the check she writes, she scribbles the notation, "Food", on the check stub. And the American farmer has caught another haymaker in the middle of his image.

As we said earlier, high quality food is still a great bargain — no matter what the shaving cream and paper cups cost.

Word Of Mouth Can Be Deadly

Following is from a column by Mike O'Connor, publisher of the Hastings Star:

Small town living is great, but if it's privacy you want. . . forget it. That's the statement made by Hastings Star Publisher Mike O'Connor in a recent column on the rumors that spread every week. We think his thoughts bear repeating:

Last month the Chamber of Commerce conducted a small survey of families that recently moved to Hastings. One of the things new families liked about the community was its friendliness.

That is great to hear. But this friendliness has a very slight drawback. Being that we're all so close and friendly, it means we talk a lot with each other. Once we finish talking about the family, weather, work and the fish missed or the putt holed from 15 yards out, we turn to other subjects. The frosting on any cake of conversation is gossip and rumors.

I've become more acquainted with rumors since I started the Star nearly 11 years ago. It usually starts out fairly innocent. Someone might casually mention something they had seen or heard from someone directly involved in the rumor. Where these things go wrong is when this starts going from person to person. That's when the meaning changes.

Most of you have probably played the game where someone at one end of the room whispers something to the person next to them and then they repeat what they think they heard to the next person. By the time it gets to the last person, the meaning is usually completely changed.

When things get stretched out or exaggerated, that's when problems begin. In this business, I've come across my share of rumors. I have a habit of going right to the person or government agency involved. I like to get my information from the "horse's mouth". Other people ought to do the same. It has been my experience that rumors are usually filled with half-truths.

People thrive on rumors and spreading them. Some have said, within ear shot of me, that you can't believe everything you read. That's true in some instances. But I prefer to say you can't believe everything you hear unless it's coming to you from a direct source. It would be ideal, of course, if before each of us would spread rumors, we would check them our first before carrying it on.

I think that one of the greatest assets community newspaper gives to its readers is to dispel rumors and set the record straight. I think a good many of our story ideas come from rumors that our staff may have come across. We then set out to do the story, finding out whether the rumor was true or not.

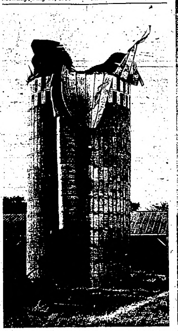
Next time a friend asks if you have heard about so and so, better take it with a grain of salt until you find out whether it's true or not. The most effective communication device in our community is not the news media. It is word of mouth. Sometimes it's deadly!

Borrowed Nonsense:

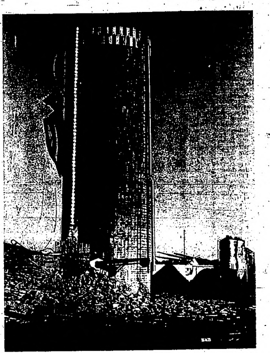
If your mind should go blank, don't forget to turn off the sound.

"Mother!" screamed Carole, "are you going out with my brand new raincoat?"

"Of course," mother replied. "It's raining. Do you want me to get your new outfit all wet?"



EXPLOSIVE FORCE of the tornado which hit the Irving Beyer farm near Dorothy in Red Lake county Friday night is evidenced by this photo of an empty silo on the farm. Two of five silos on the farm were toppled and all the others had damage to the tops.



ONLY ONE SILO from a cluster of three remained standing at the Irving Beyer dairy farm following Friday's tornado. The standing silo was partially filled and that is believed to have kept it from collapsing. Those which toppled were 24x70 and 20x65 feet in size. Remains of the dairy barn and damaged feed bins are shown in the background at right.

Failing Grain Crops May Be Used As Forage

Grain crops that won't produce economic grain yields can be harvested as forages. Small grains should be harvested for forage as soon as you've determined that grain formation isn't possible, say University of Minnesota extension agronomists Neal Martin and Oliver Strand.

However, DO NOT harvest crops for forage that have environmental protection agency (EPA) herbicide label restrictions for feeding. Detailed lists of crops and herbicides with label restrictions are available from county extension offices in northwestern Minnesota.

Martin and Strand say that replanting at this time for forage crop use will be extremely risky — especially for those areas that received less than three inches of rain since April. However, isolated areas with moist soil can be replanted to forage crops, provided there's normal rainfall in July, August and September.

Emergency crops for silage are sunflowers, corn and proso millet (listed in decreasing order of expected yeields). Emergency crops for hay are sorghum-sudan crosses, foxtail millet, sudangrass hybrids and soybeans (also in decreasing order of expected yield).

Ensiling crops potentially high in nitrate generates nitrogen gases. These gases are poisonous and can cause death and serious health problems for humans and animals. No one should enter a silo, silo chute or silo-feeding room during ensiling through three weeks after silo filling until outside air is mechanically pushed into the area.

More detailed information on emergency forage crops for northwestern Minnesota is available in area county extension offices.

License Centers To Have Voter Cards Available

Secretary of state's office has reminded the commissioner of public safety of the provision in Minnesota law which requires drivers license centers to provide voter registration cards to persons changing their addresses on their drivers licenses.

Minnesota election law requires that voters must change their registration if they change their residence or legal name.

"Drivers license personnel would be doing a great service to the state if they were to make a concerned effort during the next several months to encourage people to pre-register," states Joan Growe, secretary of state.

Unregistered voters, or persons who need to change their registration, should fill out the voter registration card now available at the drivers license centers and mail it to their county auditor. Voters may register in person or by mail any time up to 20 days before an election.

State House Plans Display At State Fair

Minnesota state fair begins August 21, and runs through Labor day, September 1. For the seventh consecutive year, the Minnesota House of Representatives information office will be there to encourage citizen participation in state government.

The House display will again feature an electronic voting booth where fair visitors can cast their "vote" in a state fair opinion poll. Questions in the poll this year center around the proposed amendments to the state Constitution which Minnesotans will be voting on this November.

Visitors to the information display can learn who their state representative is at the State Capitol; find out how a bill becomes a law — in 10 basic steps; check their government I.Q. on a test-yourself slide quiz; pick up information on new state laws; view a colorful slide show on the House in action; meet and talk with members of the House; register to vote for the fall election.

In your state fair plans, include a stop at the House display in the machinery-state exhibits building on machinery hill. Look for the sign "Minnesota House of Representatives — Government Is For Everyone" and spend some time to learn where and how to get information about the legislature.

4H CLUB

Papa Bear

The Papa Bear 4-H club met on July 8 at Clow's. Jennifer Westlin opened the meeting by asking Hillary Peterson to lead the pledges. Jennifer Westlin then asked Kay-Lyn Espe to read off roll call. Then Jennifer Westlin asked Jodi Finke to read the treasurer's report.

Old business: the banner, camp, and our projects.

New business: the cookbooks . . . changing meeting to Monday but kept going with Tuesday . . . 4-H fair food stand . . . crazy days . . . ice cream booth . . . Oakland Park asked for wheel chair pushers for the fair . . . people not showing up to work in stands — luckily our club does not have this problem . . . profits of carnival . . . dairy day profits . . . art-in-the-park profits.

Jennifer Westlin asked if there were any announcements. Brenda Senum made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Stephanie Clow seconded it. Jennifer Westlin said all in favor say aye.

A demonstration was given on horses and foods by Stephanie Clow.

There were eight members, 11 parents, and six visitors present.

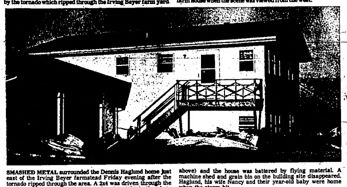
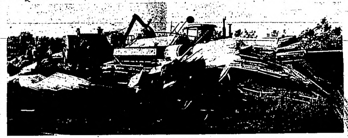
LARGE TREES were toppled and twisted, torn from the ground by the tornado which ripped through the Irving Beyer farm yard shortly after 6 p.m. Friday. The trees nearly obscured the large farm house when the scene was viewed from the west.



SMASHED METAL surrounded the Dennis Haglund home just east of the Irving Beyer farmstead Friday evening after the tornado ripped through the area. A 2x4 was driven through the south wall next to an upstairs window (at right in the photo above) and the house was battered by flying material. A machine shed and grain bin on the building site disappeared. Haglund, his wife Nancy and their year-old baby were home when the storm hit.



EXPOSED EQUIPMENT stood where a machine shed had formerly been near the Dennis Haglund home in Red Lake county. A tornado Friday evening pulled 6x6 inch poles out of the ground as the shed was destroyed and one was found driven into the pasture northwest of the site like a giant spear.

TRF Takes Northwest League Title

Thief River Falls' 6-2 American Legion victory over East Grand Forks Thursday gave the 1980 Northwest League pennant to the winners for the fourth time in the past five years.

The title will give Thief River Falls the top seed in the post-season Northwest League Sub District playoffs where the league champions will be expected to come up with a trophy finish in the six-team field that will also include East Grand Forks, Crookston, Roseau, Warroad and Newfolden.

But it doesn't always happen that way. Only half of the Northwest League pennant winners of the 1970's managed to add the sub district tournament title to its collection; a feat that has happened only two times in the past seven years.

Crookston won the Northwest League pennant and sub district tournament titles in 1970. Newfolden followed suit in 1971. East Grand Forks and Crookston shared the Northwest League crown in 1972, with East Grand Forks beating Crookston 2-1 in the sub district championship game.

But then came a four-year span when Northwest League champions failed to live up to expectations in post-season play.

Crookston took the Northwest League pennant in 1973, but Thief River Falls, the second place finisher during the year, routed the league champions 11-0 in the sub district championship game.

East Grand Forks and Roseau were co-champions in the 1974 Northwest League race, with East Grand Forks winning the coin flip for the No. 1 seed in the sub district tournament. However, it was No. 4 seeded Thief River Falls that won it with a 14-3 championship game victory over Warroad.

It was even more of a surprise in 1975 when Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks shared the Northwest League title with 7-1 records. East Grand Forks won the coin flip for the tournament's top seed, but Crookston, seeded seventh in the eight-team field, beat Thief River Falls 6-4 in the first round and later shut out East Grand Forks 2-0 in the championship game.

Tournament failures by league champions continued in 1976 when Thief River Falls took the Northwest League pennant only to lose a lopsided 11-1 sub district semifinal game to East Grand Forks. Crookston then beat East Grand Forks 4-0 for the title.

Northwest League champions finally prevailed in the 1977 and 1978 sub district tournaments. Thief River Falls won the 1977 league title and got by East Grand Forks 3-2 in the sub district championship game. Crookston took the 1978 league pennant and added a 6-5 victory over Thief River Falls in the sub district championship game.

But the old trend reappeared last summer when Crookston emerged as the Northwest League pennant winner, only to lose a 5-4 sub district semifinal game to East Grand Forks that covered 16 innings. Roseau wound up the surprise sub district winner. Beaten twice by Thief River Falls during the regular season, Roseau eliminated Thief River Falls in the sub district tournament semifinals with a 2-0 decision, then handled East Grand Forks 7-1 in the championship game.

Sub district tournament pairings, sites and dates will be determined at a coaches' meeting later this week.

TRF Legion Wins Northwest League Title

A first place tie in the Northwest American Legion baseball league standings was broken Thursday when Thief River Falls won the 1980 pennant with a 6-2 title showdown victory at East Grand Forks.

The two rivals entered the game with identical 7-1 Northwest League records and nearly identical overall marks (TRF 19-7, EGF 16-7). Thief River Falls won it, though, and even a loss in a final league start at Roseau Tuesday will not take the title away. It's the first Northwest League pennant for Thief River Falls since 1977. Crookston won back-to-back titles in 1978 and 1979.

Jeff Ulrich beat East Grand Forks on the mound and at the plate. The right-handed pitcher, although troubling himself with eight walks, limited East Grand Forks to just two base hits and he struck out 10. As a batter, Ulrich went 3-for-4, collecting two doubles and driving in two runs.

East Grand Forks went up 1-0 without the benefit of a base hit in the second inning. Thief River Falls took a 2-1 lead on back-to-back solo home runs by Mark Harder and Dave Odegaard in the fourth, but East Grand Forks tied it in the bottom of the inning on a triple by Pat Babinski, who scored when Ulrich was charged with an error on a pick-off attempt.

Thief River Falls pushed the winning run across the plate in the fifth when Tom Drury singled and Ulrich doubled for a 3-2 edge. The visitors gained breathing room with a three-run seventh when they collected five base hits.

Five games this week will close out the 1980 Thief River Falls regular season schedule. All five will be on the road.

After visiting Roseau Tuesday for a 7 p.m. Northwest League game, Thief River Falls will finish with doubleheaders Saturday at New York Mills at 6:30 p.m. and Sunday at Detroit Lakes at 2 p.m.

BRUCE JOHNSON was all smiles Friday and was congratulated by his teammates after hitting a two-run home run in the top of the first inning for Coca-Cola in a first place Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league showdown with Action Realty. Johnson, appearing in just his second game of the season for Coca-Cola, drilled the first pitch he saw over the left field fence. Coca-Cola went on to win the game 8-6 to wrestle first place away from Action Realty.

Fast Pitch Softball League Leaders . . .

Coca-Cola Beats Action Realty 8-6 In First Place Match-Up

Fast Pitch Softball

	w	l
Coca-Cola	9	2
Action Realty	8	2
Northland Pro	6	6
Schmidts	3	9
Melvies	2	9

Unbeaten through eight games, Action Realty was tagged with back-to-back losses last week in the Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league to slip into second place in the five-team standings heading into a week of inactivity for the league because of the Pennington county fair.

Wednesday produced a pair of eyebrow-raising results as Northland Pro snapped Action Realty's unbeaten status with a 3-0 victory, then Schmidts kept second place Coca-Cola from capitalizing on the leader's loss by taking a 2-0 decision.

However, that didn't diminish the importance of Friday's long-awaited Action Realty vs. Coca-Cola showdown, and Coca-Cola, beaten 4-3 by Action Realty in their first meeting last month, came up with an 8-6 victory. The two teams are now deadlocked in the all-important loss column, but Coca-Cola has played and won one more game than Action Realty to claim a slim first place edge at this time.

Elsewhere last week, Melvies knocked off Schmidts 8-6 Thursday, but lost to Northland Pro 11-0 Friday.

Coca-Cola 8
Action Realty 6

Offense was featured Friday in the Action Realty vs. Coca-Cola first place confrontation as the hitters ignored the "Heavy air" to drill five home runs in the post-tornado warning humidity. But a key defensive play at the end was the headline-maker as Coca-Cola emerged with an 8-6 win.

The two-run Coca-Cola lead was being threatened in the bottom of the seventh inning when Paul Drees and Kelly Gutterud opened with back-to-back singles. Al Erickson was then called upon to lay down a sacrifice bunt in an effort to put both runners in scoring position.

But the ploy backfired when Coca-Cola first baseman Paul Walker charged the anticipated bunt, made a bare-handed ankle-high catch of the short pop-up, then managed to spin around and double up Gutterud at first base by firing a quick strike to second baseman Roger Cota, who was covering the bag.

The play was a beauty, and in all probability a game-winner because if Walker had failed to come up with the catch Erickson would have been safe, Action Realty would have had the bases loaded with nobody out and their top hitters were scheduled to bat.

Rest of the game was a home run derby. Bruce Johnson, Gordie Peterson and Roger Cota all homered for Coca-Cola, while Ron Ostby and Drees cleared the fences for Action Realty.

Johnson homered in the top of the first inning as Coca-Cola opened with a 3-0 lead. A grand slam home run by Peterson made it 7-1 in the top of the second.

Action Realty got a pair of those runs back in the bottom of the second, but still trailed 8-4 after Cota and Ostby matched fourth inning solo home runs.

The gap closed to 8-6 in the fifth when Paul Drees led off with a home run and Nick Drees added a run-scoring single.

Northland Pro 3
Action Realty 0

Only undefeated team left in Thief River Falls softball finally felt the sting of a loss, as Mark DuChamp hurled a two hitter in a 3-0 Northland Pro win over Action Realty Wednesday.

Northland Pro scored the only runs needed in the top of the first inning when Bob Lundbohm drew a free pass and moved to second on Tim Engelstad's sacrifice bunt. Brian Peterson singled for one run; a wild pitch enabled Peterson to advance to second; and Jeff Hendrickson's single to right plated the second run.

Northland Pro's third run came in the top of the fourth as Hendrickson reached on an error, took second on a wild pitch and scored on DuChamp's single to center.

Meanwhile, DuChamp was holding Action Realty batters off base by throwing a perfect game through four innings. A lead off walk to Ron Ostby in the bottom of the fifth spoiled the perfect game and with two out, Kelly Gutterud bounced a single off DuChamp's glove to beak up the no-hitter.

Wayne Smith later drilled a lead off single to right field in the bottom of the seventh but was stranded as DuChamp preserved his shutout.

Coca-Cola 0

Schmidts kept Coca-Cola from taking advantage of Action Realty's first loss with a 2-0 decision in Wednesday's second surprise.

Both runs came in the top of the second inning when Steve Haats singled, Mark Schmitke beat out a bunt, Jim Sethre was safe on a fielder's choice, with Haats being tossed out at third. Mark Haats drew a walk and with two out, Howard Dalager laced a ground-rule double for two runs.

Coke batters could only come up with two-out singles in the first, third and fifth innings as Dean Lawrenz kept them off balance with a good change-up. Wane Gutterud beat out an infield hit leading off the bottom of the sixth but Coke couldn't crack Lawrenz or the Schmidts defense for a score.

Schmidts 6

Doug Martell picked up his first win as a starting pitcher with an 8-6 Melvies win over Schmidts Thursday.

Melvies picked up a run in the bottom of the first on Rick Kofstad's single, a wild pitch and an error. In the third, four Melvies runners scored with the last two coming on Del Beito's fourth homer of the year.

Schmidts got a pair of runs in the top of the fourth on Don Foss' two-run homer over the right field fence, but Melvies got the runs back in their half of the frame on Terry Sullivan's sacrifice fly and a wild pitch.

Mark Haats solo home run in the fifth cut the gap to 7-3, but Beito took the league lead with his fifth homer in the last of the fifth.

A bases-loaded walk to Lloyd Noreen in the top of the sixth cut the margin to 8-4 and bases-loaded walks to Foss and Steve Haats in the seventh made it 8-6 before Martell got the final out on a tap back to the mound. Martell raced to first to record the final out himself.

Northland Pro scored six runs in the bottom of the first inning in an 11-0 Friday night rout of Melvies.

Bob Lundbohm singled, stole second and eventually scored on a wild pitch to start it. Tim Engelstad was hit by a pitch, Brian Peterson walked and both runners moved up on a wild pitch. Rocky Ammerman doubled for a couple of runs, Mark DuChamp singled to score Ammerman, Glen Kalsnes singled, with DuCahmp scoring on an error. Kalsnes scored the sixth run on yet another wild pitch.

Northland Pro scored three more times in the second inning and added single runs in the third and fourth.

Meanwhile, Jeff Hendrickson held Melvies to singles in the third and fourth as he chalked up his shutout.

TRF Elks Lodge Golf Tourney Held Saturday

Bob Jury, Jerry Johnson, Rick Reierson, George Thorson, Mark Rislov and Ron Martin were all flight winners Saturday in the Thief River Falls Elks lodge 1308 golf tournament at the Thief River Country Club.

Jury won the Past Exalted Rulers flight, followed by Wally Grovum and Bob Flynn.

Johnson took the championship flight, with Jerry Imgrund and Marv Carlson sharing second place in the handicap competition.

Reierson and Thorson tied for the top spot in the first flight, with Pete Groschupf placing third.

Rislov was a winner in the second flight where Jim Rogalla was second and Cornell Rygh and Darrel Bakke shared third place.

Ron Martin won the third flight, with Dave Rislov finishing second and Randy Dallmann third.

Actual low gross score for the day was turned in by Jay Moum with a 71. Low net, including handicap, was a 61 by Jury.

Legion Drops Weekend Series

A pair of two-run losses and a one-run setback were included in a frustrating weekend for the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team as Battle Lake and Fergus Falls took three of four decisions from the visitors.

Facing Battle Lake in a Saturday doubleheader at Fergus Falls, Thief River Falls dropped 4-2 and 6-5 decisions. Staying on to play Fergus Falls Sunday, Thief River Falls came out a 10-4 first game winner, but dropped the nightcap 5-3.

Now 21-10 overall, Thief River Falls will be at Roseau Tuesday for a 7 p.m. Northwest League game. Doubleheaders are planned Saturday at New York Mills at 6:30 p.m. and Sunday at Detroit Lakes at 2 p.m.

Battle Lake 4
TRF 2

Battle Lake scored three times on four singles and a walk in the third inning for a 4-2 first game win over Thief River Falls Saturday.

There were singles by Dan Ruhland, Mark Buntse, Mike Malecki and Monte Muxfeldt, and a walk issued to Tony Thief during the winner's third inning.

Thief River Falls scored single runs in the fifth and sixth to make it 3-2, but two-out walks in the bottom of the sixth issued to Kent Semen and Bruce Buntse were followed by a double into the right field corner by Thiel, the winning pitcher who put three Thief River Falls runners on base in the seventh without giving up a run.

Scott McKeever scored the initial Thief River Falls run in the fifth with an infield single, a stolen base and two Battle Lake errors. Dave Odegaard scored in the sixth with a base hit bunt, a fielder's choice play and another Battle Lake error.

Battle Lake 6
TRF 5

Battle Lake scored four times in the bottom of the seventh inning to pull out a 6-5 victory in Saturday's second game.

A two-run Battle Lake error in the first inning and a bases-loaded double by Jeff Ulrich in the second gave Thief River Falls a 4-0 lead.

Thief River Falls led it 5-2 on Kelly Gutterud's RBI single in the top of the seventh.

But Battle Lake collected five base hits in the bottom of the inning to win it.

TRF 10
Fergus Falls 4

Jim Nyland went 3-for-4 while Scott McKeever, Mark Schmitke and Tom Drury all had two hits apiece in Thief River Falls' 10-4 first game win over Fergus Falls Sunday.

Thief River Falls pounded out 11 base hits in building a 10-2 lead through six innings.

It was plenty of offensive support for Thief River Falls pitchers Jeff Ulrich and Kevin Sanders, who limited Fergus Falls to just two base hits.

TRF 3

Another late game burst by the opposition ended the weekend for Thief River Falls as Fergus Falls posted a 5-3 triumph.

A first inning double by Scott McKeever was followed by sacrifices by Kevin Sanders and Dave Odegaard for a 1-0 Thief River Falls start, and back-to-back base hits in the third inning by McKeever and Sanders gave Thief River Falls a 2-1 edge.

Fergus Falls won it, though, with a three-run sixth inning that featured a two-run home run by Mickey Johnson.

Thief River Falls got one run back in the top of the seventh on an error and consecutive singles by Tom Drury and McKeever. But one runner was thrown out at third and two others were left stranded that inning.

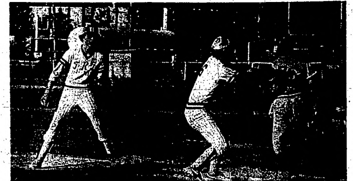
HIGHLANDING HALL



FIRST BASEMAN Kerry Wollin was awaiting the throw, but Thief River Falls Elks pitcher Tim Bottem, after fielding a sacrifice bunt by Bemidji Braves batter Kent Kavanagh, tagged the runner out himself in the fifth inning of Sunday's championship game in the 12th annual Thief River Falls Elks Babe Ruth baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds. The Braves outlasted the defending champion Elks 14-12 to win the first place prize.

Bemidji Braves Win Elks Title

Bemidji Braves scored 41 runs in three games to capture championship honors in the 12th annual Thief River Falls Babe Ruth baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds played Saturday and Sunday.

Offense dominated as the Braves opened with a 13-3 win over Goodridge Saturday and added a 14-8 victory over Roseau in the semifinals that afternoon to gain a spot in Sunday's finals against the defending champion Thief River Falls Elks. But after Saturday wins over Warroad 10-3 and the Bemidji Lions 3-2 in eight innings, the Elks found themselves facing a 14-5 deficit after 4½ innings of the championship game, and it proved to be too big of a hurdle to overcome.

Thus, the Braves became the fifth different tournament winner over the past five years. The Elks were back-to-back winners in 1974 and 1975, but the Braves took it in 1976, Crookston in 1977, the Lions in 1978 and the Elks a year ago.

Consolation honors Sunday went to the Thief River Falls Independents, a 7-5 first round upset victim at the hands of Roseau before bouncing back to take Goodridge 15-3 and Warroad 13-1 in consolation round games.

Bemidji Lions came back from their tough semifinal loss to the Elks for an 18-9 win over Roseau in Sunday's third place game.

Thief River Falls teams completed their 1980 regular season schedule with the tournament. The Elks will take a 17-3 record into post-season play. The Independents are 14-8.

Elks — Warroad

Jeff Milender hit a two-run triple during a three-run fifth inning that brought the Elks from a 2-1 deficit en route to a 10-3 tournament-opening win over Warroad Saturday morning. Thief River Falls then broke it open with a four-run fifth inning.

Tom Bottem was 2-for-3 in the seven-hit Thief River Falls attack. Winning pitcher Scott Johnston scattered five hits, walking seven and striking out five.

Independents — Roseau

Roseau got out of one-out bases-loaded jams in both the fifth and sixth innings to come out a 7-5 first round winner over the Independents, who left 12 runners stranded during the seven-inning opening round affair.

Dave Stimac and Gary Cornell had two hits apiece for the losers, who were out-hit 10-6. Roseau also capitalized on seven Thief River Falls errors and seven walks to score five unearned runs. Ryan Bakke was the losing pitcher.

Elks — Lions

Tim Bottem pitched a one-hitter and Brian Kemnitz drove in the winning run in the eighth inning as the Elks posted a 3-2 extra-inning victory over the Bemidji Lions in a Saturday afternoon semifinal game.

Only Bemidji base hit was a triple by Tom Louma in the third that followed an error for a run. Louma then scored on a sacrifice fly that gave the Lions a 2-1 edge.

The Elks scored single runs in the second, fifth and eighth innings. Jeff Milender, who had two of the Elks' four base hits, and an RBI single in the second and had a lead-off double in the fifth when he scored to tie it 2-2.

In the eighth, a lead-off single by Todd Ortloff put the Elks in business. He stole second, moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Kerry Wollin and scored on Kemnitz' single to left field.

Bottem walked four and struck out five for the win.

Independents — Goodridge

A 12-run first inning quickly decided the issue as the Independents toppled Goodridge 15-3 in a Saturday afternoon consolation semifinal game.

Mark Gere had a bases-loaded triple in that first inning assault. Jim Hallmek finished 3-for-4 at the plate for the winners and Dave Stimac was 2-for-4 in the Independents' nine-hit attack.

Winning pitcher Gary Cornell walked two and struck out eight in a four-hit effort.

Independents — Warroad

Jim Hallamek was 4-for-4 and drove in four runs with a two-run home run and a two-run double as the Independents handled Warroad 13-1 in Sunday's consolation championship game.

Hallamek's home run came during a nine-run sixth inning when the Independents broke open a 3-1 ball game.

Mark Gere and Gary Cornell combined on a two-hit pitching effort.

Elks—Braves

Elks pitchers issued six walks in the third inning — three with the bases loaded — as the Bemidji Braves scored six runs en route to a 14-12 championship game victory.

There were mistakes aplenty on both sides. The Braves' 7-1 lead nearly disappeared in the bottom of the third when the Elks cut it back to 7-5. The Bemidji ball club lengthened it to 14-5 in the top of the fifth, only to see Thief River Falls respond with five runs and a 14-10 game in the bottom of the frame.

The two teams split 12 errors and 24 base hits. Lonnie Aune was 3-for-5 for the Elks, with a double, triple and three RBI's. He also came up with a defensive gem at shortstop with a bases-loaded diving stop and force out at second that finally put an end to the Bemidji attack.

Tim Bergland was also 3-for-5 for the Elks and Tim Bottem was 2-for-5, with three RBI's.

Kerry Wollin was the starter and loser on the mound for the Elks. Bottem came on in relief during the Braves' big third inning.

Tournament Results

Quarterfinals — TRF Elks 10, Warroad 3; Bemidji Lions 14, East Grand Forks 8; Roseau 7, TRF Independents 5; Bemidji Braves 13, Goodridge 3.

Semifinals — Elks 3, Lions 2 (8 innings); Braves 14, Roseau 8.

Championship — Braves 14, Elks 12.

Third place — Lions 18, Roseau 9.

Consolation Bracket

Semifinals — Warroad 15, East Grand Forks 10; Independents 15, Goodridge 3.

Cons. championship — Independents 13, Warroad 1.

A LOW THROW was handled by Thief River Falls Independents first baseman Mark Gere in the fifth inning of Saturday's consolation semifinal game against Goodridge in the 12th annual Thief River Falls Elks Babe Ruth baseball tournament. The Independents won the game, played on the Northland community college diamond, 15-2 and added a 13-1 victory over Warroad Sunday in the consolation championship game.

— The Times—A Great Gift!

11-12-Year-Old Tournament Is Won By A's

A two-out, three-run home run by Al Sorum in the bottom of the sixth inning lifted the A's past the Yankees 9-6 Thursday in an all-Thief River Falls final of the second annual Thief River Falls invitational baseball tournament for 11-12-year-olds.

The A's built a 6-1 lead through three innings, but watched the Yankees tie the scheduled six-inning contest 6-6 before Sorum broke the deadlock in dramatic fashion.

In another all-Thief River Falls match-up, the defending tournament champion Twins out-scored the Blue Jays 13-10 in Thursday's third place game.

Middle River edged Red Lake Falls 2-1 Thursday afternoon to take the consolation title.

First round games were played Tuesday when the Twin blanked Red Lake Falls 4-0, Yankees blitzed Goodridge 25-2, A's stopped Middle River 4-1 and the Blue Jays shut out Oklee 11-0.

In Wednesday's semifinals, the Yankees outlasted the Twins 10-7 and the A's got by the Blue Jays 12-9 in the championship round while Red Lake Falls eliminated Goodridge 14-1 and Middle River ousted Oklee 8-1 in the consolation bracket.

WINNERS THURSDAY in the championship game of the second annual Thief River Falls invitational baseball tournament for 11-12-year-olds were the Thief River Falls A's. They beat the Thief River Falls Yankees 9-6 in the finals on the Little League diamond. Members of the A's include, front row left to right, Mike Anderson, Steve McGann, Barry Schmitz, Blair Lund, Ryan Kezar and Richie Bendickson; back row, left to right, Dan Anderson, Al Sorum, coach Bill Blankenfeld, Dan Iverson, Brock Newland and Tom Knoff.

Elks Softball Tournament Set Aug. 2-3

Thief River Falls Elks invitational men's slow pitch softball tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday, August 2 and 3.

Advertised as a district tournament warm-up, the 32-team double-elimination event is an open tournament; all teams are eligible to complete. Entry fee is $50, plus two red-stitch softballs.

In addition to trophies, the tournament offers a $250 first place prize; $150 for second; and $75 for third.

There will also be a home run hitting contest Saturday; a special meal priced at $1.50 for ball players and their friends Saturday night; a Saturday night dance at the Elks; and discount food and merchandise coupons in a tournament program.

Entry deadline is July 28. Send entry fees, along with the team name, manager's name and his telephone number to Dallmann Athletic, P.O. Box 412, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. For additional information telephone 681-2972.

DNR Seeking Public Comment On Trail Plan

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is working on a plan that will guide the future acquisition, development and operation of recreational trails.

In the months to come, said the DNR, meetings with the general public and local government officials will be scheduled throughout Minnesota to identify major issues, problems and potential solutions relating to the trails program.

Announcements of the meetings will be sent to local news media as they are scheduled.

Department personnel is presently managing or preparing plans for 13 state trails; 2,000 miles of trails incorporated primarily within state forests and state parks; and 7,500 miles of grants-in-aid trails.

Bicyclists, hikers, snowmobilers and ski-tourers have used these trails primarily for recreation purposes, said DNR officials, but with the need for energy conservation, trails may serve increasingly as commuter routes.

They said this would be especially true of trails located in metropolitan areas — such as the Luce Line in Hennepin county and the Douglas Trail near Rochester.

While trying to determine user needs, the DNR is also seeking ways to reduce adjoining landowner problems. Of late, the department has found itself competing for the acquisition of abandoned railroad grades with organizations comprised of adjoining landowners.

Those interested in the subject of DNR trails are asked to direct their comments to: DNR Trails Planning Section, Trails & Waterways Unit, Box 52 Centennial Building, Saint Paul, MN 55155.

The federal minimum wage increased to $3.10 an hour Jan. 1. More than 5 million of the 57 million workers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) became eligible for pay increases because of the change. The act is administered by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Division I Finishes With Big Edge Over Division II

Mid-season scheduling in the Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league which pitted over-matched Division II teams against Division I foes was completed Wednesday, with Division I winning 59 of the 64 games during the month-long span.

Games the rest of the season will be limited to within the divisional boundaries.

Division I leading St. Hilaire Saints scored ten times in the first inning en route to a 14-2 victory over Credit Bureau Wednesday as Marlys Huot hit a home run and Colleen Krohn hit two triples.

Joann Fletcher pitched a shutout while Linda Rux hit two home runs and Betty Kujava tripled as Northern Employers Agency blanked the Health Hustlers 12-0.

Georgine Troska and Kelly Storhaug homered and Cheryl Larson tripled to lead Ekeren Drug past The Barbers 13-7.

A two-run home run in bottom of the seventh inning by Marueen Johnson gave Pizza Hut a 7-6 come-from-behind victory over Walseth Construction. Lisa Noreen hit two home runs for the losers and Jodi Helt hit a home run.

Jodi Ranum, who had homered earlier, drove in the game-winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning as the American Legion got by the Schmidt Stealers 16-15. Helen Anderson hit a bases-loaded triple for the winners, while the losers received home runs from Glenda Ramsey, Barb Natvik and LaRae Kaushagen.

Dwight's Hartz was the only Division II winner Wednesday, beating the Mush-a-Rettes 8-6 as Julie Odegaard homered and tripled. Mavis Miller and Judy Rosetta also hit triples for the winners.

Elsewhere, Roseau Transport handled Great Northwest Agency 12-2 and the Ridge Runners downed Hydra-Mac 10-1.

Twins Clinic Will Be Held On BSU Diamond

Midwest Federal-Minnesota Twins free baseball clinic for boys and girls ages 8 to 18 is scheduled for Saturday, August 2 at the Bemidji State University baseball field. It will last 1½ to 2 hours. In the event of inclement weather, youngsters are requested to meet at the Bemidji curling arena.

Directing the clinic will be Angelo Giuliani, a scout for the Minnesota Twins and a former major league catcher. He will be assisted by Twins scouts Bill Kane and Glenn Gostick.

Coaches and parents are invited to attend the clinics, approved by the state high school board of control.

Boys and girls are asked to bring their own gloves, since they will have an opportunity to practice the techniques to be demonstrated. Fundamentals to be covered at the free baseball clinics include base running, throwing, sliding, hitting, bunting, infield play, outfield play, pitching and catching.

The Bemidji clinic is one of 46 clinics being held this year throughout the three-state region, but the only one scheduled for this portion of the state.

Safe Boating Results From Precautions

Minnesota safety council says there's nothing fishy about taking basic safety precautions before dropping a line in your favorite fishing hole. The safety council offers a guide for the novice angler and a reminder for the experienced one as well as to give your next fish story a safe and happy ending.

Know how to swim and know basic first aid. Tell someone where you plan to fish, mentioning also when you plan to return. Take a friend along for company, and for assistance in the event of emergency. Listen to weather forecasts and prepare accordingly. Stow needle-nose pliers, wire cutters and a pocket knife in your tackle box. Remember to pack a simple first aid kit as well. Avoid fishing in waters where there are swimmers or scuba divers. If you fish from a boat, carry a personal flotation device for every person aboard. Don't anchor your boat in channels or tie it up to a buoy — these are traffic lanes and must be kept clear.

If wading, watch for step-offs into deep water and for unsteady rocks in fast-running streams.

Should a hook snag you, cut it from the line, put a dressing on the injured area and get to a doctor.

Avoid drinking alcoholic beverages before driving your boat, especially on hot summer days. Heat from the sun magnifies the effects of alcohol.

State All-Star Football Game Builds Rivalry

Minnesota high school all-star football game is building a new rivalry and suggestions are needed for a winner's trophy.

For the first time the game will be played between teams from the seven-county Twin Cities area and out-state Minnesota. "We would like to have suggestions for a trophy which would symbolize the areas that these teams represent," said David Shama, all-star project director for the Human Growth Foundation. "We're looking for a trophy which would add to the spirit and fun we feel the game will establish this year and in the future. I'm sure we'll receive some amusing suggestions, and that's fine as long as they are in good taste."

Those who will be coaching in the July 26 all-star game at Parade Stadium in Minneapolis, have some definite thoughts about the rivalry. One coach said the rivalry reminds him of the small school-large school rivalry that was popular for many years in the high school basketball tournament.

Some of the coaches feel the out-state players have something to prove. "The natural feeling is that the metro area is more advanced in their football," said one coach, "but I think the out-state is underrated in that regard. I think those boys will not take a back seat to the metro players."

One coach summed up the intriguing aspects of the metro vs. out-state rivalry. "Can the out-state, with its community pride and identity, compete with the metro area's advantages of numbers and competitiveness?"

In past years, the game has been played between north and south teams and both had players from the metropolitan area. "It will now be clear as to which are a team represents and we hope that many fans will identify with either the metro or out-state all-stars," said Shama.

Suggestions concerning the winner's trophy can be sent to The High School All-Star Bowl of Minnesota, 4930 West 77th Street, Suite 150, Minneapolis, 55435.

Following the game, youngsters 14 and under will receive a free mini-football.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Dayton's and Donaldson's, and are also available from high school coaches and the Human Growth Foundation office in Minneapolis. The game is co-sponsored by the foundation and the Minnesota high school football coaches association.

Volunteers Are Sought For DNR Loon Survey

Department of Natural Resources is trying to get a handle on how the state's loon population is holding up and is asking for volunteer census takers.

Those interested in helping out on the loon observation program can obtain cards on which to report sightings of loon families by contacting Carrol Henderson, non-game wildlife specialist, DNR Section of Wildlife, Box 7 Centennial Building, St. Paul 55155.

The program began last year when observers reported sighting 183 nesting pairs of loons on the 237 lakes checked. Henderson's volunteers recorded a total of 1,255 loons including 966 adult birds and 250 young.

Loon watchers reported seeing 81 broods with one chick, 84 broods of two chicks and two broods with three chicks each.

ACTION REALTY third baseman Ron Ostby backhanded a shot down the third base line by Coca-Cola batter Tom Hanson and threw the runner out at first base in the fourth inning of Friday's Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league game. Ostby homered in the game, but Coca-Cola won the battle of league leaders 8-6.

Slow Pitch Leagues Have Close Divisional Races

With three weeks of regular season play remaining there are ties or near-ties for first place in all four divisions of the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association.

In the all-important loss column, the TRF Merchants and Hobo Haus are deadlocked atop the American League East Division standings; McDonald's-Dallmann and the American Legion Raiders share the American League West Division lead; while Consumer's Co-op and Great Northwest Agency are tied for first place in the National League East Division. Schumacher's Tireland leads the National League West Division, but has just a one game lead over three strong challengers — First Northwestern Insurance Agency, First Federal and Thorp-KKAQ.

Terry Sullivan hit an inside-the-park home run with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning Wednesday to give Swenson Plumbing a 9-8 victory over McDonald's-Dallmann to tighten the American League West Division standings.

After rallying from an 8-5 deficit with a three-run burst in the top of the seventh, McDonald's-Dallmann appeared to have the game headed into extra innings in the bottom of the seventh when they had Swenson Plumbing facing a two-out, nobody-on situation.

But Sullivan put the ball inside the right field foul line and ran around the bases when outfielder Steve Daily failed to come up with a shoestring catch on the play.

The loss was only the second defeat of the year for McDonald's-Dallmann, but it dropped the losers into a virtual first place tie with the American Legion Raiders in the American League West Division.

American Legion Raiders collected three wins during the week, beating Home Lumber 8-3 Wednesday and then sweeping a Friday doubleheader from Terry's Mobil 7-1 and 10-3.

A first place tie also surfaced in the American League East Division Wednesday when Tony Dorn, Inc. edged the division-leading TRF Merchants 3-2 and Hobo Haus got by Popplers-Action Realty 4-3.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Steve Nordhagen hit a game-winning three-run home run to lift Furuseth-Nelson past Phase II 5-3, Bridgeman outlasted Arnold Realty 9-7 in nine innings, Terry's Mobil out-scored the St. Hilaire Bears 12-11 and Coca-Cola knocked off Wagon Wheel 7-4, despite a two-run home run by the loser's Mike Carriere.

A tie exists for first place in the National League East Division where Consumer's Co-op, a 13-7 winner over The Club, Thursday, and Great Northwest Agency, a 22-4 winner over the TRF Aggies, have matching 10-6 records. Bruce Mattson hit an inside-the-park home run and Barry Newton was 5-for-5 in the Consumer's Co-op victory.

Hardees ended a skid that saw them drop from first to fifth in the National League West Division with a 22-11 triumph over Dallmann Athletic as Phil Fore hit two home runs and drove in seven runs.

Tim Hince, Rob Knutson and Mike Wiebolt all went 4-for-4 as Wilson Brothers shut out Sparby-Johnson 16-0.

Elsewhere Thursday, E.T.'s Bees scored six times in the top of the seventh to defeat Sound Level-Holthusen 12-6 and Scott Johnson went 4-for-4 to carry IWA past Lon's 17-2.

Furuseth-Nelson was a doubleheader winner Friday, beating Popplers-Action Realty 10-7 and knocking off Arnold Realty 5-2. The St. Hilaire Bears defeated Home Lumber 9-4 to complete the schedule.

Deer Hunting Group Formed By Sportsmen

Minnesota has a new sportsman's organization: the Minnesota deer hunters association, a group that feels it can be the organizational voice of the state deer hunter.

Formed from the "core group" of the successful "save Minnesota deer" organization, this new organization intends to broaden its scope of interest to achieve the best possible deer herd and promote high quality deer hunting by these purposes:

+Present the deer hunters' position to government officials, departments and legislators.

+Promote good sportsmanship, good hunting ethics and safe hunting practices.

+Promote and sustain a high-quality deer habitat program.

+Provide opportunities for deer hunters to meet, share experiences and develop a fraternal spirit.

+Educate hunters and the general public on the values of the sport of deer hunting.

+Support enforcement regulations to curtail the illegal taking of deer.

+Support emergency winter-feeding programs when appropriate.

+Support efforts to increase opportunities for deer hunting on public and private lands.

+Establish a position on predator control.

Individual memberships are initially set at $5 per year. First annual meeting to elect officers formally will be in September. Present mailing address is Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, Pokegama Hotel Building, Grand Rapids, MN 55744.

Officials encourage members to join at this time or write for further information.

Tips On Fuel Savings Given For Boaters

High price and restricted supply of fuel affects boat owners, too, so today the Department of Natural Resources offered some tips to boaters on how to conserve:

+ Outboard, or lower unit on a stern-drive, should be set at the proper tilt angle for the most efficient cruising or trolling;

+ Plan cruises in company with others, but don't overload the boat;

+ Outboard motors warm up almost instantly so it is not necessary to let them idle for a time before starting out;

+ For a long trip plan as straight a course as possible;

+ Once the boat is up on "plane" throttle back as far as possible while still maintaining a planing position;

+ Check fuel lines for leakage;

+ Keep the hull clean — obstructions and marine growth will reduce performance and efficiency;

+ Turn off the motor if you will be idling for more than 30 seconds;

+ Use the correct propeller and make sure it is free of nicks and bends.

Babe Ruth Playoffs Start Tuesday . . .

Elks Tip Independents 10-9 To Win Pennant

Second Babe Ruth baseball meeting of the 1980 season between the Thief River Falls Elks and Independents produced a 10-9 win and a Lake Agassiz Southern Division pennant for the Elks.

The Bruce Williams-coached Elks finished play in the 14-15-year-old league with a first place 11-1 record, winning Thursday's title showdown in the bottom of the fifth when Brian Kemnitz reached base on an outfield error; moved to second on a sacrifice; and scored on a bad-hop single by Lon Aune.

The Charlie Cornell-coached Independents fell into a second place tie with the Crookston A team at 9-3.

Three Elks pitchers limited the Independents to just three base hits, but Scott Johnston, Tim Bottem and Kerry Wollin also issued 13 walks to keep it close. Wollin pitched the final two-and-two-thirds innings to pick up the win.

Brian Garceau was the starter and loser for the Independents. He surrendered 10 hits and his teammates committed seven of the game's 11 errors.

Jeff Milender collected three hits for the Elks, while Tim Bergland, Aune and Bottem had two apiece for the winners, who built an 8-3 lead but had to come back from a 9-8 deficit to win it.

Both Thief River Falls teams will be involved in the Lake Agassiz Southern Division playoffs this week at Crookston.

The Elks will draw a first round bye Tuesday while second-seeded Crookston A plays No. 7 Crookston B; No. 3 Independents face No. 6 Red Lake Falls; No. 4 East Grand Forks goes against No. 5 Goodridge.

Semifinals will be played Wednesday when the Elks play the East Grand Forks vs. Goodridge winner, while the Crookston A vs. Crookston B winner meets the Independents vs. Red Lake Falls winner. Finals will be played Thursday.

Preps — Crookston

Thief River Falls took both ends of a 13-year-old Babe Ruth Prep League doubleheader from Crookston Thursday to improve its record to 8-5.

Trailing 4-2 in the bottom of the seventh inning of the first game, Thief River Falls rallied to pull out a 5-4 victory, getting the winning run across the plate on a two-out, bases-loaded walk issued to Ryan Drees, the winning pitcher. Scott Heinze was 2-for-3 at the plate for the winners.

Billy Desrocher banged out three base hits to spark Thief River Falls to a 19-8 second game victory. Steve Solheim was the winning pitcher.

The results assured Thief River Falls of a second place Lake Agassiz Prep League finish behind East Grand Forks.

A pair of starts will wind up the 1980 regular season Thief River Falls schedule this week, with a doubleheader planned at Goodridge today (Monday) and a 1 p.m. twinbill vs. Red Lake Falls on the fairgrounds diamond Friday.

Elks — Goodridge

Leading just 5-3 through five innings, the Thief River Falls Elks exploded for 12 runs in the final two innings Wednesday to beat Goodridge 17-5.

The Elks collected 10 of their 14 base hits in the sixth and seventh innings. Tim Bottem was 4-for-5 for the winners, with a double, triple and five RBI's; Lon Aune was 4-for-6, with two doubles, a triple and three RBI's; and Jeff Milender was 2-for-4, hitting a long three-run home run over the right-centerfield fence.

Alaska Refuge Environmental Info Complete

Final environmental impact statements and supplements on proposals to establish a national wildlife refuge and a national resource range, and to protect 11 river corridors in Alaska are now available for public review, Secretary of the Interior Cecil D. Andrus announced.

The areas are the proposed Alaska Peninsula national wildlife refuge, the Iliamna national resource range and the following rivers: Alagnak, Birch Creek, Delta, Fortymile, Gulkana, Kisaralik, Koyuk, Melozitna, Nuyakuk, Susitna and Unalakleet. The refuge and range would be administered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service as part of the national wildlife refuge system, while the rivers would continue under the management of the Bureau of Land Management.

The lands, totaling approximately 11 million acres, are among the remainder of those included in the three-year emergency withdrawals of 110 million acres made by the department in November 1978 under the federal land policy and management act. Since that time, nearly 56 million acres have been given permanent protection as national monuments and another 40 million acres as national wildlife refuges and natural resources areas.

The documents, prepared by the Fish and Wildlife Service and the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service, analyze the significant environmental impacts of actions currently undergoing congressional consideration, executive branch alternatives that approximate the legislative proposals for natural resource protection, and a no-action alternative. The environmental documents include final supplements on the Iliamna Peninsula proposal and four of the rivers that had been addressed previously in a 1974 EIS.

Notice of the availability of the environmental documents appeared in the June 5, 1980, Federal Register. Copies of the documents are available for review in major libraries across the country and at the following locations: Fish and Wildlife Service, ANCSA Staff Office, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240; the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service, Public Affairs Office, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240; and all FWS and HCRS regional and area offices.

Southern Lakes

Several years ago this column spotlighted lakes south of the Twin Cities. We have had a request to repeat this column by Burnsville fishermen, Chuck Wagener and his son Pete and Gregg Carpenter.

+ Prior Lake — excellent bass lake (one of the best) with an occassional lunker northern and walleye. A good crapple and sunfish lake.

+ Spring Lake — excellent crapple lake. One of the better walleye lakes in the area. Every year around a dozen are taken in the 5-10 pound class. Lunker northerns also present. Underfished for bass.

+ Crystal Lake — one of the hottest bass lakes in the recent years. Nice size to them. Northerns also present.

+ Lake Marion — one of the best all-around fishing lakes. Good bass, northern and sunfish, occasional walleyes taken. Very weedy lake.

+ Lake O'Dowd — lots of 1½ pound walleyes with fair northern and bass present. Heavily populated with bullheads.

+ Fish Lake — a good panfish lake. Fair bass fishing with an occassional northern.

+ Cedar Lake — one-pound walleyes and bass with some nice sunfish and bullheads. A young lake.

+ Carl's Lake — A young lake with bass and walleyes. Very weedy lake that experiences freezouts.

+ Bush Lake — a lunker bass lake, with northern pike present. A personal favorite.

+ Lake Reilly — good crapple lake with mixture of bass and a few nice sized northerns.

Minnesota River — by far the most under-fished stretch of water in the area. Nice walleyes and saugers are present from Shakopee on down past Jordan. One of the best catfishing rivers from Burnsville on to Jordan. Northerns also present by rarely taken due to lack of fishing pressure. Many rough fish present.

Kolacky Day

Annual Kolacky Day celebration will be held in Montgomery, July 25, 26 and 27. There will be a kiddies parade on Saturday, with the Kolacky Day parade taking place Sunday. The celebration gets underway Friday evening with the Queens pageant and coronation.

Stu Mann

Minnesota Outdoors columnist Stu Mann, is home and well, following surgery. Thank you for your calls and cards. We are appreciative of the newspapers who faithfully printed our columns, which had been prepared in advance. Friends also contributed their fishing and hunting trip reports for use in this space. Thank you, everyone.

Sports Facts

Did you know . . .

Ducks Unlimited, just one of many private sportsman-financed organizations, has raised over $100 million dollars to finance some 3,000,000 acres of prime waterfowl nesting habitat.

Fishermen have provided more than $270 million for fisheries research through a special tax on their equipment and annually swell that total by about $20 million dollars.

Thanks to sportsmen-supported management programs there are now some 15 million deer in the United States (there were only 500,000 in 1900), and turkeys, numbered less than 100,000 as recently as 1952, now total well over 1,250,000.

Colorful and popular ringneck pheasant, of which there are countless millions today, did not even exist here 100 years ago. He's an immigrant, first introduced by sportsmen in 1882.

Through the purchase of federal duck stamps hunters presently contribute $11,000,000 annually for conservation. Since enactment of the program in 1934, federal duck stamps have raised more than $200 million dollars.

Hunters and fishermen contribute an estimated $25 billion annually to the nation's economy.

Sunflower Update:

Sunflower beetles and larvae have begun to cause slight leaf damage in Red Lake, Pennington and Polk counties over the past week. Growers should be watchful for severe leaf defoliation over the next few weeks from these pests. The larvae appear as blue-green humpbacked beetles which are found resting on the heads of sunflowers during the day. Large populations warrant checking. Should control be needed call Bright Flying Service at 796-5203 or 796-5780 for fast economical insecticide treatment.

Celebrate 50th

Dorothy and Art Nordby celebrated their golden wedding anniversary open house on Saturday at Grace Lutheran church in Grygla. The party was hosted by their children: Ardith (Erickson), Orvis, Roy, Marie (Anderson) and Carol (Lee).

Roy Nordby was master of ceremonies for the afternoon program, which included a slide presentation entitled "This Is Your Life", narrated by Ardith Erickson. Special guests were Florence (Nordby) Shay and Curtis Nordby, who were the couple's wedding attendants. Curtis' daughter Charlene and Florence's son Larry gave a vocal duet at the program. Pastor Owen Christianson led in devotion. Songs were given by Lori and Lisa Erickson, Joy Nordby and Marie Anderson, Carol and Leland Lee, Jeremy Nordby and Sandi Nordby. All the children and grandchildren sang "Amazing Grace".

Tilda Erickson and Alice Sistad cut the four-tiered wedding cake which was baked and decorated by Thelma Thomas. Ida Paulson and Hazel Smith poured coffee. Guests were registered by Signe Teigland and Anna Lee. Sharlotte Baasen and Alpha Johnson served the punch.

Dorothy was born in a log house north of Grygla. Art was born at Hatton, N.D. and moved to the Grygla area in 1901. Art and Dorothy were married on June 25, 1930 in the Grygla Lutheran Parish parsonage by Rev. Anderson. They farmed north of Grygla until several years ago when they retired and moved into town. The house which they purchased is the former parsonage which they were married in 50 years ago.

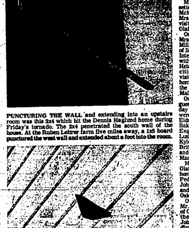
FARMERS CO-OP CRY. ASS'N.
Goodridge, Mn.

HUNG IN A TREE like some huge toy, this self-propelled combine on the Don Schirrick farm east of Dorothy was smashed beyond repair by Friday night's tornado. Pictured were Schirrick and his 11-year-old son Tom, one of the children who spotted the tornado coming and warned other members of the family.



PUNCTURING THE WALL and extending into an upstairs room was this 2x4 which hit the Dennis Haglund home during Friday's tornado. The 2x4 penetrated the south wall of the house. At the Ruben Lehrer farm five miles away, a 1x5 board punctured the west wall and extended about a foot into the room.

ONE OF THE ODDITIES which happen during a tornado took place on the Ruben Lehrer farm Friday. A section from a sickle was driven into a building wall like the head of an arrow, with the situation made more unusual by the fact that it penetrated the board across the grain. A refrigerator kept in a garage at the Lehrer farm was tossed a couple of hundred yards into a creek bed, but an egg from the demolished refrigerator was found unbroken.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone who brought food to our homes, for their visits and acts of kindness following the death of our beloved husband and father, Arthur Peterson.

Special thanks to Pastors Amundson, Dobkins and Fredine for their words of comfort and prayers to the community chair, Avis Dyrud and Karyl Larson for their music during the service, the honorary and active pallbearers.

Thanks, also, to the women of the United Lutheran church, Gatzke and the Seventh-Day Adventist church, Middle River, for the lunch they served after the services.

May God richly bless you.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank all of our friends and relatives who came to help us celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 6, at the Goodridge community hall.

Also, to Pastor Enderlein, Vernon Iverson, Bob Sjulestad, Richard Miller, Bonnie Miller and Mari Lou Anderson for their parts in the program.

Also, to our ten children and their families for hosting the occasion.

We also wish to thank you all for the lovely cards and gifts we received. This day will always be cherished in our memory.

May God bless you all.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Johnnie Theodore Nelson, who passed away one year ago July 5:

It is one sad year since you were taken away;
Leaving me here to live my life alone.
God knows the struggle and emptiness of facing life on my own.
No strong shoulder to lean on.
No gentle hand to guide lest I fall.
The faith and love we shared for 46 years was the answer to it all.
With you gone nothing seems to matter.
Each empty day and night are the same.
My life has no meaning or purpose. I have nothing to gain.
God seems so far away at times, though I know he hears my call.
Ever ready to smooth the rocky path,
Keeping me safe 'til my earthly curtain falls.
I thank God for the years we had together,
For the kind folks who have made my life easier to bear.
May we all meet in our heavenly home above,
Where there will be no partings or sorrow to share.

Sadly missed by his wife, Garry.

Marshall Co. Fair Activities Set July 17-20

The general public will have an opportunity to see the Marshall county deputy sheriff's car that came in contact with an Unidentified Flying Object in a display at the Marshall county fair July 18, 19 and 20.

Marshall county board of commissioners authorized the public display which will be in the fair's centennial building all three days from noon to 8 p.m. A narrative description of Deputy Sheriff Val Johnson's experience with the UFO will be presented continuously during the showing. Admission to the display will be free. The fair also has a free gate and free parking.

Grandstand programs will start on Thursday night (July 17) when the Northwest Amateur contest will be staged under the direction of the Warren hospital ladies auxiliary. Contestants will compete for cash prizes of $200 for first, $100 for second and $50 for third.

Senior citizens and 4-H club day will be Friday. Seniors will present their program, honor the outstanding Marshall county men and women selected from each community and name the county winners during the afternoon program starting at 3 p.m. A children's program with contests and races will begin at 1:30 p.m. 4-H night at the fair will be Friday night when share the fun acts, style queen revue and honor awards will be presented. There will be no admission charge for the two programs.

Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Olle Anderson's Auto Daredevils featuring the world's most spectacular death defying stunt drivers will perform. Saturday night grandstand show will feature the Jaycee demolition derby under local management. Prizes totaling $1,000 and trophies will be awarded to winners.

Rev. Hans Floan, pastor of the Alma Lutheran church which just celebrated its 100th anniversary, will give the sermon at the all-faiths church service Sunday at 11 a.m. Special music will be a part of the morning worship.

Stock car racing will take over the Marshall County Fair Speedway Sunday afternoon. Race cars will feature Semi Lates and Hobby Stocks. These races are also being conducted by new local management of experienced race drivers.

Twin Forks "Sweet Adelines," who will present a family musical production of barbershop and popular singing, will close the grandstand programs Sunday night.

All exhibit buildings will be open and will feature products produced, grown and made by area residents. Premiums totaling $5,000 or more are expected to be paid out to exhibitors. Copies of the Premium List were mailed last week. Those who may not have received a copy may obtain one by contacting Harveydale Maruska, secretary at Warren.

69 Youth Are Involved In Job Programs

Summer youth employment program (SYEP) and the governors youth program (GYP), began in Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire on June 16.

There are 18 youth between the ages of 14 and 21 employed in the Goodridge area, 46 in the Thief River Falls area and five in the St. Hilaire area. The summer program is administered by Inter-County community council in Oklee.

The program is designed basically for youth whose family income falls below a certain income level, however, under the state governors youth program, one-half of those employed may be from families whose income is above the guideline levels.

The youth made application through ICCC and in most instances were interviewed and accepted or rejected by the employer.

The youth must be employed in a non-profit public institution. The eight weeks of work is designed to provide supervised work experience, career educational training as well as to provide employment in needed areas.

The youth employed in the Goodridge area will be working at the Goodridge school, village of Goodridge, historical society, Goodridge fire hall and on Highlanding and Marshall county crews.

Youth employed in Thief River Falls will be working at the following worksites: School Dist. 564, Park and recreation project, northwest educational cooperative service unit, Thief River Falls regional airport, Pennington county historical society, Ripley Alliance, Thief River Falls public utilities, Northwest regional library, Thief River Falls fire department, Thief River Falls housing authority, Falls D.A.C., Thief River Falls police department and Thief River Falls satellite home.

Those employed in St. Hilaire will be working for the St. Hilaire school and the city of St. Hilaire.

SCATTERED DEBRIS littered the area between the Irving Beyer farm and the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Dennis and Nancy Haglund. A machine shed had formerly stood where the gravity grain box is shown in the background. Electrical workers from Red Lake Electric cooperative were at the scene soon after the storm to check for live wires and to restore service to farms where electrical current had been interrupted.

THIS GRAVITY BOX from a trailer at the Don Schirrick farm was carried several hundred yards by Friday evening's tornado and deposited in the river which flows through the Schirrick pasture. Many large trees in the area were twisted off or uprooted.

RRV Historical Society Selects New Director

Red River Valley historical society at its June board meeting selected Gary Phillips, Buxton, N.D., as its new executive director. Phillips replaces Mary Ostling who is leaving the society after two years as director.

Phillips, employed by the society from 1975 to 1977, recently completed work on a master's degree in history at University of Minnesota, Duluth. He is also a 1973 mass communications graduate from Moorhead state university.

Responsibilities of the new director will include editing the society's newspaper, "Heritage Press", continuing development of plans for the Red River Valley heritage center to be located in Moorhead as anchor center to a network of interpretive centers, and providing liaison services for county historical societies throughout the Red River valley.

Phillips, originally from Hallock, his wife Shelly, and twin daughters Lark and Tamara are making their home outside of Buxton where they are restoring the Hans Erickson farm home. Owner of the home, Erickson's granddaughter Scip Vestring, intends to develop it into a farm museum.

Red River Valley historical society is an international organization dedicated to interpreting and preserving the heritage of the Red River valley.

Crops, Soils Day Slated At UMC July 16

A new informational booth on wildlife management will be a part of the Crops and Soils Day program scheduled for Wednesday (July 16) at the Northwest experiment station, University of Minnesota, Crookston.

Dan Svedarsky, wildlife biologist at the station and Jim Kitts, extension specialist in wildlife management, will be on hand from 8 to 11 a.m. to answer questions and provide information regarding wildlife. Special emphasis will be on habitat development on private lands including backyards, farmstead groves, old gravel pits, wetlands and woodlots.

Information will be available on the wildlife values of different plantings, the design and placement of nesting structure and general planning considerations.

Drought conditions in northwest Minnesota are a disaster to many crops and detrimental to wildlife as well, but provide an ideal opportunity to develop wildlife wetlands. Many wetland areas can be developed using a bulldozer this year that would require a dragline in most years when conditions would be wetter.

Generally, dozer-created wetlands are considerably cheaper and more attractive to waterfowl than dragline-constructed areas. In addition to wildlife values, wetlands provide upstream water storage areas that help reduce spring flooding and recharge ground water aquifers. Up to 75 per cent cost-sharing may be available through the agricultural stabilization and conservation service of the USDA.

A special tour of the Red River valley natural history area will take place at 1:30 p.m. and examples of wildlife management practices applicable to old gravel pits will be viewed.

NESTLING INTO PLACE atop an eight-foot standard at the Thief River Falls regional airport is this airplane which will be part of the veterans memorial garden. The plane was erected Tuesday morning by a crew consisting of several AVTI students, airport management and maintenance personnel and a crane and operator from Hydra-Mac, Inc. Wings were first raised and bolted to a frame build by Wennberg Welding and attached to the 16-inch, concrete-filled structural steel pipe. The fuselage was then raised and guided into position to be attached to the wings. The veterans memorial garden will be dedicated during a fly-in at the airport Sunday, July 27.

All Incumbents File For County Board Posts

As filings closed Tuesday for Pennington county commissioner, all three incumbents have filed for reelection and only one faces a challenge. Terms of commissioners in the first, third and fifth districts expire this year.

Only in the first district, where incumbent Albert Koop is opposed by Lyle Jennings Sr., is there a contest on the county commissioner ballot. Incumbents Roger Hoffman in the third district and Glenn Tasa in the fifth district filed for reelection early this week.

Assault Charge Filed Against Steven McLean

Following an incident at the residence of Sue McLean at 516 Kendall av. S. early this morning, Steven McLean of 601 West 13th street has been charged with second degree assault and is in custody at the Pennington county law enforcement center.

According to law enforcement center reports, Steven McLean, 29, broke into his former wife's home about 1 a.m. armed with a shotgun. Brian Kuznia, 19, Thief River Falls, who was in the home, jumped from a window and notified the law enforcement center.

Sue McLean also called the law enforcement center but was unable to give the address before the telephone was ripped from the wall. Mrs. McLean reported that she had been struck with the butt of the shotgun during the incident, according to the police report.

Steven McLean was apprehended shortly after 3:30 a.m. today in Grand Forks by the Grand Forks police department. Charges of second degree assault were filed by the Thief River Falls police department.

Pennington Fair To Open Thursday For 4-Day Run

With carnival operation today providing a preview performance, the annual Pennington county fair will open Thursday when entries will be accepted in 4-H club and open class competition. Grandstand attractions will feature amateur talent, demolition derby, horse racing and musical entertainment with the Buddy Young show and country singer Charly McClain.

Entries in the open class divisions will be accepted at the sports arena from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday. In 4-H club competition entries will be received from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with judging held as the exhibits are entered at the arena.

Livestock entries for both 4-H club and open class will be judged on Friday, as will poultry and rabbit classes. The 4-H club horse show will take place on Saturday and a dog show will be held on Sunday.

Oliver (Skip) Swanson, secretary of the Pennington county fair association, noted that the preparations are being made to make fair-going as comfortable and convenient as possible for fairgoers. Arrangements are being made for installation of fans in the arena and several of the barn areas to provide air circulation in the anticipated warm weather.

Spectator bleachers have been moved inside the racetrack area in front of the grandstand to provide more good seating for events such as the demolition derby. In addition, the race track has been disked and dragged to provide a better surface for the horse racing which will return to the fair on Friday after an absence of many years.

Swanson requested that persons having entries for the horse races or for the demolition derby use the northwest entrance to the fairgrounds off Sixth street or former highway 1. Livestock exhibitors are requested to use the small entrance off highway 59 at the southwest corner of the fairgrounds.

"We are anticipating a larger number of livestock entries than normal," Swanson said. "We have had advance contacts for exhibit space from a sheep producer at New York Mills and a hog producer from Park Rapids.

"While we recognize that crops are generally not good in the area," he said, "there are some exceptionally fine gardens which have been watered and we can anticipate some very advanced vegetable and produce entries."

There is still room for more entries in the amateur talent contest to be held Thursday evening in conjunction with senior citizen night and awards program. Eight entries had been received with up to 15 being accepted. Registration forms are available at Larson Music company.

Entries to date include a vocal trio consisting of Shelly Hodne, Lisa Thompson and Paula Stale, Newfolden; song and dance routine by Jodi and Ann Perkins, Thief River Falls; tap dance by Wendy Easton, Thief River Falls; instrumental and vocal number by "Superband" consisting of Mark Larson, Garry Cook, Stacey Lockhart and Tim Hunter, Thief River Falls;

Also minstrel number with piano accompaniment by Sandy Hoff, Lee Furuseth, Dale Lewis, Wayne Krueger, Dan Trontvet and Peter Lee, Thief River Falls; vocal and guitar number by Shelly Johnson, Wannaska; piano solo by Marlene Wernberg, Thief River Falls; and accordion solo by John Albrecht, Thief River Falls.

During an intermission of the talent show, Pennington county's outstanding senior citizens for 1980 will be presented with recognition awards. Winners who will represent the county at the state fair are Mrs. Anna Waale and Frank Armstrong with Miss Bertha Hastad as honorable mention winner. Master of ceremonies for the awards program will be Mayor Bob Carlson.

A senior citizen bus will be operated to bring seniors to the evening program. Those who wish rides should call the para-transit bus office at 681-6760 in advance to make arrangements. The bus will begin picking up passengers at 6:30 p.m. Senior citizens will be assigned a reserved section of the grandstand and will receive ice cream and soft drinks from the county fair association. Boy scouts will serve as ushers and will assist in distributing refreshments.

Entertainment in front of the grandstand Friday evening will be the popular demolition derby beginning at 7 p.m. under sponsorship of the Thief River Falls Jaycees. Several heats of the derby will be held as well as a feature

Nursing Students Enjoy NW Hospital Atmosphere

by Bonnie Reed
Times Reporter

A favorable impression has been gained toward Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls and its staff by three nursing students who are presently working at the hospital under a direct action project (DAP) through Saint Scholastica college in Duluth.

Students working under various stations at the hospital include Karen Strauman of Superior, WI, who is working in the first medical station under Michelle Naplin, head nurse at that station; Pamela Murray, also of Superior, who is practicing in obstetrics with Janet Milender, her preceptor; and Diane Billberg, a resident of Roseau, who is practicing in the medical surgical division of the hospital under Doris Harris, head nurse at that station. All three students are presently residing with Mrs. Clarence Forsberg during their stay here.

This is the first time that students have interned at the hospital from Saint Scholastica, according to Marilyn Wigness, director of nursing at Northwestern hospital. The students arrived June 2 and will return to Duluth July 26 where they will each complete another year of nursing studies before graduating.

The contract between the college and the hospital allowing a student to practice at the hospital is a very formal arrangement, according to Wigness. The hospital has to agree to provide preceptors for the students and to provide the students with a learning experience while they are stationed at the hospital.

Each student, before being accepted for admission at the hospital, must list her objectives concerning a particular area on a sheet of paper which in turn is approved by the instructor at Saint Scholastica, Wigness stated.

"The experience has been very worthwhile," Pam stated during a recent interview. "You get to work as a student and not as a nurse's aid. You get the opportunity to do things for yourself. And the staff has been very supportive," she added.

"There are many purposes or advantages to providing working experiences to in-

Property Taxes Climb In County

Net property tax collections in Minnesota totaled $1.34 billion in 1980, representing a $2.7 million or .2 per cent rise over taxes collected in 1979, according to the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

Total taxes levied by all governmental jurisdictions amounted to $1.759 billion representing an eight per cent increase over the $1.628 billion levied in 1979. The state-paid homestead and agricultural credits reduced the tax burden by a substantial $423 million, for the net total of $1.34 billion. The state-paid credits rose $127 million, or 43 per cent for taxes payable in 1980.

In Pennington county the total of property taxes climbed $618,691 or 14.3 per cent. Taxable values were up 17.7 per cent to $46,131,946. The average mill rate fell from 110.18 to 107.03 mills. Homestead tax credits increased from $720,798 to $1,005,354. The net property tax payable was up eight per cent to $3,734,670.

According to Don G. Paterick, executive director of the association, "The .2 per cent rise if the lowest increase since 1972, when net taxes actually decreased by 7.97 per cent. The 1980 collections mark the third year in a row where total net collections have been kept to a minimum. In 1979 we witnessed a 5.8 per cent rise, and in 1978, a 4.2 per cent increase. The three year increase is less than the 12.2 per cent rise seen in 1977."

Paterick added that the .2 per cent rise is the "average" or the total rise witnessed statewide. "Some individual

Scouts To Sell Buttons For TRF Aquacade

Thief River Falls Cub scouts, Webelos and Boy scouts will be canvassing the area Monday evening selling buttons for the Jaycee Aquacade. Part of the proceeds will remain in the pack and troop treasury.

The boys are asked to wear their uniforms and are to meet at St. Bernard's churchyard at 6:45 p.m. Parents are asked to assist in transportation.

Entrance Use Specified For Fair Entries

Entries for the demolition derby scheduled for Friday at 7 p.m. at the grandstand at the fairgrounds and the northern Minnesota horse racing program set for 7 p.m. Saturday at the Pennington county fair are to use the northwest entrance to the fairgrounds off sixth street. Livestock exhibitors are to use the extreme southwest entrance to the fairgrounds off highway 59.

Amundson Seeks Queen's Crown

(This is the eighth in a series of interviews with candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the annual Jaycee Aquacade. The official Miss America preliminary pageant will be held Saturday, July 26, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

When Lynette Amundson graduated from Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls this spring, she left behind an athletic career that spanned three sports and performances that earned her the outstanding girl athlete award for 1980.

Lynette, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Amundson of Red Lake Falls, is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has blonde hair and green eyes. Her pageant talent number will be a piano solo entitled "Send In the Clowns".

In addition to her five years of piano lessons, Lynette played the clarinet in the school band and was a member of both instrumental and vocal groups which won A ratings at state-area music contests.

Lynette participated in basketball, volleyball and track for four years each and captained both the basketball and volleyball teams. She was most valuable player in basketball this season prior to being named the outstanding girl athlete in the school. She also plays tennis during the summer and enjoys swimming, water skiing, sewing, playing the piano, singing, dancing and listening to music.

As a member of the Lafayette Future Homemakers of America chapter, she was named outstanding officer, having served as reporter, vice president and president. She was also voted outstanding senior girl in the class of 1980 and was an honor student, graduating third in her class. She has been Red Lake county 4-H club dress revue queen and is presently employed at Eckstein's department store in Red Lake Falls.

This fall Lynette plans to attend North Dakota state university at Fargo and work toward a home economics major. In the future she would like to travel and see more of the world.

Tornado-Blown Checks Found East Of TRF

Wendy Philipp reported to the Times Tuesday that she had found one of the canceled checks which had been stored in the Irving Beyer garage which was destroyed by a tornado at Dorothy last Friday evening.

The check was found Saturday laying in the yard by the Philipp mobile home on the Mrs. John Burtness farm seven miles east of Thief River Falls on highway 1.

Doug Torblaa who lives about three miles southeast of the Thief River Falls airport, said one of the checks dropped down on his driveway along with a clump of dirt.

Espeseth Sisters Build Own Shorthorn Cattle Herd

IT'S CLEAN-UP TIME as the Pennington county fair approaches. Ila Espeseth, 17, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Duaine Espeseth, scrubs the Shorthorn steer which she will show in the county fair open class. Ila and her sister have owned registered Shorthorns for four years and increased their herd by careful buying and selling. They plan to use the money from their investment for college expenses.

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

When Ila and Brenda Espeseth compete at the Pennington county fair this week, they will be using animals from their own herd of registered Shorthorn cattle. In four years they have built their herd from two cows to 18 head and now have a substantial investment in the animals.

Ila, 17, and Brenda, 13, are daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Duaine Espeseth of Thief River Falls and live with their parents on nine acres of land about two miles southeast of Thief River Falls. They rent some pasture for their herd about six miles away and must either rent hayland or purchase hay for their winter feed.

It has been judicious buying and selling and perhaps some Divine assistance that has allowed the girls to acquire their cattle. They call their enterprise the "Blessed Acres Stock Farm" and they admit their father had more than a little to do with selecting the name.

"Everything is blessed around here!" quipped Brenda. "We'll even have blessed rabbits and blessed baking at the fair this year."

When they had located some cattle they wanted to buy four years ago, Rev. Espeseth and his daughters went to the bank to negotiate a loan. They finally came to an agreement with their banker to provide funds for three-fourths of the purchase price.

"He didn't quite know what to say when I asked about borrowing some more money for the down payment," Rev. Espeseth laughed. "It must have been quite a shock because he loaned us the money and we bought two registered cows with calves from Bob Miller of the 4-Bar Cattle company at Fordville, N.D."

It was either a stroke of luck, great foresight or an act of Divine providence that caused the market to rise shortly after the purchase. The Espeseths were able to sell the calves for more than the purchase price of the cows and calves combined and were on their way toward building

Terry Gutterud Weds David Cork at Redeemer

Miss Terry Gutterud and David Cork were united in marriage at a candlelight ceremony on May 23 at Redeemer Lutheran church in this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gutterud, St. Hilaire. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert (Sam) Cork, Thief River Falls.

Rev. Keith Prekker officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was provided by Mrs. William Halbasch, organist; Jane Halbasch, pianist; and Randy Moe, who sang the "Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer." Following the lighting of the unity candle, the bride sang "Evergreen."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in an ivory colored gown with Schiffly lace accenting the Victorian neckline, bishop sleeves and empire waistline. A chiffon tulip-shaped overskirt enveloped the full skirt and chapel-length train. Her veil of bridal illusion, edged with scalloped Schiffly lace and appliqued roses, fell from a matching headpiece accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of two dozen yellow roses, babies' breath and German ivy. A lucky penny was tied into the yellow silk ribbon that complemented the bouquet. Her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, a gift from the groom.

Donna Cork, sister of the groom, was the bride's personal attendant.

Julie Sprague, a friend of the couple, was maid of honor; and Diane Cork, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore mint green floral gowns topped by matching capes. In their hair, they wore clusters of yellow roses and babies' breath. They carried green hurricane candles encircled by yellow roses with white silk streamers.

The groom wore an ivory tuxedo with tails, a matching ruffled shirt, and a yellow rose boutonniere accented with babies' breath.

Best man was Dan Cork, brother of the groom. Wane Gutterud, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Their attire included mint green tuxedos, ivory ruffled shirts and yellow rose boutonnieres.

Serving as ushers were Kelly Gutterud, brother of the bride, and Wayne Ortloff, a friend of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gutterud chose a mint green, sleeveless, floor-length, knit dress. The groom's mother was attired in peach-colored floor-length gown styled with three-quarter length sleeves. Their identical corsages were of yellow roses, babies' breath and yellow silk ribbon.

Miss Kaylynn Swenson, a friend of the bride, registered the guests as Kristie Schmitke and Shelly Rosett, cousins of the bride, presided at the gift table.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with the bride's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rosett hosting the event. At the punch bowl were Phyliss Olson and Al Johnson, friends of the couple.

A round, three-tiered fountain wedding cake, decorated with mint green and yellow roses and white doves, centered the serving table. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Millie Horien, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Della Burstad, aunt of the groom. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Agnes Ostrem, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lillian Glonek, aunt of the groom.

Serving the bridal table was Vickie Bjorgaard, friend of the couple. Waitresses included Gail Waterworth, cousin of the bride, and Patti Burstad, cousin of the groom.

Reeve And Cuppett Attend Legion Auxiliary Meet

Mrs. Robert Reeve, Ninth district American Legion auxiliary president, and Mrs. James Cuppett, Ninth district secretary-treasurer, have returned from attending the 61st annual Department of Minnesota Convention of the American Legion auxiliary. Both are members of the local Ecklund-Holmstrom unit 117. The convention, held simultaneously with the Department American Legion convention, convened July 10-12 at the Leamington hotel in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Eugene Radeke, Red Lake Falls, department president, presided at the sessions, assisted by Mrs. David Johnson, Dellwood, department secretary. During the convention, Mrs. Radeke reported on the success of her department president's project, of providing funds to build a patio and picnic area at the Fargo, N.D., VA Medical center.

Speaking at the sessions were National auxiliary president Mrs. Agnes Kennedy of New York; newly elected Girls State governor Allison Rosati, Pine City; Junior auxiliary president Sharla Borstad, Madison; and, Christine Goettl, Montgomery, and Steven Erickson, Winona, participants in special seminars this year.

Election results were Mrs. Conrad Erickson, Albert Lea, department president; Mrs. Forest Vanlandingham, Mankato, first vice president; and Mrs. Wendell Draper, Lanesboro, second vice president. Delegates and alternates to the National convention to be held in August in Boston, Mass., were also chosen. Mrs. Radeke, retiring president, will be chairman of the Minnesota delegation. She was honored at an evening reception together with National Auxiliary President Mrs. Kennedy. The Saturday afternoon parade concluded the convention activities.

The Department of Minnesota American Legion auxiliary has 549 units, totaling over 55,800 members.

Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bushe and Mrs. Art Sorum, all of Thief River Falls.

Anna Muzzy Is Honored On Her 85th Birthday

Mrs. Anna Muzzy was honored on her 85th birthday on Sunday, June 29, at a party at the Fireside room at the United Methodist church.

Hosting the event were her sons: Lester, Kenneth and James of Thief River Falls, and Erwin of Argyle, and their families.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of Red roses and other summer flowers, gifts from her sons and their wives. Her corsage, consisting mainly of red roses, was a gift from her grandchildren.

A decorated birthday cake also graced the serving table.

Assisting at the reception were grandchildren: Kathy Muzzy, Grand Forks, who was at the guest book, and Laureen and Scott Muzzy, Thief River Falls, who presided at the punch bowl, and a daughter-in-law Mrs. Kenneth Muzzy, who poured the coffee.

Those attending were from Grand Forks, Thief River, Argyle and Plummer.

First Anniversary Of Alpha Phi Chapter Observed

First anniversary of the Alpha Phi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma society international was observed Wednesday, July 9, at a potluck picnic in Thief River Falls at the home of Mrs. Estelle Grinde. Planning the picnic was Donna Poole.

At the direction of Research chairman Velma Oakland, members drew names for a partner interview. Following the program, each member shared with the group some of the information she had learned about her partner.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Melvin Wedul, professor at Winona State university and author of the book "In Grandma's Woods." Wedul showed slides of their home in the woods and told of his experiences there. He also gave information about writing and marketing the book. He was accompanied by his wife, a member of the Iota chapter. She brought greetings from that chapter.

At the business meeting, plans were made for the September meeting which will include Art Lee, author of "The Lutefisk Ghetto," as guest speaker. Members of the Alpha Xi chapter and Epsilon (Manitoba) Province, will be invited to attend that meeting.

Music during the luncheon was provided by a group consisting of Art Welter, Anthony and Nancy Ricci and Mrs. Grinde, using recorder and guitar.

The Alpha Phi chapter was formed in Thief River Falls on July 11, 1979 with 18 charter members. The membership includes teachers from Pennington, Red Lake and eastern Marshall counties.

Mahnomen Has Anniversary This Weekend

Mahnomen's Diamond Jubilee and first all-school reunion will be held this weekend, July 18, 19 and 20. A wide variety of anniversary activities are scheduled.

All of the activities are planned to recognize the 75th anniversary of the official incorporation of the village of Mahnomen on April 25, 1905. Mahnomen at the time was part of Norman county and when the population reached over 200 a vote was held to decide on the matter of becoming an official village. All 58 votes cast at the special election were in favor.

Wayne Longtin, Jubilee committee chairman, extended a welcome to "come and help us celebrate. We have planned a lot of different events, both new and traditional. There will be plenty of things to keep people busy but there will still be time for visiting and renewing old acquaintances. We hope everyone will join in a spirit of friendship, good will and good fun."

Over 1,000 alumni of Mahnomen high school had pre-registered by 10 days prior to the celebration and late registrations are expected to boost the final total.

Saturday, July 19, will be the focal point of the celebration when three major events are scheduled — the Jubilee parade, the beef feed and the street dance. "We will get things started with Friday afternoon and evening activities, swing into high gear on Saturday and wind down on Sunday," Longtin said.

Nurse Students From Duluth Studying Here

terested nursing students, Wigness emphasized.

"We hope, besides being a good learning experience for students, the job can provide them (students) with the opportunity to see what life and hospital life is like in a rural community. And, in time, as the students graduate, we hope they will consider coming back to this hospital as registered nurses.

"Their experiences here are valuable," she continued, "especially if they are so pleased after they have practiced at a hospital they can tell other students about the experience to interest them."

Students work four different shifts per week at the hospital, according to Wigness, which involves some night duty and weekend work.

"They get a fair picture of 'round the clock nursing while on duty," Wigness added.

"We encourage them to stay in one area, but it is good experience for them to work in other areas as well. We've had them in the emergency room, pediatrics and the CNC units at the hospital," she added.

Students earn a quarter credit of experience through the college of Saint Scholastica while practicing at the hospital, Wigness stated. And, the work is not required at the college to fulfill graduation requirements. "We felt we needed the experience," Pam stated.

The meeting between Wigness and the students had occurred during a career day in Duluth, according to the students. They were interested in becoming student workers and Wigness, as director of nursing at Northwestern hospital, felt the need for workers here.

Students are evaluated at the hospital by their local preceptors at the close of their work duties, with evaluations sent back to the nursing school for reference in the student's records.

"The experience offers a good opportunity to improve nursing skills," according to Diane, who presently holds no plans for further schooling after graduation. "Working in a small hospital gives you a well-rounded experience," she added.

The underlying purpose of the DAP project is to give the students the opportunity to apply the knowledge obtained through school to a true work experience and to build self-confidence within the students, according to information supplied by Wigness concerning the project. It also opens up employment opportunities to the students, she said.

"We hope the working experience will provide the students with more knowledge of the nursing field when it comes to writing their state board exams after graduation," Wigness stated. "We hope the work experience will ensure success on the exam."

Pam plans to work for two years in the midwifery division of nursing after graduation before returning for more schooling, she said.

Karen, on the other hand, was impressed when public health nurses visited the hospital last week, and so has decided to possibly enter that aspect of nursing, although she is not yet certain of where she would prefer to be employed.

"I have enjoyed what I've been doing here," she stated. "I've gained more confidence in myself. The areas I was lacking in I feel I've improved upon."

"Things have gone well, and we'd like to see them come back to Northwestern hospital to practice nursing after graduation," Wigness concluded.

Espeseth Girls Build Herd Of Shorthorns

Over the past four years they have made the operation almost self-supporting by utilizing the similar procedure of buying high quality cows with calves and selling one or the other at or near the purchase price for both. They have also bred their cows to top quality bulls and produced calves which command top prices from beef producers.

Brenda, who will be in eighth grade this fall, is a member of the Smiley 4-H club and will show a summer heifer as well as an entry in the cow-calf class of 4-H club competition. She will also enter showmanship competition.

Ila, who will be a senior at Lincoln for the 1980-81 school year, will show a bull calf, senior heifer and cow-calf entry in the open class division of the fair. The girls will also enter a number of other items in the crafts, handiwork and foods classes.

Last year at the fair Brenda showed the grand champion in open class competition and reserve champion in the 4-H club show. Ila had the reserve champion in open class. They also showed their animals for the past two years at the Red River valley winter shows at Crookston.

Brenda holds a junior membership in the American Shorthorn association and all of the cattle are registered through the association in her name. The girls plan to continue with their herd, although not increase the number much more because of their limited space, equipment and facilities.

Next year Ila plans to sell one of her animals to pay for her planned course at the Lowthian Fashion school in Minneapolis.

"The cattle have been good experience for the girls," Rev. Espeseth said. "They have had to care for sick calves, learn about handling money, groom and show their animals for the public. And right now they've got some really nice cows and some excellent young calves."

In unison with other young livestock exhibitors in Pennington county, Ila and Brenda have been busy the past few days getting their animals ready for the show ring. That is when they find out if their assessment of the quality of their cattle matches that of the judges. On Friday they will know.

Pennington Co. Fair To Open Here Thursday

and grand slam.

Saturday the 4-H club horse show will be held during the day and horses will also be featured as a racing revival for the 7 p.m. grandstand program. Northern Minnesota horse racing association will sponsor races in quarter mile open class, half-mile open class, three-quarter mile open class, chariot and chuckwagon as well as other events.

Sunday the annual 4-H club style revue will be held at 2 p.m. in the sports arena with crowning of the 4-H clothing project style revue queen and presentation of 4-H service awards. Public attendance is invited and there is no admission charge.

From 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. the Northwest Stockmen's association and CowBelles organization will serve a beef barbecue at the east end of the grandstand on the fairgrounds. Served will be barbecued beef, cole slaw, baked beans, dessert, coffee or milk for $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. Plans are to provide ample seating for the public to use during the three-hour serving period.

At 7:30 p.m. the grandstand entertainment will begin and will include the Buddy Young show and fast-rising country singer Charly McClain. Miss McClain is being recognized as one of the brightest young talents in the country music field, having recorded two smash hits in recent months. The Buddy Young show is a fast-paced entertainment program.

Matt Armstrong shows will be on the midway throughout the fair after beginning operation this afternoon. Kids days will be observed from noon to 6 p.m. today, Friday and Sunday with a $6 bracelet being sold to allow youngsters to ride as many rides as they like during the six-hour period.

There is no admission to the fair grounds but a charge will again be made for auto parking on the grounds. Admission to exhibit areas is free, including the sports arena, a large public participation is encouraged by the county fair association.

Property Tax In Pennington County Rises

homeowners have incurred substantially higher increases. The level and increase will vary by neighbor, taxing district and county."

Net property tax collections based on county averages varied from an increase of 23.7 per cent in Traverse county to a decrease of 5.01 per cent in Hennepin county. Ten counties showed an increase above 15 per cent while 12 counties showed decreases in net taxes.

Average mill rates varied from a high of 135.14 mills in Mille Lacs county to 69.58 in Redwood county. Pennington county mill rate is 107.03. Mill rates showed a drop in 63 counties.

Assessed values rose in all counties with the exception of Cook county. (Due to difficulties in the assessment process the figures for Cook county were estimated.) The increase in assessed values ranged from a high of 36.6 per cent in Roseau county to a low of 1.3 per cent in Lake county. The statewide average increase was 13.6 per cent.

"The 1980 data reflects the first year of the two-year phase-out of limited market value, which was ruled unconstitutional in a tax court decision in January of 1979," Paterick said.

"The effects of the elimination are going to have a negative impact on homeowners who are subject to the limited market value since 1973 and whose homes are comparatively undervalued. However, the additional state aid provided by the 1979 and 1980 sessions of the legislature should ease the transition to full market value for most homeowners," Paterick added.

For taxes payable in 1981 the state will pay 58 per cent of the homeowner's tax bill up to a maximum of $650. The state-paid homestead credit provided for taxes payable in 1980 was 50 per cent up to a maximum of $550. Additionally, the classification ratios which are applied to a homeowner's market value to determine assessed value were reduced.

For taxes payable in 1980, the first $21,000 of market value was assessed at 18 per cent and the remainder at 30 per cent. For taxes payable in 1981, a three-tier system was enacted. The first $25,000 of market value is assessed at 16 per cent, the next $25,000 at 22 per cent and the remainder at 28 per cent. To further ease the last year of transition, the state will provide "targeting" relief; if net taxes increase more than 10 per cent, the state will pay 50 per cent of the increase above the 10 per cent up to a $300 maximum. Payments will be determined on the property tax refund (circuit breaker) form.

Each state except Alaska and Hawaii has at least one Veterans Administration medical center. There are 172 hospitals in all.

Rites Held For Mrs. John T. Sunsdahl, 71

Funeral services for Mrs. John T. Sunsdahl, 71, of Thief River Falls, were held Monday at 2:00 p.m., at St. John Lutheran church. Mrs. Sunsdahl, a former resident of the Goodridge community, died Wednesday, July 9, at Northwestern hospital.

Rev. Barrie Henke officiated at the services. Mrs. Elaine Idso served as organist and soloist. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery with the Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Eric Sunsdahl, Robert Sunsdahl, Donald Marquis, Scott Marquis, David Race, Tommy Race and Gerald Sunsdahl.

Mrs. Sunsdahl, the former Mary Anne Raasch, was born April 29, 1909 at Morris, in Stevens county, to John and Augusta Maisonbrink Raasch. In 1912, she moved with the family to Star township, Pennington county. There she attended school and grew to womanhood.

On Nov. 21, 1927, she was united in marriage to John T. Sunsdahl in Thief River Falls. Following their marriage, they farmed for a number of years in the Goodridge area. From 1954, until 1964, they lived in Biwabik, in the Iron Range area. Since 1964, they have made their home in Thief River Falls.

She was a member of St. John Lutheran church.

Surviving are her husband, two sons: Orvin Sunsdahl, Goodridge, and Junior O. Sunsdahl, Minneapolis; two daughters: Mrs. Ernest (Junes) Race, Goodridge, and Mrs. Harlan (Diane) Sunsdahl, Neillsville, Wis.; 17 grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren; and two sisters: Mrs. Alma Siebert, Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Minnie Anderson, Birmingham, Ala.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, Delores Marquis; a granddaughter, two great-granddaughters, her parents, and two sisters: Lena Merrill, and one who died in infancy.

Rites Saturday At Trinity For Ruth Eldevik

Mrs. Ruth Eldevik, 69, of this city died Tuesday morning at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Eldevik will be held Saturday at 10 a.m., at Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. Berton Hushagen officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home from Friday noon until Saturday morning, and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

A complete obituary will be published in Monday's edition of the Times.

Rites Set For Mrs. Alfred Simonson, 71

Mrs. Alfred (Gladys) Simonson, 71, of Viking, mother of Mrs. Warren Brenna of Thief River Falls, died Sunday at her home following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alfred Simonson will be held Thursday at 10:00 a.m., at Zion Lutheran church in Viking with Rev. David Gabrielson officiating. Mrs. Martin Solseng will be the organist and Mrs. Stephen Steinart, the soloist. Interment will be in the Viking cemetery. The Quanrud Funeral home, Warren, is in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers will be Evin Morkin, Donald Johnson, Franklin Johnson, Willis Johnson, Wilfred Welin and Gordon Shern.

Mrs. Simonson, the former Gladys Skoglund, was born Oct. 12, 1908 at Warren to Swan and Erika Skoglund. She attended school and grew to womanhood at Warren. On April 21, 1925, she was married at Duluth to Alfred Simonson. Since their marriage, the couple has made their home in Marsh Grove township, Marshall county.

She was a member of the Zion Lutheran church at Viking.

She is survived by her husband, four daughters: Mrs. Aaron (Gloria) Welch, Helena, Mont.; Mrs. Arland (Aileen) Johnson, Muskego, Wis.; Mrs. Andy (Mary Ann) Haugen, Fort Benton, Mont., and Mrs. Warren (Sharon) Brenna, Thief River Falls; two sons: Sherman Simonson, Albany, Tex., and Jerome, Power, Mont.; 20 grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren, and two sisters: Mrs. Albert Johnson, Argyle, and Mrs. Fred Albright, St. Paul.

Mrs. Myrtle G. Peterson, 74, of St. Paul avenue South, died this morning (Wednesday) at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle G. Peterson will be held Saturday at 2:00 p.m., at the Green Funeral chapel with Rev. Berton Hushagen, pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, officiating.

A complete obituary will be published in Monday's edition of the Times.

Services Set For Harry A. Cassavant, 57

Harry A. Cassavant, 57, of Dorothy, father of Ronald Cassavant of Thief River Falls, died Monday in Riverview hospital at Crookston, following an automobile accident in the late afternoon.

Mass of the Resurrection for Harry A. Cassavant will be offered Friday at 11:00 a.m., at St. Dorothy Catholic church at Dorothy. Rev. Donald Archer will be the celebrant. Mrs. Lawrence Cassavant will be the organist and the Ladies church choir will sing. Interment will be in the church cemetery with the Petterson Funeral home, Red Lake Falls, in charge of arrangements.

Wake service will be Thursday at 8:00 p.m., at the funeral home where the body will repose from 3:00 p.m., that day. The body will also repose at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Pallbearers will be Donald Anderson, Mike Schmidt, Lawrence (Blackie) Casavan, Tony Elbinger, Jr., Delbert Desrosier and Ed Chapiewski.

Harry A. Cassavant, a son of the late James and Ida (Doyea) Cassavant, was born Dec. 1, 1922 in Red Lake county. He grew to manhood in the Dorothy area and lived there all his life. He was married to Angeline Lefebvre in November of 1942.

On Jan. 22, 1969, he married Bernice Nephew in Webster, S.D. For the past 13 years, they have owned and operated the Cassavant Locker plant in Dorothy. He also served as sexton for the St. Dorothy Catholic cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Bernice; three sons: Ronald Cassavant, Thief River Falls, and Alan and Orren, both of Dorothy; three daughters: Mrs. Joe (Shirley) Hanson, Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Doug (Delores) Poole, Alexandria; and Judy Cassavant, Denver, Colo.; four stepchildren: Mrs. Maynard (Sandy) Embertson, Twin Falls, Idaho; Mrs. Mike (Pam) Schmidt, Red Lake Falls; Danny Nephew, Mandan, N.D.; and Mark Nephew, Bismarck, N.D.; and 14 grandchildren.

Also surviving are a brother, Richard Cassavant, Silver Bay; and five sisters: Mrs. Mose (Lilly) Mireault, Dorothy; Mrs. Laurence (Myrtle) Schue, Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Viola Boyland, Superior, Wis.; Mrs. Paul (Florence) Brunoue, East Grand Forks, and Mrs. Dale (Bernice) Porter, Seattle, Wash.

He was preceded in death by one brother.

Louis Mercil, 79, Of Brooks, Dies July 11

Louis Mercil, 79, of Brooks, brother of Med Mercil of this city, died Friday at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls. He had been hospitalized since July 1.

Mass of the resurrection for Louis Mercil was offered on Monday at 10 a.m., at St. Joseph's Catholic church at Brooks with Rev. Larry A. Wieseler as celebrant. Mrs. Clifton Melby was the organist and the church choir sang. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Petterson Funeral home, Red Lake Falls, was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were grandsons: Gary Mercil, Duane Bergeron, Joe Mercil, Bryan Paradis, Loring Mercil and Loren Thibert.

Louis Mercil was born Nov. 5, 1900 in Garnes township, Red Lake county, to Joseph and Addie Lefaivre Mercil, now deceased. He grew to manhood in the Brooks area where he farmed until 1957. Since retiring, he had made his home in Brooks.

He was a member of the Catholic order of Foresters and was also active in many community affairs.

He was married Nov. 24, 1921 at Brooks to Louise Champagne. She survives. Also surviving are three sons: Donald Mercil, Drayton, N.D.; Everill, Duluth; and Lloyd, Brooks; three daughters: Mrs. Willard (Donna) Bergeron, Oklee; Mrs. Ronald (Dellas) Paradis, Brooks; and Mrs. Parnell (Madeline) Thibert, Livermore, Calif.; 38 grandchildren and 45 great-grandchildren.

Also surviving are four brothers: Leon Mercil, Red Lake Falls; Medore, Thief River Falls; Wilfred, Colorado Springs, Colo.; and Ralph, St. Paul; and three sisters: Mrs. Otis (Leah) Jewett, Gustine, Calif.; Mrs. Robert (Rose Anna) Gagner, Brooks; and Mrs. Wallace (Mary Louise) Fournier, Red Lake Falls.

"The experience has been meaningful and worthwhile," they commented during a recent Times interview with them at the hospital.

Conference On Disabled Set For St. Paul

The 1980 governor's conference on disabled persons sponsored by Gov. Albert H. Quie and the Minnesota state council for the handicapped will be conducted at the St. Paul civic center October 10 and 11, marking the official kick-off for the 1981 international year of disabled persons.

According to chairperson Sandy Gordon, the conference will feature an assortment of activities and events, including the job fair for people with disabilities, 14 widely varying workshops, exhibits, a film festival and more.

Gov. Quie will address the participants at the opening ceremony October 10. Judy Heumann from the Center for Independent Living in Berkeley, CA and Margaret Giannini of the National Institute of Handicap Research in Washington, D.C. are two other distinguished presenters.

Theme for this year's conference, "Access to Opportunity — Full participation", refers to opportunities for appropriate education, employment, health care, transportation, housing, and recreation for every citizen.

"Response has been tremendous from the numerous corporations, government agencies, and private organizations asked to participate in the Job Fair", states Steven Becker, conference coordinator. The fair will provide disabled persons with the opportunity to meet with potential employers and representatives from employment service organizations. Over 50 employers will be on hand to discuss the current employment climate and available job opportunities. Hours for the Job Fair are 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. October 10 and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. October 11.

In addition to the Job Fair, 14 separate workshops are scheduled for Friday afternoon, and again Saturday, during the conference. Nationally recognized professionals will conduct the workshops on issues such as education, employment, art, fund-raising, transportation, insurance, recreation, building a coalition, law and the handicapped, and developing an issue.

Firms and organizations with innovative products, programs, or services, will display at the governor's conference expo during the entire two days. Conference participants can benefit from exhibits which feature adaptive aids and devices; and products or services in such areas as recreation, education, housing and transportation.

In addition to the above mentioned events, many more activities are scheduled. If you know of anyone who may be interested in attending, please tell them about the Conference. For more information, contact Steven Becker or Cheryl Engstrom at the Minnesota State Council for the Handicapped at 296-6785, or toll-free 1-800-652-9747. (Voice and TTY)

Tax Credit Is Offered For Energy Items

Are you considering installing solar, wind or geothermal energy equipment to generate electricity, provide hot water or heat or cool your home? If you hesitate because of the high cost, CPAs remind you that if you purchase such equipment costing up to $10,000 you are eligible for a higher and more extensive federal tax credit than was previously available. The windfall profit tax act of 1980 allows a 40 per cent tax credit — as much as $4,000 — on purchases of renewable energy source equipment.

If you and your neighbors pool your resources to buy energy-saving equipment, such as a windmill, you can all get a share of the tax credit. The windfall tax act of 1980 has expanded energy tax credits to apply to jointly purchased properties which benefit each residence. Each person can claim an energy credit based on his or her share of the purchase, CPAs say.

Many energy-conserving items you can install in your home may allow you to benefit from a tax credit of up to $300 or 15 per cent of the first $2,000 you spend. Included are exterior storm or thermal windows or doors; automatic setback thermostats; meters which display the cost of energy usage; and furnace ignition systems which replace gas pilot lights. Insulation for ceilings, walls, floors, hot water heaters and exterior pipes also is eligible.

Before installing energy-conservation items in your home, check with your IRS office for a list of equipment that qualifies for federal tax credits. Energy-conservation equipment must have a life expectancy of three years, be new and meet standards the government has set for the item.

That wood-burning stove you want to use to reduce your fuel bills may not be claimed for a federal energy tax credit — wood is not considered a renewable energy source. However, you can now claim more credit for a solar system than before. Rooftop solar panels, previously disqualified on the basis of being structural components of a home, now qualify for the tax credit.

When you move, any energy tax credits you claimed on your old house do not county toward credits on the new home, say CPAs. You may not claim credits on any energy-conservation equipment of run, wind or geothermal energy equipment already installed in your new residence when you move in, but you may claim credits on any new equipment you purchase.

Outdoor Living Experienced By UMC Class

Grandeur, rugged beauty and serenity of Wyoming's Big Horn mountains will beckon to backpackers of all ages who register for a special one-week course this summer offered by the University of Minnesota—Crookston.

The course, which awards two undergraduate credits upon satisfactory completion, will be offered twice by the UMC continuing education office. First session, which will be from July 24 through July 31, will be repeated from August 22 through August 29. Fee of $135 includes everything but camping expenses.

Each session will close with an actual backpacking experience of several days' duration in the Big Horn range of Wyoming, instructor Brent Jacobson has indicated. Prior to hitting the road, however, students will receive an orientation to backpacking and hear presentations by Jacobson on safety and related concerns. Following this orientation period, the instructor explained, the backpackers will travel first to a primitive campground in the Black Hills of South Dakota where they will camp overnight in a modified wilderness setting.

Further course information is available by calling Jacobson at (612) 273-2371 (Ortonville, MN) or UMC Continuing Education at (218) 281-6510, extension 243. Registrations are now being taken at UMC 281-6510, extension 241.

Senator Sets Ag Hearings At State Fair

Sen. Rudy Boschwitz will chair hearings of the Senate agriculture committee during the 1980 Minnesota state fair. The hearings will focus attention on the 1981 farm bill.

Hearings will be held August 28 and 29 at the Earl Brown continuing education center at the University of Minnesota St. Paul campus. On Saturday, August 30, hearings will be held on the fair grounds.

Representatives of farm organizations, individuals from the agri-business community, and young farmer organizations will be addressing the committee. Also attending and testifying will be former secretary of agriculture Earl Butz and Iowa Senator Roger Jepsen who serves on the Senate agriculture committee with Boschwitz.

Topics to be addressed during the hearing will include transportation in agriculture, marketing and farm loan projects. Boschwitz said, "I am pleased that the committee will be coming to Minnesota and I hope that many Minnesota farmers will take this opportunity to address the Senate agriculture committee."

Persons wishing to testify before the committee should contact Randy Russell, agriculture legislative assistant, at 202-224-8455. Due to time limitations, oral testimony will be limited to 10 minutes. Those who cannot testify in person are invited to submit written testimony which will be included in the hearing record. Written testimony should be sent before Sept. 1, 1980 to: Don Mosher, in care of Senator Boschwitz, 210 Bremer Building, 419 North Robert Street, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

Hearings will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon on each of these three days.

Gene Wenstrom Files For U.S. Congress Seat

Gene Wenstrom, 33, has filed to be a candidate for the United States Congress from the Seventh district. He is a grain and livestock farmer from Elbow Lake and served in the Minnesota House of Representatives from 1974 to 1978.

The DFL endorsed candidate said he filed "to give the people of the Seventh district a positive voice in Washington, D.C."

"We need a congressman that does more than simply say no or vote the way the special interest groups command. We need a congressman who will work to get a seat on the House ag committee, who will support new efforts to improve our rail transportation problems, who will support economic policies geared toward middle and low income families, and who will work to help reduce our reliance on foreign oil," Wenstrom said.

In 1979-80, Wenstrom was director of the Minnesota farm structure project that has recommended a series of programs to help strengthen the family farm. While serving in the legislature, he authorized bills which were adopted to prohibit large corporations from entering the grain or livestock business, to help state citizens deal with the state bureaucracy and to provide low interest housing loans for low and middle income families.

"I'm proud of the efforts in the legislature and with the farm structure project and want to continue those efforts in the United States Congress," Wenstrom said.

PREPARING TO LEAVE for their visit to Indiana university in Bloomington for the national Christian youth Congress and for a visit to other sites in that area, are these young people who joined others from throughout the United States and Canada at the university for various workshops and discussions. Those young people from Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls who left for their tour Monday afternoon include Ross Richards, Al Lull, Lon Aune, Steve Larson, Steve Dalager, Charlie Simenson, Kim McFarland, Cindy Morkrid, Val Knutson, Cindy Peterson, Kelly Pikop, Mary Ness, Kirsten Myrold, Vicki Fellman, Kelley Rohde, Lisa Nelson, Stacy Davidson, Cheryl Olson, Lori Swanson, Roberta Svir, Karen Aas, Karyn Richards, Marisa Johnson and Kathy Nyland. Elody Olson, Helen Davidson, Tom Schlotterback and Rev. James Mattson were the sponsors for the trip.

Federal Checks For Jobless Being Mailed

Federal unemployment benefits have been restored and checks are being mailed to nearly 1,200 unemployed Minnesotans, Rolf Middleton, commissioner of the Minnesota department of economic security reported recently.

Minnesota's federal unemployment payments were stopped June 11 and trade readjustment act (TRA) benefits were reduced after congress failed to enact necessary legislation. Recently congress approved the funding and President Carter signed the legislation July 8.

About 2,100 TRA claimants in Minnesota were affected by the reduced payments. They did, however, continue to receive regular state unemployment checks in amounts up to the state's maximum per week, $150.

Those people affected by the federal fund cutoff included individuals with prior federal civilian work or military service, former postal employees, those who participated in the comprehensive employment training act (CETA) public service employment program and persons who were unemployed as a result of increased imports.

Contact Social Security When Family Changes

Social security administration says it is always ready to answer questions. However, there are specific occasions when they urge you to get in touch with them, according to the Minnesota society of certified public accountants.

When approaching retirement age, be certain to contact a social security office to learn what forms must be submitted for benefits. This might also be the time to verify how much you have contributed over the years.

Even if you are not retiring at 65, contact the social security administration two or three months before reaching that age to arrange medicare protection. You become eligible for this medical coverage at 65, regardless of when you retire. Hospitalization expenses may be paid retroactively for up to one year if you apply late, but does not apply to doctor bills.

What is the first time to make sure you contact the social security administration? It is before taking a job — to get a social security number. Make the request four to six weeks before you must begin work, to allow time for processing. If you change your name because of marriage or for any other reason, notify social security to prevent confusion about reporting your earnings.

When someone in the family is disabled, be certain to contact a social security office. Disability benefits may be payable. Be sure to apply for benefits as soon as possible, as there is a waiting period of five months before payment begins. If you are housebound or hospitalized, you can arrange to have a social security representative visit you.

Another "must occasion for contacting a social security office is after a death in the family, to learn about available benefits, which may include a lump sum to help cover funeral expenses, regular payments to a minor child, or benefits to a spouse.

Call before visiting a social security office to find out if your business can be accomplished over the phone. If you have to go in person, be sure to ask what documents you will have to bring with you, such as social security cards; birth or death certificates; marriage or divorce papers, or copies of W-2 forms.

HANG HUYNH, his wife, Que Anh Mac, along with their two sons, Hao Cam, 5, and Jon, three months, a Vietnamese family who arrived in the United States last October, are presently searching for a home in Thief River Falls where the family can live while Hang is employed at Northland Shoe Repair in Thief River Falls.

Home Needed In TRF For Family From Viet Nam

by Bonnie Reed
Times Reporter

Hang Huynh and his wife, Que Anh Mac, along with their five-year-old son, Hao Cam, arrived in the United States from Viet Nam last October and are now looking for a home in Thief River Falls.

"There was no food or freedom in Viet Nam," Hang stated in his best form of English. Hang, who could speak only a few words of English when he arrived in this country, learned to speak the language from Kenny Finstad, with whom Hang and his family are presently residing.

"We worked at it all winter," Finstad said, "using this. . ." as he held up a tiny blackboard used for all Hang's lessons. He was also aided in his speaking by a friend in Karlstad, Hang added — the town where the family resided and where Hang worked as a custodian before coming to Thief River Falls to continue his employment as a shoemaker for Finstad at Northland Shoe Repair.

After working for some time as a custodian in Karlstad, Hang realized the need to practice his own profession as a showmaker — a job possessing 17 years of experience for him.

"He's a good worker," Finstad and his wife Doris admitted. "We feel he is an asset to our business and we highly recommend his work."

Hang began his duties as a shoemaker with the Finstads under a 12-week training program where he learned to use machines to aid him in his work — something he had never used before. In Viet Nam all shoe repair work was done by hand.

It was difficult learning to use the machines, according to Hang, but they made the work a lot faster, he added.

Hang and his family have roamed throughout various sections of the country searching for a place to live — permanently — since they arrived in the United States. And, besides the fact that our winters are "cold," according to Hang, he stated that he would like to stay here as he continues his employment with Finstad. He has come to like the town, and the weather, he said.

But now, the Huynh's are searching for a home in Thief River Falls. The bedroom they share (Jon, their youngest son, was born three months ago) at the Finstad's has become small for a family of four.

Hang would like to continue his work as a shoemaker at Northland Shoe Repair and his wife would someday like to begin sewing within the community.

A small home within walking or biking distance from Hang's place of employment with Finstad would be suitable. If anyone is interested in renting a home to the Huynh family, a call would be greatly appreciated. Interested persons may call Kenny Finstad's residence anytime at 681-5948. The Finstad's live at 721 Horace av. N.

"WE FEEL HE IS an asset to our business," commented Kenny and Doris Finstad of Northland Shoe Repair in Thief River Falls concerning their new employee, Hang Huynh, who arrived in the United States with his family from Viet Nam last October. Hang, a shoemaker with 17 years of experience, along with his wife and two sons, are presently living with the Finstad's but are now in need of a home near Hang's place of employment.

Farmers Union Oil Co. Notes Record Year

Jarvis Torgerson was reelected to the board of directors of Farmers Union Oil company of Thief River Falls at the annual meeting held Thursday in the city auditorium. Torgerson serves as secretary-treasurer of the cooperative.

During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1980, the oil company increased its total assets from $1,695,341 to a record $2,018,485. Current liabilities of $571,356 were up from $386,342 the previous year and included patronage refunds payable in cash of $39,316.

Sales to patrons during the year of $3,832,272 eclipsed last year's sales of $3,191,697 and provided gross margin of $579,077. Total operating expenses of $404,362 left net savings of $174,714. With patronage refunds of $43,712 received by the company, total net savings for the year were $218,427, up only slightly from $198,497 a year ago.

Views On Dental Health®

By Donald R. Goodrich, D.D.S.

TEETH ARE TOUGH . . . BUT . . .

Teeth are tough! Did you know that the outside layer of teeth (the enamel) is the second hardest naturally occurring substance. Only diamond is harder. That's one reason why more human teeth are found as prehistoric relics than any other part of the body.

It seems paradoxical that such a fabulously hard substance should be such easy prey to decay. It's amazing how teeth can decay in short order from contact with sugar and its eventual change into enamel-eating acid.

Another thing to be careful of is eating extremely hot and cold foods together. For example, drinking hot coffee while eating ice cream is liable to make teeth crack, because teeth enamel and the dentin underneath it expand and contract at different rates as they react to temperature changes. Teeth enamel is not damaged by hot liquids, but if something cold is consumed immediately afterward, the enamel contracts and could crack. Hot drinks are usually about 140 degrees Fahrenheit, ice cream is about 35 degrees. That much sudden change can be harmful to teeth.

Heckroth Earns Trap Honors

Jim Heckroth made quite an impression over the weekend at the 1980 Minnesota state trap shooting tournament by winning three state titles — high overall, high all-around and doubles.

The owner of the Marshallton Gun Club, site of the weekly Thief River Falls trap league shooting, Heckroth is a former Nevada state champion and last year debuted at the Minnesota state trap meet by winning Class AA singles, doubles and all-around honors. That earned him a spot as captain of the 1980 Minnesota all-state trap team announced this spring.

Pam Johnson was also a winner a year ago when she won the ladies handicap state title.

Those were the first titles for Thief River Falls shooters since Sandy Wilson took the 1973 state doubles crown. Wilson was also a doubles state champion in 1965; singles, handicap and all-around winner in 1964; and a junior state champion in 1959.

A. F. Jones in 1946 and C. A. Nason in 1917 — both in singles — are the only other Thief River Falls winners listed in the 68-year-old history of the Minnesota state meet.

Miscellaneous

+New opponents appearing on a recently-announced 22-game 1980-81 Northland community college hockey schedule will be the University of Minnesota and Bemidji State University junior varsity teams. The Northmen, under new head coach Tom Goddard, will open their season Wednesday, Dec. 3, at Bemidji. Northland will be in Minneapolis to face the Gophers' varsity-reserves Friday and Saturday, Dec. 19 and 20. The 1980-81 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) hockey conference remains intact from a year ago with Northland, Rainy River, Hibbing, Crookston, Rochester and Mesabi. Rainy River will play host to the 1981 MJCAA state hockey tournament in International Falls Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 21 and 22.

+Moorhead State University track team will have a definite Region 8AA flavor next spring. Among the athletes indicating they'll perform for the Dragons are Darwin Boe of Fergus Falls, a semifinalist in the 100 meters at the 1980 Minnesota Class AA state track meet; Scott Santwire of Detroit Lakes, a second place state meet finisher in the pole vault; sprinter Duane Fisher, fourth in the 400 meters at the state meet, and high jumper Tom Campbell, a state meet winner, both of Bemidji; and four Moorhead standouts — Chuck Johnson, Bob McLeod, Brad Borgen, who was named most valuable athlete at Moorhead high school this past year, and Dave Correll, the state pole vault champion.

+During a University of Minnesota Williams Fund outing at Hibbing last week, ex-Gopher hockey star Bill Baker of Grand Rapids put a needle to Kevin McHale, the Hibbing high school and University of Minnesota basketball star who was recently taken in the first round of the NBA college draft by the Boston Celtics. Baker noted that some of the Celtics' class must have already rubbed off on McHale because, "this is the first time I've been able to understand what a guy from Hibbing was saying."

+Crookston defeated Bemidji 10-3 Sunday in the consolation championship game of the New York Mills American Legion baseball tournament. It was a tough tournament for Bemidji, charged with 19 errors in three games to drop below .500 for the year at 10-11. Crookston, after losing to pre-tournament favorite Brainerd 4-0 in the first round, bounced back to beat Detroit Lakes 5-3 and Bemidji 10-3 to improve its season record to 16-12. Bemidji, a 4-3 first round loser to New York Mills and an 8-6 consolation semifinal winner over Glyndon, was awarded the tournament's sportsmanship award. Brainerd won the tournament title with a 4-2 eight-inning championship game victory over New York Mills, with Brainerd shortstop Gary Borg picking up the tournament MVP award. Thief River Falls' American Legion baseball team will be in New York Mills for a 6:30 p.m. doubleheader Saturday and will be in Detroit Lakes for a 2 p.m. twinbill Sunday before closing out the 1980 regular season with a trip to Bemidji Monday.

Grand Slam Sparks Saints 19-9 Victory

A first inning grand slam home run by Lonie Tollefson sparked the Division I leading St. Hilaire Saints to a 19-9 win over Northern Employers Agency Monday in the Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league.

Marlys Huot also homered for the Saints, who improved their league-best record to 15-1.

A two-run home run in the top of the seventh inning by Darlene Dahl lifted the Mush-a-Rettes to a 3-1 come-from-behind victory over Pizza Hut.

Sharon Harris' home run made Roseau Transport a 4-3 winner over the Ridge Runners.

Division II leader Dwight's Hartz pounded Great Northwest Agency 28-2 as Diane Anderson homered and tripled and Diane Fisher homered. Sandy Vose hit a home run for Great Northwest Agency.

Home runs by Rosemary Naseth and Nancy McKenzie helped lead the Schmidt Stealers to a 22-6 triumph over The Barbers.

Peggy Bergsnev hit a two-run home run and De Larson hit a two-run triple as the Health Hustlers toppled Walseth Construction 22-12.

Hydra-Mac edged Credit Bureau 14-13 despite a grand slam home run by the loser's Beth Hallstrom.

Ekeren Drug defeated the American Legion 7-1, with Laura Larson hitting a triple for the winners.

A change in tonight's (Wednesday) scheduling, necessitated by the Pennington county fair, will find the games scheduled for diamonds No. 1 and No. 2 at the fairgrounds switched to the fast pitch diamond at the fairgrounds where the lights will be used to accommodate the four games. Starting at 6:20 p.m. it'll be the American Legion vs. Pizza Hut, Mush-a-Rettes vs. Roseau Transport, Health Hustlers vs. Schmidt Stealers and The Barbers vs. Great Northwest Agency.

Elsewhere, it'll be Northern Employers Agency vs. Ekeren Drug at 6:20 p.m. and Dwight's Hartz vs. Credit Bureau at 7:40 on the Northland community college diamond, with the Ridge Runners vs. St. Hilaire Saints at 6:20 p.m. and Hydra-Mac vs. Walseth Construction at 7:40 at East Side.

Archery Club Meeting Set For Thursday

A general meeting of the Thief River Falls archery club will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the meeting room of the public library.

All interested archers are encouraged to attend the meeting. For additional information contact Dana Klos, telephone 681-7128.

Klos was recently reelected to serve a two-year term on the Minnesota state archery association board of governors representing six northwestern Minnesota archery organizations: Bemidji archery club, Lake Agassiz Bowmen of Moorhead, Heart O' Lakes Bowhunters of Detroit Lakes, Thief River Falls archery club, Northwestern Archers of Kennedy and the Roseau Bowhunters.

The board of governors meet four times each year in Minneapolis.

JIM HECKROTH of the Marshallton Gun Club displayed the prizes he brought home from the 67th annual Minnesota state trap shooting tournament completed Sunday in St. Cloud. Captain of the 1980 Minnesota all-state trap team, Heckroth won state trap titles in doubles, high all-around and high overall, along with a victory in the men's champion of champions shoot, a win in the preliminary doubles and a runner-up finish in the warm-up doubles competition.

Jim Heckroth Wins Three State Trap Meet Titles

by Mike Lundgren
Times Sports Editor

It's obvious Jim Heckroth knows his business. Owner-operator of the Marshallton Gun Club and editor-publisher of Midwest Trapshooter Magazine, Heckroth proved once again he's an expert in the field of trap shooting by bringing home an armful of silver prizes from the 1980 Minnesota state trap shooting tournament held at the Del-Tone Trap Range in St. Cloud.

Some 500 shooters participated in the five-day tournament completed Sunday. And when the smoke cleared, there was Heckroth with state titles in doubles, high all-around and high overall, along with the top prize in the prestigious champion of champions competition, a win in the preliminary doubles and a runner-up finish in the warm-up doubles that preceded the actual state shoot.

Heckroth won the state doubles title by breaking 99 of 100 targets. He took the high all-around state crown — figured by totaling scores in singles, doubles and yardage handicap competition — with a 388x400. And he was named the high overall state champion — determined by using scores in all events — with a 667x700.

The champion of champions shoot matched zone champions from central, southern and northern Minnesota in both singles and doubles competition. Heckroth was perfect in that event with a 200x200 in singles and a 100x100 in doubles.

It was a big payday, but it wasn't a clean sweep, he pointed out. Heckroth did not win in the handicap competition where he was 90x100 and he did not win in singles, even though he hit 199 of 200 targets. That put him one behind the state champion and tied him with four others for the other three trophies; he didn't survive the shoot-off.

That did little to take the luster off his performance, though. It even bettered his showing of a year ago when his first Minnesota state trap shoot produced Class AA wins in singles, doubles and high all-around. But the top prize in trap is a state championship in each event, followed by the runner-up finisher, then the Class AA and finally Class A winners.

Even so, Heckroth was named captain of the 1980 Minnesota all-state trap team, whose members earn the coveted positions based on the high all-around averages at the previous year's state meet. Heckroth, as the top scorer in 1979, was automatically named captain of the squad.

A competitive trap shooter for only six years, Heckroth came to northwestern Minnesota to build his Marshallton Gun Club, located midway between Thief River Falls and Newfolden and the site of the weekly Thief River Falls trap league matches and several large registered shoots each year, after three straight years as captain of the Nevada all-state trap team. He first won that honor after just two years of shooting.

The two state meets — Minnesota and Nevada — are comparable, said Heckroth. "They're all tough to win. You've got to keep your head down; you've got to concentrate; and you've got to have a certain amount of luck to end up with the top score of the day, he explained.

Heckroth says he feels the pressure of the big meets before the competition starts, but feels much more comfortable once he starts shooting.

"The pressure is on by just being there in the first place," he pointed out. "And as captain of the all-state team, everybody has their eyes on you. You like to be recognized, but it does put pressure on you. You just block it out while you're shooting."

Practice and concentration make for a good trap shooter. And Heckroth is good. His 1979 averages for 100-bird rounds were 98.33 in singles; 90.43 in 27-yard handicap shooting; and 95.65 in doubles. He ran back-to-back 100-straights in doubles at Rock Lake, Man. last year and hit that 100 mark again to win the zone shoot at Grand Rapids. He hit 200 straight three times in singles and ran 100 straight ten times. He once ran 237 straight in doubles.

"Doubles is the funnest part of the game; you get to pull the trigger twice," smiled Heckroth. "It takes more concentration than singles, but you really feel good about it when you're successful at it."

The Cedar Falls, Ia. native has a summer full of tournaments he attends. "I try to hit as many as I can," he noted. "Sometimes it's tough to go out and shoot, but most of the time I manage to get up for a shoot. Success makes it more fun."

TRF Racquetball Tournament To Start Monday

First round matches are scheduled to start Monday in the first annual Thief River Falls Jaycees Aquacade racquetball tournament at the Thief River Falls Racquetball and Exercise Club.

Competition will be held in four groupings: men's 19-and-under, women's 19-and-under, men's 20-older and women's 20-older. Trophies will be awarded to the top place finishers in each class.

Entry fee is $10. Entry deadline is Saturday. Tournament director is Tom Ritchie, telephone 681-2130.

Independents Surprise Elks

Thief River Falls Independents upset the top-seeded Thief River Falls Elks 2-1 this morning (Wednesday) in the South Half Lake Agassiz Babe Ruth baseball league playoffs at Crookston to earn a berth into the district tournament scheduled to be played Saturday and Sunday at Crookston.

But the Elks aren't done yet. The Thief River Falls ball club will play again Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the double-elimination South Half playoffs at Crookston, with a district tournament berth at stake.

The Elks' Thursday opponent will be today's survivor among Goodridge, Crookston A, Crookston B, Red Lake Falls and East Grand Forks. They all tasted defeat yesterday when the Independents beat Red Lake Falls 13-1, Crookston A got by Crookston B 4-2, East Grand Forks shut out Goodridge 10-0, the Elks handled East Grand Forks 11-2 and the Independents outlasted Crookston A 9-6.

Winner of this weekend's four-team double-elimination district tournament — featuring the top two teams from the Lake Agassiz North and South Half playoffs — will earn a trip to the 1980 Minnesota state Babe Ruth baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds at Morris starting July 25.

Independents — Elks

Third meeting of the 1980 season between the two Thief River Falls Babe Ruth teams produced the first Independents win of the season, a dramatic 2-1 victory in a game that got underway this morning at 9 a.m.

The outcome wasn't decided until Independents centerfielder Mark Gere threw out Elks base runner Brian Kemnitz at the plate with two out in the top of the seventh inning. Catcher Jim Hallamek put the game-ending tag on the runner.

Independents came up with a first inning run when Dave Stimac singled and advanced on a sacrifice by Ryan Bakke that moved him all the way to third. He scored on an error.

Elks tied it in the second when Jeff Milender reached base on a fielder's choice, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Todd Ortloff.

Winning run crossed the pate in the Independents' fourth inning when Kirk Jensen and Rodney Harder dropped back-to-back two-out bloop singles behind second base. Jensen stole second to get into scoring position.

Stimac was the winning pitcher. He gave up just three base hits, but walked 12 while striking out three. Tim Bottem as the tough-luck loser, giving up just four hits, walking only one and striking out seven. But the Elks were charged with all four of the game's errors.

The victory lifted the Independents' record to 17-8. The Elks, 8-5 and 10-9 winners over the Independents during the season, fell to 18-4.

Independents — RLF

Kirk Jensen pitched a two-hitter and went 2-for-3 himself to lead the Independents to a 13-1 opening round victory over Red Lake Falls Tuesday.

Jensen walked two and struck out four during the five-inning ball game. On offense he tripled and scored a run during Thief River Falls' nine-hit attack that included a 2-for-4 effort by Bill Benedict, who scored twice and drove in a run. Red Lake Falls was charged with seven of the game's eight errors.

Elks — EGF

A one-hitter pitched by Scott Johnston carried the Elks past East Grand Forks 11-2 Tuesday. Johnston walked three and struck out seven.

Thief River Falls broke it open by scoring five unearned runs with two out in the second inning.

Doug Odegaard and Tim Bergland had two hits apiece for the winners who finished with seven hits. Odegaard drove in three runs. Only East Grand Forks base hit off Johnston was a first inning

Nancy Harris Wins Another TRF Ladies Golf Tournament Title

Nancy Harris of Roseau successfully defended her title Tuesday in the annual Thief River Falls ladies golf club invitational tournament at the Thief River Country Club.

Harris shot a 78 for a two-stroke victory over Sylvia Sjoberg in the championship flight. Sjoberg was a third place finisher a year ago behind Marge Corliss. Donna Neujaka was third yesterday with an 85.

Kathy Walker of Thief River Falls won the first flight with an 88, followed by Jean Grahn 94 and Keks Lee 97.

Second flight went to Phyllis Moum of Thief River Falls with a 95, followed by Phyllis Harris 100 and Dorrita Miller 101.

Kathy Wickland of Greenbush took the third flight with a 107, followed by Dorothy Dexter 110 and Lee Gragg 111.

It was Shirley Ziegler of Kennedy winning the fourth flight with a 107, followed by Ardie Foster 116 and Alice Lee 119.

Fifth flight was won by Hanna Heteen of Thief River Falls with a 132, followed by Debie Novotny 137 and Marilyn Charleson 138.

A year ago Harris, who is headed for the University of Minnesota were she has been recruited to play golf for the Gophers, won the championship flight with an 82, followed by Corliss with an 86.

Horse Show At TRF July 27

Thief River Falls saddle club is planning a summer open horse show for Sunday, July 27, at 10 a.m. on the Pennington county fairgrounds.

Events planned include barrel racing, pole bending, rescue race and others. Open to all horsemen, the show is open to the public without charge. For more information call Roxanne Erickson at 964-5545.

Outboard Motor Size Restricted By Regulations

It is illegal to operate a boat in Minnesota that has a motor of greater horsepower than the maximum safe limit shown on the boat's capacity plate. Kim Elverum, boat and water safety coordinator, Department of Natural Resources, said the capacity plate is usually located on the boat's transom or is attached to the craft somewhere near the steering wheel or throttle.

He said he receives numerous calls every year concerning the regulation.

It is not illegal for the dealer to sell a boat with a motor larger than shown on the capacity plate, he said, but it is illegal to operate such a boat.

"This means that the boat buyer should check the capacity plate before he purchases the watercraft," said Elverum.

He said that the boat dealer who attaches an overpowered motor to a boat might be brought into court on a product liability suit if an accident occurred.

Furthermore, he said, the boat owner may find that insurance does not cover cases where the owner knowingly overpowers the watercraft and then has an accident.

He also emphasized that there is no truth to a rumor that the law allows a 5, 10 or 15 per cent horsepower increase over the maximum shown on the capacity plate.

In addition, said Elverum, overpowering a boat may damage the transom. It may also create a dangerous situation by forcing the stern lower in the water causing the bow to rise, reducing the operator's foward visibility. This could also lead to the boat swamping, he pointed out.

triple. The two teams divided eight errors.

Independents — Crookston

In a match-up of teams who shared second place in the final North Half Lake Agassiz Babe Ruth baseball league regular season standings behind the Elks, the Independents came up with a key 9-6 victory over Crookston A Tuesday afternoon.

Thief River Falls broke open a tight 4-3 game by scoring five times in the bottom of the sixth. A couple of Thief River Falls errors in the seventh allowed Crookston to close the gap.

The Independents held an 8-7 base hit edge, with Kirk Jensen going 2-for-4, driving in two runs and scoring twice. Jensen and Gary Cornell had RBI base hits in the sixth inning outburst.

Mark Gere was the game's winning pitcher. He walked six and struck out two, giving up just one earned run as the Independents topped the error charts 5-3.

Bagley Plans July 27 Event

A men's slow pitch softball tournament will be played Sunday, July 27, at Bagley.

Entry fee for the 24-team ASA-sanctioned event is $45. Entry deadline is Monday, July 21. Tournament director is Pete Riewer, Box 564, Bagley, MN 56621; telephone 694-2369.

13-Year-Olds Host RLF In Final Start

Thief River Falls 13-year-old Babe Ruth Prep League baseball team will close out its 1980 regular season schedule Friday by hosting Red Lake Falls in a 1 p.m. doubleheader on the Northland community college diamond.

A scheduled Monday doubleheader against Goodridge was canceled at the request of Goodridge officials. Thief River Falls, 8-5 for the year, will begin district tournament play Tuesday at Roseau.

Coca-Cola Wins Title Sunday At Devils Lake

Hitting .302 as a team for the day, Coca-Cola, the current leader in the Thief River Falls fast pitch softball league, came up with a four-game sweep Sunday and a championship finish in a 16-team invitational tourpament at Devils Lake, N.D.

Mike Drury, who pitched all four Coca-Cola games in the 98-degree heat, opened with a two-hit 2-0 shutout over Frontier Bar of Jamestown.

Drury followed with a four-hitter as Coca-Cola edged Wooden Nickel of Jamestown 3-2 on Gordie Peterson's one-out two-run single in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Coca-Cola bats came alive again in the semifinals as Thief River Falls routed the Devils Lake Knights of Columbus 15-4.

Finishing with 36 hits in 119 at bats for the day, Coca-Cola completed the tournament with a 9-2 championship game win over Arrow Barber of Minot.

THIS NICE WALLEYE, weighing in at 7½ pounds, was pulled from the Thief river Monday about 10 a.m. by Sandy Bjorgaard after about a 10-minute tussle. Sandy was fishing from a boat and using leeches for bait when she caught the trophy. Smaller walleyes, northern pike and rock bass were also caught on the same outing.

Six Teams Earn Playoff Positions

Latest results from the Thief River Falls men's golf league features post-season playoff qualifiers from first half season competition.

A top two finish in one of the three divisions earned playoff positions for First Northwestern State Bank, First Federal, Ekeren Drug, Home Box Office, Hartz Wholesale and Bridgeman.

First Northwestern State Bank qualified as the Demaret Division leader with an 855, followed by First Federal 857, Professional Building 859, Lon's 869, Northern State Bank 872, Lee Plumbing & Heating 881 and Wennberg's 891.

Members of the First Northwestern State Bank team are Dave Kjos, Bob Kosel, Roger Rueter, Terry Gere and Ken Meyer. First Federal golfers include Milt Reierson, Jay Moum, Stu Rugland, Stan Sjoberg and Wes Johnson.

Ekeren Drug was the Hogan Division leader at the cut-off date with an 845, followed by Home Box Office 859, McDonald's 860, Elks 864, Blue Cross 877 and Arctic Swingers 879.

Jack Boyer, Jerry Imgrund, Wally DuChamp, Arnie Lee and Charlie Boyer golf for Ekeren Drug. Bob Forberg, Mike Kosel, Bob Fitzgerald, Dave Geatz and Wade Hoppe golf for Home Box Office.

Hartz Wholesale was the runaway leader in the Snead Division with an 835, followed by Bridgeman 863, Model Lundry 873, Miracle Water-Gordon's Hallmark 888, Larson Music 895, Paint & Galss 906 and Doctors Incorporated 915.

Golfing for Hartz Wholesale are Alex Easton, Wally Krueger, Bill Penning, Ed Gilbert and Bill Corliss. For Bridgeman it's Rudy Mehlhoff, Vic Kwikstad, Ferdie Mandt, Elton Cummings and Blain Rugland.

Roger Rueter of First Federal shot a low gross 34 and a low net 29 to take the league honors in both categories last week.

Since the Endangered Species Act of 1973 was enacted, the U.S. list has almost tripled from 106 to 276.

AFTER STEPPING ON the bag for a force out on Wilson Brothers base runner Rod Knutson (5), Consumer's Co-op second baseman Stu Peterson tried to complete a double play by firing the ball to first base in the third inning of Monday's men's slow pitch softball association game. However, the relay to first was too late. Consumer's Co-op won the game 10-8 and added a 12-0 victory over Lon's in the second half of a split doubleheader to take over first place in the National League East Division.

Tie Broken By Consumer's Co-op

Consumer's Co-op snapped a first place tie in the National League East Division of the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball association Monday with a doubleheader sweep over Wilson Brothers 10-8 and Lon's 12-0.

Meanwhile, Great Northwest Agency, involved in a season-long struggle to catch the leaders, took it on the chin, absorbing a 13-3 shellacking at the hands of National League West Division contender First Northwestern Insurance Agency.

Terry Dyrdal's three-run, opposite-field, inside-the-park home run in the top of the sixth inning snapped a 7-7 tie as Consumer's Co-op beat Wilson Brothers 10-8. Dyrdal placed the ball inside the right field foul line and raced around the bases when Wilson Brothers rightfielder Sheldon Idso failed to come up with a diving catch. Stu Peterson went 4-for-4 for the winners, a feat matched by Ray Swick in the 12-0 second game victory over Lon's. Mitch Hoard pitched the shutout.

Elsewhere Monday, National League West Division leader Schumacher's Tireland beat Sparby-Johnson 11-5 and First Federal kept pace with a 12-8 victory over Sound Level-Holthusen, but Thorp-KKAQ fell two games off the pace by dropping a tough 2-1 decision to The Club. E.T.'s Bees edged Hardees 7-6 and IWA got by the TRF Aggies 9-8.

American League East Division co-leaders met Tuesday, with the TRF Merchants pulling out a 7-6 victory over Hobo Haus.

Coca-Cola Cowboys pulled off their second triple play of the year in beating Bridgeman 16-6 as pitcher Russ Delorme turned a line drive into a pitcher-to-third-to-second triple killing in the fourth inning. Randy Wicklander was 4-for-4 at the plate for the winners.

Elsewhere during Tuesday's rain-soaked schedule, Hobo Haus beat Terry's Mobil 8-5, the American Legion Raiders got by Tony Dorn 6-4, Home Lumber doubled Phase II 10-5, Furuseth-Nelson shaded the St. Hilaire Bears 9-7, Swenson Plumbing handled Popplers-Action Realty 14-3 and the TRF Merchants beat Arnold Realty.

1979 License Sales Set Record

People who hunted and fished last year spent a record $373 million on licenses, tags, permits and stamps, Lynn A. Greenwalt, director of the Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, announced.

"Total income from license sales of all kinds was $29 million over fiscal year 1978 totals, and included $199 million for hunting licenses (up $14 million over 1978) and $174 million for fishing licenses (up $15 million from 1978)," Greenwalt said.

Total number of hunting license holders in the United States was 16,551,886, up from 16,277,225 in 1978. Fishing license holders increased from 25,150,352 in 1978 to 27,947,397 in 1979.

States use the revenues from hunting and fishing license sales to conduct their fish and wildlife conservation programs. The numbers of hunting and fishing license holders are used by the Fish and Wildlife Service in determining the funds apportioned to each state under the federal aid in fish and wildlife restoration programs. Under these programs, states are reimbursed for up to 75 per cent of the cost of approved projects. For the current fiscal year, which ends September 30, 1980, $117 million was apportioned in federal aid funds for fish and wildlife conservation.

Number of license sales and license holders does not fully reflect the actual numbers of hunters and fishermen. Paid license holders do not include hunters or fishermen who are not required to buy a license. In many states, persons below or above certain ages are not required to buy licenses, and many coastal states do not require licenses for saltwater fishing. Some people purchase licenses in more than one state and are, therefore, counted more than once.

Number of hunting licenses, tags and permits issued during fiscal year 1979:

Alabama, 402,557; Alaska, 89,550; Arizona, 335,533; Arkansas, 545,838; California, 654,155; Colorado, 551,531; Connecticut, 100,434; Delaware, 27,793; Florida, 270,484; Georgia, 872,451; Hawaii, 11,422; Idaho, 540,367; Illinois, 603,817; Indiana, 537,861; Iowa, 485,819; Kansas, 257,897; Kentucky, 424,526; Louisiana, 544,857; Maine, 234,418; Maryland, 377,563; Massachusetts, 172,249; Michigan, 1,151,485; Minnesota, 1,092,565; Mississippi, 332,260; Missouri, 791,030; Montana, 762,296; Nebraska, 344,058; Nevada, 79,746; New Hampshire, 99,649; New Jersey, 279,039; New Mexico, 149,723; New York, 1,126,130; North Carolina, 572,688; North Dakota, 286,399; Ohio, 757,282; Oklahoma, 470,856; Oregon, 931,259; Pennsylvania, 1,933,051; Rhode Island, 18,441; South Carolina, 302,673; South Dakota, 378,458; Tennessee, 815,535; Texas, 1,132,087; Utah, 325,820; Vermont, 167,636; Virginia, 920,114; Washington, 880,153; West Virginia, 471,278; Wisconsin, 1,229,236; Wyoming, 310,389.

County Board Proceedings

July 16, 1980
Official Proceedings
Board of County Commissioners
Pennington County, Minnesota
June 26, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment the County Board met in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse in Thief River Falls at 10:00 A.M., June 26, 1980.

Members present: Hoffman, Grabanski, Koop, Stenberg and Tasa. All present.

The Goodridge Twp. Board, Glennis Iverson, Clint Hoffman and Mike Hanson met with the Board to determine when culverts will be installed that have been planned for some time at sites East of Goodridge. The Engineer advised the group that specs have been changed by the Highway Dept. and as a result a delay has resulted. According to the revised schedule the culverts should be installed soon. Bids are to be called after July 28th. The County procedure for installation of such bridges was reviewed. Agreement is that the Township pays for the removal of the old Township bridge and the installation of new approaches as well as half of the Engineering costs.

The Board then conferred with District Engineer, Bob Wolfe and State Aid Engineer, Jack Isaacson, relative to coordination of Highway repairs and construction. The Board asked about the possible realignment of the procedure for improvement of SA 3 from TH 32 East to TH 59. The road is scheduled for shouldering first and then addition of black to bring the load capacity to a 9 ton level. The question was could or should the black top be added first to provide for proper tonnage more quickly. It was determined that to install the black top before the shouldering would cause such hazards that it would not be advisable.

Mr. Wolfe spoke of the necessity for realignment of the State Highway program because of the terrific increase in costs and the lack of funds. Tax revenues are down and funds are only available to do minimum maintenance on the roads.

The entire procedure for setting of standards for construction and maintenance of roads was reviewed and discussed where the State Aid system provides income to the Counties based on traffic counts and projections for the future. The possibility of changing standards was spoken of and the difficulty of changing standards because of the State wide involvement of all Counties with the base system starting with the State Aid System in 1958.

The Board discussed realignment of the process for acquiring right of way for improvement of roads so that proper easements can be on file before the construction is planned totally. Improved highways are being asked for but proper right of way is not being provided with equal participation by all parties. It appears that a policy of no road work without the complete right of way record in the file.

Kenneth Hagen appeared with a request for compensation for his approval of right of way. Mr. Hagen suggested that he would have to be compensated for moving his house, replacing of some material when moving, loss of windbreak and several other items totaling $5,600.00. The Board took the matter under advisement.

Judge Larry Jorgenson of the Pennington County Court then discussed a proposal for an Alcohol Counselor to serve the Court in Marshall and Pennington Counties with the State providing 50 per cent of the cost of the program. An Office would have to be provided as well as secretarial help along with a Counselor. Matter taken under advisement.

Moved by Koop seconded by Grabanski that the Engineer be authorized to enter into agreement with the Soo Line RR relative to a Railroad crossing on CSAH 7 according to agreement before the Board dated May 23, 1980. Carried.

The matter of an adjusted compensation for Kenneth Hagen was brought up again and discussed. Moved by Hoffman seconded by Koop that the sum of $1,500.00 be offered Kenneth Hagen in exchange for right of way and loss of a windbreak. Upon call for vote there were 3 Yes votes and 2 No votes and Chairman declared motion carried.

Greg Brekke representing the American Legion asked for participation by the County in providing seal coat for the parking Lot on the North side of the Legion that is presently being leased. The Board asked the Engineer to check on price and condition of the Lot.

Moved by Hoffman seconded by Grabanski that Contract with Itasca Equip. Co. for providing a tilt-type trailer be accepted as complete and the total sum of $6,720.00 be paid. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Grabanski seconded by Koop that the Auditor be instructed to start procedure for sale of State Aid Highway Bonds in the amount of $400,000. to provide for proper financing of proposed road construction. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Stenberg seconded by Grabanski that the meeting adjourn to convene at 10:00 A.M., July 1, 1980. Motion carried.

ATTEST: C.W. RODEKUHR, COUNTY AUDITOR & EX-OFFICIO, CLERK OF THE BOARD.

GLENN TASA,
CHAIRMAN
PENNINGTON COUNTY BOARD

July 16, 1980
Official Proceedings
Board of County Commissioners
Pennington County, Minnesota
July 1, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment the County Board met in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse in Thief River Falls at 10:00 A.M., July 1, 1980.

Members present: Hoffman, Grabanski, Koop, Stenberg and Tasa. All present.

For the record and for clarification of the procedures available to the County Board it should be recorded that the County Assessor acting according to State Statutes notified all taxpayers that July 1st was the date for the County Board of Equalization. The 1980 Legislature changed the date to July 7th (1st Monday after the 4th of July with certain exceptions relating to working days). The Board is, therefore making itself available to those persons that appear and without the power of Law to officially act on any request until July 7th.

Joel Sorvig appeared with an appeal for a reduction of the value on his property. Matter discussed and taken under advisement to be acted upon on July 7th.

Mike Trudeau appeared with an appeal for a reduction of value on 8 acres in Silverton Township. Matter taken under advisement to be considered on July 7th.

The Board then proceeded to open bids for grading and aggregate surfacing of CSAH No. 26 between CSAH No. 3 and CSAH 9 a distance of 9.53 miles as duly advertised and called for.

To clarify a matter still unresolved Commissioner Hoffman introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

RESOLVED, that the proposal for an offer of $1,500.00 to Kenneth Hagen for an easement on his property along CSAH 26 be rescinded as there is no need for an easement on his property.

The foregoing resolution was seconded by Commissioner Koop and upon vote unanimously adopted.

The following bids were read: Starr Morrill, Inc., Fergus Falls, $314,315.36; Alley Const. Co., Alexandria, $302,115.12; Radniecki & Jensen Const., Oklee, $317,573.76; Donald Conroy Const., Dumont, $345,959.92; Holthusen Const. So., Grygla, $273,251.76; Drews Const. Co., Detroit Lakes, $281,295.70; Sellin Bros., Inc., Hawley, $288,395.67; Gladen Const. Co., Laporte, $322,448.80; Strom Const. Co., Moorhead, $297,435.18 and Menge Const. Co., Graceville, $310,898.48. Moved by Hoffman seconded by Koop that the bid of Holthusen Const. Co. in the amount of $273,251.76 be accepted as the lowest and best bid and the Chairman and Auditor be instructed and authorized to enter into contract with said low bidder. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Paul Erickson then appeared and spoke of a 2 year pilot program for a Court Alcohol Counselor to include Red Lake County, Marshall County and Pennington County with the local share to be paid on a population basis or a 40 per cent 40 per cent and 20 per cent basis (Red Lake 20 per cent). With an agreement that all Counties should go into the program at the same time and all get out at the same time.

Commissioner Grabanski introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, that Pennington County enter into a 2 year Court Alcohol Counselor pilot program with Marshall County and Red Lake County with a per year ceiling for each County, as follows: Pennington County, $12,800; Marshall County, $12,800 and Red Lake County, $6,400 with the further stipulation that the supporting State Grant for said program is approved. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Hoffman and upon vote declared unanimously approved. (This is the only program of its type in the State).

Moved by Grabanski seconded by Koop that the proposal of Northern Paving for application of a seal coat to the parking Lot leased from the American Legion in the amount of $850.00 be approved and that Pennington County pay its share of the bill. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Stenberg seconded by Grabanski that meeting adjourn.

ATTEST: C.W. RODEKUHR, COUNTY AUDITOR & EX-OFFICIO, CLERK OF THE BOARD.

GLENN TASA,
CHAIRMAN
PENNINGTON COUNTY BOARD

CHECKING THEIR HERD of Shorthorn cattle are Ila (left) and Brenda Espeseth, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Duaine Espeseth of Thief River Falls. The girls began their cattle operation with two cows four years ago and now have 18 registered animals which they expect will help finance their college educations. The girls will be exhibiting their cattle this week at the Pennington county fair.

CHANGE IN TYPE is being stressed in the Shorthorn cattle breed as the trend is away from short, blocky beef animals to a more rangy, dual purpose animal suitable for either beef or dairy. Effort is directed toward more rapid weight gain and greater meat yield per pound of live weight. Ila Espeseth shows a two-year-old cow from the herd she and her sister own. The cow and its calf will be entered by Ila in the open class division of the Pennington county fair livestock show and shown by her younger sister Brenda in the 4-H club division this week.

1980 front-wheel drive Dodge Omni. $5526
One of America's great resale cars. Dodge Omni actually showed the lowest depreciation of any domestic car in its class.†† That's something to think about. And as the figures show, Dodge Omni mileage is another big plus. The Dodge Omni: America's first domestic front-wheel drive subcompact is ready for you now at your Dodge dealer.
23 EPA EST. MPG 33 EST. HWY.†
1980 Dodge Mirada. $6850
32 out of 50 T-Bird owners tested, preferred Dodge Mirada. In a recent test conducted by the Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute, 32 out of 50 current T-Bird owners tested, preferred Dodge Mirada overall to the 1980 Thunderbird. Seventy percent picked Mirada as a greater value! Plus Mirada is the best standard equipped car in its class, with white sidewall fiberglass radial tires, trip odometer, bucket seats, tinted glass and more...all standard. Check it out today at your Dodge dealer!
*Manufacturers suggested retail price excluding destination charges, title and taxes.
*Destination charges, title, taxes extra
†Use EPA est. mpg. for comparison purposes. Your mileage may vary depending on speed, weather and trip length. Actual highway mileage will probably be lower

Card of Thanks

The family of Violet Lundeen wishes to express their heartfelt thanks to all who expressed sympathy and showed their love and concern in so many ways following the death of our loved one.

Thanks to the doctors and nurses at Northwestern hospital, to all those who brought food over for the family, to the ladies who served lunch at the funeral, to the pallbearers, to Rev. and Mrs. Gary Johnson, Mrs. Judy Sorgaard, Mrs. Norma Rinkenberger for their beautiful music, to Pastor and Mrs. Gerald Lewin for their comforting words, prayers and visits. Thanks, too, to all who sent flowers, cards and memorials.

Your expressions of kindness will always be remembered. May God bless each and every one of you!

Floyd Lundeen,
Wanda Lundeen,
Mr. & Mrs. David Lundeen,
Crystal Carlson,
Mr. & Mrs. Arden Lundeen,
Mr. & Mrs. Vincent Lundeen,
Mr. & Mrs. Chris (Marcia) Jenson,
Mr. & Mrs. David (Denise) Martell,
& all the grandchildren

In Memoriam

In loving memory of husband and father, Hilding Holmgren:

We knew that we would miss you, Dad
But never knew how much.
Still we have so many memories
Of the one we cherished so.
And we'll always keep him
Deep within our hearts.

Sadly missed by wife, Rose, sons, and daughters, and families. 1t57p

Public Notice

The Northwestern hospital services will participate in a USDA donated food distribution program. No person, because of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, or handicap, shall be excluded from admission, participation or other benefits of the program or the institution. 1t57c

Public Notices

Notice

Belated greetings on your 40th birthday, Marilyn. From your staff and friends. 1t57c

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Darrel and Gale Holmgren and Bob Rowley:

We never lose the ones we love
Even tho' they're gone.
Within the hearts of those who care
Their memories linger on.

Deeply missed by their mother, Rose Holmgren, brothers, sister, wives, and families. 1t57p

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank all our children, grandchildren, relatives and friends that helped to make our golden anniversary a very special day.

May God bless you one and all!

Kore & Mathilda Hanson

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all my relatives, friends and neighbors for their visits, phone calls, cards and gifts I received while I was a patient at Northwestern hospital.

A special thank you to Drs. Henrichs, Padilla and the hospital staff for their wonderful care.

Thanks, also, to Maxine and Clifford for their hospitality.

May God bless each of you.

Card of Thanks

Thank you to all for the many prayers, Masses, gifts, cards, letters, visits, telephone calls, food, help with the chores and babysitting — to everyone who was so considerate and helped us in any way during Ryan's hospitalization.

A special thanks to Dr. Martin, the nurses, and all who helped us at the emergency room in Thief River. Also, a very special thanks and commendation for the excellent care he received at United hospital in Grand Forks by the nurses and especially Dr. Hoggarth and Dr. James.

May God bless you all! We thank God for the life of our beloved son and brother!

Pat, Bonnie, Daniel, Kristi, & Ryan Wichterman

Card of Thanks

I want to express my heartfelt thanks to relatives and friends from far and near for all those who brought cards and gifts and came to help me celebrate my 75th birthday Sunday, July 6, and for the family reunion, making it such a pleasant day.

God bless you all.

Mrs. Clara Hanson

Fall Wild Oats Control Topic Of Area Meet

With the unpredictable weather area grain growers have faced these last two years, many have begun thinking seriously about fall control of wild oats as a means of taking some of the guess work out of planning around spring soil and weather conditions.

A special granular equipment exhibition and wild oat seminar for local farmers is scheduled at the Thief River golf club Thursday, July 24. The session is free to interested growers, and will get underway at 2 p.m. Complimentary refreshments will be served by the sponsor, Monsanto Agricultural products company.

In addition to in-depth presentations on the wild oat problem and the benefits of fall treatment, participating farmers will also hear from the representatives of five major manufacturers of granular application equipment. Most popular units from each manufacturer's line of air or gravity-flow equipment will be on display.

"The wet spring we experienced in 1979 has teamed up with this season's dry weather to convince a lot of farmers that it doesn't make sense to let as wild oat control program be dependent on the whims of mother nature," contends David Hanson, product development associate and weed control specialist for the sponsoring company. "Unpredictable weather has also made spring work schedules extremely tight, sometimes forcing farmers to abandon their desired weed control program in a rush to get their crop seeded."

According to Hanson, fall treatment of wild oats if also gaining increased attention due to its unique fit into local farm management practices. "Fall application of a granular herbidice is a good moisture conservation practice since it permits the farmer to control his wild oats while also maintaining a trash or stubble cover over winter," he points out.

"It's no secret that all herbicides work best when moisture is adequate. Farmers who fall-applied granules were able to take advantage of winter moisture in getting the chemical activated," Hanson added.

Area farmers interested in fruther details on the upcoming meeting shoudl contact their local retailer or call 701-282-6122 in West Fargo.

NWRDC Given Grants For Meals Program

Northwest regional development commission's aging program is currently accepting grant proposals for the establishment of home delivered meals program under Title III-C-2 of the Older Americans Act.

In addition, proposals are being accepted for the establishment of social services for elderly persons from units of government of non-profit corporations in Region I in the following categories: access (transportation, outreach information and referral); in home services (homemaking, home-health aide, friendly visiting, telephone reassurance, chore-home maintenance); legal services.

Grants are for continuation and new and expanded services. Applications will be accepted until September 1 and reviewed initially September 10, by the aging advisory committee. Final review will be conducted by the commission October 28 and funding will begin January 1. Contact Michael Moore, 281-1396 for further information.

Hanson Heads Holt CF Drive

Mrs. Jan Hanson has been appointed to lead volunteers in Holt's "Breath of Life" campaign during the month of September. According to Ron Swain, president of the Minnesota chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis foundation, "There will be a special emphasis placed on the third week in September, designated as national and Minnesota Cystic Fibrosis week."

Cystic Fibrosis, the most serious lung-damaging disease, is incurable. It is estimated that one in 20 Americans is a symptomless and unknowing carrier of the gene which will cause CF in his or her child.

Sunday Luke 12:15-23
Monday Luke 12:24-37
Tuesday Luke 14:7-14
Wednesday Psalms 10:12-18
Thursday Psalms 9:1-12
Friday Psalms 14:1-7
Saturday Psalms 5:1-12

All this glory from one tiny seed! The sunflower towers taller than a man, its huge golden head filled with thousands of seeds . . . and every seed contains the mystery of life and growth that science cannot explain.

We are surrounded by miracles that man did not create. Who created them? Who created us? By the reasoning powers of our own marvelous minds we can be guided to see that God the Creator has made all things according to His plan, and that we can only achieve our highest development by living in harmony with it.

How can we know God's will for us? We need only a small seed of faith, for He will lead us in His way if we ask Him . . . and that seed will grow and flourish under His loving care.

WORCESTERED TOPPINGS FOR VEGETABLES

A delicious way to pep up cooked vegetables is by topping them with buttery mixtures seasoned with original Worcestershire sauce. It's an all-in-one seasoning that's easy to shake on right from the bottle.

WORCESTERED PARMESAN BUTTER

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon original Worcestershire sauce

In a small saucepan melt butter. Stir in Parmesan cheese and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over cooked green vegetables such as broccoli, green beans, zucchini or spinach. YIELD: about 1/3 cup (enough for 4 to 6 portions of vegetables)

DEVILED VEGETABLE BUTTER

¼ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup unseasoned dry bread crumbs
4 teaspoons original Worcestershire sauce

In a small saucepan melt butter. Stir in bread crumbs and Worcestershire sauce. Spoon over cooked green beans, carrots, zucchini, asparagus or broccoli.

YIELD: 1/3 cup (enough for 4 to 6 portions of vegetables).

Cholesterol Finding

First official dissent by a national scientific body on the thesis that cholesterol intake contributes to heart disease is expected to have a powerful influence on marketing in the food industry, and therefore a substantial impact on farm product sales.

According to the national food and nutrition board's report, there is little evidence to support earlier recommendations that healthy persons should eat less fat and less cholesterol in an effort to prevent heart disease.

Dairy products, meat and eggs have come under fire repeatedly since the late 1950's from a host of health and nutrition organizations. Among these are the American Heart association, the senate's select committee on nutrition and human needs and even the U.S. department of agriculture. The select committee of the senate offered dietary goals and USDA urged Americans to reduce their consumption of saturated fat, cholesterol, sodium and sugar.

The food and nutrition board began to evaluate the dietary guidelines put forth three years ago by the senate committee and, after reviewing numerous studies, concluded that " . . . there is no significant correlation between cholesterol intake and serum cholesterol concentration in the body". Therefore, the board concluded, there is no reason to recommend a change in the intake of cholesterol.

Foreign Car Competition Good?

Following commentary is from the "Home and Away" magazine published by the Minnesota American Automobile association:

The statistics are grim. Sales of domestically produced automobiles during the first quarter of 1980 were down 23 per cent. 200 dealerships closed their doors for lack of business, compared to 150 during normal times. Layoffs in the auto industry reached 260,000 by May 1 and an equal number of jobs were lost among the companies that act as suppliers for the car makers.

But, on the other hand, American foreign car dealers are "smiling all the way to bank" now that they have an estimated 25 per cent share of the total auto market, and may reach 30 per cent by 1981.

The rise of the foreign car market has been phenomenal (up from 15.5 per cent in 1974) and has prompted a Michigan homemaker to launch a campaign entitled "Real Americans Buy American Cars (RABAC)."

In starting her "buy American" campaign, Mary Jean Lieberman stressed that neither she nor her husband have any connection with the automotive industry. "I just felt that I had to do something to save jobs," she said in explaining why she started her non-profit organization.

"A lot of people buy foreign cars because they consider it prestigious," Mrs. Lieberman said. "Why not make patriotism prestigious."

When she established her organization earlier this year, the former model said that she has the facts to show that for every billion dollars worth of foreign car sales in this country, 57,000 jobs are lost. Parenthetically, she noted, import auto sales exceeded a billion dollars both of the first two months of the year.

Long before Mrs. Lieberman's efforts, the United Auto Worker's union began a campaign called "BUY AMERICAN — Your job depends on it!" Though the union's campaign was directed at the public in general, it probably took note of the fact that parking lots at auto plants are liberally sprinkled with foreign cars, too.

The union, and U.S. auto makers, would like to see two developments to combat the incursion of foreign cars in the American marketplace: 1) limiting the total market share of foreign made cars such as many other countries do; and 2) forcing foreign car builders to open auto assembly plants in the U.S. Volkswagen was the first foreign car company to open an assembly plant in the U.S. Honda has announced plans for such a plant to be built in Marysville, Ohio. But Toyota and Datsun, who grab the lion's share of the American foreign car market, have resisted pressure to open assembly plants in this country.

While our sympathy lies with the plight of American auto workers, and the industry itself, we cannot help but believe that the foreign car competition has been good for America as a whole.

There's good evidence that foreign competition has kept down the price of American made cars. There's also no question that the pint-sized imports have been more in tune, until recently, with modern needs for gasoline conservation.

But things have changed. American cars are more competitive than ever. They've been down-sized. Across the board, American small cars can equal or exceed the mpg performance of most imports. American-made cars were the only ones that passed all of the U.S. Department of Transportation's frontal crash tests. Foreign car owners also find that repair costs are often higher than for domestic cars, that parts are sometimes not as readily available.

We won't go so far as to say that it is unpatriotic to buy a foreign car. Nor do we believe import quotas are the answer since there are broad ramifications that could upset the delicate balance between the import and export markets.

But we do believe car buyers should take a close look at the "new look and new performance" American cars. Judge them on merit, not on prestige. Evaluate them on today's real performance, not on the history of performance.

Withholding On Savings

Following editorial is from the Grand Rapids Herald-Review:

Judging from all the commotion in Congress during the past week, both Republicans and Democrats are just dying to give the poor taxpayer a break in the form of a tax cut.

Don't hold your breath.

Each party insists that its plan was first and best, and the administration is smoldering because neither side bothered to ask its advice. Common sense — and the experience of the past — makes it rather clear that there will be no swift action to ease the burden of the average taxpayer.

Taxpayers have good reason to view with some skepticism all of the talk about tax cuts. Most of the cuts would only reduce large increases already projected from present tax sources. Somebody will pay in the end, for there is little likelihood that government will suddenly become less costly. In fact, the government right now is working to obtain a bigger chunk from anyone fortunate enough to be able to save money.

Congress has been asked by the U.S. Treasury department to pass a law requiring that 15 per cent of the interest earned on savings accounts be withheld and sent to Washington before the saver sees it. That, of course, reduces the total return on savings — interest withheld and sent to the government will not be compounded.

Many people on fixed incomes depend on interest from their savings accounts to help meet living expenses.

Why does the Treasury department make such a proposal? It claims lamely that withholding is needed to cut tax evasion on interest and dividends. If the Treasury department were serious about cutting such evasion, it would check the information already filed with it by every savings institution. The government receives complete information on how much interest your savings earn every year. If it doesn't choose to use the information it requires, why start another cumbersome method of duplicating already ignored data? Its proposal simply places another burden on honest taxpayers who already report interest earnings.

Opponents of the proposal suggest that withholding interest on savings would require another layer of paperwork which would cost more than it would produce in the form of new taxes.

If Congress is serious about helping the financial condition of the taxpayer, let it squash the Treasury department proposal and then get down to the serious business of seeing what kind of tax cut might be possible without doing more harm than good.

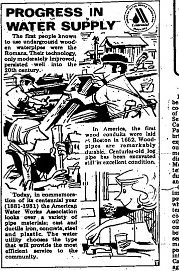
PROGRESS IN WATER SUPPLY



The first people known to use underground wooden waterpipes were the Romans. Their technology, only moderately improved, persisted well into the 20th century.

In America, the first wood conduits were laid at Boston in 1652. Woodpipes are remarkably durable. Centuries-old log pipe has been excavated still in excellent condition.

Today, in commemoration of its centennial year (1881-1981) the American Water Works Association looks over a variety of pipe materials; cast and ductile iron, concrete, steel and plastic. The water utility chooses the type that will provide the most efficient service to the community.

Improving Grain Market Opportunities

Later this month I will be traveling to Canada as co-chairman of a delegation of U.S. Congressmen and Senators to meet with Canadian Members of Parliament in an effort to bring about greater grain export cooperation between our two countries. This meeting is a result of discussions with Canadian Members of the Interparliamentary Group during meetings in Canada and San Diego.

Our primary interest is improving market opportunities and prices for wheat. Although we are interested in improving cooperation in marketing other grains and agricultural commodities, the interests of both countries may best be served by directing out immediate attention to the possibilities of wheat. This interest in exploring a Canadian-U.S. wheat export agreement is not intended to limit the scope of our discussions. Rather, as the two largest wheat exporters, our dialogue may be used as a basis for discussions at a later time with other wheat exporting countries such as Argentina and Australia.

It is our opinion that wheat markets will continue to grow as the demand for improved diets increases worldwide. It would not be beneficial to either country to compete to the point that return to our producers is reduced. We have done a lot to increase export trade and everyone says the solution to the problem is to export more grain. However, it does not help farmers to export those grains at less than the cost of production. It is with this in mind that we are convinced there is sufficient need and interest to begin and to continue holding these discussions on a regular, ongoing basis.

The sensitivity of grain markets to weather and changes in crop expectations requires that our two countries share, on a regular basis, information regarding wheat production and market outlook. In addition, we need to discuss and attempt to reach some understanding on our mutual market objectives, while working to develop realistic wheat market shares for our ranges which would allow flexibility and provide some predictability for our producers.

Effective implementation of a market sharing plan would entail coordination of our two countries' wheat programs. In particular, we must recognize the need to act jointly in restricting or expanding production and in establishing food reserves. Neither nation should take steps to undermine the other's market or prices, or to implement policies which exploit its sister nation.

The meeting is scheduled to be held on July 26 in Ottawa, Canada. Points to be discussed include: Canadian overview of the world grain situation; U.S. overview of the world grain situation; cost of production based on U.S. and Canadian experiences; market performance as a percentage of the total market; wider implications of a floor price — Canadian and U.S. view; general discussion of market and policy direction; and how to arrive at a common understanding in terms of price objective and exporter cooperation.

NOTICE TO HOMEOWNERS

If you have an annual income of less than $6,000 and are interested in improving your home, you may qualify for financial assistance from the Thief River Falls Housing and Redevelopment Authority.

The Housing Rehabilitation Office will be accepting preliminary applications for home improvement grants.

To qualify for a home improvement grant your gross adjusted yearly income must be less than $6,000. You may take deductions of $750 per adult and $500 per child or dependent. Your gross assets (not including personal property and the property to be improved) must be no more than $25,000. You must own and occupy the property to be improved or have life estate rights. You must live in the City of Thief River Falls.

Priority will be given to energy savings and city code improvements such as insulation, re-wiring, plumbing improvements, furnaces and those items that are necessary for a habitable dwelling.

ALL APPLICATIONS WILL BE HELD IN THE STRICTEST CONFIDENCE.

APPLICATIONS WILL BE REVIEWED ON A "FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED" BASIS.

All persons, regardless of race, color, creed, national origin, sex, religion, marital status, age, handicapped status or reliance on public assistance, or political opinion or affiliation, will be treated fairly and equally in employment or program participation competition.

Mrs. VeVea Notes Birthday

Mrs. Lloyd (Doris) VeVea noted her birthday anniversary June 30, but she was remembered on many different occasions during a two-week period. Bringing early birthday greetings to their daughter on June 20 before leaving on a vacation trip were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong. Saturday, the 28th, Mr. and Mrs. VeVea met her aunt, Miss Emma Armstrong of Fargo in Grand Forks for a birthday celebration. Sunday, a sister and newphew, Mrs. Duane Olson and Steven, also Maude and Erika Wilberg, brought greetings to Mrs. VeVea at her home. Monday, the birthdate, she was presented with a cake and gifts from her fellow-employees at the bank where she is employed. That noon, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Berg took Mr. and Mrs. VeVea out to dinner. That evening another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dake Ayers, Robby, Denise and Darla, brought a cake and birthday wishes, as did Mr. and Mrs. Joe Caswell and Darcie, and Edwardo Ruud of Mentor. Doris also received greetings via long-distance phone calls from daughter Kathy Sorenson in Chicago, and brother Ron Armstrong and wife in Rockville, Maryland. The following Wednesday morning Mrs. VeVea and Mrs. Daryl Lewis enjoyed a belated birthday coffee together.

Mrs. Roger Dyrdal, Rog and Bruce were Tuesday morning coffee guests of Mrs. Daryl Lewis. That afternoon Mrs. Ray Olson of Numedal was a visitor and coffee guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wernberg, Marlene, Michael and Lori left early the morning of July 4th for New Ulm to spend the weekend with friends, the Dwayne Dahlens. They returned home Monday.

Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Olson, Jeffrey and Steven and Mrs. Lydia Olson left July 1 on a vacation trip. They toured the Wisconsin Dells, spent two days and nights at the Don Powers and Edna Woldness home in Hebron, Ill. and were supper and breakfast guests at the Merlyn Voldness home in Woodstock, Ill. They were overnight guests at the James (Nona Olsen) Vitale home one night, also visiting at the Jim, Bill and Chuck Vitale families and at the Charles Voldness home at Homewood, Ill. They then went on to Grand Rapids, Mich. where they visited overnight with Janice's brother Don Armstrong, and daughters Kim and Tawnya before returning here Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brenna and Tina together with Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Lindahl, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Brenna, Mrs. Tony Brenna, Shelly Millard, and Mrs. Gail Brooks of Fridley, were guests at a surprize birthday party for Tony Brenna at the home of Mrs. Sigrid Brenna in Thief River Falls a week ago Monday evening.

Delmont Hanson and son Rick of Waynesville, N.C., left Tuesday for Cross Lake to visit other relatives before returning home. They had been houseguests at the Burt Lane home over the weekend. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Moen, Keith and Cory were visitors at the Lane home.

Shawn Underdahl of Viking was an overnight guest at the Roger Solem home a week ago Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dake Ayers, Robby, Denise and Darla were among those attending the Fourth of July parade in Plummer. Later they enjoyed a picnic dinner at the L.B. Hartz park in Thief River Falls and toured the Pioneer Village. Mr. and Mrs. Ayers and Denise also visited briefly with Mrs. Ethel Johnson at the Valley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Srnsky, Kathy and Kristy also Mr. and Mrs. David Srnsky, Laura and Tammy of Grand Forks and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Srnsky and Tracey spent the evening of July 4th at the Louis Srnsky home in St. Hilaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Solseng and Shelly were among the many bringing 90th birthday anniversary greetings to Mrs. Solseng's aunt, Mable Furr in Thief River Falls Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Dyrdal, Kathy and Kristy and Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Lewis and Todd were among those bringing 18th birthday anniversary greetings to Corey Nelson and enjoyed cake and coffee at the John Nelson home in Numedal Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dedina of Montgomery arrived July 4th to visit her sister and husband, the Inar Mikkelsons. They all spent the Fourth at the Mikkelson cabin at Park Rapids. The Dedina's will be spending a few days visiting other relatives in this area also.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Olson, Brent and Tricia, together with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff VeVea, Kippy, Devin and Sherry of Bemidji spent the week of June 27 until July 3 at Norway Beach near Bemidji. The evening of July 3rd, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Chapa, Kristy and JoElaine of Farmsville, Tex. visited with the Olsons. Mrs. Chapa is Mrs. Olson's sister, Shelly. They were returning that day after having spent a few days visiting other relatives in this area.

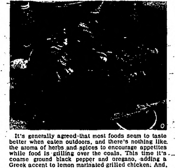
Spicy Pepper-Upper for Grilled Chicken



It's generally agreed that most foods seem to taste better when eaten outdoors, and there's nothing like the aroma of herbs and spices to encourage appetites while food is grilling over the coals. This time it's coarse ground black pepper and oregano, adding a Greek accent to lemon marinated grilled chicken. And, if it rains, you can bring it indoors and stick it under the broiler.

PEPPERY GRILLED CHICKEN

3 pounds chicken parts
½ cup fresh lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
2 teaspoons coarse ground black pepper
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed

Pierce chicken on all sides with fork tines; place in a snug-fitting shallow pan or plastic bag. In a measuring cup combine lemon juice, oil, black pepper, salt and oregano. Pour over chicken; cover and set aside for 1 hour, turning chicken after 30 minutes. Place chicken on a rack over slow-burning coals, reserving marinade. Cook until cooked through, 30 to 45 minutes, turning and brushing often with reserved marinade. Or set broiler to 400° F. Arrange chicken on a rack in a broiler pan. Place under broiler, 6 inches from heat source. Broil until cooked through, about 35 minutes, turning and brushing often with reserved marinade. YIELD: 4 portions.

I Scream, You Scream, We All Scream For—Chocolate—Ice Cream

Rich, cooling, luscious, almost wickedly delicious...homemade ice cream is part of what summer "dreams are made on." If you remember helping turn the crank—and licking the paddles—as a child, one taste is a ticket to nostalgia. Today, this treat is just as special—maybe more so. And it's simple to surprise everybody with extra-good chocolate ice cream, the hands-down favorite, made from pure, fresh ingredients—in your refrigerator freezer. Just follow the easy directions below. Add chopped nuts or fruit at the "mush" stage, if you wish—ladle into dishes, scoop out cones, or create an elegant parfait. It's practically foolproof, when you start with a base of unsweetened cocoa—chocolate in very concentrated form so ice cream, and lots of other recipes too, will be deeper, more intensely "chocolate" in flavor. And since you don't have to melt cocoa—it's ready to use right from the can—you shortcut preparation time, eliminate the messy pre-melting step. That's a big plus, particularly in the good ole summertime! (To use an electric or crank-type freezer, simply follow the manufacturer's instructions.)

SUPER-RICH HOMEMADE CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM

(About 1½ quarts)

½ cup Hershey's Cocoa
¾ cup sugar
1 cup milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 cups heavy cream
¼ cup sugar

Combine cocoa and ¾ cup sugar in small saucepan. Gradually blend in milk and egg yolks. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture just approaches boiling. Do not boil. Remove from heat; cool. Stir in vanilla. Pour into refrigerator tray or 9-inch square pan. Freeze until "mushy," about 1 hour. Whip cream in large mixer bowl; add ¼ cup sugar and beat until stiff. Spoon chocolate mixture into small chilled mixer bowl; beat until smooth. Fold into whipped cream. Place bowl in freezer or pour into square pan. Freeze several hours until firm. Stir occasionally during first hour.
